Reading 1

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 3:1-3

1 Do we begin again to commend ourselves? Or do we need (as some do) epistles of commendation to you, or from you?

2 You are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is known and read by all men:

3 Being manifested, that you are the epistle of Christ, ministered by us, and written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in the fleshly tables of the heart.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℞. O how great is thy goodness, O Lord

* Which Thou hast laid up for them that fear thee!

℣. Which Thou, O Lord, hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!

℞. Which Thou hast laid up for them that fear thee!

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 3:4-8

4 And such confidence we have, through Christ, towards God.

5 Not that we are sufficient to think any thing of ourselves, as of ourselves: but our sufficiency is from God.

6 Who also hath made us fit ministers of the new testament, not in the letter, but in the spirit. For the letter killeth, but the spirit quickeneth.

7 Now if the ministration of death, engraven with letters upon stones, was glorious; so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which is made void:

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather in glory?

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. O God, be Thou my helper.

* Neither leave me.

℣. Nor forsake me O God of my salvation.

℞. Neither leave me.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 3:9-14

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more the ministration of justice aboundeth in glory.

10 For even that which was glorious in this part was not glorified, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is in glory.

12 Having therefore such hope, we use much confidence:

13 And not as Moses put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel might not steadfastly look on the face of that which is made void.

14 But their senses were made dull. For, until this present day, the selfsame veil, in the reading of the old testament, remaineth not taken away (because in Christ it is made void).

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. I will bless the Lord at all times.

* His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

℣. My soul shall make her boast in the Lord; the humble shall hear thereof and be glad.

℞. His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

46:4 He hath subdued the people under us; * and the nations under our feet.

46:8 For God is the king of all the earth: * sing ye wisely.

5:3 Hearken to the voice of my prayer, * O my King and my God.

5:4 For to thee will I pray: * O Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear my voice.

5:5 In the morning I will stand before thee, and will see: * because thou art not a God that willest iniquity.

5:6 Neither shall the wicked dwell near thee: * nor shall the unjust abide before thy eyes.

5:7 Thou hatest all the workers of iniquity: * thou wilt destroy all that speak a lie.

5:7 The bloody and the deceitful man the Lord will abhor. * But as for me in the multitude of thy mercy,

5:8 I will come into thy house; * I will worship towards thy holy temple, in thy fear.

5:9 Conduct me, O Lord, in thy justice: * because of my enemies, direct my way in thy sight.

5:10 For there is no truth in their mouth: * their heart is vain.

5:11 Their throat is an open sepulchre: † they dealt deceitfully with their tongues: * judge them, O God.

5:11 Let them fall from their devices: † according to the multitude of their wickednesses cast them out: * for they have provoked thee, O Lord.

5:12 But let all them be glad that hope in thee: * they shall rejoice for ever, and thou shalt dwell in them.

5:12 And all they that love thy name shall glory in thee: * For thou wilt bless the just.

5:13 O Lord, thou hast crowned us, * as with a shield of thy good will.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Hearken to the voice of my prayer, O my King and my God.

28:2 Bring to the Lord glory and honour: bring to the Lord glory to his name: * adore ye the Lord in his holy court.

28:3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters; the God of majesty hath thundered, * The Lord is upon many waters.

28:4 The voice of the Lord is in power; * the voice of the Lord in magnificence.

28:5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: * yea, the Lord shall break the cedars of Libanus.

28:6 And shall reduce them to pieces, as a calf of Libanus, * and as the beloved son of unicorns.

28:7 The voice of the Lord divideth the flame of fire: * The voice of the Lord shaketh the desert: and the Lord shall shake the desert of Cades.

28:9 The voice of the Lord prepareth the stags: and he will discover the thick woods: * and in his temple all shall speak his glory.

28:10 The Lord maketh the flood to dwell: * and the Lord shall sit king for ever.

Vthou true sun, on us thy glance
Let fall in royal radiance,

To make ill-fortune turn to fair,
And give us grace our wrongs to bear.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Martyrologium

January 19th 2027, the 11th day of the Moon, were born into the better life:

Rt Worcester, in England, (in the year 1095,) the holy Confessor Wolstan, Bishop of that see, famous for his worthy and wondrous works, whose name was enrolled among those of the saints by Innocent III.

It Rome, (in the year 270,) upon the Cornelian Way, the holy martyrs Maris, and Martha, his wife, and their sons Audifax and Abachum. These were noble Persians, who came to Rome for prayer's sake in the time of the Emperor Claudius. They were cudgelled, racked, burnt, torn with iron hooks, and had their hands cut off. At length Martha was drowned and the others beheaded, and their bodies cast into the fire.

St Smyrna, in the time of the Emperors Marcus Antoninus and Lucius Aurelius, the blessed martyr Germanicus. He was a very beautiful youth, but by the power of God's grace he laid aside all the weakness of bodily fear, and of his own accord provoked the beast by which he had been condemned by the judge to be killed and so being ground through its teeth, and so dying for the Lord Jesus Christ, he earned to be made one body with Him who is Himself the very Bread which came down from heaven.

In Africa, the holy martyrs Paul, Gerontius, Januarius, Saturninus, Successus, Julius, Catus, Pia, and Germana, (and others to the number in all of 600.)

At Spoleto, in the time of the Emperor Antonine, the holy martyr Pontian. Fabian, the judge, caused him to be first most grievously beaten with rods and then to walk barefoot upon live coals by these he was unhurt, and was therefore racked, lacerated with iron hooks, and cast into prison, where he was comforted by a visitation of angels. Lastly he was thrown to the lions, had molten lead poured over him, and was then beheaded.

Lt Lodi, (about the year 413,) the holy Confessor Bassian, Bishop of that see, who fought manfully along with holy Ambrose against the heretics.

WAnd elsewhere many other holy martyrs, confessors, and holy virgins.

Psalmus 26(1-6)

O God of truth, O Lord of might,
Who orderest time and change aright,
Who send'st the early morning ray,
And light'st the glow of perfect day:
Extinguish thou each sinful fire,
And banish every ill desire;
And while thou keep'st the body whole,
Shed forth thy peace upon the soul.
O mighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.

30:3 Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a house of refuge, * to save me.

30:10 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am afflicted: * my eye is troubled with wrath, my soul, and my belly:

30:11 For my life is wasted with grief: * and my years in sighs.

30:11 My strength is weakened through poverty * and my bones are disturbed.

30:12 I am become a reproach among all my enemies, and very much to my neighbours; * and a fear to my acquaintance.

30:12 They that saw me without fled from me. * I am forgotten as one dead from the heart.

30:13 I am become as a vessel that is destroyed. * For I have heard the blame of many that dwell round about.

30:17 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; save me in thy mercy. * Let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon thee.

Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.
Pear us, O Father, gracious and forgiving,
And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.

([1])

31:1 Blessed are those whose iniquities are forgiven * and whose sins are covered.

31:2 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin, * and in whose spirit there is no guile.

31:3 Because I was silent my bones grew old; * whilst I cried out all the day long.

31:4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: * I am turned in my anguish, whilst the thorn is fastened.

31:5 I have acknowledged my sin to thee, * and my injustice I have not concealed.

31:5 I said I will confess against myself my injustice to the Lord: * and thou hast forgiven the wickedness of my sin.

31:6 For this shall every one that is holy pray to thee * in a seasonable time.

31:6 And yet in a flood of many waters, * they shall not come nigh unto him.

31:7 Thou art my refuge from the trouble which hath encompassed me: * my joy, deliver me from them that surround me.

31:8 I will give thee understanding, and I will instruct thee in this way, in which thou shalt go: * I will fix my eyes upon thee.

31:9 Do not become like the horse and the mule, * who have no understanding.

31:9 With bit and bridle bind fast their jaws, * who come not near unto thee.

32:1 Rejoice in the Lord, O ye just: * praise becometh the upright.

32:2 Give praise to the Lord on the harp; * sing to him with the psaltery, the instrument of ten strings.

32:3 Sing to him a new canticle, * sing well unto him with a loud noise.

32:4 For the word of the Lord is right, * and all his works are done with faithfulness.

32:5 He loveth mercy and judgment; * the earth is full of the mercy of the Lord.

32:6 By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; * and all the power of them by the spirit of his mouth:

32:7 Gathering together the waters of the sea, as in a vessel; * laying up the depths in storehouses.

32:8 Let all the earth fear the Lord, * and let all the inhabitants of the world be in awe of him.

32:9 For he spoke and they were made: * he commanded and they were created.

32:10 The Lord bringeth to nought the counsels of nations; * and he rejecteth the devices of people, and casteth away the counsels of princes.

O great Creator of the sky,
Who wouldst not the floods on high
With earthly waters to confound,
But mad'st the firmament their bound;
The floods above thou didst ordain;
The floods below thou didst restrain:
That moisture might attemper heat,
Lest the parched earth should ruin meet.
Ipon our souls, good Lord, bestow
Thy gift of grace in endless flow:
Lest some renewed deceit or wile
Of former sin should us beguile.
Let faith discover heav'nly light;
So shall its rays direct us right:
And let this faith each error chase,
And never give to falsehood place.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.

7:2 O Lord my God, in thee have I put my trust: * save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me.

7:3 Lest at any time he seize upon my soul like a lion, * while there is no one to redeem me, nor to save.

7:4 O Lord my God, if I have done this thing, * if there be iniquity in my hands:

7:5 If I have rendered to them that repaid me evils, * let me deservedly fall empty before my enemies.

7:6 Let the enemy pursue my soul, † and take it, and tread down my life on the earth, * and bring down my glory to the dust.

7:7 Rise up, O Lord, in thy anger: * and be thou exalted in the borders of my enemies.

7:7 And arise, O Lord my God, in the precept which thou hast commanded: * and a congregation of people shall surround thee.

7:8 And for their sakes return thou on high. * The Lord judgeth the people.

7:9 Judge me, O Lord, according to my justice, * and according to my innocence in me.

7:10 The wickedness of sinners shall be brought to nought: and thou shalt direct the just: * the searcher of hearts and reins is God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 7(11-18)

([3])

7:11 Just is my help from the Lord: * who saveth the upright of heart.

7:12 God is a just judge, strong and patient: * is he angry every day?

7:13 Except you will be converted, he will brandish his sword: * he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

7:14 And in it he hath prepared the instruments of death, * he hath made ready his arrows for them that burn.

7:15 Behold he hath been in labour with injustice; * he hath conceived sorrow, and brought forth iniquity.

7:16 He hath opened a pit and dug it: * and he is fallen into the hole he made.

7:17 His sorrow shall be turned on his own head: * and his iniquity shall come down upon his crown.

7:18 I will give glory to the Lord according to his justice: * and will sing to the name of the Lord the most High.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Creator of the world, we pray

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Our Saviour.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Our Saviour.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Hymnus

O Light of Light, O Day-spring bright,

Co-equal in thy Father's light:

Assist us, as with prayer and psalm

Thy servants break the twilight calm.

All darkness from our minds dispel,

And turn to flight the hosts of hell:

Bid sleepfulness our eyelids fly,

Lest overwhelmed in sloth we lie.

Sesu, thy pardon, kind and free,

Bestow on us who trust in thee:

And as thy praises we declare,

O with acceptance hear our prayer.

PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, * them that fight against me.

Psalmus 34(1-10)

34:1 Judge thou, O Lord, them that wrong me: * overthrow them that fight against me.

34:2 Take hold of arms and shield: * and rise up to help me.

34:3 Bring out the sword, and shut up the way against them that persecute me: * say to my soul: I am thy salvation.

34:4 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek after my soul.

34:4 Let them be turned back and be confounded * that devise against me.

34:5 Let them become as dust before the wind: * and let the Angel of the Lord straiten them.

34:6 Let their way become dark and slippery; * and let the Angel of the Lord pursue them.

34:7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me unto destruction: * without cause they have upbraided my soul.

34:8 Let the snare which he knoweth not come upon him: and let the net which he hath hidden catch him: * and into that very snare let them fall.

34:9 But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; * and shall be delighted in his salvation.

34:10 All my bones shall say: * Lord, who is like to thee?

34:10 Who deliverest the poor from the hand of them that are stronger than he; * the needy and the poor from them that strip him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, them that fight against me.

Rescue, O Lord, * my soul from their malice.

Psalmus 34(11-17)

34:11 Unjust witnesses rising up * have asked me things I knew not.

34:12 They repaid me evil for good: * to the depriving me of my soul.

34:13 But as for me, when they were troublesome to me, * I was clothed with haircloth.

34:13 I humbled my soul with fasting; * and my prayer shall be turned into my bosom.

34:14 As a neighbour and as an own brother, so did I please: * as one mourning and sorrowful so was I humbled.

34:15 But they rejoiced against me, and came together: * scourges were gathered together upon me, and I knew not.

34:16 They were separated, and repented not: they tempted me, they scoffed at me with scorn: * they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

34:17 Lord, when wilt thou look upon me? * rescue thou my soul from their malice: my only one from the lions.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Rescue, O Lord, my soul from their malice.
Arise, O Lord, * and be attentive to my judgment.

Psalmus 34(18-28)

([3])

34:18 I will give thanks to thee in a great church; * I will praise thee in a strong people.

34:19 Let not them that are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: * who have hated me without cause, and wink with the eyes.

34:20 For they spoke indeed peaceably to me; * and speaking in the anger of the earth they devised guile.

34:21 And they opened their mouth wide against me; * they said: Well done, well done, our eyes have seen it.

34:22 Thou hast seen, O Lord, be not thou silent: * O Lord, depart not from me.

34:23 Arise, and be attentive to my judgment: * to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

34:24 Judge me, O Lord my God according to thy justice, * and let them not rejoice over me.

34:25 Let them not say in their hearts: It is well, it is well, to our mind: * neither let them say: We have swallowed him up.

34:26 Let them blush: and be ashamed together, * who rejoice at my evils.

34:26 Let them be clothed with confusion and shame, * who speak great things against me.

34:27 Let them rejoice and be glad, who are well pleased with my justice, * and let them say always: The Lord be magnified, who delights in the peace of his servant.

34:28 And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, * thy praise all the day long.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Arise, O Lord, and be attentive to my judgment.

Envy not * the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

Psalmus 36(1-15)

36:1 Be not emulous of evildoers; * nor envy them that work iniquity.

36:2 For they shall shortly wither away as grass, * and as the green herbs shall quickly fall.

36:3 Trust in the Lord, and do good, * and dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed with its riches.

36:4 Delight in the Lord, * and he will give thee the requests of thy heart.

36:5 Commit thy way to the Lord, and trust in him, * and he will do it.

36:6 And he will bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday: * be subject to the Lord and pray to him.

36:7 Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; * the man who doth unjust things.

36:8 Cease from anger, and leave rage; * have no emulation to do evil.

36:9 For the evildoers shall be cut off: * but they that wait upon the Lord shall inherit the land.

36:10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: * and thou shalt seek his place, and shalt not find it.

36:11 But the meek shall inherit the land, * and shall delight in abundance of peace.

36:12 The sinner shall watch the just man: * and shall gnash upon him with his teeth.

36:13 But the Lord shall laugh at him: * for he foreseeth that his day shall come.

36:14 The wicked have drawn out the sword: * they have bent their bow.

36:14 To cast down the poor and needy, * to kill the upright of heart.

36:15 Let their sword enter into their own hearts, * and let their bow be broken.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

The arms of the wicked * shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Psalmus 36(16-29)

36:16 Better is a little to the just, * than the great riches of the wicked.

36:17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; * but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

36:18 The Lord knoweth the days of the undefiled; * and their inheritance shall be for ever.

36:19 They shall not be confounded in the evil time; and in the days of famine they shall be filled, * because the wicked shall perish.

36:20 And the enemies of the Lord, presently after they shall be honoured and exalted, * shall come to nothing and vanish like smoke.

36:21 The sinner shall borrow, and not pay again; * but the just sheweth mercy and shall give.

36:22 For such as bless him shall inherit the land: * but such as curse him shall perish.

36:23 With the Lord shall the steps of a man be directed, * and he shall like well his way.

36:24 When he shall fall he shall not be bruised, * for the Lord putteth his hand under him.

36:25 I have been young, and now am old; * and I have not seen the just forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread.

36:26 He sheweth mercy, and lendeth all the day long; * and his seed shall be in blessing.

36:27 Decline from evil and do good, * and dwell for ever and ever.

36:28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: * they shall be preserved for ever.

36:28 The unjust shall be punished, * and the seed of the wicked shall perish.

36:29 But the just shall inherit the land, * and shall dwell therein for evermore.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Keep innocence * and behold justice.

36:30 The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom: * and his tongue shall speak judgment.

36:31 The law of his God is in his heart, * and his steps shall not be supplanted.

36:32 The wicked watcheth the just man, * and seeketh to put him to death.

36:33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hands; * nor condemn him when he shall be judged.

36:34 Expect the Lord and keep his way: and he will exalt thee to inherit the land: * when the sinners shall perish thou shalt see.

36:35 I have seen the wicked highly exalted, * and lifted up like the cedars of Libanus.

36:36 And I passed by, and lo, he was not: * and I sought him and his place was not found.

36:37 Keep innocence, and behold justice: * for there are remnants for the peaceable man.

36:38 But the unjust shall be destroyed together: * the remnants of the wicked shall perish.

36:39 But the salvation of the just is from the Lord, * and he is their protector in the time of trouble.

36:40 And the Lord will help them and deliver them: * and he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them, because they have hoped in him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Keep innocence and behold justice.

O Lord, * do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Psalmus 37(2-11)

([7])

37:2 Rebuke me not, O Lord, in thy indignation; * nor chastise me in thy wrath.

37:3 For thy arrows are fastened in me: * and thy hand hath been strong upon me.

37:4 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy wrath: * there is no peace for my bones, because of my sins.

37:5 For my iniquities are gone over my head: * and as a heavy burden are become heavy upon me.

37:6 My sores are putrified and corrupted, * because of my foolishness.

37:7 I am become miserable, and am bowed down even to the end: * I walked sorrowful all the day long.

37:8 For my loins are filled with illusions; * and there is no health in my flesh.

37:9 I am afflicted and humbled exceedingly: * I roared with the groaning of my heart.

37:10 Lord, all my desire is before thee, * and my groaning is not hidden from thee.

37:11 My heart is troubled, my strength hath left me, * and the light of my eyes itself is not with me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. O Lord, do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Psalmus 37(12-23)

([8])

37:12 My friends and my neighbours * have drawn near, and stood against me.

37:12 And they that were near me stood afar off: * and they that sought my soul used violence.

37:13 And they that sought evils to me spoke vain things, * and studied deceits all the day long.

37:14 But I, as a deaf man, heard not: * and as a dumb man not opening his mouth.

37:15 And I became as a man that heareth not: * and that hath no reproofs in his mouth.

37:16 For in thee, O Lord, have I hoped: * thou wilt hear me, O Lord my God.

37:17 For I said: Lest at any time my enemies rejoice over me: * and whilst my feet are moved, they speak great things against me.

37:18 For I am ready for scourges: * and my sorrow is continually before me.

37:19 For I will declare my iniquity: * and I will think for my sin.

37:20 But my enemies live, and are stronger than I: * and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

37:21 They that render evil for good, have detracted me, * because I followed goodness.

37:22 Forsake me not, O Lord my God: * do not thou depart from me.

37:23 Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Attend unto my help, O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Remove, O Lord, * thy scourges from me.

([9])

38:2 I said: I will take heed to my ways: * that I sin not with my tongue.

38:2 I have set guard to my mouth, * when the sinner stood against me.

38:3 I was dumb, and was humbled, and kept silence from good things: * and my sorrow was renewed.

38:4 My heart grew hot within me: * and in my meditation a fire shall flame out.

38:5 I spoke with my tongue: * O Lord, make me know my end.

38:5 And what is the number of my days: * that I may know what is wanting to me.

38:6 Behold thou hast made my days measurable: * and my substance is as nothing before thee.

38:6 And indeed all things are vanity: * every man living.

38:7 Surely man passeth as an image: * yea, and he is disquieted in vain.

38:7 He storeth up: * and he knoweth not for whom he shall gather these things.

38:8 And now what is my hope? Is it not the Lord? * And my substance is with thee.

38:9 Deliver thou me from all my iniquities: * thou hast made me a reproach to the fool.

38:10 I was dumb, and I opened not my mouth, because thou hast done it: * remove thy scourges from me.

38:12 The strength of thy hand hath made me faint in rebukes: * thou hast corrected man for iniquity.

38:12 And thou hast made his soul to waste away like a spider: * surely in vain is any man disquieted.

38:13 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and my supplication: * give ear to my tears.

38:13 Be not silent: for I am a stranger with thee, * and a sojourner as all my fathers were.

38:14 O forgive me, that I may be refreshed, before I go hence, * and be no more.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Remove, O Lord, thy scourges from me.

℣. O Lord, be not thou silent, forgive me.

℟. For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 5:1-4

1 For we know, if our earthly house of this habitation be dissolved, that we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in heaven.

2 For in this also we groan, desiring to be clothed upon with our habitation that is from heaven.

3 Yet so that we be found clothed, not naked.

4 For we also, who are in this tabernacle, do groan, being burthened; because we would not be unclothed, but clothed upon, that that which is mortal may be swallowed up by life.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. O God, give ear unto my tears; hold not thy peace, but, O, spare me!

* For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner.

℣. Be pleased, O Lord, to deliver me; O Lord, look upon me to help me.

℟. For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May Christ to all His people give, for ever in His sight to live.

℟. Amen.

2 Cor 5:6-10

6 Therefore having always confidence, knowing that, while we are in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walk by faith, and not by sight.)

8 But we are confident, and have a good will to be absent rather from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 And therefore we labour, whether absent or present, to please him.

10 For we must all be manifested before the judgement seat of Christ, that every one may receive the proper things of the body, according as he hath done, whether it be good or evil.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord hath set my feet upon a rock, and ordered my goings.

* And He hath put a new song in my mouth.

℣. He heard my cry He brought me up also out of an horrible pit.

℟. And He hath put a new song in my mouth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℟. Amen.

2 Cor 5:11-15

11 Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we use persuasion to men; but to God we are manifest. And I trust also that in your consciences we are manifest.

12 We commend not ourselves again to you, but give you occasion to glory in our behalf; that you may have somewhat to answer them who glory in face, and not in heart.

13 For whether we be transported in mind, it is to God; or whether we be sober, it is for you.

14 For the charity of Christ presseth us: judging this, that if one died for all, then all were dead.

15 And Christ died for all; that they also who live, may not now live to themselves, but unto him who died for them, and rose again.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. I said: Lord, be merciful unto me.

* Heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

℣. Deliver me from all mine iniquities, O Lord.

℟. Heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. Heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

95:1 Sing ye to the Lord a new canticle: * sing to the Lord, all the earth.

95:2 Sing ye to the Lord and bless his name: * shew forth his salvation from day to day.

95:3 Declare his glory among the Gentiles: * his wonders among all people.

95:4 For the Lord is great, and exceedingly to be praised: * he is to be feared above all gods.

95:5 For all the gods of the Gentiles are devils: * but the Lord made the heavens.

95:6 Praise and beauty are before him: * holiness and majesty in his sanctuary.

95:7 Bring ye to the Lord, O ye kindreds of the Gentiles, bring ye to the Lord glory and honour: * bring to the Lord glory unto his name.

95:8 Bring up sacrifices, and come into his courts: * adore ye the Lord in his holy court.

95:9 Let all the earth be moved at his presence. * Say ye among the Gentiles, the Lord hath reigned.

95:10 For he hath corrected the world, which shall not be moved: * he will judge the people with justice.

Tob. 13:1-11

13:1 Thou art great, O Lord, for ever, * and thy kingdom is unto all ages:

13:2 For thou scourgest, and thou savest: thou leadest down to hell, and bringest up again: * and there is none that can escape thy hand.

13:3 Give glory to the Lord, ye children of Israel, * and praise him in the sight of the Gentiles:

13:4 Because he hath therefore scattered you among the Gentiles, who know not him, * that you may declare his wonderful works,

13:5 And make them know * that there is no other almighty God besides him.

13:6 He hath chastised us for our iniquities: * and he will save us for his own mercy.

13:7 See then what he hath done with us, and with fear and trembling give ye glory to him: * and extol the eternal King of worlds in your works.

13:8 As for me, I will praise him in the land of my captivity: * because he hath shewn his majesty toward a sinful nation.

13:9 Be converted therefore, ye sinners, and do justice before God, * believing that he will shew his mercy to you.

13:10 And I and my soul * will rejoice in him.

 134:9 He sent forth signs and wonders in the midst of thee, O Egypt: * upon Pharaon, and upon all his servants.
 134:10 He smote many nations, * and slew mighty kings:
 134:11 Sehon king of the Amorrhites, and Og king of Basan, * and all the kingdoms of Chanaan.

Hymnus

As the bird, whose clarion gay
 Sounds before the dawn is grey,
 Christ, who brings the spirit's day,
 Calls us, close at hand:
 Aake! he cries, and for my sake,
 From your eyes dull slumbers shake!
 Sober, righteous, chaste, awake!
 At the door I stand!
 Lord, to thee we lift on high
 Fervent prayer and bitter cry:
 Hearts aroused to pray and sigh
 May not slumber more:
 Treak the sleep of death and time,
 Forged by Adam's ancient crime;

And the light of Eden's prime
To the world restore!
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.
Amen.

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.
Pear us, O Father, gracious and forgiving,
And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.

Psalmus 43(2-9)

([1])

43:2 We have heard, O God, with our ears: * our fathers have declared to us,

43:2 The work thou hast wrought in their days, * and in the days of old.

43:3 Thy hand destroyed the Gentiles, and thou plantedst them: * thou didst afflict the people and cast them out.

43:4 For they got not the possession of the land by their own sword: * neither did their own arm save them.

43:4 But thy right hand and thy arm, and the light of thy countenance: * because thou wast pleased with them.

43:5 Thou art thyself my king and my God, * who commandest the saving of Jacob.

43:6 Through thee we will push down our enemies with the horn: * and through thy name we will despise them that rise up against us.

43:7 For I will not trust in my bow: * neither shall my sword save me.

43:8 But thou hast saved us from them that afflict us: * and hast put them to shame that hate us.

43:9 In God shall we glory all the day long: * and in thy name we will give praise for ever.

43:10 But now thou hast cast us off, and put us to shame: * and thou, O God, wilt not go out with our armies.

43:11 Thou hast made us turn our back to our enemies: * and they that hated us plundered for themselves.

43:12 Thou hast given us up like sheep to be eaten: * thou hast scattered us among the nations.

43:13 Thou hast sold thy people for no price: * and there was no reckoning in the exchange of them.

43:14 Thou hast made us a reproach to our neighbours, * a scoff and derision to them that are round about us.

43:15 Thou hast made us a byword among the Gentiles: * a shaking of the head among the people.

43:16 All the day long my shame is before me: * and the confusion of my face hath covered me.

43:17 At the voice of him that reproacheth and detracteth me: * at the face of the enemy and persecutor.

43:18 All these things have come upon us, yet we have not forgotten thee: * and we have not done wickedly in thy covenant.

43:19 And our heart hath not turned back: * neither hast thou turned aside our steps from thy way.

43:23 Arise, why sleepest thou, O Lord? * arise, and cast us not off to the end.

43:24 Why turnest thou thy face away? * and forgettest our want and our trouble?

44:13 And the daughters of Tyre with gifts, * yea, all the rich among the people, shall entreat thy countenance.

44:14 All the glory of the king's daughter is within, * in golden borders, clothed round about with varieties.

44:16 They shall be brought with gladness and rejoicing: * they shall be brought into the temple of the king.

45:10 He shall destroy the bow, and break the weapons: * and the shield he shall burn in the fire.

47:3 With the joy of the whole earth is mount Sion founded, * on the sides of the north, the city of the great king.

47:4 In her houses shall God be known, * when he shall protect her.

47:5 For behold the kings of the earth assembled themselves: * they gathered together.

47:6 So they saw, and they wondered, they were troubled, they were moved: * trembling took hold of them.

47:7 There were pains as of a woman in labour; * with a vehement wind thou shalt break in pieces the ships of Tharsis.

47:9 As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of the Lord of hosts, in the city of our God: * God hath founded it for ever.

48:5 I will incline my ear to a parable; * I will open my proposition on the psaltery.

48:11 He shall not see destruction, when he shall see the wise dying: * the senseless and the fool shall perish together:

48:11 And they shall leave their riches to strangers: * and their sepulchres shall be their houses for ever.

49:4 He shall call heaven from above, * and the earth, to judge his people.

49:5 Gather ye together his saints to him: * who set his covenant before sacrifices.

49:6 And the heavens shall declare his justice: * for God is judge.

49:7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak: O Israel, and I will testify to thee: * I am God, thy God.

49:8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices: * and thy burnt offerings are always in my sight.

49:9 I will not take calves out of thy house: * nor he goats out of thy flocks.

49:10 For all the beasts of the woods are mine: * the cattle on the hills, and the oxen.

49:11 I know all the fowls of the air: * and with me is the beauty of the field.

49:12 If I should be hungry, I would not tell thee: * for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

49:13 Shall I eat the flesh of bullocks? * or shall I drink the blood of goats?

49:14 Offer to God the sacrifice of praise: * and pay thy vows to the most High.

49:18 If thou didst see a thief thou didst run with him: * and with adulterers thou hast been a partaker.

49:19 Thy mouth hath abounded with evil, * and thy tongue framed deceits.

49:20 Sitting thou didst speak against thy brother, and didst lay a scandal against thy mother's son: * these things hast thou done, and I was silent.

49:21 Thou thoughtest unjustly that I should be like to thee: * but I will reprove thee, and set before thy face.

49:22 Understand these things, you that forget God; * lest he snatch you away, and there be none to deliver you.

49:23 The sacrifice of praise shall glorify me: * and there is the way by which I will shew him the salvation of God.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 7:1-3

1 Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of the flesh and of the spirit, perfecting sanctification in the fear of God.

2 Receive us. We have injured no man, we have corrupted no man, we have overreached no man.

3 I speak not this to your condemnation. For we have said before, that you are in our hearts, to die together, and to live together.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Cut me not off in the midst of my sins.

* Nor keep thy wrath against me for my latter end.

℣. Enter not into judgment with thy servant, O Lord.

℟. Nor keep thy wrath against me for my latter end.

2 Cor 7:4-7

4 Great is my confidence for you, great is my glorying for you. I am filled with comfort: I exceedingly abound with joy in all our tribulation.

5 For also when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we suffered all tribulation; combats without, fears within.

6 But God, who comforteth the humble, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming only, but also by the consolation, wherewith he was comforted in you, relating to us your desire, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced the more.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

2 Cor 7:8-10

8 For although I made you sorrowful by my epistle, I do not repent; and if I did repent, seeing that the same epistle (although but for a time) did make you sorrowful;

9 Now I am glad: not because you were made sorrowful; but because you were made sorrowful unto penance. For you were made sorrowful according to God, that you might suffer damage by us in nothing.

10 For the sorrow that is according to God worketh penance, steadfast unto salvation; but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

Day is breaking, dawn is bright:

Hence, vain shadows of the night!

Mists that dim our mortal sight,

Christ is come! Depart!

Darkness routed lifts her wings

As the radiance upwards springs:

Through the world of wakened things

Life and colour dart.

Thee, O Christ, alone we know:

Singing even in our woe,

With pure hearts to thee we go:

On our senses shine!

So thy beams be purged away

All that leads our thoughts astray!
Through our spirits, King of day,
Pour thy light divine!
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,
Lowly of heart, our God we pray
That he from harm may keep us free
In all the deeds this day shall see.
Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,
Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:
His favouring care our guardian be,
Lest our eyes feed on vanity.
Say every heart be pure from sin
And folly find no place therein:
Scant need of food, excess denied,
Wear down in us the body's pride.
Uhat when the light of day is gone,
And night in course shall follow on.
We, free from cares the world affords,
May chant the praise that is our Lord's.
DII laud to God the Father be,
All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

Ant. For thy mercy, * O Lord, is before my eyes; and I am well pleased with thy truth.

([1])

25:1 Judge me, O Lord, for I have walked in my innocence: * and I have put my trust in the Lord, and shall not be weakened.

25:2 Prove me, O Lord, and try me; * burn my reins and my heart.

25:3 For thy mercy is before my eyes; * and I am well pleased with thy truth.

25:4 I have not sat with the council of vanity: * neither will I go in with the doers of unjust things.

25:5 I have hated the assembly of the malignant; * and with the wicked I will not sit.

25:6 I will wash my hands among the innocent; * and will compass thy altar, O Lord:

25:7 That I may hear the voice of thy praise: * and tell of all thy wondrous works.

25:8 I have loved, O Lord, the beauty of thy house; * and the place where thy glory dwelleth.

25:9 Take not away my soul, O God, with the wicked: * nor my life with bloody men:

25:10 In whose hands are iniquities: * their right hand is filled with gifts.

25:11 But as for me, I have walked in my innocence: * redeem me, and have mercy on me.

25:12 My foot hath stood in the direct way: * in the churches I will bless thee, O Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

51:3 Why dost thou glory in malice, * thou that art mighty in iniquity?

51:4 All the day long thy tongue hath devised injustice: * as a sharp razor, thou hast wrought deceit.

51:5 Thou hast loved malice more than goodness: * and iniquity rather than to speak righteousness.

51:6 Thou hast loved all the words of ruin, * O deceitful tongue.

51:7 Therefore will God destroy thee for ever: * he will pluck thee out, and remove thee from thy dwelling place: and thy root out of the land of the living.

51:8 The just shall see and fear, and shall laugh at him, and say: * Behold the man that made not God his helper:

51:9 But trusted in the abundance of his riches: * and prevailed in his vanity.

51:10 But I, as a fruitful olive tree in the house of God, * have hoped in the mercy of God for ever, yea for ever and ever.

51:11 I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: * and I will wait on thy name, for it is good in the sight of thy saints.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 52

([3])

52:1 The fool said in his heart: * There is no God.

52:2 They are corrupted, and become abominable in iniquities: * there is none that doth good.

52:3 God looked down from heaven on the children of men: * to see if there were any that did understand, or did seek God.

52:4 All have gone aside, they are become unprofitable together, * there is none that doth good, no not one.

52:5 Shall not all the workers of iniquity know, * who eat up my people as they eat bread?

52:6 They have not called upon God: * there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

52:6 For God hath scattered the bones of them that please men: * they have been confounded, because God hath despised them.

52:7 Who will give out of Sion the salvation of Israel? * when God shall bring back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

54:2 Hear, O God, my prayer, and despise not my supplication: * be attentive to me and hear me.

54:3 I am grieved in my exercise; * and am troubled, at the voice of the enemy, and at the tribulation of the sinner.

54:4 For they have cast iniquities upon me; * and in wrath they were troublesome to me.

54:5 My heart is troubled within me: * and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

54:6 Fear and trembling are come upon me: * and darkness hath covered me.

54:8 Lo, I have gone far off flying away; * and I abode in the wilderness.
54:9 I waited for him that hath saved me * from pusillanimity of spirit, and a storm.
54:10 Cast down, O Lord, and divide their tongues; * for I have seen iniquity and contradiction in the city.

55:3 My enemies have trodden on me all the day long; * for they are many that make war against me.

55:4 From the height of the day I shall fear: * but I will trust in thee.

55:5 In God I will praise my words, in God I have put my trust: * I will not fear what flesh can do against me.

55:6 All the day long they detested my words: * all their thoughts were against me unto evil.

55:7 They will dwell and hide themselves: * they will watch my heel.

55:8 As they have waited for my soul, for nothing shalt thou save them: * in thy anger thou shalt break the people in pieces.

55:9 O God, I have declared to thee my life: * thou hast set my tears in thy sight,

56:2 And in the shadow of thy wings will I hope, * until iniquity pass away.

56:3 I will cry to God the most High; * to God who hath done good to me.

56:4 He hath sent from heaven and delivered me: * he hath made them a reproach that trod upon me.

56:4 God hath sent his mercy and his truth, * and he hath delivered my soul from the midst of the young lions. I slept troubled.

57:7 God shall break in pieces their teeth in their mouth: * the Lord shall break the grinders of the lions.

Hymnus

O God, whose hand hath spread the sky,
And all its shining hosts on high,
And painting it with fiery light,
Made it so beauteous and so bright:
Qhou, when the fourth day was begun,
Didst frame the circle of the sun,
And set the moon for ordered change,
And planets for their wider range:
Uo night and day, by certain line,
Their varying bounds thou didst assign;
And gav'st a signal, known and meet,
For months begun and months complete.
Enlighten thou the hearts of men:
Polluted souls make pure again:
Unloose the bands of guilt within:
Remove the burden of our sin.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ thy sole-begotten Son,
Whom, with the Spirit we adore,
One God, both now and evermore.
Amen.

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Hymnus

The dusky veil of night hath laid
The varied hues of earth in shade;
Before Thee, righteous Judge of all,
We contrite in confession fall.
Uake far away our load of sin,
Our soiled minds make clean within:
Thy sov'reign grace, O Christ, impart,
From all offence to guard our heart.
Mor lo! our mind is dull and cold,
Envenomed by sin's baneful hold:
Fain would it now the darkness flee,
And seek, Redeemer, unto Thee.

Rar from it drive the shades of night,
Its inmost darkness put to flight;
Till in the daylight of the blest
It joys to find itself at rest.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

67:26 Princes went before joined with singers, * in the midst of young damsels playing on timbrels.

67:27 In the churches bless ye God the Lord, * from the fountains of Israel.

67:28 There is Benjamin a youth, * in ecstasy of mind.

67:28 The princes of Juda are their leaders: * the princes of Zabulon, the princes of Nephthali.

67:29 Command thy strength, O God: * confirm, O God, what thou hast wrought in us.

67:30 From thy temple in Jerusalem, * kings shall offer presents to thee.

Save me, O God * for the waters are come in even unto my soul. ‡

Psalmus 68(2-13)

([7])

68:2 Save me, O God: for the waters are come in even unto my soul.

68:3 ‡ I stick fast in the mire of the deep: * and there is no sure standing.

68:3 I am come into the depth of the sea: * and a tempest hath overwhelmed me.

68:4 I have laboured with crying; my jaws are become hoarse: * my eyes have failed, whilst I hope in my God.

68:5 They are multiplied above the hairs of my head, * who hate me without cause.

68:5 My enemies are grown strong who have wrongfully persecuted me: * then did I pay that which I took not away.

68:6 O God, thou knowest my foolishness; * and my offences are not hidden from thee.

68:7 Let not them be ashamed for me, who look for thee, O Lord, * the Lord of hosts.

68:7 Let them not be confounded on my account, * who seek thee, O God of Israel.

68:8 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; * shame hath covered my face.

68:9 I am become a stranger to my brethren, * and an alien to the sons of my mother.

68:10 For the zeal of thy house hath eaten me up: * and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

68:11 And I covered my soul in fasting: * and it was made a reproach to me.

68:12 And I made haircloth my garment: * and I became a byword to them.

68:13 They that sat in the gate spoke against me: * and they that drank wine made me their song.

68:13 But as for me, my prayer is to thee, O Lord; * for the time of thy good pleasure, O God.

Psalmus 68(14-29)

([8])

68:14 In the multitude of thy mercy hear me, * in the truth of thy salvation.

68:15 Draw me out of the mire, that I may not stick fast: * deliver me from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

68:16 Let not the tempest of water drown me, nor the deep swallow me up: * and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

68:17 Hear me, O Lord, for thy mercy is kind; * look upon me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

68:18 And turn not away thy face from thy servant: * for I am in trouble, hear me speedily.

68:19 Attend to my soul, and deliver it: * save me because of my enemies.

68:20 Thou knowest my reproach, and my confusion, * and my shame.

68:21 In thy sight are all they that afflict me; * my heart hath expected reproach and misery.

68:21 And I looked for one that would grieve together with me, * but there was none: and for one that would comfort me, and I found none.

68:22 And they gave me gall for my food, * and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

68:23 Let their table become as a snare before them, * and a recompense, and a stumblingblock.

68:24 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not; * and their back bend thou down always.

68:25 Pour out thy indignation upon them: * and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

68:26 Let their habitation be made desolate: * and let there be none to dwell in their tabernacles.

68:27 Because they have persecuted him whom thou hast smitten; * and they have added to the grief of my wounds.

68:28 Add thou iniquity upon their iniquity: * and let them not come into thy justice.

68:29 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; * and with the just let them not be written.

68:31 I will praise the name of God with a canticle: * and I will magnify him with praise.

68:32 And it shall please God better than a young calf, * that bringeth forth horns and hoofs.

68:33 Let the poor see and rejoice: * seek ye God, and your soul shall live.

68:34 For the Lord hath heard the poor: * and hath not despised his prisoners.

68:35 Let the heavens and the earth praise him; * the sea, and every thing that creepeth therein.

68:36 For God will save Sion, * and the cities of Juda shall be built up.

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 10:1-3

1 Now I Paul myself beseech you, by the mildness and modesty of Christ, who in presence indeed am lowly among you, but being absent, am bold toward you.

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present, with that confidence wherewith I am thought to be bold, against some, who reckon us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. In thee, O God, do I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion, O Lord deliver me in thy righteousness,

* And cause me to escape.

℣. Incline thine ear unto me, deliver me speedily.

℞. And cause me to escape.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 10:4-7

4 For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty to God unto the pulling down of fortifications, destroying counsels,

5 And every height that exhalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every understanding unto the obedience of Christ;

6 And having in readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled.

7 See the things that are according to outward appearance. If any man trust to himself, that he is Christ's, let him think this again with himself, that as he is Christ's, so are we also.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, that I may sing of thy glory, all the day long of thy greatness. Cast me not off in the time of old age;

* Forsake me not when my strength faileth.

℣. My lips shall be fain when I sing unto thee.

℞. Forsake me not when my strength faileth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 10:8-12

8 For if also I should boast somewhat more of our power, which the Lord hath given us unto edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed.

9 But that I may not be thought as it were to terrify you by epistles,

10 (For his epistles indeed, say they, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible,)

11 Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by epistles, when absent, such also we will be indeed when present.

12 For we dare not match, or compare ourselves with some, that commend themselves; but we measure ourselves by ourselves, and compare ourselves with ourselves.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. My lips shall be fain when I sing unto thee;

* And my soul, which Thou, O Lord, hast redeemed.

℣. My tongue shall also talk of thy righteousness, all the day long of thy praise.

℞. And my soul, which Thou, O Lord, hast redeemed.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. And my soul, which Thou, O Lord, hast redeemed.

89:6 In the morning man shall grow up like grass; in the morning he shall flourish and pass away: * in the evening he shall fall, grow dry, and wither.

89:7 For in thy wrath we have fainted away: * and are troubled in thy indignation.

89:8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thy eyes: * our life in the light of thy countenance.

89:9 For all our days are spent; * and in thy wrath we have fainted away.

89:9 Our years shall be considered as a spider: * the days of our years in them are threescore and ten years.

89:10 But if in the strong they be fourscore years: * and what is more of them is labour and sorrow.

89:10 For mildness is come upon us: * and we shall be corrected.

See the golden sun arise!

Let no more our darkened eyes

Snare us, tangled by surprise

In the maze of sin!

From false words and thoughts impure

Let this light, serene and sure,

Keep our lips without secure,

Keep our souls within.

So may we the day-time spend,

That, till life's temptations end,

Tongue, nor hand, nor eye offend!
One, above us all,
SIEWS in his revealing ray
All we do, and think, and say,
Watching us from break of day
Till the twilight fall.
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,
Lowly of heart, our God we pray
That he from harm may keep us free
In all the deeds this day shall see.

And folly find no place therein:
Scant need of food, excess denied,
Wear down in us the body's pride.

Martyrologium

January 22nd 2027, the 14th day of the Moon, were born into the better life:

Vt Valentia, in Spain, the holy Levite and martyr Vincent. Under the wicked Prefect Dacian he suffered imprisonment, starvation, racking, twisting of his limbs, red-hot plates, and bed of red-hot iron, and other kinds of torments, and passed away to heaven to receive there a martyr's reward, (in the year 304.) The glorious triumph of his passion hath been set forth by Prudentius in noble poetry, and the blessed Augustine and the holy Pope Leo have praised him in the highest language. An Persia, the holy monk Anastasius, who, after enduring many torments of imprisonment, stripes, and bonds at Caesarea, in Palestine, suffered much again under Chosroes, King of the Persians, and was at length beheaded, when he had sent before him seventy companions who suffered martyrdom by drowning, (in the year 628.) His head and his venerable image were afterwards brought to Rome, and the acts of the Second Council of Nicea bear witness that at the sight of them devils fly and diseases are healed.

EAnd elsewhere many other holy martyrs, confessors, and holy virgins.

NThanks be to God.

Ant. How good is God * to Israel, to them that are of a right heart! ‡

Psalmus 72(1-9)

72:1 How good is God to Israel, to them that are of a right heart!

72:2 ‡ But my feet were almost moved; * my steps had wellnigh slipped.

72:3 Because I had a zeal on occasion of the wicked, * seeing the prosperity of sinners.

72:4 For there is no regard to their death, * nor is there strength in their stripes.

72:5 They are not in the labour of men: * neither shall they be scourged like other men.

72:6 Therefore pride hath held them fast: * they are covered with their iniquity and their wickedness.

72:7 Their iniquity hath come forth, as it were from fatness: * they have passed into the affection of the heart.

72:8 They have thought and spoken wickedness: * they have spoken iniquity on high.

72:9 They have set their mouth against heaven: * and their tongue hath passed through the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(10-17)

72:10 Therefore will my people return here * and full days shall be found in them.

72:11 And they said: How doth God know? * and is there knowledge in the most High?

72:12 Behold these are sinners; and yet abounding in the world * they have obtained riches.

72:13 And I said: Then have I in vain justified my heart, * and washed my hands among the innocent.

72:14 And I have been scourged all the day; * and my chastisement hath been in the mornings.

72:15 If I said: I will speak thus; * behold I should condemn the generation of thy children.

72:16 I studied that I might know this thing, * it is a labour in my sight:

72:17 Until I go into the sanctuary of God, * and understand concerning their last ends.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(18-28)

([3])

72:18 But indeed for deceits thou hast put it to them: * when they were lifted up, thou hast cast them down.

72:19 How are they brought to desolation? they have suddenly ceased to be: * they have perished by reason of their iniquity.

72:20 As the dream of them that awake, O Lord; * so in thy city thou shalt bring their image to nothing.

72:21 For my heart hath been inflamed, and my reins have been changed: * and I am brought to nothing, and I knew not.

72:23 I am become as a beast before thee: * and I am always with thee.

72:24 Thou hast held me by my right hand; and by thy will thou hast conducted me, * and with thy glory thou hast received me.

72:25 For what have I in heaven? * and besides thee what do I desire upon earth?

72:26 For thee my flesh and my heart hath fainted away: * thou art the God of my heart, and the God that is my portion for ever.

72:27 For behold they that go far from thee shall perish: * thou hast destroyed all them that are disloyal to thee.

72:28 But it is good for me to adhere to my God, * to put my hope in the Lord God:

72:28 That I may declare all thy praises, * in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

73:2 Remember thy congregation, * which thou hast possessed from the beginning.

73:2 The sceptre of thy inheritance which thou hast redeemed: * mount Sion in which thou hast dwelt.

73:3 Lift up thy hands against their pride unto the end; * see what things the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

73:4 And they that hate thee have made their boasts, * in the midst of thy solemnity.

73:5 They have set up their ensigns for signs, * and they knew not both in the going out and on the highest top.

73:6 As with axes in a wood of trees, they have cut down at once the gates thereof, * with axe and hatchet they have brought it down.

73:7 They have set fire to thy sanctuary: * they have defiled the dwelling place of thy name on the earth.

73:8 They said in their heart, the whole kindred of them together: * Let us abolish all the festival days of God from the land.

73:11 Why dost thou turn away thy hand: and thy right hand * out of the midst of thy bosom for ever?

73:12 But God is our king before ages: * he hath wrought salvation in the midst of the earth.

73:13 Thou by thy strength didst make the sea firm: * thou didst crush the heads of the dragons in the waters.

73:14 Thou hast broken the heads of the dragon: * thou hast given him to be meat for the people of the Ethiopians.

73:15 Thou hast broken up the fountains and the torrents: * thou hast dried up the Ethan rivers.

73:20 Have regard to thy covenant: * for they that are the obscure of the earth have been filled with dwellings of iniquity.

73:21 Let not the humble be turned away with confusion: * the poor and needy shall praise thy name.

From hour to hour through all its changes guide:

O sovereign Lord of nature's might,
Who bad'st the water's birth divide;
Part in the heavens to take their flight,
And part in ocean's deep to hide;
These low obscured, on airy wing
Exalted those, that either race,
Though from one element they spring,
Might serve thee in a different place.
Lrant, Lord, that we thy servants all,
Saved by thy tide of cleansing blood,
No more 'neath sin's dominion fall,
Nor fear the thought of death's dark flood!
Uhy varied love each spirit bless,
The humble cheer, the high control;
Check in each heart its proud excess,
But raise the meek and contrite soul!
Phis boon, O Father, we entreat,
This blessing grant, Eternal Son,
And Holy Ghost, the Paraclete,
Both now, and while the ages run.

1:50 And his mercy is from generation unto generations, * to them that fear him.

1:51 He hath shewed might in his arm: * he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

1:54 He hath received Israel his servant, * being mindful of his mercy:

1:55 As he spoke to our fathers, * to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God has shown the power of his arm: he has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

1 Pet 5:8-9

Brothers: Be sober and watch: because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, goeth about seeking whom he may devour. Whom resist ye, strong in faith.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℣. Our help is ✠ in the name of the Lord,

℟. Who made heaven and earth.

There follows an examination of conscience, or the Our Father said silently.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation: But deliver us from evil. Amen.

I confess to almighty God, to blessed Mary ever Virgin, to blessed Michael the Archangel, to blessed John the Baptist, to the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, and to all the Saints, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word and deed: strikes his breast through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault. Ant. Thou art my helper * and my deliverer, O Lord.

([1])

69:2 O God, come to my assistance; * O Lord, make haste to help me.

69:3 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek my soul:

69:4 Let them be turned backward, and blush for shame * that desire evils to me:

69:4 Let them be presently turned away blushing for shame * that say to me: 'T is well, 't is well.

69:5 Let all that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; * and let such as love thy salvation say always:
The Lord be magnified.

69:6 But I am needy and poor; * O God, help me.

69:6 Thou art my helper and my deliverer: * O Lord, make no delay.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 70(1-12)

70:1 In thee, O Lord, I have hoped, let me never be put to confusion: * deliver me in thy justice, and rescue me.

70:2 Incline thy ear unto me, * and save me.

70:3 Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a place of strength: * that thou mayst make me safe.

70:3 For thou art my firmament * and my refuge.

70:4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the sinner, * and out of the hand of the transgressor of the law and of the unjust.

70:5 For thou art my patience, O Lord: * my hope, O Lord, from my youth.

70:6 By thee have I been confirmed from the womb: * from my mother's womb thou art my protector.

70:7 Of thee shall I continually sing: * I am become unto many as a wonder, but thou art a strong helper.

70:8 Let my mouth be filled with praise, that I may sing thy glory; * thy greatness all the day long.

70:9 Cast me not off in the time of old age: * when my strength shall fail, do not thou forsake me.

70:10 For my enemies have spoken against me; * and they that watched my soul have consulted together,

70:11 Saying: God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, * for there is none to deliver him.

70:12 O God, be not thou far from me: * O my God, make haste to my help.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 70(13-24)

([3])

70:13 Let them be confounded and come to nothing that detract my soul; * let them be covered with confusion and shame that seek my hurt.

70:14 But I will always hope; * and will add to all thy praise.

70:15 My mouth shall shew forth thy justice; * thy salvation all the day long.

70:16 Because I have not known learning, I will enter into the powers of the Lord: * O Lord, I will be mindful of thy justice alone.

70:17 Thou hast taught me, O God, from my youth: * and till now I will declare thy wonderful works.

70:18 And unto old age and grey hairs: * O God, forsake me not,

70:18 Until I shew forth thy arm * to all the generation that is to come:

70:19 Thy power, and thy justice, O God, even to the highest great things thou hast done: * O God, who is like to thee?

70:20 How great troubles hast thou shewn me, many and grievous: and turning thou hast brought me to life, * and hast brought me back again from the depths of the earth:

70:21 Thou hast multiplied thy magnificence; * and turning to me thou hast comforted me.

70:22 For I will also confess to thee thy truth with the instruments of psaltery: * O God, I will sing to thee with the harp,

70:23 My lips shall greatly rejoice, when I shall sing to thee; * and my soul which thou hast redeemed.

70:24 Yea and my tongue shall meditate on thy justice all the day; * when they shall be confounded and put to shame that seek evils to me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Before the ending of the day,
Creator of the world, we pray
That with thy wonted favor thou
Wouldst be our guard and keeper now.
From all ill dreams defend our eyes,
From nightly fears and fantasies;
Tread under foot our ghostly foe,
That no pollution we may know.
PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Ant. The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

O Three in One, and One in Three,

Who rulest all things mightily:

Bow down to hear the songs of praise

Which, freed from bonds of sleep, we raise.

While lingers yet the peace of night,

We rouse us from our slumbers light:

That might of instant prayer may win

The healing balm for wounds of sin.

Qf, by the wiles of Satan caught,

This night-time we have sinned in aught,

That sin Thy glorious power to-day,

From heaven descending, cleanse away.

Net naught impure our bodies stain,
No laggard sloth our souls detain,
No taint of sin our spirits know,
To chill the fervor of their glow.
Oherefore, Redeemer grant that we
Fulfilled with thine own light may be:
That, in our course, from day to day,
By no misdeed we fall away.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

Psalmus 77(1-8)

77:1 Attend, O my people, to my law: * incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables: * I will utter propositions from the beginning.

77:3 How great things have we heard and known, * and our fathers have told us.

77:4 They have not been hidden from their children, * in another generation.

77:4 Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, * and his wonders which he hath done.

77:5 And he set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

77:5 How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children: * that another generation might know them.

77:6 The children that should be born and should rise up, * and declare them to their children.

77:7 That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: * and may seek his commandments.

77:8 That they may not become like their fathers, * a perverse and exasperating generation.

77:8 A generation that set not their heart aright: * and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel.

The Lord did wonderful things * in the sight of their fathers.

Psalmus 77(9-16)

([2])

77:9 The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: * they have turned back in the day of battle.

77:10 They kept not the covenant of God: * and in his law they would not walk.

77:11 And they forgot his benefits, * and his wonders that he had shewn them.

77:12 Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, * in the field of Tanis.

77:13 He divided the sea and brought them through: * and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

77:14 And he conducted them with a cloud by day: * and all the night with a light of fire.

77:15 He struck the rock in the wilderness: * and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.

77:16 He brought forth water out of the rock: * and made streams run down as rivers.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord did wonderful things in the sight of their fathers.

The Lord opened * the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

Psalmus 77(17-31)

([3])

77:17 And they added yet more sin against him: * they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.

77:18 And they tempted God in their hearts, * by asking meat for their desires.

77:19 And they spoke ill of God: * they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

77:20 Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, * and the streams overflowed.

77:20 Can he also give bread, * or provide a table for his people?

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: * and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.

77:22 Because they believed not in God: * and trusted not in his salvation.

77:23 And he had commanded the clouds from above, * and had opened the doors of heaven.

77:24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, * and had given them the bread of heaven.

77:25 Man ate the bread of angels: * he sent them provisions in abundance.

77:26 He removed the south wind from heaven: * and by his power brought in the southwest wind.

77:27 And he rained upon them flesh as dust: * and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

77:28 And they fell in the midst of their camp, * round about their pavilions.

77:29 So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire: * they were not defrauded of that which they craved.

77:30 As yet their meat was in their mouth: * and the wrath of God came upon them.

77:31 And he slew the fat ones amongst them, * and brought down the chosen men of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord opened the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

God is their helper, * and the most high God their redeemer.

Psalmus 77(32-41)

([4])

77:32 In all these things they sinned still: * and they believed not for his wondrous works.

77:33 And their days were consumed in vanity, * and their years in haste.

77:34 When he slew them, then they sought him: * and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

77:35 And they remembered that God was their helper: * and the most high God their redeemer.

77:36 And they loved him with their mouth: * and with their tongue they lied unto him:

77:37 But their heart was not right with him: * nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

77:38 But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: * and will not destroy them.

77:38 And many a time did he turn away his anger: * and did not kindle all his wrath.

77:39 And he remembered that they are flesh: * a wind that goeth and returneth not.

77:40 How often did they provoke him in the desert: * and move him to wrath in the place without water?

77:41 And they turned back and tempted God: * and grieved the holy one of Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God is their helper, and the most high God their redeemer.

The Lord redeemed them * from the hand of him that afflicted them.

Psalmus 77(42-58)

([5])

77:42 They remembered not his hand, * in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

77:43 How he wrought his signs in Egypt, * and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

77:44 And he turned their rivers into blood, * and their showers that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent amongst them diverse sorts of flies, which devoured them: * and frogs which destroyed them.

77:46 And he gave up their fruits to the blast, * and their labours to the locust.

77:47 And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, * and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

77:48 And he gave up their cattle to the hail, * and their stock to the fire.

77:49 And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: * indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

77:50 He made a way for a path to his anger: * he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

77:51 And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: * the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

77:52 And he took away his own people as sheep: * and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

77:53 And he brought them out in hope, and they feared not: * and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

77:54 And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: * the mountain which his right hand had purchased.

77:54 And he cast out the Gentiles before them: * and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

77:55 And he made the tribes of Israel * to dwell in their tabernacles.

77:56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: * and they kept not his testimonies.

77:57 And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: * even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

77:58 They provoked him to anger on their hills: * and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them.

God built * his sanctuary in the earth.

Psalmus 77(59-72)

77:59 God heard, and despised them, * and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

77:60 And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, * his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

77:61 And he delivered their strength into captivity: * and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

77:62 And he shut up his people under the sword: * and he despised his inheritance.

77:63 Fire consumed their young men: * and their maidens were not lamented.
 77:64 Their priests fell by the sword: * and their widows did not mourn.
 77:65 And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, * and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.
 77:66 And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: * he put them to an everlasting reproach.
 77:67 And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: * and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
 77:68 But he chose the tribe of Juda, * mount Sion which he loved.
 77:69 And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land * which he founded for ever.
 77:70 And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: * he brought him from following the ewes great with young,
 77:71 To feed Jacob his servant, * and Israel his inheritance.
 77:72 And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: * and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.
 Ṽ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
 R̃. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God built his sanctuary in the earth.
 Help us, O God, our Saviour, * deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

Psalmus 78

([7])

78:1 O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: * they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.
 78:2 They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: * the flesh of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.
 78:3 They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem, * and there was none to bury them.
 78:4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: * a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
 78:5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: * shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?
 78:6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: * and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.
 78:7 Because they have devoured Jacob; * and have laid waste his place.
 78:8 Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, * for we are become exceeding poor.
 78:9 Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: * and forgive us our sins for thy name's sake:
 78:10 Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? * And let him be made known among the nations before our eyes,
 78:10 By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed: * let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee.
 78:11 According to the greatness of thy arm, * take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.
 78:12 And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: * the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
 78:13 But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, * will give thanks to thee for ever.
 78:13 We will shew forth thy praise, * unto generation and generation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Help us, O God, our Saviour, deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

I am the Lord * God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Psalmus 80

([8])

80:2 Rejoice to God, our helper: * sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: * the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

80:4 Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, * on the noted day of your solemnity.

80:5 For it is a commandment in Israel, * and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

80:6 He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: * he heard a tongue which he knew not.

80:7 He removed his back from the burdens: * his hands had served in baskets.

80:8 Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: * I heard thee in the secret place of tempest: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction.

80:9 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: * O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me; there shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

80:11 For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: * open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 But my people heard not my voice: * and Israel hearkened not to me.

80:13 So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: * they shall walk in their own inventions.

80:14 If my people had heard me: * if Israel had walked in my ways:

80:15 I should soon have humbled their enemies, * and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

80:16 The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: * and their time shall be for ever.

80:17 And he fed them with the fat of wheat, * and filled them with honey out of the rock.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. I am the Lord God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Be not thou silent, O Lord, * for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

Psalmus 82

([9])

82:2 O God, who shall be like to thee? * Hold not thy peace, neither be O God, thou still,

82:3 For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: * and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

82:4 They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, * and have consulted against thy saints.

82:5 They have said: Come and let us destroy them, * so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

82:6 For they have contrived with one consent: * they have made a covenant together against thee; the tabernacles of the Edomites, and the Ismahelites:

82:8 Moab, and the Agarens, Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: * the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

82:9 Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: * they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

82:10 Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: * as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

82:11 Who perished at Endor: * and became as dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, * and Zebbee, and Salmana.
82:13 All their princes, * who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.
82:14 O my God, make them like a wheel; * and as stubble before the wind.
82:15 As fire which burneth the wood: * and as a flame burning mountains:

82:17 Fill their faces with shame; * and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.

Reading 1

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 12:1-4

1 If I must glory (it is not expedient indeed): but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.
2 I know a man in Christ above fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not, or out of the body, I know not; God knoweth), such a one caught up to the third heaven.
3 And I know such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I know not: God knoweth):
4 That he was caught up into paradise, and heard secret words, which it is not granted to man to utter.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart, and I will glorify thy Name for evermore.

* For great is thy mercy, O Lord, toward me.

℣. Thou art my God, and I will praise thee; Thou art my God, and I will exalt thee.

℞. For great is thy mercy, O Lord, toward me.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May Christ to all His people give, for ever in His sight to live.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 12:5-9

5 For such an one I will glory; but for myself I will glory nothing, but in my infirmities.

6 For though I should have a mind to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I will say the truth. But I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth in me, or any thing he heareth from me.

7 And lest the greatness of the revelations should exalt me, there was given me a sting of my flesh, an angel of Satan, to buffet me.

8 For which thing thrice I besought the Lord, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said to me: My grace is sufficient for thee; for power is made perfect in infirmity.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Great, O Lord, is thy mercy toward me.

* And Thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell.

℣. In the day of my trouble I called upon thee, for Thou hast heard me.

℞. And Thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 12:9-11

9 Gladly therefore will I glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

10 For which cause I please myself in my infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ. For when I am weak, then am I powerful.

11 I am become foolish: you have compelled me. For I ought to have been commended by you: for I have no way come short of them that are above measure apostles, although I be nothing.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord is my refuge.

* And my God is the stay of my trust.

℣. He delivered me from the strongest of mine enemies, and the Lord was my stay.

℞. And my God is the stay of my trust.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. And my God is the stay of my trust.

Skip the rest, unless praying Lauds separately.

Let us pray.

Phrough Jesus Christ, thy Son our Lord, Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

℞. Amen.

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

℣. Let us bless the Lord.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℣. May the souls of the faithful, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

℞. Amen.

98:2 The Lord is great in Sion, * and high above all people.

98:3 Let them give praise to thy great name: for it is terrible and holy: * and the king's honour loveth judgment.

98:4 Thou hast prepared directions: * thou hast done judgment and justice in Jacob.

98:5 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and adore his footstool, * for it is holy.

98:6 Moses and Aaron among his priests: * and Samuel among them that call upon his name.

98:6 They called upon the Lord, and he heard them: * he spoke to them in the pillar of the cloud.

98:7 They kept his testimonies, * and the commandment which he gave them.

98:8 Thou didst hear them, O Lord our God: * thou wast a merciful God to them, and taking vengeance on all their inventions.

98:9 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and adore at his holy mountain: * for the Lord our God is holy.

142:1 Hear, O Lord, my prayer: give ear to my supplication in thy truth: * hear me in thy justice.

142:2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: * for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

142:3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: * he hath brought down my life to the earth.

142:3 He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old: * and my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

142:5 I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: * I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

142:6 I stretched forth my hands to thee: * my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

142:7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: * my spirit hath fainted away.

142:7 Turn not away thy face from me, * lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

142:8 Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; * for in thee have I hoped.

142:8 Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: * for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

142:9 Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled: * teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God.

142:10 Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land: * for thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

142:11 Thou wilt bring my soul out of trouble: * and in thy mercy thou wilt destroy my enemies.

142:12 And thou wilt cut off all them that afflict my soul: * for I am thy servant.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled.

Lord, thou hast blessed thy land; * Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people.

84:3 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people: * thou hast covered all their sins.

84:4 Thou hast mitigated all thy anger: * thou hast turned away from the wrath of thy indignation.

84:5 Convert us, O God our saviour: * and turn off thy anger from us.

84:6 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: * or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: * and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

84:8 Shew us, O Lord, thy mercy; * and grant us thy salvation.

84:9 I will hear what the Lord God will speak in me: * for he will speak peace.

84:9 And unto his saints: * and unto them that are converted to the heart.

84:10 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him: * that glory may dwell in our land.

84:11 Mercy and truth have met each other: * justice and peace have kissed.

84:12 Truth is sprung out of the earth: * and justice hath looked down from heaven.

84:13 For the Lord will give goodness: * and our earth shall yield her fruit.

Canticum Isaiaë

Isa 45:15-30

45:15 Verily thou art a hidden God, * the God of Israel the saviour.

45:16 They are all confounded and ashamed: * the forgers of errors are gone together into confusion.

45:17 Israel is saved in the Lord with an eternal salvation: * you shall not be confounded, and you shall not be ashamed for ever and ever.

45:18 For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens, * God himself that formed the earth, and made it, the very maker thereof:

45:19 He did not create it in vain: he formed it to be inhabited. * I am the Lord, and there is no other.

45:20 I have not spoken in secret, * in a dark place of the earth:

45:21 I have not said to the seed of Jacob: Seek me in vain. * I am the Lord that speak justice, that declare right things.

45:22 Assemble yourselves, and come, and draw near together, * ye that are saved of the Gentiles:

45:23 They have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven work, * and pray to a god that cannot save.

45:24 Tell ye, and come, and consult together: * who hath declared this from the beginning, who hath foretold this from that time?

45:25 Have not I the Lord, and there is no God else besides me? * A just God and a saviour, there is none besides me.

45:26 Be converted to me, and you shall be saved, all ye ends of the earth: * for I am God, and there is no other.

45:27 I have sworn by myself, the word of justice shall go out of my mouth, * and shall not return:

45:28 For every knee shall be bowed to me, * and every tongue shall swear.

45:29 Therefore shall he say: In the Lord are my justices and empire: * they shall come to him, and all that resist him shall be confounded.

45:30 In the Lord shall all the seed * of Israel be justified and praised.

Our only hope, in mercy given;
Child of a Virgin meek and pure;
Son of the Highest evermore:
Drant us thine aid thy praise to sing,
As opening days new duties bring;

That with the light our life may be
Renewed and sanctified by thee.
O he morning star fades from the sky,
The sun breaks forth; night's shadows fly:
O Thou, true Light, upon us shine:
Our darkness turn to light divine.
Mithin us grant thy light to dwell;
And from our souls dark sins expel;
Cleanse thou our minds from stain of ill,
And with thy peace our bosoms fill.
O give us strong faith forever give,
With joyous hope, in thee to live;

Made strong and pure by charity.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

21:2 O God my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? * Far from my salvation are the words of my sins.

21:3 O my God, I shall cry by day, and thou wilt not hear: * and by night, and it shall not be reputed as folly in me.

21:4 But thou dwellest in the holy place, * the praise of Israel.

21:5 In thee have our fathers hoped: * they have hoped, and thou hast delivered them.

21:8 All they that saw me have laughed me to scorn: * they have spoken with the lips, and wagged the head.

21:9 He hoped in the Lord, let him deliver him: * let him save him, seeing he delighteth in him.

21:14 They have opened their mouths against me, * as a lion ravening and roaring.

21:15 I am poured out like water; * and all my bones are scattered.

21:15 My heart is become like wax melting * in the midst of my bowels.

Come Holy Ghost who ever One
Art with the Father and the Son,
It is the hour, our souls possess
With thy full flood of holiness.
Oet flesh and heart and lips and mind
Sound forth our witness to mankind;
And love light up our mortal frame,
Till others catch the living flame.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

79:3 Stir up thy might, and come * to save us.

79:4 Convert us, O God: * and shew us thy face, and we shall be saved.

79:5 O Lord God of hosts, * how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy servant?

79:6 How long wilt thou feed us with the bread of tears: * and give us for our drink tears in measure?

79:7 Thou hast made us to be a contradiction to our neighbours: * and our enemies have scoffed at us.

Psalmus 79(9-20)

79:9 Thou hast brought a vineyard out of Egypt: * thou hast cast out the Gentiles and planted it.

79:10 Thou wast the guide of its journey in its sight: * thou plantedst the roots thereof, and it filled the land.

79:11 The shadow of it covered the hills: * and the branches thereof the cedars of God.

79:12 It stretched forth its branches unto the sea, * and its boughs unto the river.

79:13 Why hast thou broken down the hedge thereof, * so that all they who pass by the way do pluck it?

79:14 The boar out of the wood hath laid it waste: * and a singular wild beast hath devoured it.

79:15 Turn again, O God of hosts, * look down from heaven, and see, and visit this vineyard:

79:16 And perfect the same which thy right hand hath planted: * and upon the son of man whom thou hast confirmed for thyself.

79:17 Things set on fire and dug down * shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

79:18 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand: * and upon the son of man whom thou hast confirmed for thyself.

81:4 Rescue the poor; * and deliver the needy out of the hand of the sinner.

81:5 They have not known nor understood: they walk on in darkness: * all the foundations of the earth shall be moved.

81:6 I have said: You are gods * and all of you the sons of the most High.

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.

And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.

88:4 I have made a covenant with my elect: I have sworn to David my servant: * Thy seed will I settle for ever.

88:5 And I will build up thy throne * unto generation and generation.

88:6 The heavens shall confess thy wonders, O Lord: * and thy truth in the church of the saints.

88:7 For who in the clouds can be compared to the Lord: * or who among the sons of God shall be like to God?

88:8 God, who is glorified in the assembly of the saints: * great and terrible above all them that are about him.

88:9 O Lord God of hosts, who is like to thee? * thou art mighty, O Lord, and thy truth is round about thee.

88:10 Thou rulest the power of the sea: * and appeasest the motion of the waves thereof.

88:11 Thou hast humbled the proud one, as one that is slain: * with the arm of thy strength thou hast scattered thy enemies.

88:12 Thine are the heavens, and thine is the earth: the world and the fulness thereof thou hast founded: * the north and the sea thou hast created.

88:21 I have found David my servant: * with my holy oil I have anointed him.

88:22 For my hand shall help him: * and my arm shall strengthen him.

88:23 The enemy shall have no advantage over him: * nor the son of iniquity have power to hurt him.

88:24 And I will cut down his enemies before his face; * and them that hate him I will put to flight.

88:25 And my truth and my mercy shall be with him: * and in my name shall his horn be exalted.

88:26 And I will set his hand in the sea; * and his right hand in the rivers.

88:27 He shall cry out to me: Thou art my father: * my God, and the support of my salvation.

88:28 And I will make him my firstborn, * high above the kings of the earth.

88:35 Neither will I profane my covenant: * and the words that proceed from my mouth I will not make void.

88:36 Once have I sworn by my holiness: I will not lie unto David: * his seed shall endure for ever.

88:40 Thou hast overthrown the covenant of thy servant: * thou hast profaned his sanctuary on the earth.

88:41 Thou hast broken down all his hedges: * thou hast made his strength fear.

88:42 All that pass by the way have robbed him: * he is become a reproach to his neighbours.

88:43 Thou hast set up the right hand of them that oppress him: * thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

88:44 Thou hast turned away the help of his sword; * and hast not assisted him in battle.

88:45 Thou hast made his purification to cease: * and thou hast cast his throne down to the ground.
88:46 Thou hast shortened the days of his time: * thou hast covered him with confusion.
88:47 How long, O Lord, turnest thou away unto the end? * shall thy anger burn like fire?
88:48 Remember what my substance is: * for hast thou made all the children of men in vain?
88:49 Who is the man that shall live, and not see death: * that shall deliver his soul from the hand of hell?
88:50 Lord, where are thy ancient mercies, * according to what thou didst swear to David in thy truth?
88:51 Be mindful, O Lord, of the reproach of thy servants * which I have held in my bosom of many nations:
88:52 Wherewith thy enemies have reproached, O Lord; * wherewith they have reproached the change of thy anointed.
88:53 Blessed be the Lord for evermore. * So be it. So be it.

Maker of man, who from thy throne
Dost order all things, God alone;
By whose decree the teeming earth
To reptile and to beast gave birth:
Ehe mighty forms that fill the land,
Instinct with life at thy command,
Are given subdued to humankind
For service in their rank assigned.
From all thy servants drive away
Whate'er of thought impure to-day
Hath been with open action blent,
Or mingled with the heart's intent.

Dn heaven thine endless joys bestow,
And grant thy gifts of grace below;
From chains of strife our souls release,
Bind fast the gentle bands of peace.

Ant. I have cried * to the Lord with my voice, do not forget to show mercy, O God.

Psalmus 76(2-13)

76:2 I cried to the Lord with my voice; * to God with my voice, and he gave ear to me.

76:3 In the day of my trouble I sought God, with my hands lifted up to him in the night, * and I was not deceived.

76:4 My soul refused to be comforted: * I remembered God, and was delighted, and was exercised, and my spirit swooned away.

76:5 My eyes prevented the watches: * I was troubled, and I spoke not.

76:6 I thought upon the days of old: * and I had in my mind the eternal years.

76:7 And I meditated in the night with my own heart: * and I was exercised and I swept my spirit.

76:8 Will God then cast off for ever? * or will he never be more favourable again?
76:9 Or will he cut off his mercy for ever, * from generation to generation?
76:10 Or will God forget to shew mercy? * or will he in his anger shut up his mercies?
76:11 And I said, Now have I begun: * this is the change of the right hand of the most High.
76:12 I remembered the works of the Lord: * for I will be mindful of thy wonders from the beginning.
76:13 And I will meditate on all thy works: * and will be employed in thy inventions.
V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
R. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 76(14-21)

76:14 Thy way, O God, is in the holy place: who is the great God like our God? * Thou art the God that dost wonders.
76:15 Thou hast made thy power known among the nations: * with thy arm thou hast redeemed thy people, the children of Jacob and of Joseph.
76:17 The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee: * and they were afraid, and the depths were troubled.
76:18 Great was the noise of the waters: * the clouds sent out a sound.
76:18 For thy arrows pass: * the voice of thy thunder in a wheel.
76:19 Thy lightnings enlightened the world: * the earth shook and trembled.
76:20 Thy way is in the sea, and thy paths in many waters: * and thy footsteps shall not be known.
76:21 Thou hast conducted thy people like sheep, * by the hand of Moses and Aaron.
V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
R. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

85:2 Preserve my soul, for I am holy: * save thy servant, O my God, that trusteth in thee.
85:3 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I have cried to thee all the day. * Give joy to the soul of thy servant, for to thee, O Lord, I have lifted up my soul.
85:5 For thou, O Lord, art sweet and mild: * and plenteous in mercy to all that call upon thee.
85:6 Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer: * and attend to the voice of my petition.
85:7 I have called upon thee in the day of my trouble: * because thou hast heard me.
85:8 There is none among the gods like unto thee, O Lord: * and there is none according to thy works.
85:9 All the nations thou hast made shall come and adore before thee, O Lord: * and they shall glorify thy name.
85:10 For thou art great and dost wonderful things: * thou art God alone.
85:11 Conduct me, O Lord, in thy way, and I will walk in thy truth: * let my heart rejoice that it may fear thy name.
85:12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart, * and I will glorify thy name for ever:
85:13 For thy mercy is great towards me: * and thou hast delivered my soul out of the lower hell.
85:14 O God, the wicked are risen up against me, and the assembly of the mighty have sought my soul: * and they have not set thee before their eyes.
85:15 And thou, O Lord, art a God of compassion, and merciful, * patient, and of much mercy, and true.

85:16 O look upon me, and have mercy on me: * give thy command to thy servant, and save the son of thy handmaid.

85:17 Shew me a token for good: that they who hate me may see, and be confounded, * because thou, O Lord, hast helped me and hast comforted me.

Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

Ant. Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

The Lord is with thee.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

The Lord is with thee.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The Lord is with thee.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Hymnus

The God whom earth, and sea, and sky

Adore, and laud, and magnify,

Who o'er their threefold fabric reigns,

The Virgin's spotless womb contains.

Che God, whose will by moon and sun

And all things in due course is done,

Is borne upon a maiden's breast,

By fullest heavenly grace possest.

Bow blest that mother, in whose shrine

The great artificer divine,

Whose hand contains the earth and sky,

Vouchsafed, as in his ark, to lie.

Blest, in the message Gabriel brought;
Blest, by the work the Spirit wrought;
From whom the great desire of earth
Took human flesh and human birth.
Ill honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete.
Amen.

104:13 And they passed from nation to nation, * and from one kingdom to another people.

106:31 Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him, * and his wonderful works to the children of men.

106:32 And let them exalt him in the church of the people: * and praise him in the chair of the ancients.

106:33 He hath turned rivers into a wilderness: * and the sources of water into dry ground:

106:34 A fruitful land into barrenness, * for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

106:35 He hath turned a wilderness into pools of water, * and a dry land into water springs.

106:36 And hath placed there the hungry; * and they made a city for their habitation.

106:37 And they sowed fields, and planted vineyards: * and they yielded fruit of birth.

106:38 And he blessed them, and they were multiplied exceedingly: * and their cattle he suffered not to decrease.

106:39 Then they were brought to be few: * and they were afflicted through the trouble of evils and sorrow.

106:41 And he helped the poor out of poverty: * and made him families like a flock of sheep.

106:42 The just shall see, and shall rejoice, * and all iniquity shall stop their mouth.

106:43 Who is wise, and will keep these things: * and will understand the mercies of the Lord?

Lesson from the second letter of St. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians

2 Cor 13:1-4

1 Behold, this is the third time I am coming to you: In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word stand.

2 I have told before, and foretell, as present, and now absent, to them that sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again, I will not spare.

3 Do you seek a proof of Christ that speaketh in me, who towards you is not weak, but is mighty in you?

4 For although he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him: but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℞. Mercy and judgment I will sing to thee, O Lord:

* I will sing, and I will understand in the unspotted way, when thou shalt come to me.

℣. I walked in the innocence of my heart, in the midst of my house.

℞. Mercy and judgment I will sing to thee, O Lord

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Virgin of virgins, intercede for us to the Lord.

℞. Amen.

2 Cor 13:5-9

5 Try your own selves if you be in the faith; prove ye yourselves. Know you not your own selves, that Christ Jesus is in you, unless perhaps you be reprobates?

6 But I trust that you shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now we pray God, that you may do no evil, not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is good, and that we may be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth; but for the truth.

9 For we rejoice that we are weak, and you are strong. This also we pray for, your perfection.

2 Cor 13:10-13

10 Therefore I write these things, being absent, that, being present, I may not deal more severely, according to the power which the Lord hath given me unto edification, and not unto destruction.

11 For the rest, brethren, rejoice, be perfect, take exhortation, be of one mind, have peace; and the God of peace and of love shall be with you.

12 Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the saints salute you.

13 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the charity of God, and the communication of the Holy Ghost be with you all. Amen.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Haste thee to hear me, O Lord.

* For my days are consumed away like smoke:

* But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

℣. My days have declined like a shadow, and I am withered like grass.

℞. For my days are consumed away like smoke.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

Through the Virgin Mother, the Lord grant us salvation and peace.

℞. Amen.

Reading 3

From the letter of Blessed Ambrose, bishop of Milan, to Pope Siricius

Epist. 81, alias 7, post initium

How great is the madness of their dismal barkings, that the same persons should say that Christ could not be born of a virgin, and yet assert that women, after having given birth to human pledges, remain virgins? But if they will not believe the doctrines of the Clergy, let them believe the oracles of Christ, let them believe the admonitions of Angels who say, For with God nothing shall be impossible. Let them give credit to the Creed of the Apostles, which the Roman Church has always kept and preserved undefiled. Mary heard the voice of the Angel, and she who before had said "How shall this be?", not asking from want of faith in the mode of generation, afterwards replied: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word."

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

([2])

91:2 It is good to give praise to the Lord: * and to sing to thy name, O most High.

91:3 To shew forth thy mercy in the morning, * and thy truth in the night:

91:4 Upon an instrument of ten strings, upon the psaltery: * with a canticle upon the harp.

91:5 For thou hast given me, O Lord, a delight in thy doings: * and in the works of thy hands I shall rejoice.

91:6 O Lord, how great are thy works! * thy thoughts are exceeding deep.

91:7 The senseless man shall not know: * nor will the fool understand these things.

91:8 When the wicked shall spring up as grass: * and all the workers of iniquity shall appear:

91:9 That they may perish for ever and ever: * but thou, O Lord, art most high for evermore.

91:10 For behold thy enemies, O Lord, for behold thy enemies shall perish: * and all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

91:11 But my horn shall be exalted like that of the unicorn: * and my old age in plentiful mercy.

91:12 My eye also hath looked down upon my enemies: * and my ear shall hear of the downfall of the malignant that rise up against me.

63:3 Thou hast protected me from the assembly of the malignant; * from the multitude of the workers of iniquity.

63:4 For they have whetted their tongues like a sword; * they have bent their bow a bitter thing, to shoot in secret the undefiled.

63:6 They will shoot at him on a sudden, and will not fear: * they are resolute in wickedness.

63:6 They have talked of hiding snares; * they have said: Who shall see them?

63:7 They have searched after iniquities: * they have failed in their search.

63:7 Man shall come to a deep heart: * and God shall be exalted.

63:8 The arrows of children are their wounds: * and their tongues against them are made weak.

63:9 All that saw them were troubled; * and every man was afraid.

63:10 And they declared the works of God: * and understood his doings.

63:11 The just shall rejoice in the Lord, and shall hope in him: * and all the upright in heart shall be praised.

O glorious lady! throned on high
Above the star-illumined sky;
Thereto ordained, thy bosom lent
To thy Creator nourishment.
Qhrough thy sweet offspring we receive
The bliss once lost through hapless Eve;
And heaven to mortals open lies
Now thou art portal of the skies.
Thou art the door of heaven's high King,
Light's gateway fair and glistering;
Life through a Virgin is restored;
Ye ransomed nations, praise the Lord!
Ill honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete.

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Come Holy Ghost who ever One
Art with the Father and the Son,
It is the hour, our souls possess
With thy full flood of holiness.
Oet flesh and heart and lips and mind
Sound forth our witness to mankind;
And love light up our mortal frame,
Till others catch the living flame.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.

Ant. Let my cry reach unto thee, O Lord: * turn not away thy face from me.

Psalmus 101(2-13)

101:2 Hear, O Lord, my prayer: * and let my cry come to thee.

101:3 Turn not away thy face from me: * in the day when I am in trouble, incline thy ear to me.

101:3 In what day soever I shall call upon thee, * hear me speedily.

101:4 For my days are vanished like smoke: * and my bones are grown dry like fuel for the fire.

101:5 I am smitten as grass, and my heart is withered: * because I forgot to eat my bread.

101:6 Through the voice of my groaning, * my bone hath cleaved to my flesh.

101:7 I am become like to a pelican of the wilderness: * I am like a night raven in the house.

101:8 I have watched, * and am become as a sparrow all alone on the housetop.

101:9 All the day long my enemies reproached me: * and they that praised me did swear against me.

101:10 For I did eat ashes like bread, * and mingled my drink with weeping.

101:11 Because of thy anger and indignation: * for having lifted me up thou hast thrown me down.

101:12 My days have declined like a shadow, * and I am withered like grass.

101:14 Thou shalt arise and have mercy on Sion: * for it is time to have mercy on it, for the time is come.

101:15 For the stones thereof have pleased thy servants: * and they shall have pity on the earth

101:16 And the Gentiles shall fear thy name, O Lord, * and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

101:17 For the Lord hath built up Sion: * and he shall be seen in his glory.

101:18 He hath had regard to the prayer of the humble: * and he hath not despised their petition.

101:19 Let these things be written unto another generation: * and the people that shall be created shall praise the Lord:

101:20 Because he hath looked forth from his high sanctuary: * from heaven the Lord hath looked upon the earth.

101:21 That he might hear the groans of them that are in fetters: * that he might release the children of the slain:

101:22 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: * and his praise in Jerusalem;

101:23 When the people assemble together, * and kings, to serve the Lord.

101:26 In the beginning, O Lord, thou foundedst the earth: * and the heavens are the works of thy hands.

101:27 They shall perish but thou remainest: * and all of them shall grow old like a garment:

101:28 And as a vesture thou shalt change them, and they shall be changed. * But thou art always the selfsame, and thy years shall not fail.

103:1 Thou hast put on praise and beauty: * and art clothed with light as with a garment.

103:2 Who stretchest out the heaven like a pavilion: * who coverest the higher rooms thereof with water.

103:3 Who makest the clouds thy chariot: * who walkest upon the wings of the winds.

103:4 Who makest thy angels spirits: * and thy ministers a burning fire.

103:5 Who hast founded the earth upon its own bases: * it shall not be moved for ever and ever.

103:6 The deep like a garment is its clothing: * above the mountains shall the waters stand.

103:7 At thy rebuke they shall flee: * at the voice of thy thunder they shall fear.

103:8 The mountains ascend, and the plains descend * into the place which thou hast founded for them.

103:9 Thou hast set a bound which they shall not pass over; * neither shall they return to cover the earth.

103:10 Thou sendest forth springs in the vales: * between the midst of the hills the waters shall pass.

103:11 All the beasts of the field shall drink: * the wild asses shall expect in their thirst.

103:12 Over them the birds of the air shall dwell: * from the midst of the rocks they shall give forth their voices.

103:14 Bringing forth grass for cattle, * and herb for the service of men.

103:14 That thou mayst bring bread out of the earth: * and that wine may cheer the heart of man.

103:15 That he may make the face cheerful with oil: * and that bread may strengthen man's heart.

103:16 The trees of the field shall be filled, and the cedars of Libanus which he hath planted: * there the sparrows shall make their nests.

103:17 The highest of them is the house of the heron. * The high hills are a refuge for the harts, the rock for the irchins.

103:19 He hath made the moon for seasons: * the sun knoweth his going down.

103:20 Thou hast appointed darkness, and it is night: * in it shall all the beasts of the woods go about:

103:21 The young lions roaring after their prey, * and seeking their meat from God.

103:26 Creatures little and great. * There the ships shall go.

103:28 What thou givest to them they shall gather up: * when thou openest thy hand, they shall all be filled with good.

103:29 But if thou turnest away thy face, they shall be troubled: * thou shalt take away their breath, and they shall fail, and shall return to their dust.

103:30 Thou shalt send forth thy spirit, and they shall be created: * and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.

103:31 May the glory of the Lord endure for ever: * the Lord shall rejoice in his works.

103:32 He looketh upon the earth, and maketh it tremble: * he toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.

103:33 I will sing to the Lord as long as I live: * I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.

103:34 Let my speech be acceptable to him: * but I will take delight in the Lord.

([1])

87:2 Lord, the God of my salvation: * I have cried in the day, and in the night before thee.

87:3 Let my prayer come in before thee: * incline thy ear to my petition.

87:4 For my soul is filled with evils: * and my life hath drawn nigh to hell.

87:5 I am counted among them that go down to the pit: * I am become as a man without help, free among the dead.

87:6 Like the slain sleeping in the sepulchres, whom thou rememberest no more: * and they are cast off from thy hand.

87:7 They have laid me in the lower pit: * in the dark places, and in the shadow of death.

87:8 Thy wrath is strong over me: * and all thy waves thou hast brought in upon me.
 87:9 Thou hast put away my acquaintance far from me: * they have set me an abomination to themselves.
 87:9 I was delivered up, and came not forth: * my eyes languished through poverty.
 87:10 All the day I cried to thee, O Lord: * I stretched out my hands to thee.
 87:11 Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead? * or shall physicians raise to life, and give praise to thee?
 87:12 Shall any one in the sepulchre declare thy mercy: * and thy truth in destruction?
 87:13 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark; * and thy justice in the land of forgetfulness?
 87:14 But I, O Lord, have cried to thee: * and in the morning my prayer shall prevent thee.
 87:15 Lord, why castest thou off my prayer: * why turnest thou away thy face from me?
 87:16 I am poor, and in labours from my youth: * and being exalted have been humbled and troubled.
 87:17 Thy wrath hath come upon me: * and thy terrors have troubled me.
 87:18 They have come round about me like water all the day: * they have compassed me about together.
 87:19 Friend and neighbour thou hast put far from me: * and my acquaintance, because of misery.

102:13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him: * for he knoweth our frame.
 102:14 He remembereth that we are dust: * man's days are as grass, as the flower of the field so shall he flourish.
 102:16 For the spirit shall pass in him, and he shall not be: * and he shall know his place no more.

Hymnus

Hail day! whereon the One in Three

First formed the earth by sure decree,

The day its Maker rose again,

And vanquished death, and burst our chain.

Pway with sleep and slothful ease

We raise our hearts and bend our knees,

And early seek the Lord of all,

Obedient to the Prophet's call.

Nhat He may hearken to our prayer,

Stretch forth His strong right arm to spare,

And ev'ry past offense forgiven,

Restore us to our home in heaven.

Ussembled here this holy day,

This holiest hour we raise the lay,
And O that He to whom we sing,
May now reward our offering!
Ifather of unclouded light!
Keep us this day as in thy sight,
In word and deed that we may be
From ev'ry touch of evil free.
Nhat this our body's mortal frame
May know no sin, and fear no shame,
Nor fire hereafter be the end
Of passions which our bosom rend.
Medeemer of the world, we pray
That thou wouldst wash our sins away,
And give us, of Thy boundless grace,
The blessings of the heavenly place.
Post Holy Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ our Lord most High
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee
Shall live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 1:1-8

1 In the beginning God created heaven, and earth.

2 And the earth was void and empty, and darkness was upon the face of the deep; and the spirit of God moved over the waters.

3 And God said: Be light made. And light was made.

4 And God saw the light that it was good; and he divided the light from the darkness.

5 And he called the light Day, and the darkness Night; and there was evening and morning one day.

6 And God said: Let there be a firmament made amidst the waters: and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made a firmament, and divided the waters that were under the firmament, from those that were above the firmament, and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, Heaven; and the evening and morning were the second day.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, wherein He made man also

* After His own image and likeness.

℣. So God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his face the breath of life.

℟. After His own image and likeness.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℟. Amen.

Gen 1:9-19

9 God also said: Let the waters that are under the heaven, be gathered together into one place: and let the dry land appear. And it was so done.

10 And God called the dry land, Earth; and the gathering together of the waters, he called Seas. And God saw that it was good.

11 And he said: Let the earth bring forth the green herb, and such as may seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after its kind, which may have seed in itself upon the earth. And it was so done.

12 And the earth brought forth the green herb, and such as yieldeth seed according to its kind, and the tree that beareth fruit having seed each one according to its kind. And God saw that it was good.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 And God said: Let there be lights made in the firmament of heaven, to divide the day and the night, and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days and years:

15 To shine in the firmament of heaven, and to give light upon the earth. And it was so done.

16 And God made two great lights: a greater light to rule the day; and a lesser light to rule the night: and the stars.

17 And he set them in the firmament of heaven to shine upon the earth.

18 And to rule the day and the night, and to divide the light and the darkness. And God saw that it was good.

19 And the evening and morning were the fourth day.

20 God also said: Let the waters bring forth the creeping creature having life, and the fowl that may fly over the earth under the firmament of heaven.

21 And God created the great whales, and every living and moving creature, which the waters brought forth, according to their kinds, and every winged fowl according to its kind. And God saw that it was good.

22 And he blessed them, saying: Increase and multiply, and fill the waters of the sea: and let the birds be multiplied upon the earth.

23 And the evening and morning were the fifth day.

24 And God said: Let the earth bring forth the living creature in its kind, cattle and creeping things, and beasts of the earth, according to their kinds. And it was so done.

25 And God made the beasts of the earth according to their kinds, and cattle, and every thing that creepeth on the earth after its kind. And God saw that it was good.

26 And he said: Let us make man to our image and likeness: and let him have dominion over the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the air, and the beasts, and the whole earth, and every creeping creature that moveth upon the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

From the Holy Gospel according to Matthew

Matt 20:1-16

In that time, Jesus said to his disciples: The kingdom of heaven is like to an householder, who went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And so on.

Homily by Pope St. Gregory the Great.

Homil. 19 in Evangelium post princ

We hear that the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning, to hire labourers into his vineyard. Who indeed is more justly to be likened to an householder than our Maker, Who is the Head of the household of faith, bearing rule over them whom He hath made, and being Master of His chosen ones in the world, as a Master over those that are in his house? He it is That hath the Church for a vineyard, a vineyard that ceaseth not to bring forth branches of the True Vine, from righteous Abel to the last of the elect that shall be born in the world.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord said unto Cain: Where is Abel thy brother? Lord, I know not am I my brother's keeper? And He said unto him What hast thou done?

* Behold, the voice of thy brother Abel's blood crieth unto Me from the ground.

℣. Cursed shalt thou be upon the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand.

℟. Behold, the voice of thy brother Abel's blood crieth unto Me from the ground.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. Behold, the voice of thy brother Abel's blood crieth unto Me from the ground.

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

117:6 The Lord is my helper: * I will not fear what man can do unto me.

117:7 The Lord is my helper: * and I will look over my enemies.

117:8 It is good to confide in the Lord, * rather than to have confidence in man.

117:9 It is good to trust in the Lord, * rather than to trust in princes.

117:10 All nations compassed me about; * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:11 Surrounding me they compassed me about: * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:12 They surrounded me like bees, † and they burned like fire among thorns: * and in the name of the Lord I was revenged on them.

117:13 Being pushed I was overturned that I might fall: * but the Lord supported me.

117:14 The Lord is my strength and my praise: * and he is become my salvation.

117:15 The voice of rejoicing and of salvation * is in the tabernacles of the just.

117:16 The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength: † the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me: * the right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength.

117:17 I shall not die, but live: * and shall declare the works of the Lord.

117:28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: * thou art my God, and I will exalt thee.

117:28 I will praise thee, because thou hast heard me, * and art become my salvation.

62:2 For thee my soul hath thirsted; * for thee my flesh, O how many ways!

62:3 In a desert land, and where there is no way, and no water: † so in the sanctuary have I come before thee, * to see thy power and thy glory.

62:4 For thy mercy is better than lives: * thee my lips shall praise.

62:5 Thus will I bless thee all my life long: * and in thy name I will lift up my hands.

62:6 Let my soul be filled as with marrow and fatness: * and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips.

62:7 If I have remembered thee upon my bed, † I will meditate on thee in the morning: * because thou hast been my helper.

62:8 And I will rejoice under the covert of thy wings: † my soul hath stuck close to thee: * thy right hand hath received me.

62:10 But they have sought my soul in vain, † they shall go into the lower parts of the earth: * they shall be delivered into the hands of the sword, they shall be the portions of foxes.

62:12 But the king shall rejoice in God, all they shall be praised that swear by him: * because the mouth is stopped of them that speak wicked things.

Hymnus

Maker of all, eternal King,
Who day and night about dost bring:
Who weary mortals to relieve,
Dost in their times the seasons give:
Now the shrill cock proclaims the day,
And calls the sun's awak'ning ray
The wand'ring pilgrim's guiding light,
That marks the watches night by night.
Housed at the note, the morning star
Heaven's dusky veil uplifts afar:
Night's vagrant bands no longer roam,
But from their dark ways hie them home.
Hhe encouraged sailor's fears are o'er,
The foaming billows rage no more:
Lo! e'en the very Church's rock
Melts at the crowing of the cock.
Slet us then like men arise;
The cock rebukes our slumbering eyes,
Bestirs who still in sleep would lie,
And shames who would their Lord deny.
Gew hope his clarion-note awakes,
Sickness the feeble frame forsakes,
The robber sheathes his lawless sword,
Faith to the fallen is restored.
Look on us, Jesu, when we fall,

And with thy look our souls recall:
If thou but look, our sins are gone,
And with due tears our pardon won.
Thed through our hearts thy piercing ray,
Our souls' dull slumber drive away:
Thy name be first on every tongue,
To thee our earliest praises sung.
DII laud to God the Father be,
All praise, Eternal Son, to thee,
All glory, as is ever meet,

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Psalmus 118(33-48)

118:33 (He) Set before me for a law the way of thy justifications, O Lord: * and I will always seek after it.

118:34 Give me understanding, and I will search thy law; * and I will keep it with my whole heart.

118:35 Lead me into the path of thy commandments; * for this same I have desired.

118:36 Incline my heart into thy testimonies * and not to covetousness.

118:37 Turn away my eyes that they may not behold vanity: * quicken me in thy way.

118:38 Establish thy word to thy servant, * in thy fear.

118:39 Turn away my reproach, which I have apprehended: * for thy judgments are delightful.

118:40 Behold I have longed after thy precepts: * quicken me in thy justice.

118:41 (Vau) Let thy mercy also come upon me, O Lord: * thy salvation according to thy word.

118:42 So shall I answer them that reproach me in any thing; * that I have trusted in thy words.

118:43 And take not thou the word of truth utterly out of my mouth: * for in thy words, I have hoped exceedingly.

118:44 So shall I always keep thy law, * for ever and ever.

118:45 And I walked at large: * because I have sought after thy commandments.

118:46 And I spoke of thy testimonies before kings: * and I was not ashamed.

118:47 I meditated also on thy commandments, * which I loved.

118:48 And I lifted up my hands to thy commandments, which I loved: * and I was exercised in thy justifications.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 118(49-64)

118:49 (Zai) Be thou mindful of thy word to thy servant, * in which thou hast given me hope.

118:50 This hath comforted me in my humiliation: * because thy word hath enlivened me.

118:51 The proud did iniquitously altogether: * but I declined not from thy law.

118:52 I remembered, O Lord, thy judgments of old: * and I was comforted.

118:53 A fainting hath taken hold of me, * because of the wicked that forsake thy law.

118:54 Thy justifications were the subject of my song, * in the place of my pilgrimage.

118:55 In the night I have remembered thy name, O Lord: * and have kept thy law.

118:56 This happened to me: * because I sought after thy justifications.

118:57 (Heth) O Lord, my portion, * I have said, I would keep thy law.

118:58 I entreated thy face with all my heart: * have mercy on me according to thy word.

118:59 I have thought on my ways: * and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

118:60 I am ready, and am not troubled: * that I may keep thy commandments.

118:61 The cords of the wicked have encompassed me: * but I have not forgotten thy law.

118:62 I rose at midnight to give praise to thee; * for the judgments of thy justification.

118:63 I am a partaker with all them that fear thee, * and that keep thy commandments.

118:64 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: * teach me thy justifications.

118:67 Before I was humbled I offended; * therefore have I kept thy word.

118:68 Thou art good; * and in thy goodness teach me thy justifications.

118:69 The iniquity of the proud hath been multiplied over me: * but I will seek thy commandments with my whole heart.

118:70 Their heart is curdled like milk: * but I have meditated on thy law.

118:71 It is good for me that thou hast humbled me, * that I may learn thy justifications.

118:72 The law of thy mouth is good to me, * above thousands of gold and silver.

118:73 (Jod) Thy hands have made me and formed me: * give me understanding, and I will learn thy commandments.

118:74 They that fear thee shall see me, and shall be glad: * because I have greatly hoped in thy words.

118:75 I know, O Lord, that thy judgments are equity: * and in thy truth thou hast humbled me.

118:76 O! let thy mercy be for my comfort, * according to thy word unto thy servant.

118:77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, and I shall live: * for thy law is my meditation.

118:78 Let the proud be ashamed, because they have done unjustly towards me: * but I will be employed in thy commandments.

118:79 Let them that fear thee turn to me: * and they that know thy testimonies.

118:80 Let my heart be undefiled in thy justifications, * that I may not be confounded.

118:83 For I am become like a bottle in the frost: * I have not forgotten thy justifications.

118:84 How many are the days of thy servant: * when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

118:85 The wicked have told me fables: * but not as thy law.

118:86 All thy statutes are truth: * they have persecuted me unjustly, do thou help me.

118:87 They had almost made an end of me upon earth: * but I have not forsaken thy commandments.

([5])

113:1 When Israel went out of Egypt, * the house of Jacob from a barbarous people:

113:2 Judea was made his sanctuary, * Israel his dominion.

113:3 The sea saw and fled: * Jordan was turned back.

113:4 The mountains skipped like rams, * and the hills like the lambs of the flock.

113:5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou didst flee: * and thou, O Jordan, that thou wast turned back?

113:6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams, * and ye hills, like lambs of the flock?
 113:7 At the presence of the Lord the earth was moved, * at the presence of the God of Jacob:
 113:8 Who turned the rock into pools of water, * and the stony hill into fountains of waters.
 113:9 Not to us, O Lord, not to us; * but to thy name give glory.
 113:10 For thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake: * lest the Gentiles should say: Where is their God?
 113:11 But our God is in heaven: * he hath done all things whatsoever he would.
 113:12 The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, * the works of the hands of men.
 113:13 They have mouths and speak not: * they have eyes and see not.
 113:14 They have ears and hear not: * they have noses and smell not.
 113:15 They have hands and feel not: † they have feet and walk not: * neither shall they cry out through their throat.
 113:16 Let them that make them become like unto them: * and all such as trust in them.
 113:17 The house of Israel hath hoped in the Lord: * he is their helper and their protector.
 113:18 The house of Aaron hath hoped in the Lord: * he is their helper and their protector.
 113:19 They that fear the Lord have hoped in the Lord: * he is their helper and their protector.

 113:23 Blessed be you of the Lord, * who made heaven and earth.
 113:24 The heaven of heaven is the Lord's: * but the earth he has given to the children of men.

Hymnus

O blest Creator of the light,
 Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
 And o'er the forming world didst call
 The light from chaos first of all;
 Whose wisdom joined in meet array
 The morn and eve, and named them day:
 Night comes with all its darkling fears;
 Regard thy people's prayers and tears.
 Nest, sunk in sin, and whelmed with strife,
 They lose the gift of endless life;
 While thinking but the thoughts of time,
 They weave new chains of woe and crime.
 Cut grant them grace that they may strain
 The heavenly gate and prize to gain:

Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.
PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Let us glorify the Lord.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Let us glorify the Lord.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hymnus

Our limbs refreshed with slumber now,

And sloth cast off, in prayer we bow;

And while we sing thy praises dear,

O Father, be thou present here.

To thee our earliest morning song,

To thee our hearts full powers belong;

And thou, O Holy One, prevent

Each following action and intent.

Cs shades at morning flee away,

And night before the star of day;

So each transgression of the night

Be purged by thee, celestial Light!

Put off, we pray thee, each offense,
And every lust of thought and sense:
That by their lips who thee adore
Thou mayst be praised forevermore.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Psalmus 13

13:1 The fool hath said in his heart: * there is no God.

13:1 They are corrupt, and are become abominable in their ways: * there is none that doth good, no not one.

13:2 The Lord hath looked down from heaven upon the children of men, * to see if there be any that understand and seek God.

13:3 They are all gone aside, they are become unprofitable together: * there is none that doth good: no not one.

13:3 Their throat is an open sepulchre; † with their tongues they acted deceitfully: * the poison of asps is under their lips.

13:3 Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; * their feet are swift to shed blood.

13:3 Destruction and unhappiness in their ways; † and the way of peace they have not known: * there is no fear of God before their eyes.

13:4 Shall not all they know that work iniquity, * who devour my people as they eat bread?

13:5 They have not called upon the Lord: * there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

13:6 For the Lord is in the just generation: † you have confounded the counsel of the poor man; * but the Lord is his hope.

14:2 He that walketh without blemish, * and worketh justice:

14:3 He that speaketh truth in his heart, * who hath not used deceit in his tongue:

14:3 Nor hath done evil to his neighbour: * nor taken up a reproach against his neighbours.

14:4 In his sight the malignant is brought to nothing: * but he glorifieth them that fear the Lord:

14:4 He that sweareth to his neighbour, and deceiveth not; * He that hath not put out his money to usury, nor taken bribes against the innocent:

16:1 Hear, O Lord, my justice: * attend to my supplication.

16:1 Give ear unto my prayer, * which proceedeth not from deceitful lips.

16:2 Let my judgment come forth from thy countenance: * let thy eyes behold the things that are equitable.

16:3 Thou hast proved my heart, and visited it by night, * thou hast tried me by fire: and iniquity hath not been found in me.

16:4 That my mouth may not speak the works of men: * for the sake of the words of thy lips, I have kept hard ways.

16:5 Perfect thou my goings in thy paths: * that my footsteps be not moved.

16:6 I have cried to thee, for thou, O God, hast heard me: * O incline thy ear unto me, and hear my words.

16:7 Shew forth thy wonderful mercies; * thou who savest them that trust in thee.

16:8 From them that resist thy right hand keep me, * as the apple of thy eye.

16:8 Protect me under the shadow of thy wings: * from the face of the wicked who have afflicted me.

16:9 My enemies have surrounded my soul: † They have shut up their fat: * their mouth hath spoken proudly.

16:11 They have cast me forth, and now they have surrounded me: * they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth.

16:12 They have taken me, as a lion prepared for the prey; * and as a young lion dwelling in secret places.

16:13 Arise, O Lord, disappoint him and supplant him; * deliver my soul from the wicked one; thy sword from the enemies of thy hand.

16:14 O Lord, divide them from the few of the earth in their life: * their belly is filled from thy hidden stores.

16:14 They are full of children: * and they have left to their little ones the rest of their substance.

17:3 My protector, and the horn of my salvation, * and my support.

17:4 Praising, I will call upon the Lord: * and I shall be saved from my enemies.

17:5 The sorrows of death surrounded me: * and the torrents of iniquity troubled me.
17:6 The sorrows of hell encompassed me: * and the snares of death prevented me.
17:7 In my affliction I called upon the Lord, * and I cried to my God:
17:7 And he heard my voice from his holy temple: * and my cry before him came into his ears.
17:8 The earth shook and trembled: * the foundations of the mountains were troubled and were moved, because he was angry with them.
17:9 There went up a smoke in his wrath: † and a fire flamed from his face: * coals were kindled by it.
17:10 He bowed the heavens, and came down, * and darkness was under his feet.
17:11 And he ascended upon the cherubim, and he flew; * he flew upon the wings of the winds.
17:12 And he made darkness his covert, † his pavilion round about him: * dark waters in the clouds of the air.
17:13 At the brightness that was before him the clouds passed, * hail and coals of fire.
17:14 And the Lord thundered from heaven, † and the Highest gave his voice: * hail and coals of fire.
17:15 And he sent forth his arrows, and he scattered them: * he multiplied lightnings, and troubled them.

17:19 They prevented me in the day of my affliction: * and the Lord became my protector.
17:20 And he brought me forth into a large place: * he saved me, because he was well pleased with me.
17:21 And the Lord will reward me according to my justice; * and will repay me according to the cleanness of my hands:
17:22 Because I have kept the ways of the Lord; * and have not done wickedly against my God.
17:23 For all his judgments are in my sight: * and his justices I have not put away from me.
17:24 And I shall be spotless with him: * and shall keep myself from my iniquity.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 1:27-31

27 And God created man to his own image: to the image of God he created him: male and female he created them.

28 And God blessed them, saying: Increase and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule over the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the air, and all living creatures that move upon the earth.

29 And God said: Behold I have given you every herb bearing seed upon the earth, and all trees that have in themselves seed of their own kind, to be your meat:

30 And to all the beasts of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to all that move upon the earth, and wherein there is life, that they may have to feed upon. And it was so done.

31 And God saw all the things that he had made, and they were very good. And the evening and morning were the sixth day.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. When the Lord walked in the garden in the cool of the day, He called, and said Adam, where art thou? Lord, I heard thy voice.

* And I hid myself.

℣. I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked.

℟. And I hid myself.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℟. Amen.

Gen 2:1-6

1 So the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the furniture of them.

2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made: and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had done.

3 And he blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

4 These are the generations of the heaven and the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the heaven and the earth:

5 And every plant of the field before it spring up in the earth, and every herb of the ground before it grew: for the Lord God had not rained upon the earth; and there was not a man to till the earth.

6 But a spring rose out the earth, watering all the surface of the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord said unto Adam: In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread; when thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her fruits.

* Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee.

℣. Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree which I commanded thee, saying: Thou shalt not eat of it, cursed is the ground whereon thou shalt labour.

℟. Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

℟. Amen.

Gen 2:7-10

7 And the Lord God formed man of the slime of the earth: and breathed into his face the breath of life, and man became a living soul.

8 And the Lord God had planted a paradise of pleasure from the beginning: wherein he placed man whom he had formed.

9 And the Lord God brought forth of the ground all manner of trees, fair to behold, and pleasant to eat of: the tree of life also in the midst of paradise: and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out the place of pleasure to water paradise, which from thence is divided into four heads.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord formed man of the dust of the ground

* And breathed into his face the breath of life, and man became a living soul.

Let fall in royal radiance,

The Spirit's sanctifying beam

Upon our earthly senses stream.

Vhe Father too our prayers implore,

Father of glory evermore,

The Father of all grace and might,

To banish sin from our delight:

To make ill-fortune turn to fair,

And give us grace our wrongs to bear.

Mur mind be in his keeping placed,

Where only faith her fire shall feed,
And burn the tares of Satan's seed.

From him our drink that wellet free,
The Spirit's wine, that maketh whole,
And mocking not, exalts the soul.

Like fiery noon our faith appear,
Nor know the gloom of twilight drear.

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Ant. My light * and my salvation is the Lord.

Psalmus 26(1-6)

26:1 The Lord is my light and my salvation, * whom shall I fear?

26:1 The Lord is the protector of my life: * of whom shall I be afraid?

26:2 Whilst the wicked draw near against me, * to eat my flesh.

26:2 My enemies that trouble me, * have themselves been weakened, and have fallen.

26:3 If armies in camp should stand together against me, * my heart shall not fear.

26:3 If a battle should rise up against me, * in this will I be confident.

26:4 One thing I have asked of the Lord, this will I seek after; * that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

26:4 That I may see the delight of the Lord, * and may visit his temple.

26:5 For he hath hidden me in his tabernacle; * in the day of evils, he hath protected me in the secret place of his tabernacle.

26:6 He hath exalted me upon a rock: * and now he hath lifted up my head above my enemies.

26:6 I have gone round, and have offered up in his tabernacle a sacrifice of jubilation: * I will sing, and recite a psalm to the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 26(7-14)

26:7 Hear, O Lord, my voice, with which I have cried to thee: * have mercy on me and hear me.

26:8 My heart hath said to thee: My face hath sought thee: * thy face, O Lord, will I still seek.

26:9 Turn not away thy face from me; * decline not in thy wrath from thy servant.
26:9 Be thou my helper, * forsake me not; do not thou despise me, O God my Saviour.
26:10 For my father and my mother have left me: * but the Lord hath taken me up.
26:11 Set me, O Lord, a law in thy way, * and guide me in the right path, because of my enemies.
26:12 Deliver me not over to the will of them that trouble me; * for unjust witnesses have risen up against me; and iniquity hath lied to itself.

27:4 Give them according to their works, * and according to the wickedness of their inventions.
27:4 According to the works of their hands give thou to them: * render to them their reward.

31:3 Because I was silent my bones grew old; * whilst I cried out all the day long.

31:4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: * I am turned in my anguish, whilst the thorn is fastened.

31:5 I have acknowledged my sin to thee, * and my injustice I have not concealed.

Hymnus

O great Creator of the sky,
Who wouldst not the floods on high
With earthly waters to confound,
But mad'st the firmament their bound;
The floods above thou didst ordain;
The floods below thou didst restrain:
That moisture might attemper heat,
Lest the parched earth should ruin meet.
Ipon our souls, good Lord, bestow
Thy gift of grace in endless flow:
Lest some renewed deceit or wile
Of former sin should us beguile.
Let faith discover heav'nly light;
So shall its rays direct us right:
And let this faith each error chase,
And never give to falsehood place.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

℣. O Lord, direct my prayer.

℟. As incense in thy sight.

Ant. These last have wrought but one hour, * and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

Luc. 1:46-55

1:46 My soul ✠ * doth magnify the Lord.

1:47 And my spirit hath rejoiced * in God my Saviour.

1:48 Because he hath regarded the humility of his handmaid; * for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

1:49 Because he that is mighty, hath done great things to me; * and holy is his name.

1:50 And his mercy is from generation unto generations, * to them that fear him.

1:51 He hath shewed might in his arm: * he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

1:54 He hath received Israel his servant, * being mindful of his mercy:

1:55 As he spoke to our fathers, * to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

([1])

6:2 Lord, rebuke me not in thy indignation, * nor chastise me in thy wrath.

6:3 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am weak: * heal me, O Lord, for my bones are troubled.

6:4 And my soul is troubled exceedingly: * but thou, O Lord, how long?

6:5 Turn to me, O Lord, and deliver my soul: * O save me for thy mercy's sake.

6:6 For there is no one in death, that is mindful of thee: * and who shall confess to thee in hell?

6:7 I have laboured in my groanings, † every night I will wash my bed: * I will water my couch with my tears.

6:8 My eye is troubled through indignation: * I have grown old amongst all my enemies.

6:9 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity: * for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.
6:10 The Lord hath heard my supplication: * the Lord hath received my prayer.
6:11 Let all my enemies be ashamed, and be very much troubled: * let them be turned back, and be ashamed very speedily.

7:2 O Lord my God, in thee have I put my trust: * save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me.

7:3 Lest at any time he seize upon my soul like a lion, * while there is no one to redeem me, nor to save.

7:4 O Lord my God, if I have done this thing, * if there be iniquity in my hands:

7:5 If I have rendered to them that repaid me evils, * let me deservedly fall empty before my enemies.

7:6 Let the enemy pursue my soul, † and take it, and tread down my life on the earth, * and bring down my glory to the dust.

7:7 Rise up, O Lord, in thy anger: * and be thou exalted in the borders of my enemies.

7:7 And arise, O Lord my God, in the precept which thou hast commanded: * and a congregation of people shall surround thee.

7:8 And for their sakes return thou on high. * The Lord judgeth the people.

7:11 Just is my help from the Lord: * who saveth the upright of heart.

7:12 God is a just judge, strong and patient: * is he angry every day?

7:13 Except you will be converted, he will brandish his sword: * he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

7:14 And in it he hath prepared the instruments of death, * he hath made ready his arrows for them that burn.

7:15 Behold he hath been in labour with injustice; * he hath conceived sorrow, and brought forth iniquity.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Our Saviour.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Our Saviour.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hymnus

O Light of Light, O Day-spring bright,

Co-equal in thy Father's light:

Assist us, as with prayer and psalm

Thy servants break the twilight calm.

All darkness from our minds dispel,

And turn to flight the hosts of hell:

Bid sleepfulness our eyelids fly,

Lest overwhelmed in sloth we lie.

Sesu, thy pardon, kind and free,

Bestow on us who trust in thee:

And as thy praises we declare,

O with acceptance hear our prayer.

PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, * them that fight against me.

Psalmus 34(1-10)

([1])

34:1 Judge thou, O Lord, them that wrong me: * overthrow them that fight against me.

34:2 Take hold of arms and shield: * and rise up to help me.

34:3 Bring out the sword, and shut up the way against them that persecute me: * say to my soul: I am thy salvation.

34:4 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek after my soul.

34:4 Let them be turned back and be confounded * that devise against me.

34:5 Let them become as dust before the wind: * and let the Angel of the Lord straiten them.

34:6 Let their way become dark and slippery; * and let the Angel of the Lord pursue them.

34:7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me unto destruction: * without cause they have upbraided my soul.

34:8 Let the snare which he knoweth not come upon him: and let the net which he hath hidden catch him: * and into that very snare let them fall.

34:9 But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; * and shall be delighted in his salvation.

34:10 All my bones shall say: * Lord, who is like to thee?

34:10 Who deliverest the poor from the hand of them that are stronger than he; * the needy and the poor from them that strip him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, them that fight against me.

Rescue, O Lord, * my soul from their malice.

Psalmus 34(11-17)

34:11 Unjust witnesses rising up * have asked me things I knew not.

34:12 They repaid me evil for good: * to the depriving me of my soul.

34:13 But as for me, when they were troublesome to me, * I was clothed with haircloth.

34:13 I humbled my soul with fasting; * and my prayer shall be turned into my bosom.

34:14 As a neighbour and as an own brother, so did I please: * as one mourning and sorrowful so was I humbled.

34:15 But they rejoiced against me, and came together: * scourges were gathered together upon me, and I knew not.

34:16 They were separated, and repented not: they tempted me, they scoffed at me with scorn: * they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

34:17 Lord, when wilt thou look upon me? * rescue thou my soul from their malice: my only one from the lions.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Arise, O Lord, * and be attentive to my judgment.

Psalmus 34(18-28)

([3])

34:18 I will give thanks to thee in a great church; * I will praise thee in a strong people.

34:19 Let not them that are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: * who have hated me without cause, and wink with the eyes.

34:20 For they spoke indeed peaceably to me; * and speaking in the anger of the earth they devised guile.

34:21 And they opened their mouth wide against me; * they said: Well done, well done, our eyes have seen it.

34:22 Thou hast seen, O Lord, be not thou silent: * O Lord, depart not from me.

34:23 Arise, and be attentive to my judgment: * to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

34:24 Judge me, O Lord my God according to thy justice, * and let them not rejoice over me.

34:25 Let them not say in their hearts: It is well, it is well, to our mind: * neither let them say: We have swallowed him up.

34:26 Let them blush: and be ashamed together, * who rejoice at my evils.

34:26 Let them be clothed with confusion and shame, * who speak great things against me.

34:27 Let them rejoice and be glad, who are well pleased with my justice, * and let them say always: The Lord be magnified, who delights in the peace of his servant.

34:28 And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, * thy praise all the day long.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Arise, O Lord, and be attentive to my judgment.

Envy not * the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

Psalmus 36(1-15)

([4])

36:1 Be not emulous of evildoers; * nor envy them that work iniquity.

36:2 For they shall shortly wither away as grass, * and as the green herbs shall quickly fall.

36:3 Trust in the Lord, and do good, * and dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed with its riches.

36:4 Delight in the Lord, * and he will give thee the requests of thy heart.

36:5 Commit thy way to the Lord, and trust in him, * and he will do it.

36:6 And he will bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday: * be subject to the Lord and pray to him.

36:7 Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; * the man who doth unjust things.

36:8 Cease from anger, and leave rage; * have no emulation to do evil.

36:9 For the evildoers shall be cut off: * but they that wait upon the Lord shall inherit the land.

36:10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: * and thou shalt seek his place, and shalt not find it.

36:11 But the meek shall inherit the land, * and shall delight in abundance of peace.

36:12 The sinner shall watch the just man: * and shall gnash upon him with his teeth.

36:13 But the Lord shall laugh at him: * for he foreseeth that his day shall come.

36:14 The wicked have drawn out the sword: * they have bent their bow.

36:14 To cast down the poor and needy, * to kill the upright of heart.

36:15 Let their sword enter into their own hearts, * and let their bow be broken.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

The arms of the wicked * shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Psalmus 36(16-29)

([5])

36:16 Better is a little to the just, * than the great riches of the wicked.

36:17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; * but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

36:18 The Lord knoweth the days of the undefiled; * and their inheritance shall be for ever.

36:19 They shall not be confounded in the evil time; and in the days of famine they shall be filled, * because the wicked shall perish.

36:20 And the enemies of the Lord, presently after they shall be honoured and exalted, * shall come to nothing and vanish like smoke.

36:21 The sinner shall borrow, and not pay again; * but the just sheweth mercy and shall give.

36:22 For such as bless him shall inherit the land: * but such as curse him shall perish.

36:23 With the Lord shall the steps of a man be directed, * and he shall like well his way.

36:24 When he shall fall he shall not be bruised, * for the Lord putteth his hand under him.

36:25 I have been young, and now am old; * and I have not seen the just forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread.

36:26 He sheweth mercy, and lendeth all the day long; * and his seed shall be in blessing.

36:27 Decline from evil and do good, * and dwell for ever and ever.

36:28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: * they shall be preserved for ever.

36:28 The unjust shall be punished, * and the seed of the wicked shall perish.

36:29 But the just shall inherit the land, * and shall dwell therein for evermore.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Keep innocence * and behold justice.

Psalmus 36(30-40)

36:30 The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom: * and his tongue shall speak judgment.

36:31 The law of his God is in his heart, * and his steps shall not be supplanted.

36:32 The wicked watcheth the just man, * and seeketh to put him to death.

36:33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hands; * nor condemn him when he shall be judged.

36:34 Expect the Lord and keep his way: and he will exalt thee to inherit the land: * when the sinners shall perish thou shalt see.

36:35 I have seen the wicked highly exalted, * and lifted up like the cedars of Libanus.

36:36 And I passed by, and lo, he was not: * and I sought him and his place was not found.

36:37 Keep innocence, and behold justice: * for there are remnants for the peaceable man.

36:38 But the unjust shall be destroyed together: * the remnants of the wicked shall perish.

36:39 But the salvation of the just is from the Lord, * and he is their protector in the time of trouble.

36:40 And the Lord will help them and deliver them: * and he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them, because they have hoped in him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Keep innocence and behold justice.

O Lord, * do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Psalmus 37(2-11)

([7])

37:2 Rebuke me not, O Lord, in thy indignation; * nor chastise me in thy wrath.

37:3 For thy arrows are fastened in me: * and thy hand hath been strong upon me.

37:4 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy wrath: * there is no peace for my bones, because of my sins.

37:5 For my iniquities are gone over my head: * and as a heavy burden are become heavy upon me.

37:6 My sores are putrified and corrupted, * because of my foolishness.

37:7 I am become miserable, and am bowed down even to the end: * I walked sorrowful all the day long.

37:8 For my loins are filled with illusions; * and there is no health in my flesh.

37:9 I am afflicted and humbled exceedingly: * I roared with the groaning of my heart.

37:10 Lord, all my desire is before thee, * and my groaning is not hidden from thee.

37:11 My heart is troubled, my strength hath left me, * and the light of my eyes itself is not with me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. O Lord, do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Psalmus 37(12-23)

([8])

37:12 My friends and my neighbours * have drawn near, and stood against me.

37:12 And they that were near me stood afar off: * and they that sought my soul used violence.

37:13 And they that sought evils to me spoke vain things, * and studied deceits all the day long.

37:14 But I, as a deaf man, heard not: * and as a dumb man not opening his mouth.

37:15 And I became as a man that heareth not: * and that hath no reproofs in his mouth.

37:16 For in thee, O Lord, have I hoped: * thou wilt hear me, O Lord my God.

37:17 For I said: Lest at any time my enemies rejoice over me: * and whilst my feet are moved, they speak great things against me.

37:18 For I am ready for scourges: * and my sorrow is continually before me.

37:19 For I will declare my iniquity: * and I will think for my sin.

37:20 But my enemies live, and are stronger than I: * and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

37:21 They that render evil for good, have detracted me, * because I followed goodness.

37:22 Forsake me not, O Lord my God: * do not thou depart from me.

37:23 Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Attend unto my help, O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Remove, O Lord, * thy scourges from me.

Psalmus 38

([9])

38:2 I said: I will take heed to my ways: * that I sin not with my tongue.

38:2 I have set guard to my mouth, * when the sinner stood against me.

38:3 I was dumb, and was humbled, and kept silence from good things: * and my sorrow was renewed.

38:4 My heart grew hot within me: * and in my meditation a fire shall flame out.

38:5 I spoke with my tongue: * O Lord, make me know my end.

38:5 And what is the number of my days: * that I may know what is wanting to me.

38:6 Behold thou hast made my days measurable: * and my substance is as nothing before thee.

38:6 And indeed all things are vanity: * every man living.

38:7 Surely man passeth as an image: * yea, and he is disquieted in vain.

38:7 He storeth up: * and he knoweth not for whom he shall gather these things.

38:8 And now what is my hope? Is it not the Lord? * And my substance is with thee.

38:9 Deliver thou me from all my iniquities: * thou hast made me a reproach to the fool.

38:10 I was dumb, and I opened not my mouth, because thou hast done it: * remove thy scourges from me.

38:12 The strength of thy hand hath made me faint in rebukes: * thou hast corrected man for iniquity.

17 But of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat. for in what day soever thou shalt eat of it, thou shalt die the death.

22 And the Lord God built the rib which he took from Adam into a woman: and brought her to Adam.

23 And Adam said: This now is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man.

24 Wherefore a man shall leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they shall be two in one flesh.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

42:2 For thou art God my strength: * why hast thou cast me off? and why do I go sorrowful whilst the enemy afflicteth me?

42:3 Send forth thy light and thy truth: * they have conducted me, and brought me unto thy holy hill, and into thy tabernacles.

42:4 And I will go in to the altar of God: * to God who giveth joy to my youth.

42:5 To thee, O God my God, I will give praise upon the harp: * why art thou sad, O my soul? and why dost thou disquiet me?

42:6 Hope in God, for I will still give praise to him: * the salvation of my countenance, and my God.

66:5 Let the nations be glad and rejoice: * for thou judgest the people with justice, and directest the nations upon earth.

66:6 Let the people, O God, confess to thee: * let all the people give praise to thee: the earth hath yielded her fruit.

Canticum Ezechiae

Isa 38:10-24

38:10 I said: In the midst of my days * I shall go to the gates of hell:

38:11 I sought for the residue of my years. * I said: I shall not see the Lord God in the land of the living.

38:12 I shall behold man no more, * nor the inhabitant of rest.

38:13 My generation is at an end, and it is rolled away from me, * as a shepherd's tent.

38:14 My life is cut off, as by a weaver: whilst I was yet but beginning, he cut me off: * from morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me.

38:15 I hoped till morning, * as a lion so hath he broken all my bones:

38:16 From morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me. * I will cry like a young swallow, I will meditate like a dove:

38:17 My eyes are weakened * looking upward:

38:18 Lord, I suffer violence, answer thou for me. * What shall I say, or what shall he answer for me, whereas he himself hath done it?

38:19 I will recount to thee all my years * in the bitterness of my soul.

38:20 O Lord, if man's life be such, and the life of my spirit be in such things as these, thou shalt correct me, and make me to live. * Behold in peace is my bitterness most bitter:

38:21 But thou hast delivered my soul that it should not perish, * thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

38:22 For hell shall not confess to thee, neither shall death praise thee: * nor shall they that go down into the pit, look for thy truth.

38:23 The living, the living, he shall give praise to thee, as I do this day: * the father shall make thy truth known to the children.

38:24 O Lord, save me, and we will sing our psalms all the days of our life * in the house of the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Thou shalt correct me, O Lord, and make me to live.

Praise * the Lord, for he will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.

Psalmus 134

([5])

134:1 Praise ye the name of the Lord: * O you his servants, praise the Lord:

134:2 You that stand in the house of the Lord, * in the courts of the house of our God.

134:3 Praise ye the Lord, for the Lord is good: * sing ye to his name, for it is sweet.

134:4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself: * Israel for his own possession.

134:5 For I have known that the Lord is great, * and our God is above all gods.

134:6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased he hath done, in heaven, in earth, * in the sea, and in all the deeps.

134:7 He bringeth up clouds from the end of the earth: * he hath made lightnings for the rain.

134:7 He bringeth forth winds out of his stores: * He slew the firstborn of Egypt from man even unto beast.

134:9 He sent forth signs and wonders in the midst of thee, O Egypt: * upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

134:10 He smote many nations, * and slew mighty kings:

134:11 Sehon king of the Amorrites, and Og king of Basan, * and all the kingdoms of Chanaan.

134:12 And gave their land for an inheritance, * for an inheritance to his people Israel.

134:13 Thy name, O Lord, is for ever: * thy memorial, O Lord, unto all generations.

134:14 For the Lord will judge his people, * and will be entreated in favour of his servants.

134:15 The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, * the works of men's hands.

134:16 They have a mouth, but they speak not: * they have eyes, but they see not.

134:17 They have ears, but they hear not: * neither is there any breath in their mouths.

134:18 Let them that make them be like to them: * and every one that trusteth in them.

134:19 Bless the Lord, O house of Israel: * bless the Lord, O house of Aaron.

134:20 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi: * you that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

134:21 Blessed be the Lord out of Sion, * who dwelleth in Jerusalem.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Praise the Lord, for he will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.

℞. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

As the bird, whose clarion gay
Sounds before the dawn is grey,
Christ, who brings the spirit's day,
Calls us, close at hand:
Aake! he cries, and for my sake,
From your eyes dull slumbers shake!
Sober, righteous, chaste, awake!
At the door I stand!
Iord, to thee we lift on high
Fervent prayer and bitter cry:
Hearts aroused to pray and sigh
May not slumber more:
Treak the sleep of death and time,
Forged by Adam's ancient crime;
And the light of Eden's prime
To the world restore!
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.
Amen.

℞. And we have rejoiced, and are delighted.

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

O God of truth, O Lord of might,
Who orderest time and change aright,
Who send'st the early morning ray,
And light'st the glow of perfect day:
Extinguish thou each sinful fire,
And banish every ill desire;
And while thou keep'st the body whole,
Shed forth thy peace upon the soul.

Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,

Psalmus 40

([1])

40:2 Blessed is he that understandeth concerning the needy and the poor: * the Lord will deliver him in the evil day.

40:3 The Lord preserve him and give him life, and make him blessed upon the earth: * and deliver him not up to the will of his enemies.

40:4 The Lord help him on his bed of sorrow: * thou hast turned all his couch in his sickness.

40:5 I said: O Lord, be thou merciful to me: * heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

40:6 My enemies have spoken evils against me: * when shall he die and his name perish?

40:7 And if he came in to see me, he spoke vain things: * his heart gathered together iniquity to itself.

40:7 He went out * and spoke to the same purpose.

40:8 All my enemies whispered together against me: * they devised evils to me.

40:9 They determined against me an unjust word: * shall he that sleepeth rise again no more?

40:10 For even the man of my peace, in whom I trusted, * who ate my bread, hath greatly supplanted me.

40:11 But thou, O Lord, have mercy on me, and raise me up again: * and I will requite them.

40:12 By this I know, that thou hast had a good will for me: * because my enemy shall not rejoice over me.

From hour to hour through all its changes guide:

Psalmus 15

([3])

15:1 Preserve me, O Lord, for I have put my trust in thee. † I have said to the Lord, thou art my God, * for thou hast no need of my goods.

15:3 To the saints, who are in his land, * he hath made wonderful all my desires in them.

15:4 Their infirmities were multiplied: * afterwards they made haste.

15:4 I will not gather together their meetings for blood offerings: * nor will I be mindful of their names by my lips.

15:5 The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup: * it is thou that wilt restore my inheritance to me.

15:6 The lines are fallen unto me in goodly places: * for my inheritance is goodly to me.

15:7 I will bless the Lord, who hath given me understanding: * moreover my reins also have corrected me even till night.

15:8 I set the Lord always in my sight: * for he is at my right hand, that I be not moved.

15:9 Therefore my heart hath been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced: * moreover my flesh also shall rest in hope.

15:10 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; * nor wilt thou give thy holy one to see corruption.

15:11 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life, † thou shalt fill me with joy with thy countenance: * at thy right hand are delights even to the end.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Creator of the world, we pray

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

℞. Amen.

℣. O Lord, + open thou my lips.

℟. And my mouth shall declare thy praise.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Hymnus

Who madest all and dost control,

Lord, with thy touch divine,

Cast out the slumbers of the soul,

The rest that is not thine.

Took down, Eternal Holiness,

And wash the sins away,

Of those, who, rising to confess,

Outstrip the lingering day.

Mur hearts and hands by night, O Lord,

We lift them in Our need;

As holy Psalmists give the word,

And holy Paul the deed.

Vach sin to thee of years gone by,
Each hidden stain lies bare;
We shrink not from thine awful eye,
But pray that thou wouldst spare.
Prant this, O Father, Only Son
And Spirit, God of grace,
To whom all worship shall be done
In every time and place,
Amen.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 3:1-7

1 Now the serpent was more subtle than any of the beasts of the earth which the Lord God made. And he said to the woman: Why hath God commanded you, that you should not eat of every tree of paradise?

2 And the woman answered him, saying: Of the fruit of the trees that are in paradise we do eat:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of paradise, God hath commanded us that we should not eat; and that we should not touch it, lest perhaps we die.

4 And the serpent said to the woman: No, you shall not die the death.

5 For God doth know that in what day soever you shall eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened: and you shall be as Gods, knowing good and evil.

6 And the woman saw that the tree was good to eat, and fair to the eyes, and delightful to behold: and she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave to her husband who did eat.

7 And the eyes of them both were opened.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. And the Lord God had planted a garden aforetime in Eden,

* And there He put the man whom He had formed.

℣. And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food, the tree of life also in the midst of the garden.

℞. And there He put the man whom He had formed.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℞. Amen.

Gen 3:7-13

7 When they perceived themselves to be naked, they sewed together fig leaves, and made themselves aprons.

8 And when they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in paradise at the afternoon air, Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of the Lord God, amidst the trees of paradise.

9 And the Lord God called Adam, and said to him: Where art thou?

10 And he said: I heard thy voice in paradise; and I was afraid, because I was naked, and I hid myself.

11 And he said to him: And who hath told thee that thou wast naked, but that thou hast eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat?

12 And Adam said: The woman, whom thou gavest me to be my companion, gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

13 And the Lord God said to the woman: Why hast thou done this? And she answered: The serpent deceived me, and I did eat.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Behold, Adam is become as One of Us, to know good and evil.

* See lest he take of the tree of life and live for ever.

℣. Unto Adam also did the Lord God make a coat of skins, and clothed him, and said:

℞. See lest he take of the tree of life and live for ever.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

℞. Amen.

Gen 3:14-20

14 And the Lord God said to the serpent: Because thou hast done this thing, thou art cursed among all cattle, and the beasts of the earth: upon thy breast shalt thou go, and earth shalt thou eat all the days of thy life.

15 I will put enmities between thee and the woman, and thy seed and her seed: she shall crush thy head, and thou shalt lie in wait for her heel.

16 To the woman also he said: I will multiply thy sorrows, and thy conceptions: in sorrow shalt thou bring forth children, and thou shalt be under thy husband's power, and he shall have dominion over thee.

17 And to Adam he said: Because thou hast hearkened to the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat, cursed is the earth in thy work; with labour and toil shalt thou eat thereof all the days of thy life.

18 Thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou eat the herbs of the earth.

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till thou return to the earth, out of which thou wast taken: for dust thou art, and into dust thou shalt return.

20 And Adam called the name of his wife Eve: because she was the mother of all the living.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord said unto Cain: Where is Abel thy brother? Lord, I know not am I my brother's keeper? And He said unto him What hast thou done?

* Behold, the voice of thy brother Abel's blood crieth unto Me from the ground.

℣. Cursed shalt thou be upon the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand.

℟. Behold, the voice of thy brother Abel's blood crieth unto Me from the ground.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

64:5 We shall be filled with the good things of thy house; holy is thy temple, * wonderful in justice.

64:6 Hear us, O God our saviour, * who art the hope of all the ends of the earth, and in the sea afar off.

Psalmus 100

100:1 Mercy and judgment * I will sing to thee, O Lord:

100:2 I will sing, and I will understand in the unspotted way, * when thou shalt come to me.

100:2 I walked in the innocence of my heart, * in the midst of my house.

100:3 I did not set before my eyes any unjust thing: * I hated the workers of iniquities.

100:4 The perverse heart did not cleave to me: * and the malignant, that turned aside from me, I would not know.

100:5 The man that in private detracted his neighbour, * him did I persecute.

100:5 With him that had a proud eye, and an unsatiable heart, * I would not eat.

100:6 My eyes were upon the faithful of the earth, to sit with me: * the man that walked in the perfect way, he served me.

100:7 He that worketh pride shall not dwell in the midst of my house: * he that speaketh unjust things did not prosper before my eyes.

Canticum Annæ

3 Reg 2:1-16

2:1 My heart hath rejoiced in the Lord, * and my horn is exalted in my God:

2:2 My mouth is enlarged over my enemies: * because I have joyed in thy salvation.

2:3 There is none holy as the Lord is: for there is no other beside thee, * and there is none strong like our God.

2:4 Do not multiply to speak lofty things, * boasting:

2:5 Let old matters depart from your mouth: for the Lord is a God of all knowledge, * and to him are thoughts prepared.

2:6 The bow of the mighty is overcome, * and the weak are girt with strength.

2:7 They that were full before have hired out themselves for bread: * and the hungry are filled,

2:8 So that the barren hath borne many: * and she that had many children is weakened.

2:9 The Lord killeth and maketh alive, * he bringeth down to hell and bringeth back again.

2:10 The Lord maketh poor and maketh rich, * he humbleth and he exalteth.

2:11 He raiseth up the needy from the dust, * and lifteth up the poor from the dunghill:

2:12 That he may sit with princes, * and hold the throne of glory.

2:13 For the poles of the earth are the Lord's, * and upon them he hath set the world.

2:14 He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness, * because no man shall prevail by his own strength.

2:15 The adversaries of the Lord shall fear him: * and upon them shall he thunder in the heavens.

2:16 The Lord shall judge the ends of the earth, and he shall give empire to his king, * and shall exalt the horn of his Christ.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Psalmus 145

([5])

145:2 Praise the Lord, O my soul, † in my life I will praise the Lord: * I will sing to my God as long as I shall be.

145:2 Put not your trust in princes: * in the children of men, in whom there is no salvation.

145:4 His spirit shall go forth, and he shall return into his earth: * in that day all their thoughts shall perish.

145:5 Blessed is he who hath the God of Jacob for his helper, † whose hope is in the Lord his God: * who made heaven and earth, the sea, and all things that are in them.

145:7 Who keepeth truth for ever: † who executeth judgment for them that suffer wrong: * who giveth food to the hungry.

145:7 The Lord looseth them that are fettered: * the Lord enlighteneth the blind.

145:8 The Lord lifteth up them that are cast down: * the Lord loveth the just.

145:9 The Lord keepeth the strangers, † he will support the fatherless and the widow: * and the ways of sinners he will destroy.

Rom 13:12-13

The night is passed, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

Day is breaking, dawn is bright:
Hence, vain shadows of the night!
Mists that dim our mortal sight,
Christ is come! Depart!
Darkness routed lifts her wings
As the radiance upwards springs:
Through the world of wakened things
Life and colour dart.
Thee, O Christ, alone we know:
Singing even in our woe,
With pure hearts to thee we go:
On our senses shine!
So thy beams be purged away
All that leads our thoughts astray!
Through our spirits, King of day,
Pour thy light divine!
O God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.
Amen.

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

Psalmus 25

25:2 Prove me, O Lord, and try me; * burn my reins and my heart.

25:3 For thy mercy is before my eyes; * and I am well pleased with thy truth.

25:4 I have not sat with the council of vanity: * neither will I go in with the doers of unjust things.

25:5 I have hated the assembly of the malignant; * and with the wicked I will not sit.

25:6 I will wash my hands among the innocent; * and will compass thy altar, O Lord:

25:7 That I may hear the voice of thy praise: * and tell of all thy wondrous works.

25:8 I have loved, O Lord, the beauty of thy house; * and the place where thy glory dwelleth.

25:9 Take not away my soul, O God, with the wicked: * nor my life with bloody men:

25:10 In whose hands are iniquities: * their right hand is filled with gifts.

([2])

51:3 Why dost thou glory in malice, * thou that art mighty in iniquity?

51:4 All the day long thy tongue hath devised injustice: * as a sharp razor, thou hast wrought deceit.

51:5 Thou hast loved malice more than goodness: * and iniquity rather than to speak righteousness.

51:6 Thou hast loved all the words of ruin, * O deceitful tongue.

51:7 Therefore will God destroy thee for ever: * he will pluck thee out, and remove thee from thy dwelling place: and thy root out of the land of the living.

51:8 The just shall see and fear, and shall laugh at him, and say: * Behold the man that made not God his helper:

51:9 But trusted in the abundance of his riches: * and prevailed in his vanity.

51:10 But I, as a fruitful olive tree in the house of God, * have hoped in the mercy of God for ever, yea for ever and ever.

52:2 They are corrupted, and become abominable in iniquities: * there is none that doth good.

52:3 God looked down from heaven on the children of men: * to see if there were any that did understand, or did seek God.

52:4 All have gone aside, they are become unprofitable together, * there is none that doth good, no not one.

52:6 They have not called upon God: * there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

52:6 For God hath scattered the bones of them that please men: * they have been confounded, because God hath despised them.

56:2 Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me: * for my soul trusteth in thee.

56:2 And in the shadow of thy wings will I hope, * until iniquity pass away.

56:3 I will cry to God the most High; * to God who hath done good to me.

56:4 He hath sent from heaven and delivered me: * he hath made them a reproach that trod upon me.

56:4 God hath sent his mercy and his truth, * and he hath delivered my soul from the midst of the young lions. I slept troubled.

56:5 The sons of men, whose teeth are weapons and arrows, * and their tongue a sharp sword.

56:6 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, * and thy glory above all the earth.

56:7 They prepared a snare for my feet; * and they bowed down my soul.

56:7 They dug a pit before my face, * and they are fallen into it.

56:8 My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready: * I will sing, and rehearse a psalm.

56:9 Arise, O my glory, arise psaltery and harp: * I will arise early.

56:10 I will give praise to thee, O Lord, among the people: * I will sing a psalm to thee among the nations.

56:11 For thy mercy is magnified even to the heavens: * and thy truth unto the clouds.

57:3 For in your heart you work iniquity: * your hands forge injustice in the earth.

57:5 Their madness is according to the likeness of a serpent: * like the deaf asp that stoppeth her ears:

57:6 Which will not hear the voice of the charmers; * nor of the wizard that charmeth wisely.

57:7 God shall break in pieces their teeth in their mouth: * the Lord shall break the grinders of the lions.

57:8 They shall come to nothing, like water running down; * he hath bent his bow till they be weakened.

57:9 Like wax that melteth they shall be taken away: * fire hath fallen on them, and they shall not see the sun.

57:10 Before your thorns could know the brier; he swalloweth them up, * as alive, in his wrath.

57:11 The just shall rejoice when he shall see the revenge: * he shall wash his hands in the blood of the sinner.

57:12 And man shall say: If indeed there be fruit to the just: * there is indeed a God that judgeth them on the earth.

Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:

O God, whose hand hath spread the sky,
And all its shining hosts on high,
And painting it with fiery light,
Made it so beauteous and so bright:
Qhou, when the fourth day was begun,
Didst frame the circle of the sun,
And set the moon for ordered change,
And planets for their wider range:
Uo night and day, by certain line,
Their varying bounds thou didst assign;
And gav'st a signal, known and meet,
For months begun and months complete.
Enlighten thou the hearts of men:
Polluted souls make pure again:
Unloose the bands of guilt within:
Remove the burden of our sin.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ thy sole-begotten Son,

Matins

℣. O Lord, + open thou my lips.

℟. And my mouth shall declare thy praise.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

The dusky veil of night hath laid
The varied hues of earth in shade;
Before Thee, righteous Judge of all,
We contrite in confession fall.
Uake far away our load of sin,
Our soiled minds make clean within:
Thy sov'reign grace, O Christ, impart,
From all offence to guard our heart.
Mor lo! our mind is dull and cold,
Envenomed by sin's baneful hold:
Fain would it now the darkness flee,
And seek, Redeemer, unto Thee.

Rar from it drive the shades of night,
Its inmost darkness put to flight;
Till in the daylight of the blest
It joys to find itself at rest.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Psalmus 61

([1])

61:2 Shall not my soul be subject to God? * for from him is my salvation.

61:3 For he is my God and my saviour: * he is my protector, I shall be moved no more.

61:4 How long do you rush in upon a man? * you all kill, as if you were thrusting down a leaning wall, and a tottering fence.

61:5 But they have thought to cast away my price; I ran in thirst: * they blessed with their mouth, but cursed with their heart.

61:6 But be thou, O my soul, subject to God: * for from him is my patience.

61:7 For he is my God and my saviour: * he is my helper, I shall not be moved.

61:8 In God is my salvation and my glory: * he is the God of my help, and my hope is in God.

61:9 Trust in him, all ye congregation of people: pour out your hearts before him. * God is our helper for ever.

61:10 But vain are the sons of men, the sons of men are liars in the balances: * that by vanity they may together deceive.

61:11 Trust not in iniquity, and cover not robberies: * if riches abound, set not your heart upon them.

61:12 God hath spoken once, these two things have I heard, that power belongeth to God, and mercy to thee, O Lord; * for thou wilt render to every man according to his works.

65:4 Let all the earth adore thee, * and sing to thee: let it sing a psalm to thy name.

65:5 Come and see the works of God; * who is terrible in his counsels over the sons of men.

65:6 Who turneth the sea into dry land, in the river they shall pass on foot: * there shall we rejoice in him.

65:7 Who by his power ruleth for ever: his eyes behold the nations; * let not them that provoke him be exalted in themselves.

65:8 O bless our God, ye Gentiles: * and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
65:9 Who hath set my soul to live: * and hath not suffered my feet to be moved:
65:10 For thou, O God, hast proved us: * thou hast tried us by fire, as silver is tried.

65:17 I cried to him with my mouth: * and I extolled him with my tongue.

67:5 Sing ye to God, sing a psalm to his name, * make a way for him who ascendeth upon the west: (bow head) the Lord is his name.
67:5 Rejoice ye before him: * but the wicked shall be troubled at his presence, who is the father of orphans, and the judge of widows.
67:6 God in his holy place: * God who maketh men of one manner to dwell in a house:
67:7 Who bringeth out them that were bound in strength; * in like manner them that provoke, that dwell in sepulchres.
67:8 O God, when thou didst go forth in the sight of thy people, * when thou didst pass through the desert:
67:9 The earth was moved, and the heavens dropped at the presence of the God of Sinai, * at the presence of the God of Israel.

67:10 Thou shalt set aside for thy inheritance a free rain, * O God: and it was weakened, but thou hast made it perfect.

67:11 In it shall thy animals dwell; * in thy sweetness, O God, thou hast provided for the poor.

67:17 A mountain in which God is well pleased to dwell: * for there the Lord shall dwell unto the end.

67:18 The chariot of God is attended by ten thousands; thousands of them that rejoice: * the Lord is among them in Sinai, in the holy place.

67:19 Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive; * thou hast received gifts in men.

67:28 There is Benjamin a youth, * in ecstasy of mind.

67:28 The princes of Juda are their leaders: * the princes of Zabulon, the princes of Nephthali.

67:29 Command thy strength, O God: * confirm, O God, what thou hast wrought in us.

67:30 From thy temple in Jerusalem, * kings shall offer presents to thee.

Save me, O God * for the waters are come in even unto my soul. ‡

Psalmus 68(2-13)

([7])

68:2 Save me, O God: for the waters are come in even unto my soul.

68:3 ‡ I stick fast in the mire of the deep: * and there is no sure standing.

68:3 I am come into the depth of the sea: * and a tempest hath overwhelmed me.

68:4 I have laboured with crying; my jaws are become hoarse: * my eyes have failed, whilst I hope in my God.

68:5 They are multiplied above the hairs of my head, * who hate me without cause.

68:5 My enemies are grown strong who have wrongfully persecuted me: * then did I pay that which I took not away.

68:6 O God, thou knowest my foolishness; * and my offences are not hidden from thee.

68:7 Let not them be ashamed for me, who look for thee, O Lord, * the Lord of hosts.

68:7 Let them not be confounded on my account, * who seek thee, O God of Israel.

68:8 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; * shame hath covered my face.

68:9 I am become a stranger to my brethren, * and an alien to the sons of my mother.

68:10 For the zeal of thy house hath eaten me up: * and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

68:11 And I covered my soul in fasting: * and it was made a reproach to me.

68:12 And I made haircloth my garment: * and I became a byword to them.

68:13 They that sat in the gate spoke against me: * and they that drank wine made me their song.

68:13 But as for me, my prayer is to thee, O Lord; * for the time of thy good pleasure, O God.

68:15 Draw me out of the mire, that I may not stick fast: * deliver me from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

68:16 Let not the tempest of water drown me, nor the deep swallow me up: * and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

68:17 Hear me, O Lord, for thy mercy is kind; * look upon me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

68:18 And turn not away thy face from thy servant: * for I am in trouble, hear me speedily.

68:19 Attend to my soul, and deliver it: * save me because of my enemies.

68:20 Thou knowest my reproach, and my confusion, * and my shame.

68:21 In thy sight are all they that afflict me; * my heart hath expected reproach and misery.

68:21 And I looked for one that would grieve together with me, * but there was none: and for one that would comfort me, and I found none.

68:22 And they gave me gall for my food, * and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

68:23 Let their table become as a snare before them, * and a recompense, and a stumblingblock.

68:24 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not; * and their back bend thou down always.

68:25 Pour out thy indignation upon them: * and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

68:26 Let their habitation be made desolate: * and let there be none to dwell in their tabernacles.

68:27 Because they have persecuted him whom thou hast smitten; * and they have added to the grief of my wounds.

68:28 Add thou iniquity upon their iniquity: * and let them not come into thy justice.

68:29 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; * and with the just let them not be written.

68:31 I will praise the name of God with a canticle: * and I will magnify him with praise.

68:32 And it shall please God better than a young calf, * that bringeth forth horns and hoofs.

68:33 Let the poor see and rejoice: * seek ye God, and your soul shall live.

68:34 For the Lord hath heard the poor: * and hath not despised his prisoners.

68:35 Let the heavens and the earth praise him; * the sea, and every thing that creepeth therein.

68:36 For God will save Sion, * and the cities of Juda shall be built up.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 4:1-7

1 And Adam knew Eve his wife: who conceived and brought forth Cain, saying: I have gotten a man through God.

2 And again she brought forth his brother Abel. And Abel was a shepherd, and Cain a husbandman.

3 And it came to pass after many days, that Cain offered, of the fruits of the earth, gifts to the Lord.

4 Abel also offered of the firstlings of his flock, and of their fat: and the Lord had respect to Abel, and to his offerings.

5 But to Cain and his offerings he had no respect: and Cain was exceedingly angry, and his countenance fell.

6 And the Lord said to him: Why art thou angry? and why is thy countenance fallen?

7 If thou do well, shalt thou not receive? but if ill, shall not sin forthwith be present at the door? but the lust thereof shall be under thee, and thou shalt have dominion over it.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, wherein He made man also

* After His own image and likeness.

℣. So God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his face the breath of life.

℟. After His own image and likeness.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℟. Amen.

Gen 4:8-12

8 And Cain said to Abel his brother: Let us go forth abroad. And when they were in the field, Cain rose up against his brother Abel, and slew him.

9 And the Lord said to Cain: Where is thy brother Abel? And he answered, I know not: am I my brother's keeper?

10 And he said to him: What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth to me from the earth.

11 Now, therefore, cursed shalt thou be upon the earth, which hath opened her mouth and received the blood of thy brother at thy hand,

12 When thou shalt till it, it shall not yield to thee its fruit: a fugitive and vagabond shalt thou be upon the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, and the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

* And God saw everything that He had made, and it was very good.

℣. Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the hosts of them.

℞. And God saw everything that He had made, and it was very good.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

℞. Amen.

Gen 4:13-16

13 And Cain said to the Lord: My iniquity is greater than that I may deserve pardon.

14 Behold thou dost cast me out this day from the face of the earth, and I shall be hidden from thy face, and I shall be a vagabond and a fugitive on the earth: everyone, therefore, that findeth me, shall kill me.

15 And the Lord said to him: No, it shall not be so: but whosoever shall kill Cain, shall be punished sevenfold. And the Lord set a mark upon Cain, that whosoever found him should not kill him.

16 And Cain went out from the face of the Lord, and dwelt as a fugitive on the earth, at the east side of Eden.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord formed man of the dust of the ground

* And breathed into his face the breath of life, and man became a living soul.

℣. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth, wherein He made man also.

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

89:2 Before the mountains were made, or the earth and the world was formed; * from eternity and to eternity thou art God.

89:3 Turn not man away to be brought low: * and thou hast said: Be converted, O ye sons of men.

89:4 For a thousand years in thy sight * are as yesterday, which is past.

89:5 And as a watch in the night, * things that are counted nothing, shall their years be.

89:6 In the morning man shall grow up like grass; in the morning he shall flourish and pass away: * in the evening he shall fall, grow dry, and wither.

89:7 For in thy wrath we have fainted away: * and are troubled in thy indignation.

89:8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thy eyes: * our life in the light of thy countenance.

89:9 For all our days are spent; * and in thy wrath we have fainted away.

89:9 Our years shall be considered as a spider: * the days of our years in them are threescore and ten years.

89:10 But if in the strong they be fourscore years: * and what is more of them is labour and sorrow.

89:10 For mildness is come upon us: * and we shall be corrected.

89:11 Who knoweth the power of thy anger, * and for thy fear can number thy wrath?

89:12 So make thy right hand known: * and men learned in heart, in wisdom.

89:13 Return, O Lord, how long? * and be entreated in favour of thy servants.

89:14 We are filled in the morning with thy mercy: * and we have rejoiced, and are delighted all our days.

89:15 We have rejoiced for the days in which thou hast humbled us: * for the years in which we have seen evils.

89:16 Look upon thy servants and upon their works: * and direct their children.

89:17 And let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us: and direct thou the works of our hands over us; * yea, the work of our hands do thou direct.

35:2 The unjust hath said within himself, that he would sin: * there is no fear of God before his eyes.

35:3 For in his sight he hath done deceitfully, * that his iniquity may be found unto hatred.

35:4 The words of his mouth are iniquity and guile: * he would not understand that he might do well.

35:5 He hath devised iniquity on his bed, * he hath set himself on every way that is not good: but evil he hath not hated.

35:6 O Lord, thy mercy is in heaven, * and thy truth reacheth even to the clouds.

35:7 Thy justice is as the mountains of God, * thy judgments are a great deep.

35:7 Men and beasts thou wilt preserve, O Lord: * O how hast thou multiplied thy mercy, O God!

35:8 But the children of men * shall put their trust under the covert of thy wings.

35:9 They shall be inebriated with the plenty of thy house; * and thou shalt make them drink of the torrent of thy pleasure.

35:10 For with thee is the fountain of life; * and in thy light we shall see light.

35:11 Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, * and thy justice to them that are right in heart.

35:12 Let not the foot of pride come to me, * and let not the hand of the sinner move me.

35:13 There the workers of iniquity are fallen, * they are cast out, and could not stand.

Canticum Moysis

Exod. 15:1-22

15:1 Let us sing to the Lord: for he is gloriously magnified, * the horse and the rider he hath thrown into the sea.

15:2 The Lord is my strength and my praise, * and he is become salvation to me:

15:3 He is my God and I will glorify him: * the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

15:4 The Lord is as a man of war, Almighty is his name. * Pharaoh's chariots and his army he hath cast into the sea:

15:5 His chosen captains are drowned in the Red Sea. * The depths have covered them, they are sunk to the bottom like a stone.

15:6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is magnified in strength: thy right hand, O Lord, hath slain the enemy. * And in the multitude of thy glory thou hast put down thy adversaries:

15:7 Thou hast sent thy wrath, which hath devoured them like stubble. * And with the blast of thy anger the waters were gathered together:

15:8 The flowing water stood, * the depths were gathered together in the midst of the sea.

15:9 The enemy said: I will pursue and overtake, * I will divide the spoils, my soul shall have its fill:

15:10 I will draw my sword, * my hand shall slay them.

15:11 Thy wind blew and the sea covered them: * they sunk as lead in the mighty waters.

15:12 Who is like to thee, among the strong, O Lord? * who is like to thee, glorious in holiness, terrible and praiseworthy, doing wonders?

15:13 Thou stretchedst forth thy hand, and the earth swallowed them. * In thy mercy thou hast been a leader to the people which thou hast redeemed:

15:14 And in thy strength thou hast carried them * to thy holy habitation.

15:15 Nations rose up, and were angry: * sorrows took hold on the inhabitants of Philisthiim.

15:16 Then were the princes of Edom troubled, trembling seized on the stout men of Moab: * all the inhabitants of Chanaan became stiff.

15:17 Let fear and dread fall upon them, * in the greatness of thy arm:

15:18 Let them become unmoveable as a stone, until thy people, O Lord, pass by: * until this thy people pass by, which thou hast possessed.

15:19 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, * in thy most firm habitation which thou hast made, O Lord;

15:20 Thy sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established. * The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

15:21 For Pharaoh went in on horseback with his chariots and horsemen into the sea: * and the Lord brought back upon them the waters of the sea:

15:22 But the children of Israel walked on dry ground * in the midst thereof.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord is my strength and my praise, and he is become my salvation.

146:1 Praise ye the Lord, because psalm is good: * to our God be joyful and comely praise.

146:2 The Lord buildeth up Jerusalem: * he will gather together the dispersed of Israel.

146:3 Who healeth the broken of heart, * and bindeth up their bruises.

146:4 Who telleth the number of the stars: * and calleth them all by their names.

146:5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: * and of his wisdom there is no number.

146:6 The Lord lifteth up the meek, * and bringeth the wicked down even to the ground.

146:7 Sing ye to the Lord with praise: * sing to our God upon the harp.

146:8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, * and prepareth rain for the earth.

146:8 Who maketh grass to grow on the mountains, * and herbs for the service of men.

146:9 Who giveth to beasts their food: * and to the young ravens that call upon him.

146:10 He shall not delight in the strength of the horse: * nor take pleasure in the legs of a man.

146:11 The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him: * and in them that hope in his mercy.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

The night is passed, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

See the golden sun arise!

Let no more our darkened eyes

Snare us, tangled by surprise

In the maze of sin!

From false words and thoughts impure

Let this light, serene and sure,

Keep our lips without secure,

Keep our souls within.

So may we the day-time spend,

That, till life's temptations end,

Tongue, nor hand, nor eye offend!

One, above us all,

Siews in his revealing ray

All we do, and think, and say,

Watching us from break of day

Till the twilight fall.

Onto God the Father, Son,

Holy Spirit, Three in One,

One in Three, be glory done,

Now and evermore.

Amen.

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

Ant. How good is God * to Israel, to them that are of a right heart! ‡

Psalmus 72(1-9)

([1])

72:1 How good is God to Israel, to them that are of a right heart!

72:2 ‡ But my feet were almost moved; * my steps had wellnigh slipped.

72:3 Because I had a zeal on occasion of the wicked, * seeing the prosperity of sinners.

72:4 For there is no regard to their death, * nor is there strength in their stripes.

72:5 They are not in the labour of men: * neither shall they be scourged like other men.

72:6 Therefore pride hath held them fast: * they are covered with their iniquity and their wickedness.

72:7 Their iniquity hath come forth, as it were from fatness: * they have passed into the affection of the heart.

72:8 They have thought and spoken wickedness: * they have spoken iniquity on high.

72:9 They have set their mouth against heaven: * and their tongue hath passed through the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(10-17)

72:10 Therefore will my people return here * and full days shall be found in them.

72:11 And they said: How doth God know? * and is there knowledge in the most High?

72:12 Behold these are sinners; and yet abounding in the world * they have obtained riches.

72:13 And I said: Then have I in vain justified my heart, * and washed my hands among the innocent.

72:14 And I have been scourged all the day; * and my chastisement hath been in the mornings.

72:15 If I said: I will speak thus; * behold I should condemn the generation of thy children.

72:16 I studied that I might know this thing, * it is a labour in my sight:

72:17 Until I go into the sanctuary of God, * and understand concerning their last ends.

72:18 But indeed for deceits thou hast put it to them: * when they were lifted up, thou hast cast them down.

72:19 How are they brought to desolation? they have suddenly ceased to be: * they have perished by reason of their iniquity.

72:20 As the dream of them that awake, O Lord; * so in thy city thou shalt bring their image to nothing.

72:21 For my heart hath been inflamed, and my reins have been changed: * and I am brought to nothing, and I knew not.

72:23 I am become as a beast before thee: * and I am always with thee.

72:24 Thou hast held me by my right hand; and by thy will thou hast conducted me, * and with thy glory thou hast received me.

72:25 For what have I in heaven? * and besides thee what do I desire upon earth?

72:26 For thee my flesh and my heart hath fainted away: * thou art the God of my heart, and the God that is my portion for ever.

72:27 For behold they that go far from thee shall perish: * thou hast destroyed all them that are disloyal to thee.

72:28 But it is good for me to adhere to my God, * to put my hope in the Lord God:

72:28 That I may declare all thy praises, * in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

73:2 Remember thy congregation, * which thou hast possessed from the beginning.

73:2 The sceptre of thy inheritance which thou hast redeemed: * mount Sion in which thou hast dwelt.

73:3 Lift up thy hands against their pride unto the end; * see what things the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

73:4 And they that hate thee have made their boasts, * in the midst of thy solemnity.

73:5 They have set up their ensigns for signs, * and they knew not both in the going out and on the highest top.

73:6 As with axes in a wood of trees, they have cut down at once the gates thereof, * with axe and hatchet they have brought it down.

73:7 They have set fire to thy sanctuary: * they have defiled the dwelling place of thy name on the earth.

73:8 They said in their heart, the whole kindred of them together: * Let us abolish all the festival days of God from the land.

73:13 Thou by thy strength didst make the sea firm: * thou didst crush the heads of the dragons in the waters.

73:14 Thou hast broken the heads of the dragon: * thou hast given him to be meat for the people of the Ethiopians.

73:15 Thou hast broken up the fountains and the torrents: * thou hast dried up the Ethan rivers.

Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:

O sovereign Lord of nature's might,

Part in the heavens to take their flight,
And part in ocean's deep to hide;

Exalted those, that either race,
Though from one element they spring,
Might serve thee in a different place.

Saved by thy tide of cleansing blood,
No more 'neath sin's dominion fall,
Nor fear the thought of death's dark flood!
Uhy varied love each spirit bless,
The humble cheer, the high control;
Check in each heart its proud excess,
But raise the meek and contrite soul!
Phis boon, O Father, we entreat,
This blessing grant, Eternal Son,
And Holy Ghost, the Paraclete,
Both now, and while the ages run.

Hymnus

O Three in One, and One in Three,

Who rulest all things mightily:

Bow down to hear the songs of praise

Which, freed from bonds of sleep, we raise.

While lingers yet the peace of night,

We rouse us from our slumbers light:

That might of instant prayer may win

The healing balm for wounds of sin.

Qf, by the wiles of Satan caught,

This night-time we have sinned in aught,

That sin Thy glorious power to-day,

From heaven descending, cleanse away.

Net naught impure our bodies stain,
No laggard sloth our souls detain,
No taint of sin our spirits know,
To chill the fervor of their glow.
Oherefore, Redeemer grant that we
Fulfilled with thine own light may be:
That, in our course, from day to day,
By no misdeed we fall away.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

Psalmus 77(1-8)

([1])

77:1 Attend, O my people, to my law: * incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables: * I will utter propositions from the beginning.

77:3 How great things have we heard and known, * and our fathers have told us.

77:4 They have not been hidden from their children, * in another generation.

77:4 Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, * and his wonders which he hath done.

77:5 And he set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

77:5 How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children: * that another generation might know them.

77:6 The children that should be born and should rise up, * and declare them to their children.

77:7 That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: * and may seek his commandments.

77:8 That they may not become like their fathers, * a perverse and exasperating generation.

77:8 A generation that set not their heart aright: * and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel.

The Lord did wonderful things * in the sight of their fathers.

Psalmus 77(9-16)

([2])

77:9 The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: * they have turned back in the day of battle.

77:10 They kept not the covenant of God: * and in his law they would not walk.

77:11 And they forgot his benefits, * and his wonders that he had shewn them.

77:12 Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, * in the field of Tanis.

77:13 He divided the sea and brought them through: * and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

77:14 And he conducted them with a cloud by day: * and all the night with a light of fire.

77:15 He struck the rock in the wilderness: * and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.

77:16 He brought forth water out of the rock: * and made streams run down as rivers.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord did wonderful things in the sight of their fathers.

The Lord opened * the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

Psalmus 77(17-31)

([3])

77:17 And they added yet more sin against him: * they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.

77:18 And they tempted God in their hearts, * by asking meat for their desires.

77:19 And they spoke ill of God: * they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

77:20 Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, * and the streams overflowed.

77:20 Can he also give bread, * or provide a table for his people?

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: * and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.

77:22 Because they believed not in God: * and trusted not in his salvation.

77:23 And he had commanded the clouds from above, * and had opened the doors of heaven.

77:24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, * and had given them the bread of heaven.

77:25 Man ate the bread of angels: * he sent them provisions in abundance.

77:26 He removed the south wind from heaven: * and by his power brought in the southwest wind.

77:27 And he rained upon them flesh as dust: * and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

77:28 And they fell in the midst of their camp, * round about their pavilions.

77:29 So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire: * they were not defrauded of that which they craved.

77:30 As yet their meat was in their mouth: * and the wrath of God came upon them.

77:31 And he slew the fat ones amongst them, * and brought down the chosen men of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord opened the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

God is their helper, * and the most high God their redeemer.

Psalmus 77(32-41)

([4])

77:32 In all these things they sinned still: * and they believed not for his wondrous works.

77:33 And their days were consumed in vanity, * and their years in haste.

77:34 When he slew them, then they sought him: * and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

77:35 And they remembered that God was their helper: * and the most high God their redeemer.

77:36 And they loved him with their mouth: * and with their tongue they lied unto him:

77:37 But their heart was not right with him: * nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

77:38 But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: * and will not destroy them.

77:38 And many a time did he turn away his anger: * and did not kindle all his wrath.

77:39 And he remembered that they are flesh: * a wind that goeth and returneth not.

77:40 How often did they provoke him in the desert: * and move him to wrath in the place without water?

77:41 And they turned back and tempted God: * and grieved the holy one of Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God is their helper, and the most high God their redeemer.

The Lord redeemed them * from the hand of him that afflicted them.

Psalmus 77(42-58)

([5])

77:42 They remembered not his hand, * in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

77:43 How he wrought his signs in Egypt, * and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

77:44 And he turned their rivers into blood, * and their showers that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent amongst them diverse sorts of flies, which devoured them: * and frogs which destroyed them.

77:46 And he gave up their fruits to the blast, * and their labours to the locust.

77:47 And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, * and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

77:48 And he gave up their cattle to the hail, * and their stock to the fire.

77:49 And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: * indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

77:50 He made a way for a path to his anger: * he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

77:51 And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: * the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

77:52 And he took away his own people as sheep: * and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

77:53 And he brought them out in hope, and they feared not: * and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

77:54 And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: * the mountain which his right hand had purchased.

77:54 And he cast out the Gentiles before them: * and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

77:55 And he made the tribes of Israel * to dwell in their tabernacles.

77:56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: * and they kept not his testimonies.

77:57 And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: * even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

77:58 They provoked him to anger on their hills: * and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them.

God built * his sanctuary in the earth.

Psalmus 77(59-72)

77:59 God heard, and despised them, * and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

77:60 And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, * his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

77:61 And he delivered their strength into captivity: * and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

77:62 And he shut up his people under the sword: * and he despised his inheritance.

77:63 Fire consumed their young men: * and their maidens were not lamented.
 77:64 Their priests fell by the sword: * and their widows did not mourn.
 77:65 And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, * and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.
 77:66 And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: * he put them to an everlasting reproach.
 77:67 And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: * and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
 77:68 But he chose the tribe of Juda, * mount Sion which he loved.
 77:69 And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land * which he founded for ever.
 77:70 And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: * he brought him from following the ewes great with young,
 77:71 To feed Jacob his servant, * and Israel his inheritance.
 77:72 And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: * and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.
 V̄. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
 R̄. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God built his sanctuary in the earth.
 Help us, O God, our Saviour, * deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

Psalmus 78

([7])

78:1 O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: * they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.
 78:2 They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: * the flesh
 of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.
 78:3 They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem, * and there was none to bury them.
 78:4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: * a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
 78:5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: * shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?
 78:6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: * and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.
 78:7 Because they have devoured Jacob; * and have laid waste his place.
 78:8 Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, * for we are become exceeding poor.
 78:9 Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: * and forgive us
 our sins for thy name's sake:
 78:10 Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? * And let him be made known
 among the nations before our eyes,
 78:10 By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed: * let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee.
 78:11 According to the greatness of thy arm, * take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.
 78:12 And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: * the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
 78:13 But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, * will give thanks to thee for ever.
 78:13 We will shew forth thy praise, * unto generation and generation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Help us, O God, our Saviour, deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

I am the Lord * God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Psalmus 80

([8])

80:2 Rejoice to God, our helper: * sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: * the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

80:4 Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, * on the noted day of your solemnity.

80:5 For it is a commandment in Israel, * and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

80:6 He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: * he heard a tongue which he knew not.

80:7 He removed his back from the burdens: * his hands had served in baskets.

80:8 Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: * I heard thee in the secret place of temple: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction.

80:9 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: * O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me; there shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

80:11 For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: * open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 But my people heard not my voice: * and Israel hearkened not to me.

80:13 So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: * they shall walk in their own inventions.

80:14 If my people had heard me: * if Israel had walked in my ways:

80:15 I should soon have humbled their enemies, * and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

80:16 The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: * and their time shall be for ever.

80:17 And he fed them with the fat of wheat, * and filled them with honey out of the rock.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. I am the Lord God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Be not thou silent, O Lord, * for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

Psalmus 82

([9])

82:2 O God, who shall be like to thee? * Hold not thy peace, neither be O God, thou still,

82:3 For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: * and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

82:4 They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, * and have consulted against thy saints.

82:5 They have said: Come and let us destroy them, * so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

82:6 For they have contrived with one consent: * they have made a covenant together against thee; the tabernacles of the Edomites, and the Ismahelites:

82:8 Moab, and the Agarens, Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: * the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

82:9 Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: * they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

82:10 Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: * as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

82:11 Who perished at Endor: * and became as dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, * and Zebbee, and Salmana.
82:13 All their princes, * who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.
82:14 O my God, make them like a wheel; * and as stubble before the wind.
82:15 As fire which burneth the wood: * and as a flame burning mountains:
82:16 So shalt thou pursue them with thy tempest: * and shalt trouble them in thy wrath.
82:17 Fill their faces with shame; * and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.
82:18 Let them be ashamed and troubled for ever and ever: * and let them be confounded and perish.
82:19 And let them know that the Lord is thy name: * thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Be not thou silent, O Lord, for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

℣. Let them know that the Lord is thy name.

℟. Thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Absolutio

May His loving-kindness and mercy help us, Who liveth and reigneth with the Father, and the Holy Ghost, world without end.

℟. Amen.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May God the Father Omnipotent, be to us merciful and clement.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 4:17-22

17 And Cain knew his wife, and she conceived, and brought forth Henoah: and he built a city, and called the name thereof by the name of his son Henoah.

18 And Henoah begot Irad, and Irad begot Maviael, and Maviael begot Mathusael, and Mathusael begot Lamech:

19 Who took two wives: the name of the one was Ada, and the name of the other was Sella.

20 And Ada brought forth Jabel: who was the father of such as dwell in tents, and of herdsmen.

21 And his brother's name was Jubal; he was the father of them that play upon the harp and the organs.

22 Sella also brought forth Tubalcain, who was a hammerer and artificer in every work of brass and iron. And the sister of Tubalcain was Noema.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℞. God took the man and put him into the garden of Eden

* To dress it and to keep it.

℣. And the Lord God had planted a garden aforetime in Eden, and there He put the man whom He had formed.

℞. To dress it and to keep it.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

Gen 4:23-26

23 And Lamech said to his wives Ada and Sella: Hear my voice, ye wives of Lamech, hearken to my speech: for I have slain a man to the wounding of myself, and a stripling to my own bruising.

24 Sevenfold vengeance shall be taken for Cain: but for Lamech seventy times sevenfold.

25 Adam also knew his wife again: and she brought forth a son, and called his name Seth, saying: God hath given me another seed, for Abel whom Cain slew.

26 But to Seth also was born a son, whom he called Enos; this man began to call upon the name of the Lord.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord God said: It is not good that the man should be alone.

* Let Us make an help meet for him.

℣. But for Adam there was not found an help meet for him; and God said:

℞. Let Us make an help meet for him.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℞. Amen.

Gen 5:1-5

1 This is the book of the generation of Adam. In the day that God created man, he made him to the likeness of God.

2 He created them male and female; and blessed them: and called their name Adam, in the day when they were created.

3 And Adam lived a hundred and thirty years, and begot a son to his own image and likeness, and called his name Seth.

4 And the days of Adam, after he begot Seth, were eight hundred years: and he begot sons and daughters.

5 And all the time that Adam lived came to nine hundred and thirty years, and he died.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and He took one of his ribs. † And the rib which the Lord had taken from Adam made He a woman, and brought her unto Adam, to see what he would call her.

* And he called her name Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

℣. And while he slept He took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof.

℞. And the rib which the Lord had taken from Adam made He a woman, and brought her unto Adam, to see what he would call her.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. And he called her name Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

142:2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: * for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

142:3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: * he hath brought down my life to the earth.

142:3 He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old: * and my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

142:5 I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: * I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

142:6 I stretched forth my hands to thee: * my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

142:7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: * my spirit hath fainted away.

142:7 Turn not away thy face from me, * lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

142:8 Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; * for in thee have I hoped.

142:8 Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: * for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

142:9 Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled: * teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God.

142:10 Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land: * for thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

84:5 Convert us, O God our saviour: * and turn off thy anger from us.

84:6 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: * or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: * and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

84:8 Shew us, O Lord, thy mercy; * and grant us thy salvation.

3:6 The hills of the world were bowed down * by the journeys of his eternity.

3:7 I saw the tents of Ethiopia for their iniquity, * the curtains of the land of Madian shall be troubled.

3:8 Wast thou angry, O Lord, with the rivers? * or was thy wrath upon the rivers? or thy indignation in the sea?

3:8 Who will ride upon thy horses: * and thy chariots are salvation.

3:9 Thou wilt surely take up thy bow: * according to the oaths which thou hast spoken to the tribes.

3:9 Thou wilt divide the rivers of the earth. † The mountains saw thee, and were grieved: * the great body of waters passed away.

3:10 The deep put forth its voice: * the deep lifted up its hands.

3:11 The sun and the moon stood still in their habitation, * in the light of thy arrows, they shall go in the brightness of thy glittering spear.

3:12 In thy anger thou wilt tread the earth under foot: * in thy wrath thou wilt astonish the nations.

3:13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people: * for salvation with thy Christ.

3:13 Thou struckest the head of the house of the wicked: * thou hast laid bare his foundation even to the neck.

3:14 Thou hast cursed his sceptres, † the head of his warriors, * them that came out as a whirlwind to scatter me.

3:14 Their joy * was like that of him that devoureth the poor man in secret.

3:15 Thou madest a way in the sea for thy horses, * in the mud of many waters.

3:16 I have heard and my bowels were troubled: * my lips trembled at the voice.

3:16 Let rottenness enter into my bones, * and swarm under me.

3:16 That I may rest in the day of tribulation: * that I may go up to our people that are girded.

3:17 For the fig tree shall not blossom: * and there shall be no spring in the vines.

3:17 The labour of the olive tree shall fail: * and the fields shall yield no food:

3:17 The flock shall be cut off from the fold, * and there shall be no herd in the stalls.

3:18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: * and I will joy in God my Jesus.

3:19 The Lord God is my strength: * and he will make my feet like the feet of harts:

3:19 And he the conqueror will lead me upon my high places * singing psalms.

147:7 He shall send out his word, and shall melt them: * his wind shall blow, and the waters shall run.

O Christ, whose glory fills the heaven,
Our only hope, in mercy given;

Son of the Highest evermore:
Drant us thine aid thy praise to sing,
As opening days new duties bring;

Renewed and sanctified by thee.

The sun breaks forth; night's shadows fly:
O Thou, true Light, upon us shine:
Our darkness turn to light divine.
Mithin us grant thy light to dwell;
And from our souls dark sins expel;
Cleanse thou our minds from stain of ill,
And with thy peace our bosoms fill.
Qo us strong faith forever give,
With joyous hope, in thee to live;
That life's rough way may ever be
Made strong and pure by charity.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

21:2 O God my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? * Far from my salvation are the words of my sins.

21:3 O my God, I shall cry by day, and thou wilt not hear: * and by night, and it shall not be reputed as folly in me.

21:4 But thou dwellest in the holy place, * the praise of Israel.

21:5 In thee have our fathers hoped: * they have hoped, and thou hast delivered them.

21:6 They cried to thee, and they were saved: * they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

21:7 But I am a worm, and no man: * the reproach of men, and the outcast of the people.

21:8 All they that saw me have laughed me to scorn: * they have spoken with the lips, and wagged the head.

21:9 He hoped in the Lord, let him deliver him: * let him save him, seeing he delighteth in him.

21:10 For thou art he that hast drawn me out of the womb: * my hope from the breasts of my 21:13 Many calves have surrounded me: * fat bulls have besieged me.

21:14 They have opened their mouths against me, * as a lion ravening and roaring.

21:15 I am poured out like water; * and all my bones are scattered.

21:15 My heart is become like wax melting * in the midst of my bowels.

21:16 My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue hath cleaved to my jaws: * and thou hast brought me down into the dust of death.

21:17 For many dogs have encompassed me: * the council of the malignant hath besieged me.

21:17 They have dug my hands and feet. * They have numbered all my bones.

21:18 And they have looked and stared upon me. * They parted my garments amongst them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

Martyrologium

At Antioch, the blessed martyr Hippolytus, (third century.) He was a Priest who had been led astray into the Novatian schism, but by the operation of the grace of Christ had corrected himself, and had returned into the unity of the Church, for which and within which he afterwards achieved a noble martyrdom. When he was asked by his people which were the true Body, he denied the doctrine of Novatus, and declared that the faith which men ought to keep is the faith which the See of Peter keepeth, and so offered his neck to the executioner.

In Africa, the holy martyrs Felician, Philappian, and 124 others.

It Edessa, in Syria, the holy martyr Barsimceus, Bishop of that city, who converted many Gentiles to the faith, and sent them before him to the crown, but himself followed them with the palm of martyrdom under the Emperor Trajan, (second century.) Likewise, at Edessa, holy Barsen, Bishop of that See, who was famous for the grace of healing, but who on account of his Catholic belief was banished to the uttermost parts of that country by the Arian Emperor Valens, and there finished his earthly life, (in the year 379.)

Eikewise the blessed Alexander. He was arrested in the persecution under the Emperor Decius, and died under the torture, (in the year 251,) venerable for his grey hairs and illustrious for his repeated confession.

Ht Jerusalem, holy Matthias, Patriarch of that place, (in the second century,) of whom are narrated wondrous acts of faith. He suffered much for Christ's sake under the Emperor Hadrian, but at length fell asleep in peace.

Pt Rome, holy Pope Felix (IV, Pope in 526, died in 530,) who laboured much for the Catholic faith.

It Pavia, the holy Confessor Armentarius, Bishop of that See, (in the year 730.)

Vn the monastery of Maubeuge, in Hainaut, in the time of King Dagobert, the holy Virgin Aldegundis, (about the year 689.)

Mt Milan, holy Savina, a devout woman, who fell asleep in the Lord, (in the year 311,) while she was praying at the graves of the holy martyrs Nabor and Felix.

It Viterbo, the holy Virgin Hyacinth de' Mariscotti, (in the year 1640,) a nun of the Third Order of St. Francis, eminent for penitence and for love, whose name Pope Pius VII enrolled with those of the saints.

℣. And elsewhere many other holy martyrs, confessors, and holy virgins.

Hymnus

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.
Pear us, O Father, gracious and forgiving,
And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.
Amen.

Ant. Mercy and truth * shall go before thy face, O Lord.

Psalmus 88(2-19)

([1])

88:2 The mercies of the Lord * I will sing for ever.

88:2 I will shew forth thy truth with my mouth * to generation and generation.

88:3 For thou hast said: Mercy shall be built up for ever in the heavens: * thy truth shall be prepared in them.

88:4 I have made a covenant with my elect: I have sworn to David my servant: * Thy seed will I settle for ever.

88:5 And I will build up thy throne * unto generation and generation.

88:6 The heavens shall confess thy wonders, O Lord: * and thy truth in the church of the saints.

88:7 For who in the clouds can be compared to the Lord: * or who among the sons of God shall be like to God?

88:8 God, who is glorified in the assembly of the saints: * great and terrible above all them that are about him.

88:9 O Lord God of hosts, who is like to thee? * thou art mighty, O Lord, and thy truth is round about thee.

88:10 Thou rulest the power of the sea: * and appeasest the motion of the waves thereof.

88:11 Thou hast humbled the proud one, as one that is slain: * with the arm of thy strength thou hast scattered thy enemies.

88:12 Thine are the heavens, and thine is the earth: the world and the fulness thereof thou hast founded: * the north and the sea thou hast created.

88:13 Thabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy name: * thy arm is with might.

88:14 Let thy hand be strengthened, and thy right hand exalted: * justice and judgment are the preparation of thy throne.

88:15 Mercy and truth shall go before thy face: * blessed is the people that knoweth jubilation.

88:16 They shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance: and in thy name they shall rejoice all the day, * and in thy justice they shall be exalted.

88:18 For thou art the glory of their strength: * and in thy good pleasure shall our horn be exalted.

88:19 For our protection is of the Lord, * and of our king the holy one of Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 88(20-38)

88:20 Then thou spokest in a vision to thy saints, and saidst: * I have laid help upon one that is mighty, and have exalted one chosen out of my people.

88:21 I have found David my servant: * with my holy oil I have anointed him.

88:22 For my hand shall help him: * and my arm shall strengthen him.

88:23 The enemy shall have no advantage over him: * nor the son of iniquity have power to hurt him.

88:24 And I will cut down his enemies before his face; * and them that hate him I will put to flight.

88:25 And my truth and my mercy shall be with him: * and in my name shall his horn be exalted.

88:26 And I will set his hand in the sea; * and his right hand in the rivers.

88:27 He shall cry out to me: Thou art my father: * my God, and the support of my salvation.

88:28 And I will make him my firstborn, * high above the kings of the earth.

88:29 I will keep my mercy for him for ever: * and my covenant faithful to him.

88:30 And I will make his seed to endure for evermore: * and his throne as the days of heaven.

88:31 And if his children forsake my law, * and walk not in my judgments:

88:32 If they profane my justices: * and keep not my commandments:

88:33 I will visit their iniquities with a rod: * and their sins with stripes.

88:34 But my mercy I will not take away from him: * nor will I suffer my truth to fail.

88:35 Neither will I profane my covenant: * and the words that proceed from my mouth I will not make void.

88:36 Once have I sworn by my holiness: I will not lie unto David: * his seed shall endure for ever.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 88(39-53)

([3])

88:39 But thou hast rejected and despised: * thou hast been angry with thy anointed.

88:40 Thou hast overthrown the covenant of thy servant: * thou hast profaned his sanctuary on the earth.

88:41 Thou hast broken down all his hedges: * thou hast made his strength fear.

88:42 All that pass by the way have robbed him: * he is become a reproach to his neighbours.

88:43 Thou hast set up the right hand of them that oppress him: * thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

88:44 Thou hast turned away the help of his sword; * and hast not assisted him in battle.

88:45 Thou hast made his purification to cease: * and thou hast cast his throne down to the ground.
88:46 Thou hast shortened the days of his time: * thou hast covered him with confusion.
88:47 How long, O Lord, turnest thou away unto the end? * shall thy anger burn like fire?
88:48 Remember what my substance is: * for hast thou made all the children of men in vain?
88:49 Who is the man that shall live, and not see death: * that shall deliver his soul from the hand of hell?
88:50 Lord, where are thy ancient mercies, * according to what thou didst swear to David in thy truth?
88:51 Be mindful, O Lord, of the reproach of thy servants * which I have held in my bosom of many nations:
88:52 Wherewith thy enemies have reproached, O Lord; * wherewith they have reproached the change of thy anointed.
88:53 Blessed be the Lord for evermore. * So be it. So be it.

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

℣. O Lord, + open thou my lips.

℟. And my mouth shall declare thy praise.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

The Lord is with thee.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

The Lord is with thee.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The Lord is with thee.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Hymnus

The God whom earth, and sea, and sky

Adore, and laud, and magnify,

Who o'er their threefold fabric reigns,

The Virgin's spotless womb contains.

Che God, whose will by moon and sun

And all things in due course is done,

Is borne upon a maiden's breast,

By fullest heavenly grace possest.

Bow blest that mother, in whose shrine

The great artificer divine,

Whose hand contains the earth and sky,

Vouchsafed, as in his ark, to lie.

Blest, in the message Gabriel brought;
Blest, by the work the Spirit wrought;
From whom the great desire of earth
Took human flesh and human birth.
Ill honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete.
Amen.

Ant. The memory of thy testament * will live forever, O Lord our God.

104:5 Remember his marvellous works which he hath done; * his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth.

104:6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant; * ye sons of Jacob his chosen.

104:7 He is the Lord our God: * his judgments are in all the earth.

104:8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever: * the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.

104:9 Which he made to Abraham; * and his oath to Isaac:

104:10 And he appointed the same to Jacob for a law, * and to Israel for an everlasting testament:

104:11 Saying: To thee will I give the land of Chanaan, * the lot of your inheritance.

104:12 When they were but a small number: * yea very few, and sojourners therein:

104:13 And they passed from nation to nation, * and from one kingdom to another people.

104:15 Touch ye not my anointed: * and do no evil to my prophets.

104:18 They humbled his feet in fetters: the iron pierced his soul, * until his word came.

104:19 The word of the Lord inflamed him: * the king sent, and he released him: the ruler of the people, and he set him at liberty.

104:21 He made him master of his house, * and ruler of all his possession.

104:22 That he might instruct his princes as himself, * and teach his ancients wisdom.

104:30 Their land brought forth frogs, * in the inner chambers of their kings.

104:31 He spoke, and there came diverse sorts of flies, * and sciniphs in all their coasts.

104:32 He gave them hail for rain, * a burning fire in the land.

104:33 And he destroyed their vineyards, and their fig trees: * and he broke in pieces the trees of their coasts.

104:34 He spoke, and the locust came, and the bruchus, * of which there was no number.

104:35 And they devoured all the grass in their land, * and consumed all the fruit of their ground.

104:36 And he slew all the firstborn in their land: * the firstfruits of all their labour.

104:37 And he brought them out with silver and gold: * and there was not among their tribes one that was feeble.

104:38 Egypt was glad when they departed: * for the fear of them lay upon them.

104:39 He spread a cloud for their protection, * and fire to give them light in the night.

104:40 They asked, and the quail came: * and he filled them with the bread of heaven.

104:41 He opened the rock, and waters flowed: * rivers ran down in the dry land.

104:42 Because he remembered his holy word, * which he had spoken to his servant Abraham.

104:43 And he brought forth his people with joy, * and his chosen with gladness.

105:6 We have sinned with our fathers: * we have acted unjustly, we have wrought iniquity.

105:7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt: * they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies:

From the letter of Blessed Ambrose, bishop of Milan, to Pope Siricius

Epist. 81, alias 7, post initium

How great is the madness of their dismal barkings, that the same persons should say that Christ could not be born of a virgin, and yet assert that women, after having given birth to human pledges, remain virgins? But if they will not believe the doctrines of the Clergy, let them believe the oracles of Christ, let them believe the admonitions of Angels who say, For with God nothing shall be impossible. Let them give credit to the Creed of the Apostles, which the Roman Church has always kept and preserved undefiled. Mary heard the voice of the Angel, and she who before had said "How shall this be?", not asking from want of faith in the mode of generation, afterwards replied: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word."

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

91:3 To shew forth thy mercy in the morning, * and thy truth in the night:

91:4 Upon an instrument of ten strings, upon the psaltery: * with a canticle upon the harp.

91:5 For thou hast given me, O Lord, a delight in thy doings: * and in the works of thy hands I shall rejoice.

91:6 O Lord, how great are thy works! * thy thoughts are exceeding deep.

91:7 The senseless man shall not know: * nor will the fool understand these things.

91:8 When the wicked shall spring up as grass: * and all the workers of iniquity shall appear:

91:9 That they may perish for ever and ever: * but thou, O Lord, art most high for evermore.

91:10 For behold thy enemies, O Lord, for behold thy enemies shall perish: * and all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

91:11 But my horn shall be exalted like that of the unicorn: * and my old age in plentiful mercy.

91:12 My eye also hath looked down upon my enemies: * and my ear shall hear of the downfall of the malignant that rise up against me.

91:13 The just shall flourish like the palm tree: * he shall grow up like the cedar of Libanus.

91:14 They that are planted in the house of the Lord * shall flourish in the courts of the house of our God.

91:15 They shall still increase in a fruitful old age: * and shall be well treated, that they may shew,

91:16 That the Lord our God is righteous, * and there is no iniquity in him.

63:3 Thou hast protected me from the assembly of the malignant; * from the multitude of the workers of iniquity.

63:4 For they have whetted their tongues like a sword; * they have bent their bow a bitter thing, to shoot in secret the undefiled.

63:6 They will shoot at him on a sudden, and will not fear: * they are resolute in wickedness.

63:6 They have talked of hiding snares; * they have said: Who shall see them?

63:7 They have searched after iniquities: * they have failed in their search.

63:7 Man shall come to a deep heart: * and God shall be exalted.

63:8 The arrows of children are their wounds: * and their tongues against them are made weak.

63:9 All that saw them were troubled; * and every man was afraid.

63:10 And they declared the works of God: * and understood his doings.

63:11 The just shall rejoice in the Lord, and shall hope in him: * and all the upright in heart shall be praised.

Sir 36:1-16

36:1 Have mercy upon us, O God of all, and behold us, * and shew us the light of thy mercies:

36:2 And send thy fear upon the nations, * that have not sought after thee:

36:3 That they may know that there is no God beside thee, * and that they may shew forth thy wonders.

36:4 Lift up thy hand over the strange nations, * that they may see thy power.

36:5 For as thou hast been sanctified in us in their sight, * so thou shalt be magnified among them in our presence,

36:6 That they may know thee, as we also have known thee, * that there is no God beside thee, O Lord.

36:7 Renew thy signs, and work new miracles. * Glorify thy hand, and thy right arm.

36:8 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath. * Take away the adversary, and crush the enemy.

36:9 Hasten the time, and remember the end, * that they may declare thy wonderful works.

36:10 Let him that escapeth be consumed by the rage of the fire: * and let them perish that oppress thy people.

36:11 Crush the head of the princes of the enemies * that say: There is no other beside us.

Above the star-illumined sky;
Thereto ordained, thy bosom lent
To thy Creator nourishment.
Qhrough thy sweet offspring we receive
The bliss once lost through hapless Eve;
And heaven to mortals open lies
Now thou art portal of the skies.
Thou art the door of heaven's high King,
Light's gateway fair and glistering;
Life through a Virgin is restored;
Ye ransomed nations, praise the Lord!
Ill honour, laud, and glory be,

All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete.

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

Psalmus 93(1-11)

([1])

93:1 The Lord is the God to whom revenge belongeth: * the God of revenge hath acted freely.

93:2 Lift up thyself, thou that judgest the earth: * render a reward to the proud.

93:3 How long shall sinners, O Lord: * how long shall sinners glory?

93:4 Shall they utter, and speak iniquity: * shall all speak who work injustice?

93:5 Thy people, O Lord, they have brought low: * and they have afflicted thy inheritance.

93:6 They have slain the widow and the stranger: * and they have murdered the fatherless.

93:7 And they have said: The Lord shall not see: * neither shall the God of Jacob understand.

93:8 Understand, ye senseless among the people: * and, you fools, be wise at last.

93:9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? * or he that formed the eye, doth he not consider?

93:10 He that chastiseth nations, shall he not rebuke: * he that teacheth man knowledge?

93:12 Blessed is the man whom thou shalt instruct, O Lord: * and shalt teach him out of thy law.

93:13 That thou mayst give him rest from the evil days: * till a pit be dug for the wicked.

93:14 For the Lord will not cast off his people: * neither will he forsake his own inheritance.

93:15 Until justice be turned into judgment: * and they that are near it are all the upright in heart.

93:16 Who shall rise up for me against the evildoers? * or who shall stand with me against the workers of iniquity?

93:17 Unless the Lord had been my helper, * my soul had almost dwelt in hell.

93:18 If I said: My foot is moved: * thy mercy, O Lord, assisted me.

93:19 According to the multitude of my sorrows in my heart, * thy comforts have given joy to my soul.

93:20 Doth the seat of iniquity stick to thee, * who framest labour in commandment?

93:21 They will hunt after the soul of the just, * and will condemn innocent blood.

93:22 But the Lord is my refuge: * and my God the help of my hope.

93:23 And he will render them their iniquity: and in their malice he will destroy them: * the Lord our God will destroy them.

103:14 Bringing forth grass for cattle, * and herb for the service of men.

103:14 That thou mayst bring bread out of the earth: * and that wine may cheer the heart of man.

103:15 That he may make the face cheerful with oil: * and that bread may strengthen man's heart.

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.

And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.

Ant. O God, be thou not silent * for the mouth of the wicked man is opened against me.

Psalms 108(2-13)

([1])

108:2 God, be not thou silent in my praise: * for the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful man is opened against me.

108:3 They have spoken against me with deceitful tongues; and they have compassed me about with words of hatred; * and have fought against me without cause.

108:4 Instead of making me a return of love, they detracted me: * but I gave myself to prayer.

108:5 And they repaid me evil for good: * and hatred for my love.

108:6 Set thou the sinner over him: * and may the devil stand at his right hand.

108:18 And he put on cursing, like a garment: * and it went in like water into his entrails, and like oil in his bones.

108:19 May it be unto him like a garment which covereth him; * and like a girdle with which he is girded continually.

108:28 They will curse and thou wilt bless: * let them that rise up against me be confounded: but thy servant shall rejoice.

108:29 Let them that detract me be clothed with shame: * and let them be covered with their confusion as with a double cloak.

Hymnus

Hail day! whereon the One in Three

First formed the earth by sure decree,

The day its Maker rose again,

And vanquished death, and burst our chain.

Pway with sleep and slothful ease

We raise our hearts and bend our knees,

And early seek the Lord of all,

Obedient to the Prophet's call.

Nhat He may hearken to our prayer,

Stretch forth His strong right arm to spare,

And ev'ry past offense forgiven,

Restore us to our home in heaven.

Ussembled here this holy day,

This holiest hour we raise the lay,
And O that He to whom we sing,
May now reward our offering!
IFather of unclouded light!
Keep us this day as in thy sight,
In word and deed that we may be
From ev'ry touch of evil free.
Nhat this our body's mortal frame
May know no sin, and fear no shame,
Nor fire hereafter be the end
Of passions which our bosom rend.
Medeemer of the world, we pray
That thou wouldst wash our sins away,
And give us, of Thy boundless grace,
The blessings of the heavenly place.
Post Holy Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ our Lord most High
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee
Shall live and reign eternally.
Amen.

([1])

1:1 Blessed is the man who hath not walked in the counsel of the ungodly, † nor stood in the way of sinners, * nor sat in the chair of pestilence.

1:2 But his will is in the law of the Lord, * and on his law he shall meditate day and night.

1:3 And he shall be like a tree which is planted near the running waters, * which shall bring forth its fruit, in due season.

1:3 And his leaf shall not fall off: * and all whatsoever he shall do shall prosper.

1:4 Not so the wicked, not so: * but like the dust, which the wind driveth from the face of the earth.

1:5 Therefore the wicked shall not rise again in judgment: * nor sinners in the council of the just.

1:6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the just: * and the way of the wicked shall perish.

([2])

2:1 Why have the Gentiles raged, * and the people devised vain things?

2:2 The kings of the earth stood up, and the princes met together, * against the Lord and against his Christ.

2:3 Let us break their bonds asunder: * and let us cast away their yoke from us.

2:4 He that dwelleth in heaven shall laugh at them: * and the Lord shall deride them.

2:5 Then shall he speak to them in his anger, * and trouble them in his rage.

2:6 But I am appointed king by him over Sion his holy mountain, * preaching his commandment.
2:7 The Lord hath said to me: * Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee.
2:8 Ask of me, and I will give thee the Gentiles for thy inheritance, * and the utmost parts of the earth for thy possession.
2:9 Thou shalt rule them with a rod of iron, * and shalt break them in pieces like a potter's vessel.
2:10 And now, O ye kings, understand: * receive instruction, you that judge the earth.
2:11 Serve ye the Lord with fear: * and rejoice unto him with trembling.

8:8 Thou hast subjected all things under his feet, * all sheep and oxen: moreover the beasts also of the fields.

9:3 I will be glad and rejoice in thee: * I will sing to thy name, O thou most high.
9:4 When my enemy shall be turned back: * they shall be weakened and perish before thy face.
9:5 For thou hast maintained my judgment and my cause: * thou hast sat on the throne, who judgest justice.
9:6 Thou hast rebuked the Gentiles, and the wicked one hath perished: * thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.
9:7 The swords of the enemy have failed unto the end: * and their cities thou hast destroyed.

Psalmus 9(22-32)

([7])

9:22 Why, O Lord, hast thou retired afar off? * ‡ why dost thou slight us in our wants, in the time of trouble?

9:23 Whilst the wicked man is proud, the poor is set on fire: * they are caught in the counsels which they devise.

9:24 For the sinner is praised in the desires of his soul: * and the unjust man is blessed.

9:25 The sinner hath provoked the Lord, * according to the multitude of his wrath he will not seek him.

9:26 God is not before his eyes: * his ways are filthy at all times.

9:26 Thy judgments are removed from his sight: * he shall rule over all his enemies.

9:27 For he hath said in his heart: * I shall not be moved from generation to generation, and shall be without evil.

9:28 His mouth is full of cursing, and of bitterness, and of deceit: * under his tongue are labour and sorrow.

9:29 He sitteth in ambush with the rich, in private places, * that he may kill the innocent.

9:31 In his net he will bring him down, * he will crouch and fall, when he shall have power over the poor.

9:32 For he hath said in his heart: God hath forgotten, * he hath turned away his face, not to see to the end.

The Lord is just * and He hath loved justice.

Psalmus 10

10:5 The Lord is in his holy temple, * the Lord's throne is in heaven.

10:5 His eyes look on the poor man: * his eyelids examine the sons of men.

10:6 The Lord trieth the just and the wicked: * but he that loveth iniquity, hateth his own soul.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 5:31; 6:1-4

31 Noe, when he was five hundred years old, begot Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

1 And after that men began to be multiplied upon the earth, and daughters were born to them,

2 The sons of God seeing the daughters of men, that they were fair, took to themselves wives of all which they chose.

3 And God said: My spirit shall not remain in man for ever, because he is flesh, and his days shall be a hundred and twenty years.

4 Now giants were upon the earth in those days. For after the sons of God went in to the daughters of men, and they brought forth children, these are the mighty men of old, men of renown.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord said unto Noah: The end of all flesh is come before Me; for the earth is filled with violence through them.

* And I will destroy them with the earth.

℣. Make thee an ark of planed timber, rooms shalt thou make in it.

℞. And I will destroy them with the earth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℞. Amen.

Gen 6:5-8

5 And God seeing that the wickedness of men was great on the earth, and that all the thought of their heart was bent upon evil at all times,

6 It repented him that he had made man on the earth. And being touched inwardly with sorrow of heart,

7 He said: I will destroy man, whom I have created, from the face of the earth, from man even to beasts, from the creeping thing even to the fowls of the air, for it repenteth me that I have made them.

8 But Noe found grace before the Lord.

Gen 6:9-15

9 These are the generations of Noe: Noe was a just and perfect man in his generations, he walked with God.

10 And he begot three sons, Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

11 And the earth was corrupted before God, and was filled with iniquity.

12 And when God had seen that the earth was corrupted (for all flesh had corrupted its way upon the earth,)

13 He said to Noe: The end of all flesh is come before me, the earth is filled with iniquity through them, and I will destroy them with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of timber planks: thou shalt make little rooms in the ark, and thou shalt pitch it within and without.

15 And thus shalt thou make it: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits: the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Forty days and forty nights were the heavens opened; and there went into the ark two and two of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

* And the Lord shut them in.

℣. In the self-same day entered Noah into the ark, and his sons, and his wife, and the wives of his sons.

℞. And the Lord shut them in.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Gospel's glorious word Cleansing to our souls afford.

℞. Amen.

From the Holy Gospel according to Luke

Luc 8:4-15

At that time: When much people were gathered together, and were come to Jesus out of every city, he spake by a parable. A sower went out to sow his seed. And so on, and that which followeth.

Homily by Pope St. Gregory the Great.

Homilia 15 in Evangelia

Dearly beloved brethren, the passage from the Holy Gospel which ye have just heard, needeth not so much that I should explain it, as that I should seek to enforce its lesson. The Truth Himself hath explained it, and, after that, it beseemeth not man's frailty to fritter away His exposition by any further comment. But there is, in that very explanation by the Lord, somewhat, which it behoveth us well to weigh. If it were but we who bade you believe that by the seed is signified the word; by the field, the world; by the birds, the devils; and by the thorns, riches ye would perchance doubt of the truth of our explanation. Therefore the Lord Himself hath vouchsafed to give this explanation, and that, not for this parable only, but that ye may know in what manner to interpret others, whereof He hath not given the meaning.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. When much people were gathered together to Jesus, and were come to Him out of every city, He spake by a parable:

* A sower went out to sow his seed.

℣. And, as he sowed, some fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundred-fold.

℟. A sower went out to sow his seed.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. A sower went out to sow his seed.

Skip the rest, unless praying Lauds separately.

Prayer

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℟. And let my cry come unto thee.

Let us pray.

O God, Who seest that we put not our trust in anything that we do, mercifully grant that through the protection of the Teacher of the Gentiles we may be defended against all adversity.

Phrough Jesus Christ, thy Son our Lord, Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

℟. Amen.

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℟. And let my cry come unto thee.

℣. Let us bless the Lord.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℣. May the souls of the faithful, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

℟. Amen.

Lauds

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℞. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. Have mercy upon me, O God, * after thy great mercy.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Have mercy upon me, O God, after thy great mercy.

If the Lord be my Saviour * I will not fear what man can do unto me.

117:1 Give praise to the Lord, for he is good: * for his mercy endureth for ever.

117:2 Let Israel now say, that he is good: * that his mercy endureth for ever.

117:3 Let the house of Aaron now say, * that his mercy endureth for ever.

117:4 Let them that fear the Lord now say, * that his mercy endureth for ever.

117:5 In my trouble I called upon the Lord: * and the Lord heard me, and enlarged me.

117:6 The Lord is my helper: * I will not fear what man can do unto me.

117:7 The Lord is my helper: * and I will look over my enemies.

117:8 It is good to confide in the Lord, * rather than to have confidence in man.

117:9 It is good to trust in the Lord, * rather than to trust in princes.

117:10 All nations compassed me about; * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:11 Surrounding me they compassed me about: * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:12 They surrounded me like bees, † and they burned like fire among thorns: * and in the name of the Lord I was revenged on them.

117:13 Being pushed I was overturned that I might fall: * but the Lord supported me.

117:14 The Lord is my strength and my praise: * and he is become my salvation.

117:15 The voice of rejoicing and of salvation * is in the tabernacles of the just.

117:16 The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength: † the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me: * the right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength.

117:17 I shall not die, but live: * and shall declare the works of the Lord.

117:18 The Lord chastising hath chastised me: * but he hath not delivered me over to death.

117:19 Open ye to me the gates of justice: † I will go in to them, and give praise to the Lord. * This is the gate of the Lord, the just shall enter into it.

117:21 I will give glory to thee because thou hast heard me: * and art become my salvation.

117:22 The stone which the builders rejected; * the same is become the head of the corner.

117:23 This is the Lord's doing: * and it is wonderful in our eyes.

117:24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: * let us be glad and rejoice therein.

62:2 For thee my soul hath thirsted; * for thee my flesh, O how many ways!

62:3 In a desert land, and where there is no way, and no water: † so in the sanctuary have I come before thee, * to see thy power and thy glory.

62:4 For thy mercy is better than lives: * thee my lips shall praise.

62:5 Thus will I bless thee all my life long: * and in thy name I will lift up my hands.

62:8 And I will rejoice under the covert of thy wings: † my soul hath stuck close to thee: * thy right hand hath received me.

62:10 But they have sought my soul in vain, † they shall go into the lower parts of the earth: * they shall be delivered into the hands of the sword, they shall be the portions of foxes.

Hymnus

Maker of all, eternal King,
Who day and night about dost bring:
Who weary mortals to relieve,
Dost in their times the seasons give:
Now the shrill cock proclaims the day,
And calls the sun's awak'ning ray
The wand'ring pilgrim's guiding light,
That marks the watches night by night.
Housed at the note, the morning star
Heaven's dusky veil uplifts afar:
Night's vagrant bands no longer roam,
But from their dark ways hie them home.
Hhe encouraged sailor's fears are o'er,
The foaming billows rage no more:
Lo! e'en the very Church's rock
Melts at the crowing of the cock.
Slet us then like men arise;
The cock rebukes our slumbering eyes,
Bestirs who still in sleep would lie,
And shames who would their Lord deny.
Gew hope his clarion-note awakes,
Sickness the feeble frame forsakes,
The robber sheathes his lawless sword,
Faith to the fallen is restored.
Look on us, Jesu, when we fall,
And with thy look our souls recall:

If thou but look, our sins are gone,
And with due tears our pardon won.
Thed through our hearts thy piercing ray,
Our souls' dull slumber drive away:
Thy name be first on every tongue,
To thee our earliest praises sung.
DII laud to God the Father be,
All praise, Eternal Son, to thee,
All glory, as is ever meet,
To God the holy Paraclete.
Amen.

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Hymnus

O God of truth, O Lord of might,
Who orderest time and change aright,
Who send'st the early morning ray,
And light'st the glow of perfect day:
Extinguish thou each sinful fire,
And banish every ill desire;
And while thou keep'st the body whole,
Shed forth thy peace upon the soul.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Ant. Some seed fell on good ground, * and bare fruit, some one hundred-fold, and some sixty-fold.

Psalmus 118(81-96)

([1])

118:81 (Caph) My soul hath fainted after thy salvation: * and in thy word I have very much hoped.

118:82 My eyes have failed for thy word, * saying: When wilt thou comfort me?

118:83 For I am become like a bottle in the frost: * I have not forgotten thy justifications.

118:84 How many are the days of thy servant: * when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

118:85 The wicked have told me fables: * but not as thy law.

118:86 All thy statutes are truth: * they have persecuted me unjustly, do thou help me.

118:87 They had almost made an end of me upon earth: * but I have not forsaken thy commandments.

118:88 Quicken thou me according to thy mercy: * and I shall keep the testimonies of thy mouth.

118:89 (Lamed) For ever, O Lord, * thy word standeth firm in heaven.

118:90 Thy truth unto all generations: * thou hast founded the earth, and it continueth.

118:91 By thy ordinance the day goeth on: * for all things serve thee.

118:92 Unless thy law had been my meditation, * I had then perhaps perished in my abjection.

118:93 Thy justifications I will never forget: * for by them thou hast given me life.

118:94 I am thine, save thou me: * for I have sought thy justifications.

118:95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: * but I have understood thy testimonies.

118:96 I have seen an end of all perfection: * thy commandment is exceeding broad.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 118(97-112)

([2])

118:97 (Mem) How have I loved thy law, O Lord! * it is my meditation all the day.

118:98 Through thy commandment, thou hast made me wiser than my enemies: * for it is ever with me.

118:99 I have understood more than all my teachers: * because thy testimonies are my meditation.

118:100 I have had understanding above ancients: * because I have sought thy commandments.

118:101 I have restrained my feet from every evil way: * that I may keep thy words.

118:102 I have not declined from thy judgments, * because thou hast set me a law.

118:103 How sweet are thy words to my palate! * more than honey to my mouth.

118:104 By thy commandments I have had understanding: * therefore have I hated every way of iniquity.

118:105 (Nun) Thy word is a lamp to my feet, * and a light to my paths.

118:106 I have sworn and am determined * to keep the judgments of thy justice.

118:107 I have been humbled, O Lord, exceedingly: * quicken thou me according to thy word.

118:108 The free offerings of my mouth make acceptable, O Lord: * and teach me thy judgments.

118:109 My soul is continually in my hands: * and I have not forgotten thy law.

118:110 Sinners have laid a snare for me: * but I have not erred from thy precepts.

118:111 I have purchased thy testimonies for an inheritance for ever: * because they are the joy of my heart.

118:112 I have inclined my heart to do thy justifications for ever, * for the reward.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 118(113-128)

([3])

118:113 (Samech) I have hated the unjust: * and I have loved thy law.

118:114 Thou art my helper and my protector: * and in thy word I have greatly hoped.

118:115 Depart from me, ye malignant: * and I will search the commandments of my God.

118:116 Uphold me according to thy word, and I shall live: * and let me not be confounded in my expectation.

118:117 Help me, and I shall be saved: * and I will meditate always on thy justifications.

118:118 Thou hast despised all them that fall off from thy judgments; * for their thought is unjust.

118:119 I have accounted all the sinners of the earth prevaricators: * therefore have I loved thy testimonies.

118:120 Pierce thou my flesh with thy fear: * for I am afraid of thy judgments.

118:121 (Ain) I have done judgment and justice: * give me not up to them that slander me.

118:122 Uphold thy servant unto good: * let not the proud calumniate me.

118:123 My eyes have fainted after thy salvation: * and for the word of thy justice.

118:124 Deal with thy servant according to thy mercy: * and teach me thy justifications.

118:125 I am thy servant: * give me understanding that I may know thy testimonies.

118:126 It is time, O Lord, to do: * they have dissipated thy law.

118:127 Therefore have I loved thy commandments * above gold and the topaz.

118:128 Therefore was I directed to all thy commandments: * I have hated all wicked ways.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:

With dawning glories of th' eternal day.

Now and to endless ages art adored.

Hymnus

O blest Creator of the light,
 Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
 And o'er the forming world didst call
 The light from chaos first of all;
 Whose wisdom joined in meet array
 The morn and eve, and named them day:
 Night comes with all its darkling fears;
 Regard thy people's prayers and tears.
 Nest, sunk in sin, and whelmed with strife,
 They lose the gift of endless life;
 While thinking but the thoughts of time,
 They weave new chains of woe and crime.
 Cut grant them grace that they may strain

The heavenly gate and prize to gain:
Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.
PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.

4:7 The light of thy countenance, O Lord, is signed upon us: * thou hast given gladness in my heart.

Hymnus

Before the ending of the day,
Creator of the world, we pray
That with thy wonted favor thou
Wouldst be our guard and keeper now.
From all ill dreams defend our eyes,
From nightly fears and fantasies;
Tread under foot our ghostly foe,
That no pollution we may know.
PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

Ant. Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Let us glorify the Lord.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Let us glorify the Lord.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Let us glorify the Lord.

Come * Let us glorify the Lord.

Hymnus

Our limbs refreshed with slumber now,

And sloth cast off, in prayer we bow;

And while we sing thy praises dear,

O Father, be thou present here.

To thee our earliest morning song,

To thee our hearts full powers belong;

And thou, O Holy One, prevent

Each following action and intent.

Cs shades at morning flee away,

And night before the star of day;

So each transgression of the night

Be purged by thee, celestial Light!

Put off, we pray thee, each offense,
And every lust of thought and sense:
That by their lips who thee adore
Thou mayst be praised forevermore.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Ant. The Lord hath looked down from heaven * upon the children of men.

([1])

13:1 The fool hath said in his heart: * there is no God.

13:1 They are corrupt, and are become abominable in their ways: * there is none that doth good, no not one.

13:2 The Lord hath looked down from heaven upon the children of men, * to see if there be any that understand and seek God.

13:3 They are all gone aside, they are become unprofitable together: * there is none that doth good: no not one.

13:3 Their throat is an open sepulchre; † with their tongues they acted deceitfully: * the poison of asps is under their lips.

13:3 Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness; * their feet are swift to shed blood.

13:3 Destruction and unhappiness in their ways; † and the way of peace they have not known: * there is no fear of God before their eyes.

13:4 Shall not all they know that work iniquity, * who devour my people as they eat bread?

13:5 They have not called upon the Lord: * there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

13:6 For the Lord is in the just generation: † you have confounded the counsel of the poor man; * but the Lord is his hope.

13:7 Who shall give out of Sion the salvation of Israel? * when the Lord shall have turned away the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord hath looked down from heaven upon the children of men.

He who worketh justice * may rest on thy holy mountain, O Lord.

14:1 Lord, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle? * or who shall rest in thy holy hill?

14:2 He that walketh without blemish, * and worketh justice:

14:3 He that speaketh truth in his heart, * who hath not used deceit in his tongue:

14:3 Nor hath done evil to his neighbour: * nor taken up a reproach against his neighbours.

14:4 In his sight the malignant is brought to nothing: * but he glorifieth them that fear the Lord:

14:4 He that sweareth to his neighbour, and deceiveth not; * He that hath not put out his money to usury, nor taken bribes against the innocent:

14:5 He that doth these things, * shall not be moved for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. He who worketh justice may rest on thy holy mountain, O Lord.

O Lord, incline * thy ear to me, and hear my voice, my Lord.

Psalmus 16

([3])

16:1 Hear, O Lord, my justice: * attend to my supplication.

16:1 Give ear unto my prayer, * which proceedeth not from deceitful lips.

16:2 Let my judgment come forth from thy countenance: * let thy eyes behold the things that are equitable.

16:3 Thou hast proved my heart, and visited it by night, * thou hast tried me by fire: and iniquity hath not been found in me.

16:4 That my mouth may not speak the works of men: * for the sake of the words of thy lips, I have kept hard ways.

16:5 Perfect thou my goings in thy paths: * that my footsteps be not moved.

16:6 I have cried to thee, for thou, O God, hast heard me: * O incline thy ear unto me, and hear my words.

16:7 Shew forth thy wonderful mercies; * thou who savest them that trust in thee.

16:8 From them that resist thy right hand keep me, * as the apple of thy eye.

16:8 Protect me under the shadow of thy wings: * from the face of the wicked who have afflicted me.

16:9 My enemies have surrounded my soul: † They have shut up their fat: * their mouth hath spoken proudly.

16:11 They have cast me forth, and now they have surrounded me: * they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth.

16:12 They have taken me, as a lion prepared for the prey; * and as a young lion dwelling in secret places.

16:13 Arise, O Lord, disappoint him and supplant him; * deliver my soul from the wicked one; thy sword from the enemies of thy hand.

16:14 O Lord, divide them from the few of the earth in their life: * their belly is filled from thy hidden stores.

16:14 They are full of children: * and they have left to their little ones the rest of their substance.

16:15 But as for me, I will appear before thy sight in justice: * I shall be satisfied when thy glory shall appear.

17:2 I will love thee, O Lord, my strength: * The Lord is my firmament, my refuge, and my deliverer.

17:3 My God is my helper, * and in him will I put my trust.

17:3 My protector, and the horn of my salvation, * and my support.

17:4 Praising, I will call upon the Lord: * and I shall be saved from my enemies.

17:5 The sorrows of death surrounded me: * and the torrents of iniquity troubled me.
17:6 The sorrows of hell encompassed me: * and the snares of death prevented me.
17:7 In my affliction I called upon the Lord, * and I cried to my God:
17:7 And he heard my voice from his holy temple: * and my cry before him came into his ears.
17:8 The earth shook and trembled: * the foundations of the mountains were troubled and were moved, because he was angry with them.
17:9 There went up a smoke in his wrath: † and a fire flamed from his face: * coals were kindled by it.
17:10 He bowed the heavens, and came down, * and darkness was under his feet.
17:11 And he ascended upon the cherubim, and he flew; * he flew upon the wings of the winds.
17:12 And he made darkness his covert, † his pavilion round about him: * dark waters in the clouds of the air.
17:13 At the brightness that was before him the clouds passed, * hail and coals of fire.
17:14 And the Lord thundered from heaven, † and the Highest gave his voice: * hail and coals of fire.
17:15 And he sent forth his arrows, and he scattered them: * he multiplied lightnings, and troubled them.
17:16 Then the fountains of waters appeared, * and the foundations of the world were discovered:
17:16 At thy rebuke, O Lord, * at the blast of the spirit of thy wrath.

Psalmus 17(17-35)

([5])

17:17 He sent from on high, and took me: * and received me out of many waters.
17:18 He delivered me from my strongest enemies, † and from them that hated me: * for they were too strong for me.
17:19 They prevented me in the day of my affliction: * and the Lord became my protector.
17:20 And he brought me forth into a large place: * he saved me, because he was well pleased with me.
17:21 And the Lord will reward me according to my justice; * and will repay me according to the cleanness of my hands:
17:22 Because I have kept the ways of the Lord; * and have not done wickedly against my God.
17:23 For all his judgments are in my sight: * and his justices I have not put away from me.
17:24 And I shall be spotless with him: * and shall keep myself from my iniquity.
17:25 And the Lord will reward me according to my justice: * and according to the cleanness of my hands before his eyes.
17:26 With the holy thou wilt be holy; * and with the innocent man thou wilt be innocent:
17:27 And with the elect thou wilt be elect: * and with the perverse thou wilt be perverted.
17:28 For thou wilt save the humble people; * but wilt bring down the eyes of the proud.
17:29 For thou lightest my lamp, O Lord: * O my God, enlighten my darkness.
17:30 For by thee I shall be delivered from temptation; * and through my God I shall go over a wall.
17:31 As for my God, his way is undefiled: † the words of the Lord are fire-tried: * he is the protector of all that trust in him.
17:32 For who is God but the Lord? * or who is God but our God?

17:33 God, who hath girt me with strength; * and made my way blameless.

17:34 Who hath made my feet like the feet of harts: * and who setteth me upon high places.

17:35 Who teacheth my hands to war: * and thou hast made my arms like a brazen bow.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

17:36 And thy discipline hath corrected me unto the end: * and thy discipline, the same shall teach me.

17:37 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; * and my feet are not weakened.

17:38 I will pursue after my enemies, and overtake them: * and I will not turn again till they are consumed.

17:39 I will break them, and they shall not be able to stand: * they shall fall under my feet.

17:40 And thou hast girded me with strength unto battle; * and hast subdued under me them that rose up against me.

17:41 And thou hast made my enemies turn their back upon me, * and hast destroyed them that hated me.

17:42 They cried, but there was none to save them, to the Lord: * but he heard them not.

17:43 And I shall beat them as small as the dust before the wind; * I shall bring them to nought, like the dirt in the streets.

17:44 Thou wilt deliver me from the contradictions of the people; * thou wilt make me head of the Gentiles.

17:45 A people which I knew not, hath served me: * at the hearing of the ear they have obeyed me.

17:46 The children that are strangers have lied to me, * strange children have faded away, and have halted from their paths.

17:47 The Lord liveth, and blessed be my God, * and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

17:48 O God, who avengest me, and subduest the people under me, * my deliverer from my enraged enemies.

17:49 And thou wilt lift me up above them that rise up against me: * from the unjust man thou wilt deliver me.

17:50 Therefore will I give glory to thee, O Lord, among the nations, * and I will sing a psalm to thy name.

17:51 Giving great deliverance to his king, † and shewing mercy to David, his anointed: * and to his seed for ever.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 7:1-4

1 And the Lord said to him: Go in thou and all thy house into the ark: for thee I have seen just before me in this generation.

2 Of all clean beasts take seven and seven, the male and female.

3 But of the beasts that are unclean two and two, the male and female. Of the fowls also of the air seven and seven, the male and the female: that seed may be saved upon the face of the whole earth.

4 For yet a while, and after seven days, I will rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and I will destroy every substance that I have made, from the face of the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. In the self-same day entered Noah into the ark, and his sons,

* And his wife and the wives of his sons.

℣. Every living substance was destroyed from the earth, and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.

℟. And his wife, and the wives of his sons.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℟. Amen.

Gen 7:5; 7:10-12

5 And Noe did all things which the Lord had commanded him.

10 And after seven days were passed, the waters of the flood overflowed the earth.

11 In the six hundredth year of the life of Noe in the second month, in the seventeenth day of the month, all the fountains of the great deep were broken up, and the flood gates of heaven were open:

12 And the rain fell upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord remembered Noah, and made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters assuaged,

* And the rain from heaven was restrained.

℣. And the waters returned from off the earth continually, and after the end of the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.

℟. And the rain from heaven was restrained.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, according to thy great mercy.

50:3 ‡ And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

5:4 For to thee will I pray: * O Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear my voice.

5:5 In the morning I will stand before thee, and will see: * because thou art not a God that willest iniquity.

5:6 Neither shall the wicked dwell near thee: * nor shall the unjust abide before thy eyes.

5:7 Thou hatest all the workers of iniquity: * thou wilt destroy all that speak a lie.

5:7 The bloody and the deceitful man the Lord will abhor. * But as for me in the multitude of thy mercy,

5:8 I will come into thy house; * I will worship towards thy holy temple, in thy fear.

5:9 Conduct me, O Lord, in thy justice: * because of my enemies, direct my way in thy sight.

5:11 Let them fall from their devices: † according to the multitude of their wickednesses cast them out: * for they have provoked thee, O Lord.

5:12 But let all them be glad that hope in thee: * they shall rejoice for ever, and thou shalt dwell in them.

O splendour of God's glory bright,

O thou that bringest light from light,

O light of light, light's living spring,

O day, all days illumining.

Vthou true sun, on us thy glance

Let fall in royal radiance,

The Spirit's sanctifying beam

Upon our earthly senses stream.

Vhe Father too our prayers implore,

Father of glory evermore,

The Father of all grace and might,

To banish sin from our delight:

Co guide whate'er we nobly do,

With love all envy to subdue,

To make ill-fortune turn to fair,

And give us grace our wrongs to bear.

Mur mind be in his keeping placed,
Our body true to him and chaste,
Where only faith her fire shall feed,
And burn the tares of Satan's seed.
Cnd Christ to us for food shall be,
From him our drink that wellet free,
The Spirit's wine, that maketh whole,
And mocking not, exalts the soul.
Lejoicing may this day go hence,
Like virgin dawn our innocence,
Like fiery noon our faith appear,
Nor know the gloom of twilight drear.
Aorn in her rosy car is borne;
Let him come forth our perfect morn,
The Word in God the Father One,
The Father perfect in the Son.

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Hymnus

O God of truth, O Lord of might,
Who orderest time and change aright,
Who send'st the early morning ray,
And light'st the glow of perfect day:
Extinguish thou each sinful fire,
And banish every ill desire;
And while thou keep'st the body whole,
Shed forth thy peace upon the soul.
O mighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

30:2 In thee, O Lord, have I hoped, let me never be confounded: * deliver me in thy justice.

30:3 Bow down thy ear to me: * make haste to deliver me.

30:3 Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a house of refuge, * to save me.

30:4 For thou art my strength and my refuge; * and for thy name's sake thou wilt lead me, and nourish me.

30:5 Thou wilt bring me out of this snare, which they have hidden for me: * for thou art my protector.

30:6 Into thy hands I commend my spirit: * thou hast redeemed me, O Lord, the God of truth.

30:7 Thou hast hated them that regard vanities, * to no purpose.

30:7 But I have hoped in the Lord: * I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy.

30:10 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am afflicted: * my eye is troubled with wrath, my soul, and my belly:

30:11 For my life is wasted with grief: * and my years in sighs.

30:11 My strength is weakened through poverty * and my bones are disturbed.
 30:12 I am become a reproach among all my enemies, and very much to my neighbours; * and a fear to my acquaintance.
 30:12 They that saw me without fled from me. * I am forgotten as one dead from the heart.
 30:13 I am become as a vessel that is destroyed. * For I have heard the blame of many that dwell round about.

 30:15 But I have put my trust in thee, O Lord: * I said: Thou art my God. My lots are in thy hands.
 30:16 Deliver me out of the hands of my enemies; * and from them that persecute me.
 30:17 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; save me in thy mercy. * Let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon thee.

 30:20 Which thou hast wrought for them that hope in thee, * in the sight of the sons of men.
 30:21 Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy face, * from the disturbance of men.
 30:21 Thou shalt protect them in thy tabernacle * from the contradiction of tongues.
 30:22 Blessed be the Lord, * for he hath shewn his wonderful mercy to me in a fortified city.
 30:23 But I said in the excess of my mind: * I am cast away from before thy eyes.
 30:23 Therefore thou hast heard the voice of my prayer, * when I cried to thee.
 30:24 O love the Lord, all ye his saints: * for the Lord will require truth, and will repay them abundantly that act proudly.

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.
Pear us, O Father, gracious and forgiving,
And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.

Psalmus 31

([1])

31:1 Blessed are those whose iniquities are forgiven * and whose sins are covered.

31:2 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin, * and in whose spirit there is no guile.

31:3 Because I was silent my bones grew old; * whilst I cried out all the day long.

31:4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: * I am turned in my anguish, whilst the thorn is fastened.

31:5 I have acknowledged my sin to thee, * and my injustice I have not concealed.

31:5 I said I will confess against myself my injustice to the Lord: * and thou hast forgiven the wickedness of my sin.

31:6 For this shall every one that is holy pray to thee * in a seasonable time.

31:6 And yet in a flood of many waters, * they shall not come nigh unto him.

31:7 Thou art my refuge from the trouble which hath encompassed me: * my joy, deliver me from them that surround me.

31:8 I will give thee understanding, and I will instruct thee in this way, in which thou shalt go: * I will fix my eyes upon thee.

31:9 Do not become like the horse and the mule, * who have no understanding.

31:9 With bit and bridle bind fast their jaws, * who come not near unto thee.

Psalmus 32(1-11)

([2])

32:1 Rejoice in the Lord, O ye just: * praise becometh the upright.

32:2 Give praise to the Lord on the harp; * sing to him with the psaltery, the instrument of ten strings.

32:3 Sing to him a new canticle, * sing well unto him with a loud noise.

32:4 For the word of the Lord is right, * and all his works are done with faithfulness.

32:5 He loveth mercy and judgment; * the earth is full of the mercy of the Lord.

32:6 By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; * and all the power of them by the spirit of his mouth:

32:7 Gathering together the waters of the sea, as in a vessel; * laying up the depths in storehouses.

32:8 Let all the earth fear the Lord, * and let all the inhabitants of the world be in awe of him.

32:9 For he spoke and they were made: * he commanded and they were created.

32:10 The Lord bringeth to nought the counsels of nations; * and he rejecteth the devices of people, and casteth away the counsels of princes.

32:14 From his habitation which he hath prepared, * he hath looked upon all that dwell on the earth.

32:15 He who hath made the hearts of every one of them: * who understandeth all their works.

32:16 The king is not saved by a great army: * nor shall the giant be saved by his own great strength.

32:17 Vain is the horse for safety: * neither shall he be saved by the abundance of his strength.

32:18 Behold the eyes of the Lord are on them that fear him: * and on them that hope in his mercy.

O great Creator of the sky,
Who wouldst not the floods on high
With earthly waters to confound,
But mad'st the firmament their bound;

Lest the parched earth should ruin meet.
Ipon our souls, good Lord, bestow
Thy gift of grace in endless flow:
Lest some renewed deceit or wile
Of former sin should us beguile.
Let faith discover heav'nly light;
So shall its rays direct us right:
And let this faith each error chase,
And never give to falsehood place.
Prant this, O Father, ever One

Mother of Christ, hear thou thy people's cry

Star of the deep and Portal of the sky!

Mother of Him who thee from nothing made.

Sinking we strive and call to thee for aid:

O, by what joy which Gabriel brought to thee,

Thou Virgin first and last, let us thy mercy see.

℣. After childbirth thou didst remain a virgin.

℞. Intercede for us, O Mother of God.

Let us pray.

O God, who, by the fruitful virginity of blessed Mary, hast bestowed upon mankind the reward of eternal salvation: grant, we beseech thee, that we may experience her intercession, through whom we have been made worthy to receive the author of life, Our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

℞. Amen.

Ant. Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Our Saviour.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Our Saviour.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Our Saviour.

Let us adore God * Our Saviour.

Hymnus

O Light of Light, O Day-spring bright,

Co-equal in thy Father's light:

Assist us, as with prayer and psalm

Thy servants break the twilight calm.

All darkness from our minds dispel,

And turn to flight the hosts of hell:

Bid sleepfulness our eyelids fly,

Lest overwhelmed in sloth we lie.

Sesu, thy pardon, kind and free,

Bestow on us who trust in thee:

And as thy praises we declare,

O with acceptance hear our prayer.

PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, * them that fight against me.

Psalmus 34(1-10)

([1])

34:1 Judge thou, O Lord, them that wrong me: * overthrow them that fight against me.

34:2 Take hold of arms and shield: * and rise up to help me.

34:3 Bring out the sword, and shut up the way against them that persecute me: * say to my soul: I am thy salvation.

34:4 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek after my soul.

34:4 Let them be turned back and be confounded * that devise against me.

34:5 Let them become as dust before the wind: * and let the Angel of the Lord straiten them.

34:6 Let their way become dark and slippery; * and let the Angel of the Lord pursue them.

34:7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me unto destruction: * without cause they have upbraided my soul.

34:8 Let the snare which he knoweth not come upon him: and let the net which he hath hidden catch him: * and into that very snare let them fall.

34:9 But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; * and shall be delighted in his salvation.

34:10 All my bones shall say: * Lord, who is like to thee?

34:10 Who deliverest the poor from the hand of them that are stronger than he; * the needy and the poor from them that strip him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Overthrow, O Lord, them that fight against me.

Rescue, O Lord, * my soul from their malice.

Psalmus 34(11-17)

([2])

34:11 Unjust witnesses rising up * have asked me things I knew not.

34:12 They repaid me evil for good: * to the depriving me of my soul.

34:13 But as for me, when they were troublesome to me, * I was clothed with haircloth.

34:13 I humbled my soul with fasting; * and my prayer shall be turned into my bosom.

34:14 As a neighbour and as an own brother, so did I please: * as one mourning and sorrowful so was I humbled.

34:15 But they rejoiced against me, and came together: * scourges were gathered together upon me, and I knew not.

34:16 They were separated, and repented not: they tempted me, they scoffed at me with scorn: * they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

34:17 Lord, when wilt thou look upon me? * rescue thou my soul from their malice: my only one from the lions.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Rescue, O Lord, my soul from their malice.
Arise, O Lord, * and be attentive to my judgment.

Psalmus 34(18-28)

([3])

34:18 I will give thanks to thee in a great church; * I will praise thee in a strong people.

34:19 Let not them that are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: * who have hated me without cause, and wink with the eyes.

34:20 For they spoke indeed peaceably to me; * and speaking in the anger of the earth they devised guile.

34:21 And they opened their mouth wide against me; * they said: Well done, well done, our eyes have seen it.

34:22 Thou hast seen, O Lord, be not thou silent: * O Lord, depart not from me.

34:23 Arise, and be attentive to my judgment: * to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

34:24 Judge me, O Lord my God according to thy justice, * and let them not rejoice over me.

34:25 Let them not say in their hearts: It is well, it is well, to our mind: * neither let them say: We have swallowed him up.

34:26 Let them blush: and be ashamed together, * who rejoice at my evils.

34:26 Let them be clothed with confusion and shame, * who speak great things against me.

34:27 Let them rejoice and be glad, who are well pleased with my justice, * and let them say always: The Lord be magnified, who delights in the peace of his servant.

34:28 And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, * thy praise all the day long.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Arise, O Lord, and be attentive to my judgment.

Envy not * the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

Psalmus 36(1-15)

([4])

36:1 Be not emulous of evildoers; * nor envy them that work iniquity.

36:2 For they shall shortly wither away as grass, * and as the green herbs shall quickly fall.

36:3 Trust in the Lord, and do good, * and dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed with its riches.

36:4 Delight in the Lord, * and he will give thee the requests of thy heart.

36:5 Commit thy way to the Lord, and trust in him, * and he will do it.

36:6 And he will bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday: * be subject to the Lord and pray to him.

36:7 Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; * the man who doth unjust things.

36:8 Cease from anger, and leave rage; * have no emulation to do evil.

36:9 For the evildoers shall be cut off: * but they that wait upon the Lord shall inherit the land.

36:10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: * and thou shalt seek his place, and shalt not find it.

36:11 But the meek shall inherit the land, * and shall delight in abundance of peace.

36:12 The sinner shall watch the just man: * and shall gnash upon him with his teeth.

36:13 But the Lord shall laugh at him: * for he foreseeth that his day shall come.

36:14 The wicked have drawn out the sword: * they have bent their bow.

36:14 To cast down the poor and needy, * to kill the upright of heart.

36:15 Let their sword enter into their own hearts, * and let their bow be broken.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Envy not the man who prospereth in his way; the man who doth unjust things.

The arms of the wicked * shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Psalmus 36(16-29)

([5])

36:16 Better is a little to the just, * than the great riches of the wicked.

36:17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; * but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

36:18 The Lord knoweth the days of the undefiled; * and their inheritance shall be for ever.

36:19 They shall not be confounded in the evil time; and in the days of famine they shall be filled, * because the wicked shall perish.

36:20 And the enemies of the Lord, presently after they shall be honoured and exalted, * shall come to nothing and vanish like smoke.

36:21 The sinner shall borrow, and not pay again; * but the just sheweth mercy and shall give.

36:22 For such as bless him shall inherit the land: * but such as curse him shall perish.

36:23 With the Lord shall the steps of a man be directed, * and he shall like well his way.

36:24 When he shall fall he shall not be bruised, * for the Lord putteth his hand under him.

36:25 I have been young, and now am old; * and I have not seen the just forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread.

36:26 He sheweth mercy, and lendeth all the day long; * and his seed shall be in blessing.

36:27 Decline from evil and do good, * and dwell for ever and ever.

36:28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: * they shall be preserved for ever.

36:28 The unjust shall be punished, * and the seed of the wicked shall perish.

36:29 But the just shall inherit the land, * and shall dwell therein for evermore.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Keep innocence * and behold justice.

Psalmus 36(30-40)

([6])

36:30 The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom: * and his tongue shall speak judgment.

36:31 The law of his God is in his heart, * and his steps shall not be supplanted.

36:32 The wicked watcheth the just man, * and seeketh to put him to death.

36:33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hands; * nor condemn him when he shall be judged.

36:34 Expect the Lord and keep his way: and he will exalt thee to inherit the land: * when the sinners shall perish thou shalt see.

36:35 I have seen the wicked highly exalted, * and lifted up like the cedars of Libanus.

36:36 And I passed by, and lo, he was not: * and I sought him and his place was not found.

36:37 Keep innocence, and behold justice: * for there are remnants for the peaceable man.

36:38 But the unjust shall be destroyed together: * the remnants of the wicked shall perish.

36:39 But the salvation of the just is from the Lord, * and he is their protector in the time of trouble.

36:40 And the Lord will help them and deliver them: * and he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them, because they have hoped in him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Keep innocence and behold justice.

O Lord, * do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Psalmus 37(2-11)

([7])

37:2 Rebuke me not, O Lord, in thy indignation; * nor chastise me in thy wrath.

37:3 For thy arrows are fastened in me: * and thy hand hath been strong upon me.

37:4 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy wrath: * there is no peace for my bones, because of my sins.

37:5 For my iniquities are gone over my head: * and as a heavy burden are become heavy upon me.

37:6 My sores are putrified and corrupted, * because of my foolishness.

37:7 I am become miserable, and am bowed down even to the end: * I walked sorrowful all the day long.

37:8 For my loins are filled with illusions; * and there is no health in my flesh.

37:9 I am afflicted and humbled exceedingly: * I roared with the groaning of my heart.

37:10 Lord, all my desire is before thee, * and my groaning is not hidden from thee.

37:11 My heart is troubled, my strength hath left me, * and the light of my eyes itself is not with me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. O Lord, do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Psalmus 37(12-23)

([8])

37:12 My friends and my neighbours * have drawn near, and stood against me.

37:12 And they that were near me stood afar off: * and they that sought my soul used violence.

37:13 And they that sought evils to me spoke vain things, * and studied deceits all the day long.

37:14 But I, as a deaf man, heard not: * and as a dumb man not opening his mouth.

37:15 And I became as a man that heareth not: * and that hath no reproofs in his mouth.

37:16 For in thee, O Lord, have I hoped: * thou wilt hear me, O Lord my God.

37:17 For I said: Lest at any time my enemies rejoice over me: * and whilst my feet are moved, they speak great things against me.

37:18 For I am ready for scourges: * and my sorrow is continually before me.

37:19 For I will declare my iniquity: * and I will think for my sin.

37:20 But my enemies live, and are stronger than I: * and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

37:21 They that render evil for good, have detracted me, * because I followed goodness.

37:22 Forsake me not, O Lord my God: * do not thou depart from me.

37:23 Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Attend unto my help, O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Remove, O Lord, * thy scourges from me.

Psalmus 38

([9])

38:2 I said: I will take heed to my ways: * that I sin not with my tongue.

38:2 I have set guard to my mouth, * when the sinner stood against me.

38:3 I was dumb, and was humbled, and kept silence from good things: * and my sorrow was renewed.

38:4 My heart grew hot within me: * and in my meditation a fire shall flame out.

38:5 I spoke with my tongue: * O Lord, make me know my end.

38:5 And what is the number of my days: * that I may know what is wanting to me.

38:6 Behold thou hast made my days measurable: * and my substance is as nothing before thee.

38:6 And indeed all things are vanity: * every man living.

38:7 Surely man passeth as an image: * yea, and he is disquieted in vain.

38:7 He storeth up: * and he knoweth not for whom he shall gather these things.

38:8 And now what is my hope? Is it not the Lord? * And my substance is with thee.

38:9 Deliver thou me from all my iniquities: * thou hast made me a reproach to the fool.

38:10 I was dumb, and I opened not my mouth, because thou hast done it: * remove thy scourges from me.

38:12 The strength of thy hand hath made me faint in rebukes: * thou hast corrected man for iniquity.

38:12 And thou hast made his soul to waste away like a spider: * surely in vain is any man disquieted.

38:13 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and my supplication: * give ear to my tears.

38:13 Be not silent: for I am a stranger with thee, * and a sojourner as all my fathers were.

38:14 O forgive me, that I may be refreshed, before I go hence, * and be no more.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Remove, O Lord, thy scourges from me.

℣. O Lord, be not thou silent, forgive me.

℟. For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Absolutio

May His loving-kindness and mercy help us, Who liveth and reigneth with the Father, and the Holy Ghost, world without end.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 8:1-4

1 And God remembered Noe, and all the living creatures, and all the cattle which were with him in the ark, and brought a wind upon the earth, and the waters were abated.

2 The fountains also of the deep, and the flood gates of heaven were shut up, and the rain from heaven was restrained.

3 And the waters returned from off the earth going and coming: and they began to be abated after a hundred and fifty days.

4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, the seven and twentieth day of the month, upon the mountains of Armenia.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Noah builded an Altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings on the Altar; and the Lord smelled a sweet savour, and blessed Noah, and said:

* Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Behold, I establish My covenant with you, and with your seed after you.

℟. Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May Christ to all His people give, for ever in His sight to live.

℟. Amen.

Gen 8:5-9

5 And the waters were going and decreasing until the tenth month: for in the tenth month, the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains appeared.

6 And after that forty days were passed, Noe, opening the window of the ark which he had made, sent forth a raven:

7 Which went forth and did not return, till the waters were dried up upon the earth.

8 He sent forth also a dove after him, to see if the waters had now ceased upon the face of the earth.

9 But she, not finding where her foot might rest, returned to him into the ark.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord said unto Noah: I do set My bow in the clouds of heaven,

* And I will remember My covenant which is between Me and you.

℣. And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the heaven, that My bow shall be seen in the cloud.

℟. And I will remember My covenant which is between Me and you.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℟. Amen.

Gen 8:10-13

10 And having waited yet seven other days, he again sent forth the dove out of the ark.

11 And she came to him in the evening, carrying a bough of an olive tree, with green leaves, in her mouth. Noe therefore understood that the waters were ceased upon the earth.

12 And he stayed yet other seven days: and he sent forth the dove, which returned not any more unto him.

13 Therefore in the six hundreth and first year, the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were lessened upon the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. By Myself have I sworn, saith the Lord. I will not again bring the waters of the flood upon the earth, I will remember My covenant.

* And the waters shall become no more a flood to destroy all flesh.

℣. I do set My bow in the clouds, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth.

℟. And the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. And the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

42:2 For thou art God my strength: * why hast thou cast me off? and why do I go sorrowful whilst the enemy afflicteth me?

42:3 Send forth thy light and thy truth: * they have conducted me, and brought me unto thy holy hill, and into thy tabernacles.

42:4 And I will go in to the altar of God: * to God who giveth joy to my youth.

42:5 To thee, O God my God, I will give praise upon the harp: * why art thou sad, O my soul? and why dost thou disquiet me?

42:6 Hope in God, for I will still give praise to him: * the salvation of my countenance, and my God.

Isa 38:10-24

38:10 I said: In the midst of my days * I shall go to the gates of hell:

38:11 I sought for the residue of my years. * I said: I shall not see the Lord God in the land of the living.

38:12 I shall behold man no more, * nor the inhabitant of rest.

38:13 My generation is at an end, and it is rolled away from me, * as a shepherd's tent.

38:14 My life is cut off, as by a weaver: whilst I was yet but beginning, he cut me off: * from morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me.

38:15 I hoped till morning, * as a lion so hath he broken all my bones:

38:16 From morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me. * I will cry like a young swallow, I will meditate like a dove:

38:17 My eyes are weakened * looking upward:

38:18 Lord, I suffer violence, answer thou for me. * What shall I say, or what shall he answer for me, whereas he himself hath done it?

38:19 I will recount to thee all my years * in the bitterness of my soul.

38:20 O Lord, if man's life be such, and the life of my spirit be in such things as these, thou shalt correct me, and make me to live. * Behold in peace is my bitterness most bitter:

38:21 But thou hast delivered my soul that it should not perish, * thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

38:22 For hell shall not confess to thee, neither shall death praise thee: * nor shall they that go down into the pit, look for thy truth.

38:23 The living, the living, he shall give praise to thee, as I do this day: * the father shall make thy truth known to the children.

38:24 O Lord, save me, and we will sing our psalms all the days of our life * in the house of the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Thou shalt correct me, O Lord, and make me to live.

Praise * the Lord, for he will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.

Psalmus 134

([5])

134:1 Praise ye the name of the Lord: * O you his servants, praise the Lord:

134:2 You that stand in the house of the Lord, * in the courts of the house of our God.

134:3 Praise ye the Lord, for the Lord is good: * sing ye to his name, for it is sweet.

134:4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself: * Israel for his own possession.

134:5 For I have known that the Lord is great, * and our God is above all gods.

134:6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased he hath done, in heaven, in earth, * in the sea, and in all the deeps.

134:7 He bringeth up clouds from the end of the earth: * he hath made lightnings for the rain.

134:7 He bringeth forth winds out of his stores: * He slew the firstborn of Egypt from man even unto beast.

134:9 He sent forth signs and wonders in the midst of thee, O Egypt: * upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

134:10 He smote many nations, * and slew mighty kings:

134:11 Sehon king of the Amorrites, and Og king of Basan, * and all the kingdoms of Chanaan.

134:12 And gave their land for an inheritance, * for an inheritance to his people Israel.

134:13 Thy name, O Lord, is for ever: * thy memorial, O Lord, unto all generations.

134:14 For the Lord will judge his people, * and will be entreated in favour of his servants.

134:15 The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, * the works of men's hands.

134:16 They have a mouth, but they speak not: * they have eyes, but they see not.

134:17 They have ears, but they hear not: * neither is there any breath in their mouths.

134:18 Let them that make them be like to them: * and every one that trusteth in them.

134:19 Bless the Lord, O house of Israel: * bless the Lord, O house of Aaron.

134:20 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi: * you that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

134:21 Blessed be the Lord out of Sion, * who dwelleth in Jerusalem.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Praise the Lord, for he will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.

Rom 13:12-13

The night is passed, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day.

℞. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

As the bird, whose clarion gay
Sounds before the dawn is grey,
Christ, who brings the spirit's day,
Calls us, close at hand:
Aake! he cries, and for my sake,
From your eyes dull slumbers shake!
Sober, righteous, chaste, awake!
At the door I stand!
Iord, to thee we lift on high
Fervent prayer and bitter cry:
Hearts aroused to pray and sigh
May not slumber more:
Treak the sleep of death and time,
Forged by Adam's ancient crime;
And the light of Eden's prime
To the world restore!
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.
Amen.

℣. We are filled in the morning with thy mercy.

℞. And we have rejoiced, and are delighted.

Ant. The Lord has raised up * a horn of salvation for us in the house of David his servant.

Luc. 1:68-79

1:68 Blessed be the Lord ✠ God of Israel; * because he hath visited and wrought the redemption of his people:

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

Iefore him seven women, who were collecting the drops of his blood as they fell during the torture, were arrested for being Christians, and after being grievously tormented were put to the sword.

Likewise the holy martyrs Laurentinus, (these martyrs mentioned by Cyprian, Letter 34,) and Ignatius, his father's and mother's brothers, and Celerina his grandmother, who had before him been crowned with martyrdom, to the glorious praises of all whom there remaineth to witness an epistle of blessed Cyprian.

Hymnus

O strength and stay upholding all creation,
Who ever dost thyself unmoved abide,
Yet day by day the light in due gradation
From hour to hour through all its changes guide:
Lrant to life's day a calm unclouded ending,
An eve untouched by shadows of decay,
The brightness of a holy death-bed blending
With dawning glories of th' eternal day.
Pear us, O Father, gracious and forgiving,
And thou, O Christ, the co-eternal Word,
Who, with the Holy Ghost, by all things living
Now and to endless ages art adored.
Amen.

Psalmus 43(2-9)

([1])

43:2 We have heard, O God, with our ears: * our fathers have declared to us,

43:2 The work thou hast wrought in their days, * and in the days of old.

43:3 Thy hand destroyed the Gentiles, and thou plantedst them: * thou didst afflict the people and cast them out.

43:4 For they got not the possession of the land by their own sword: * neither did their own arm save them.

43:4 But thy right hand and thy arm, and the light of thy countenance: * because thou wast pleased with them.

43:5 Thou art thyself my king and my God, * who commandest the saving of Jacob.

43:6 Through thee we will push down our enemies with the horn: * and through thy name we will despise them that rise up against us.

43:7 For I will not trust in my bow: * neither shall my sword save me.

43:8 But thou hast saved us from them that afflict us: * and hast put them to shame that hate us.

43:9 In God shall we glory all the day long: * and in thy name we will give praise for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 43(10-20)

([2])

43:10 But now thou hast cast us off, and put us to shame: * and thou, O God, wilt not go out with our armies.

43:11 Thou hast made us turn our back to our enemies: * and they that hated us plundered for themselves.

43:12 Thou hast given us up like sheep to be eaten: * thou hast scattered us among the nations.

43:13 Thou hast sold thy people for no price: * and there was no reckoning in the exchange of them.

43:14 Thou hast made us a reproach to our neighbours, * a scoff and derision to them that are round about us.

43:15 Thou hast made us a byword among the Gentiles: * a shaking of the head among the people.

43:16 All the day long my shame is before me: * and the confusion of my face hath covered me.

43:17 At the voice of him that reproacheth and detracteth me: * at the face of the enemy and persecutor.

43:18 All these things have come upon us, yet we have not forgotten thee: * and we have not done wickedly in thy covenant.

43:19 And our heart hath not turned back: * neither hast thou turned aside our steps from thy way.

43:20 For thou hast humbled us in the place of affliction: * and the shadow of death hath covered us.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 43(21-26)

([3])

43:21 If we have forgotten the name of our God, * and if we have spread forth our hands to a strange god:

43:22 Shall not God search out these things: * for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

43:22 Because for thy sake we are killed all the day long: * we are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

43:23 Arise, why sleepest thou, O Lord? * arise, and cast us not off to the end.

43:24 Why turnest thou thy face away? * and forgettest our want and our trouble?

43:25 For our soul is humbled down to the dust: * our belly cleaveth to the earth.

43:26 Arise, O Lord, help us * and redeem us for thy name's sake.

Earth's mighty Maker, whose command

Raised from the sea the solid land;

And drove each billowy heap away,

And bade the earth stand firm for aye:

The seeds of each it might renew;
And fruit-trees bearing fruit might yield,
And pleasant pasture of the field:

And o'er each lust may triumph still.

And keep from every evil way;
Rejoice each promised good to win,
And flee from every mortal sin.

45:4 Their waters roared and were troubled: * the mountains were troubled with his strength.

45:5 The stream of the river maketh the city of God joyful: * the most High hath sanctified his own tabernacle.

45:6 God is in the midst thereof, it shall not be moved: * God will help it in the morning early.

45:7 Nations were troubled, and kingdoms were bowed down: * he uttered his voice, the earth trembled.

45:8 The Lord of armies is with us: * the God of Jacob is our protector.

45:9 Come and behold ye the works of the Lord: what wonders he hath done upon earth, * making wars to cease even to the end of the earth.

45:10 He shall destroy the bow, and break the weapons: * and the shield he shall burn in the fire.

47:3 With the joy of the whole earth is mount Sion founded, * on the sides of the north, the city of the great king.

47:4 In her houses shall God be known, * when he shall protect her.

47:5 For behold the kings of the earth assembled themselves: * they gathered together.

47:6 So they saw, and they wondered, they were troubled, they were moved: * trembling took hold of them.

47:7 There were pains as of a woman in labour; * with a vehement wind thou shalt break in pieces the ships of Tharsis.

48:11 He shall not see destruction, when he shall see the wise dying: * the senseless and the fool shall perish together:

48:11 And they shall leave their riches to strangers: * and their sepulchres shall be their houses for ever.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 8:15-19

15 And God spoke to Noe, saying:

16 Go out of the ark, thou and thy wife, thy sons, and the wives of thy sons with thee.

17 All living things that are with thee of all flesh, as well in fowls as in beasts, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, bring out with thee, and go ye upon the earth: increase and multiply upon it.

18 So Noe went out, he and his sons: his wife, and the wives of his sons with him.

19 And all living things, and cattle, and creeping things that creep upon the earth, according to their kinds, went out of the ark.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them:

* Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Behold, I establish My covenant with you, and with your seed after you.

℟. Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength always be His people's staff and stay.

℟. Amen.

Gen 8:20-22

20 And Noe built an altar unto the Lord: and taking of all cattle and fowls that were clean, offered holocausts upon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a sweet savour, and said: I will no more curse the earth for the sake of man: for the imagination and thought of man's heart are prone to evil from his youth: therefore I will no more destroy every living soul as I have done.

22 All the days of the earth, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, night and day, shall not cease.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Behold, I establish My covenant with you, and with your seed after you.

* Neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.

℣. I do set My bow in the clouds, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth.

℟. Neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

℟. Amen.

Gen 9:1-6

1 And God blessed Noe and his sons. And he said to them: Increase and multiply, and fill the earth.

2 And let the fear and dread of you be upon all the beasts of the earth, and upon all the fowls of the air, and all that move upon the earth: all the fishes of the sea are delivered into your hand.

3 And every thing that moveth and liveth shall be meat for you: even as the green herbs have I delivered them all to you:

4 Saving that flesh with blood you shall not eat.

5 For I will require the blood of your lives at the hand of every beast, and at the hand of man, at the hand of every man, and of his brother, will I require the life of man.

6 Whosoever shall shed man's blood, his blood shall be shed: for man was made to the image of God.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. In the self-same day entered Noah into the ark, and his sons,

Hymnus

Day is breaking, dawn is bright:
Hence, vain shadows of the night!
Mists that dim our mortal sight,
Christ is come! Depart!
Darkness routed lifts her wings
As the radiance upwards springs:
Through the world of wakened things
Life and colour dart.
Thee, O Christ, alone we know:
Singing even in our woe,
With pure hearts to thee we go:
On our senses shine!
So thy beams be purged away
All that leads our thoughts astray!
Through our spirits, King of day,
Pour thy light divine!
O God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Psalmus 51

([2])

51:3 Why dost thou glory in malice, * thou that art mighty in iniquity?

51:4 All the day long thy tongue hath devised injustice: * as a sharp razor, thou hast wrought deceit.

51:5 Thou hast loved malice more than goodness: * and iniquity rather than to speak righteousness.

51:6 Thou hast loved all the words of ruin, * O deceitful tongue.

51:7 Therefore will God destroy thee for ever: * he will pluck thee out, and remove thee from thy dwelling place: and thy root out of the land of the living.

51:8 The just shall see and fear, and shall laugh at him, and say: * Behold the man that made not God his helper:

51:9 But trusted in the abundance of his riches: * and prevailed in his vanity.

51:10 But I, as a fruitful olive tree in the house of God, * have hoped in the mercy of God for ever, yea for ever and ever.

51:11 I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: * and I will wait on thy name, for it is good in the sight of thy saints.

Psalmus 52

([3])

52:1 The fool said in his heart: * There is no God.

52:2 They are corrupted, and become abominable in iniquities: * there is none that doth good.

52:3 God looked down from heaven on the children of men: * to see if there were any that did understand, or did seek God.

52:4 All have gone aside, they are become unprofitable together, * there is none that doth good, no not one.

52:5 Shall not all the workers of iniquity know, * who eat up my people as they eat bread?

52:6 They have not called upon God: * there have they trembled for fear, where there was no fear.

52:6 For God hath scattered the bones of them that please men: * they have been confounded, because God hath despised them.

52:7 Who will give out of Sion the salvation of Israel? * when God shall bring back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

Hymnus

O God, whose hand hath spread the sky,
And all its shining hosts on high,
And painting it with fiery light,
Made it so beauteous and so bright:
Qhou, when the fourth day was begun,
Didst frame the circle of the sun,
And set the moon for ordered change,
And planets for their wider range:
Uo night and day, by certain line,
Their varying bounds thou didst assign;
And gav'st a signal, known and meet,
For months begun and months complete.
Enlighten thou the hearts of men:
Polluted souls make pure again:
Unloose the bands of guilt within:
Remove the burden of our sin.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ thy sole-begotten Son,
Whom, with the Spirit we adore,
One God, both now and evermore.
Amen.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hymnus

The dusky veil of night hath laid
The varied hues of earth in shade;
Before Thee, righteous Judge of all,
We contrite in confession fall.
Uake far away our load of sin,
Our soiled minds make clean within:
Thy sov'reign grace, O Christ, impart,
From all offence to guard our heart.
Mor lo! our mind is dull and cold,
Envenomed by sin's baneful hold:
Fain would it now the darkness flee,
And seek, Redeemer, unto Thee.

Rar from it drive the shades of night,
Its inmost darkness put to flight;
Till in the daylight of the blest
It joys to find itself at rest.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

67:27 In the churches bless ye God the Lord, * from the fountains of Israel.

67:28 There is Benjamin a youth, * in ecstasy of mind.

67:28 The princes of Juda are their leaders: * the princes of Zabulon, the princes of Nephthali.

67:29 Command thy strength, O God: * confirm, O God, what thou hast wrought in us.

67:30 From thy temple in Jerusalem, * kings shall offer presents to thee.

67:31 Rebuke the wild beasts of the reeds, the congregation of bulls with the kine of the people; * who seek to exclude them who are tried with silver.

67:31 Scatter thou the nations that delight in wars: ambassadors shall come out of Egypt: * Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands to God.

67:33 Sing to God, ye kingdoms of the earth: * sing ye to the Lord:

67:33 Sing ye to God, who mounteth above the heaven of heavens, * to the east.

67:34 Behold he will give to his voice the voice of power: give ye glory to God for Israel, * his magnificence, and his power is in the clouds.

67:36 God is wonderful in his saints: the God of Israel is he who will give power and strength to his people; * blessed be God.

Save me, O God * for the waters are come in even unto my soul. ‡

Psalmus 68(2-13)

([7])

68:2 Save me, O God: for the waters are come in even unto my soul.

68:3 ‡ I stick fast in the mire of the deep: * and there is no sure standing.

68:3 I am come into the depth of the sea: * and a tempest hath overwhelmed me.

68:4 I have laboured with crying; my jaws are become hoarse: * my eyes have failed, whilst I hope in my God.

68:5 They are multiplied above the hairs of my head, * who hate me without cause.

68:5 My enemies are grown strong who have wrongfully persecuted me: * then did I pay that which I took not away.

68:6 O God, thou knowest my foolishness; * and my offences are not hidden from thee.

68:7 Let not them be ashamed for me, who look for thee, O Lord, * the Lord of hosts.

68:7 Let them not be confounded on my account, * who seek thee, O God of Israel.

68:8 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; * shame hath covered my face.

68:9 I am become a stranger to my brethren, * and an alien to the sons of my mother.

68:10 For the zeal of thy house hath eaten me up: * and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

68:11 And I covered my soul in fasting: * and it was made a reproach to me.

68:12 And I made haircloth my garment: * and I became a byword to them.

68:13 They that sat in the gate spoke against me: * and they that drank wine made me their song.

68:13 But as for me, my prayer is to thee, O Lord; * for the time of thy good pleasure, O God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Psalmus 68(14-29)

([8])

68:14 In the multitude of thy mercy hear me, * in the truth of thy salvation.

68:15 Draw me out of the mire, that I may not stick fast: * deliver me from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

68:16 Let not the tempest of water drown me, nor the deep swallow me up: * and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

68:17 Hear me, O Lord, for thy mercy is kind; * look upon me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

68:18 And turn not away thy face from thy servant: * for I am in trouble, hear me speedily.

68:19 Attend to my soul, and deliver it: * save me because of my enemies.

68:20 Thou knowest my reproach, and my confusion, * and my shame.

68:21 In thy sight are all they that afflict me; * my heart hath expected reproach and misery.

68:21 And I looked for one that would grieve together with me, * but there was none: and for one that would comfort me, and I found none.

68:22 And they gave me gall for my food, * and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

68:23 Let their table become as a snare before them, * and a recompense, and a stumblingblock.

68:24 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not; * and their back bend thou down always.

68:25 Pour out thy indignation upon them: * and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.

68:26 Let their habitation be made desolate: * and let there be none to dwell in their tabernacles.

68:27 Because they have persecuted him whom thou hast smitten; * and they have added to the grief of my wounds.

68:28 Add thou iniquity upon their iniquity: * and let them not come into thy justice.

68:29 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; * and with the just let them not be written.

68:31 I will praise the name of God with a canticle: * and I will magnify him with praise.

68:32 And it shall please God better than a young calf, * that bringeth forth horns and hoofs.

68:33 Let the poor see and rejoice: * seek ye God, and your soul shall live.

68:34 For the Lord hath heard the poor: * and hath not despised his prisoners.

68:35 Let the heavens and the earth praise him; * the sea, and every thing that creepeth therein.

68:36 For God will save Sion, * and the cities of Juda shall be built up.

27 May God enlarge Japheth, and may he dwell in the tents of Sem, and Chanaan be his servant.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

89:2 Before the mountains were made, or the earth and the world was formed; * from eternity and to eternity thou art God.

89:3 Turn not man away to be brought low: * and thou hast said: Be converted, O ye sons of men.

89:4 For a thousand years in thy sight * are as yesterday, which is past.

89:5 And as a watch in the night, * things that are counted nothing, shall their years be.

89:6 In the morning man shall grow up like grass; in the morning he shall flourish and pass away: * in the evening he shall fall, grow dry, and wither.

89:7 For in thy wrath we have fainted away: * and are troubled in thy indignation.

89:8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thy eyes: * our life in the light of thy countenance.

89:9 For all our days are spent; * and in thy wrath we have fainted away.

89:9 Our years shall be considered as a spider: * the days of our years in them are threescore and ten years.

89:10 But if in the strong they be fourscore years: * and what is more of them is labour and sorrow.

89:10 For mildness is come upon us: * and we shall be corrected.

89:11 Who knoweth the power of thy anger, * and for thy fear can number thy wrath?

89:12 So make thy right hand known: * and men learned in heart, in wisdom.

89:13 Return, O Lord, how long? * and be entreated in favour of thy servants.

89:14 We are filled in the morning with thy mercy: * and we have rejoiced, and are delighted all our days.

89:15 We have rejoiced for the days in which thou hast humbled us: * for the years in which we have seen evils.

89:16 Look upon thy servants and upon their works: * and direct their children.

35:2 The unjust hath said within himself, that he would sin: * there is no fear of God before his eyes.

35:3 For in his sight he hath done deceitfully, * that his iniquity may be found unto hatred.

35:4 The words of his mouth are iniquity and guile: * he would not understand that he might do well.

35:5 He hath devised iniquity on his bed, * he hath set himself on every way that is not good: but evil he hath not hated.

35:6 O Lord, thy mercy is in heaven, * and thy truth reacheth even to the clouds.

35:7 Thy justice is as the mountains of God, * thy judgments are a great deep.

35:7 Men and beasts thou wilt preserve, O Lord: * O how hast thou multiplied thy mercy, O God!

35:8 But the children of men * shall put their trust under the covert of thy wings.

35:9 They shall be inebriated with the plenty of thy house; * and thou shalt make them drink of the torrent of thy pleasure.

35:10 For with thee is the fountain of life; * and in thy light we shall see light.

35:11 Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, * and thy justice to them that are right in heart.

35:12 Let not the foot of pride come to me, * and let not the hand of the sinner move me.

35:13 There the workers of iniquity are fallen, * they are cast out, and could not stand.

Canticum Moysis

Exod. 15:1-22

15:1 Let us sing to the Lord: for he is gloriously magnified, * the horse and the rider he hath thrown into the sea.

15:2 The Lord is my strength and my praise, * and he is become salvation to me:

15:3 He is my God and I will glorify him: * the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

15:4 The Lord is as a man of war, Almighty is his name. * Pharaoh's chariots and his army he hath cast into the sea:

15:5 His chosen captains are drowned in the Red Sea. * The depths have covered them, they are sunk to the bottom like a stone.

15:6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is magnified in strength: thy right hand, O Lord, hath slain the enemy. * And in the multitude of thy glory thou hast put down thy adversaries:

15:7 Thou hast sent thy wrath, which hath devoured them like stubble. * And with the blast of thy anger the waters were gathered together:

15:8 The flowing water stood, * the depths were gathered together in the midst of the sea.

15:9 The enemy said: I will pursue and overtake, * I will divide the spoils, my soul shall have its fill:

15:10 I will draw my sword, * my hand shall slay them.

15:11 Thy wind blew and the sea covered them: * they sunk as lead in the mighty waters.

15:12 Who is like to thee, among the strong, O Lord? * who is like to thee, glorious in holiness, terrible and praiseworthy, doing wonders?

15:13 Thou stretchedst forth thy hand, and the earth swallowed them. * In thy mercy thou hast been a leader to the people which thou hast redeemed:

15:14 And in thy strength thou hast carried them * to thy holy habitation.

15:15 Nations rose up, and were angry: * sorrows took hold on the inhabitants of Philisthiim.

15:16 Then were the princes of Edom troubled, trembling seized on the stout men of Moab: * all the inhabitants of Chanaan became stiff.

15:17 Let fear and dread fall upon them, * in the greatness of thy arm:

15:18 Let them become unmoveable as a stone, until thy people, O Lord, pass by: * until this thy people pass by, which thou hast possessed.

15:19 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, * in thy most firm habitation which thou hast made, O Lord;

15:20 Thy sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established. * The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

15:21 For Pharaoh went in on horseback with his chariots and horsemen into the sea: * and the Lord brought back upon them the waters of the sea:

15:22 But the children of Israel walked on dry ground * in the midst thereof.

146:3 Who healeth the broken of heart, * and bindeth up their bruises.

146:4 Who telleth the number of the stars: * and calleth them all by their names.

146:5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: * and of his wisdom there is no number.

146:6 The Lord lifteth up the meek, * and bringeth the wicked down even to the ground.

146:7 Sing ye to the Lord with praise: * sing to our God upon the harp.

146:8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, * and prepareth rain for the earth.

146:8 Who maketh grass to grow on the mountains, * and herbs for the service of men.

146:9 Who giveth to beasts their food: * and to the young ravens that call upon him.

146:10 He shall not delight in the strength of the horse: * nor take pleasure in the legs of a man.

146:11 The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him: * and in them that hope in his mercy.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

See the golden sun arise!

Let no more our darkened eyes

Snare us, tangled by surprise

In the maze of sin!

From false words and thoughts impure

Let this light, serene and sure,

Keep our lips without secure,

Keep our souls within.

So may we the day-time spend,

That, till life's temptations end,

Tongue, nor hand, nor eye offend!

One, above us all,

Siews in his revealing ray

All we do, and think, and say,

Watching us from break of day

Till the twilight fall.

Onto God the Father, Son,

Holy Spirit, Three in One,

One in Three, be glory done,

Now and evermore.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Ct Catania, in Sicily, (in the year 251) the holy Virgin and martyr Agatha. In the time of the Emperor Decius, under the Judge Quinctian, she endured buffeting and imprisonment, racking and torments. Her breasts were cut off, and she was rolled upon potsherds and coals, and at last died in prison, in prayer to God.

Nn Pontus, are commemorated very many holy martyrs in the persecution under the Emperor Maximian, (fourth century.) Some had molten lead poured upon them, some were tortured by having sharp reeds thrust under their nails, and were tormented with many most grievous sufferings, which were renewed again and again, and so by their illustrious passion earned palms and crowns from the Lord.

It Alexandria, the holy martyr Isidore, who in the persecution under the Emperor Decius was beheaded by Numerian, chief of the army, for Christ's faith's sake.

An the empire of Japan, [in the year 1597] twenty-six holy martyrs, [some Franciscans, some their pupils, and three Jesuits killed at Nagasaki,] who were crucified, and then died gloriously, transfixed with spears, while they were praising God and proclaiming His Gospel, whose names were enrolled among those of the saints by the supreme Pontiff Pius IX.

Vt Vienne, (in Dauphinais,) the blessed Confessor Avitus, (in the year 525,) Bishop of that see, by whose faith, labour, and wonderful teaching Gaul was shielded against the Arian heresy.

St Brixen, holy Genuinus, (or Ingenuinus, in the year 640,) Bishop (of Siben, in the Tyrol,) and Albinus, (in the year 1015,) Bishop [of Brixen,] whose lives were rendered glorious by miracles.

BAnd elsewhere many other holy martyrs, confessors, and holy virgins.

Ant. How good is God * to Israel, to them that are of a right heart! ‡

Psalmus 72(1-9)

([1])

72:1 How good is God to Israel, to them that are of a right heart!

72:2 ‡ But my feet were almost moved; * my steps had wellnigh slipped.

72:3 Because I had a zeal on occasion of the wicked, * seeing the prosperity of sinners.

72:4 For there is no regard to their death, * nor is there strength in their stripes.

72:5 They are not in the labour of men: * neither shall they be scourged like other men.

72:6 Therefore pride hath held them fast: * they are covered with their iniquity and their wickedness.

72:7 Their iniquity hath come forth, as it were from fatness: * they have passed into the affection of the heart.

72:8 They have thought and spoken wickedness: * they have spoken iniquity on high.

72:9 They have set their mouth against heaven: * and their tongue hath passed through the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(10-17)

72:10 Therefore will my people return here * and full days shall be found in them.

72:11 And they said: How doth God know? * and is there knowledge in the most High?

72:12 Behold these are sinners; and yet abounding in the world * they have obtained riches.

72:13 And I said: Then have I in vain justified my heart, * and washed my hands among the innocent.

72:14 And I have been scourged all the day; * and my chastisement hath been in the mornings.

72:15 If I said: I will speak thus; * behold I should condemn the generation of thy children.

72:16 I studied that I might know this thing, * it is a labour in my sight:

72:17 Until I go into the sanctuary of God, * and understand concerning their last ends.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(18-28)

([3])

72:18 But indeed for deceits thou hast put it to them: * when they were lifted up, thou hast cast them down.

72:19 How are they brought to desolation? they have suddenly ceased to be: * they have perished by reason of their iniquity.

72:20 As the dream of them that awake, O Lord; * so in thy city thou shalt bring their image to nothing.

72:21 For my heart hath been inflamed, and my reins have been changed: * and I am brought to nothing, and I knew not.

72:23 I am become as a beast before thee: * and I am always with thee.

72:24 Thou hast held me by my right hand; and by thy will thou hast conducted me, * and with thy glory thou hast received me.

72:25 For what have I in heaven? * and besides thee what do I desire upon earth?

72:26 For thee my flesh and my heart hath fainted away: * thou art the God of my heart, and the God that is my portion for ever.

72:27 For behold they that go far from thee shall perish: * thou hast destroyed all them that are disloyal to thee.

72:28 But it is good for me to adhere to my God, * to put my hope in the Lord God:

72:28 That I may declare all thy praises, * in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

73:2 Remember thy congregation, * which thou hast possessed from the beginning.

73:2 The sceptre of thy inheritance which thou hast redeemed: * mount Sion in which thou hast dwelt.

73:3 Lift up thy hands against their pride unto the end; * see what things the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

73:4 And they that hate thee have made their boasts, * in the midst of thy solemnity.

73:5 They have set up their ensigns for signs, * and they knew not both in the going out and on the highest top.

73:6 As with axes in a wood of trees, they have cut down at once the gates thereof, * with axe and hatchet they have brought it down.

73:7 They have set fire to thy sanctuary: * they have defiled the dwelling place of thy name on the earth.

73:12 But God is our king before ages: * he hath wrought salvation in the midst of the earth.

73:13 Thou by thy strength didst make the sea firm: * thou didst crush the heads of the dragons in the waters.

73:14 Thou hast broken the heads of the dragon: * thou hast given him to be meat for the people of the Ethiopians.

73:15 Thou hast broken up the fountains and the torrents: * thou hast dried up the Ethan rivers.

137:1 I will sing praise to thee in the sight of the Angels: * I will worship towards thy holy temple, and I will give glory to thy name.
137:2 For thy mercy, and for thy truth: * for thou hast magnified thy holy name.

Hymnus

O sovereign Lord of nature's might,
Who bad'st the water's birth divide;
Part in the heavens to take their flight,
And part in ocean's deep to hide;
These low obscured, on airy wing
Exalted those, that either race,
Though from one element they spring,
Might serve thee in a different place.
Lrant, Lord, that we thy servants all,
Saved by thy tide of cleansing blood,
No more 'neath sin's dominion fall,
Nor fear the thought of death's dark flood!
Uhy varied love each spirit bless,
The humble cheer, the high control;
Check in each heart its proud excess,
But raise the meek and contrite soul!
Phis boon, O Father, we entreat,
This blessing grant, Eternal Son,
And Holy Ghost, the Paraclete,
Both now, and while the ages run.
Amen.

℣. O Lord, direct my prayer.

℟. As incense in thy sight.

Ant. God has shown * the power of his arm: he has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

Luc. 1:46-55

1:46 My soul ✠ * doth magnify the Lord.

1:47 And my spirit hath rejoiced * in God my Saviour.

1:48 Because he hath regarded the humility of his handmaid; * for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

1:49 Because he that is mighty, hath done great things to me; * and holy is his name.

1:50 And his mercy is from generation unto generations, * to them that fear him.

1:51 He hath shewed might in his arm: * he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

1:54 He hath received Israel his servant, * being mindful of his mercy:

1:55 As he spoke to our fathers, * to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

O Three in One, and One in Three,

Who rulest all things mightily:

Bow down to hear the songs of praise

Which, freed from bonds of sleep, we raise.

While lingers yet the peace of night,

We rouse us from our slumbers light:

That might of instant prayer may win

The healing balm for wounds of sin.

Qf, by the wiles of Satan caught,

This night-time we have sinned in aught,

That sin Thy glorious power to-day,

From heaven descending, cleanse away.

Net naught impure our bodies stain,
No laggard sloth our souls detain,
No taint of sin our spirits know,
To chill the fervor of their glow.
Oherefore, Redeemer grant that we
Fulfilled with thine own light may be:
That, in our course, from day to day,
By no misdeed we fall away.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

Psalmus 77(1-8)

([1])

77:1 Attend, O my people, to my law: * incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables: * I will utter propositions from the beginning.

77:3 How great things have we heard and known, * and our fathers have told us.

77:4 They have not been hidden from their children, * in another generation.

77:4 Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, * and his wonders which he hath done.

77:5 And he set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

77:5 How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children: * that another generation might know them.

77:6 The children that should be born and should rise up, * and declare them to their children.

77:7 That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: * and may seek his commandments.

77:8 That they may not become like their fathers, * a perverse and exasperating generation.

77:8 A generation that set not their heart aright: * and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel.

The Lord did wonderful things * in the sight of their fathers.

Psalmus 77(9-16)

([2])

77:9 The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: * they have turned back in the day of battle.

77:10 They kept not the covenant of God: * and in his law they would not walk.

77:11 And they forgot his benefits, * and his wonders that he had shewn them.

77:12 Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, * in the field of Tanis.

77:13 He divided the sea and brought them through: * and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

77:14 And he conducted them with a cloud by day: * and all the night with a light of fire.

77:15 He struck the rock in the wilderness: * and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.

77:16 He brought forth water out of the rock: * and made streams run down as rivers.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord did wonderful things in the sight of their fathers.

The Lord opened * the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

Psalmus 77(17-31)

([3])

77:17 And they added yet more sin against him: * they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.

77:18 And they tempted God in their hearts, * by asking meat for their desires.

77:19 And they spoke ill of God: * they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

77:20 Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, * and the streams overflowed.

77:20 Can he also give bread, * or provide a table for his people?

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: * and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.

77:22 Because they believed not in God: * and trusted not in his salvation.

77:23 And he had commanded the clouds from above, * and had opened the doors of heaven.

77:24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, * and had given them the bread of heaven.

77:25 Man ate the bread of angels: * he sent them provisions in abundance.

77:26 He removed the south wind from heaven: * and by his power brought in the southwest wind.

77:27 And he rained upon them flesh as dust: * and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

77:28 And they fell in the midst of their camp, * round about their pavilions.

77:29 So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire: * they were not defrauded of that which they craved.

77:30 As yet their meat was in their mouth: * and the wrath of God came upon them.

77:31 And he slew the fat ones amongst them, * and brought down the chosen men of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord opened the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

God is their helper, * and the most high God their redeemer.

Psalmus 77(32-41)

([4])

77:32 In all these things they sinned still: * and they believed not for his wondrous works.

77:33 And their days were consumed in vanity, * and their years in haste.

77:34 When he slew them, then they sought him: * and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

77:35 And they remembered that God was their helper: * and the most high God their redeemer.

77:36 And they loved him with their mouth: * and with their tongue they lied unto him:

77:37 But their heart was not right with him: * nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

77:38 But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: * and will not destroy them.

77:38 And many a time did he turn away his anger: * and did not kindle all his wrath.

77:39 And he remembered that they are flesh: * a wind that goeth and returneth not.

77:40 How often did they provoke him in the desert: * and move him to wrath in the place without water?

77:41 And they turned back and tempted God: * and grieved the holy one of Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God is their helper, and the most high God their redeemer.

The Lord redeemed them * from the hand of him that afflicted them.

Psalmus 77(42-58)

([5])

77:42 They remembered not his hand, * in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

77:43 How he wrought his signs in Egypt, * and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

77:44 And he turned their rivers into blood, * and their showers that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent amongst them diverse sorts of flies, which devoured them: * and frogs which destroyed them.

77:46 And he gave up their fruits to the blast, * and their labours to the locust.

77:47 And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, * and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

77:48 And he gave up their cattle to the hail, * and their stock to the fire.

77:49 And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: * indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

77:50 He made a way for a path to his anger: * he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

77:51 And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: * the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

77:52 And he took away his own people as sheep: * and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

77:53 And he brought them out in hope, and they feared not: * and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

77:54 And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: * the mountain which his right hand had purchased.

77:54 And he cast out the Gentiles before them: * and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

77:55 And he made the tribes of Israel * to dwell in their tabernacles.

77:56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: * and they kept not his testimonies.

77:57 And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: * even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

77:58 They provoked him to anger on their hills: * and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them.

God built * his sanctuary in the earth.

Psalmus 77(59-72)

([6])

77:59 God heard, and despised them, * and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

77:60 And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, * his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

77:61 And he delivered their strength into captivity: * and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

77:62 And he shut up his people under the sword: * and he despised his inheritance.

77:63 Fire consumed their young men: * and their maidens were not lamented.
 77:64 Their priests fell by the sword: * and their widows did not mourn.
 77:65 And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, * and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.
 77:66 And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: * he put them to an everlasting reproach.
 77:67 And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: * and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
 77:68 But he chose the tribe of Juda, * mount Sion which he loved.
 77:69 And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land * which he founded for ever.
 77:70 And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: * he brought him from following the ewes great with young,
 77:71 To feed Jacob his servant, * and Israel his inheritance.
 77:72 And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: * and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.
 V̄. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
 R̄. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God built his sanctuary in the earth.
 Help us, O God, our Saviour, * deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

Psalmus 78

([7])

78:1 O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: * they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.
 78:2 They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: * the flesh of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.
 78:3 They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem, * and there was none to bury them.
 78:4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: * a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
 78:5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: * shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?
 78:6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: * and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.
 78:7 Because they have devoured Jacob; * and have laid waste his place.
 78:8 Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, * for we are become exceeding poor.
 78:9 Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: * and forgive us
 our sins for thy name's sake:
 78:10 Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? * And let him be made known
 among the nations before our eyes,
 78:10 By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed: * let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee.
 78:11 According to the greatness of thy arm, * take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.
 78:12 And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: * the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
 78:13 But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, * will give thanks to thee for ever.
 78:13 We will shew forth thy praise, * unto generation and generation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Ant. Help us, O God, our Saviour, deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

I am the Lord * God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Psalmus 80

([8])

80:2 Rejoice to God, our helper: * sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: * the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

80:4 Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, * on the noted day of your solemnity.

80:5 For it is a commandment in Israel, * and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

80:6 He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: * he heard a tongue which he knew not.

80:7 He removed his back from the burdens: * his hands had served in baskets.

80:8 Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: * I heard thee in the secret place of temple: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction.

80:9 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: * O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me; there shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

80:11 For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: * open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 But my people heard not my voice: * and Israel hearkened not to me.

80:13 So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: * they shall walk in their own inventions.

80:14 If my people had heard me: * if Israel had walked in my ways:

80:15 I should soon have humbled their enemies, * and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

80:16 The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: * and their time shall be for ever.

80:17 And he fed them with the fat of wheat, * and filled them with honey out of the rock.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. I am the Lord God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Be not thou silent, O Lord, * for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

Psalmus 82

([9])

82:2 O God, who shall be like to thee? * Hold not thy peace, neither be O God, thou still,

82:3 For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: * and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

82:4 They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, * and have consulted against thy saints.

82:5 They have said: Come and let us destroy them, * so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

82:6 For they have contrived with one consent: * they have made a covenant together against thee; the tabernacles of the Edomites, and the Ismahelites:

82:8 Moab, and the Agarens, Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: * the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

82:9 Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: * they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

82:10 Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: * as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

82:11 Who perished at Endor: * and became as dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, * and Zebbee, and Salmana.
82:13 All their princes, * who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.
82:14 O my God, make them like a wheel; * and as stubble before the wind.
82:15 As fire which burneth the wood: * and as a flame burning mountains:
82:16 So shalt thou pursue them with thy tempest: * and shalt trouble them in thy wrath.
82:17 Fill their faces with shame; * and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.
82:18 Let them be ashamed and troubled for ever and ever: * and let them be confounded and perish.
82:19 And let them know that the Lord is thy name: * thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Be not thou silent, O Lord, for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

℣. Let them know that the Lord is thy name.

℟. Thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Absolutio

May His loving-kindness and mercy help us, Who liveth and reigneth with the Father, and the Holy Ghost, world without end.

℟. Amen.

Benedictio

May God the Father Omnipotent, be to us merciful and clement.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 10:1-6

1 These are the generations of the sons of Noe: Sem, Cham, and Japheth: and unto them sons were born after the flood.

2 The sons of Japheth: Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Javan, and Thubal, and Mosoch, and Thiras.

3 And the sons of Gomer: Ascenez and Riphath and Thogorma.

4 And the sons of Javan: Elisa and Tharsis, Cetthim, and Dodanim.

5 By these were divided the islands of the Gentiles in their lands, every one according to his tongue and their families in their nations.

6 And the sons of Cham: Chus, and Mesram, and Phuth, and Chanaan.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Noah builded an Altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt offerings on the Altar; and the Lord smelled a sweet savour, and blessed Noah, and said:

* Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Behold, I establish My covenant with you, and with your seed after you.

℞. Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May Christ to all His people give, for ever in His sight to live.

℞. Amen.

Gen 11:1-4

1 And the earth was of one tongue, and of the same speech.

2 And when they removed from the east, they found a plain in the land of Sennaar, and dwelt in it.

3 And each one said to his neighbour: Come, let us make brick, and bake them of stones, and slime instead of mortar.

4 And they said: Come, let us make a city and a tower, the top whereof may reach to heaven: and let us make our name famous before we be scattered abroad into all lands.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. The Lord said unto Noah: I do set My bow in the clouds of heaven,

* And I will remember My covenant which is between Me and you.

℣. And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the heaven, that My bow shall be seen in the cloud.

℞. And I will remember My covenant which is between Me and you.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℞. Amen.

Gen 11:5-8

5 And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of Adam were building.

6 And he said: Behold, it is one people, and all have one tongue: and they have begun to do this, neither will they leave off from their designs, till they accomplish them in deed.

7 Come ye, therefore, let us go down, and there may not understand one another's speech.

8 And so the Lord scattered them from that place into all lands, and they ceased to build the city.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. By Myself have I sworn, saith the Lord. I will not again bring the waters of the flood upon the earth, I will remember My covenant.

* And the waters shall become no more a flood to destroy all flesh.

℣. I do set My bow in the clouds, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth.

℞. And the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. And the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

142:2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: * for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

142:3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: * he hath brought down my life to the earth.

142:3 He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old: * and my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

142:5 I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: * I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

142:6 I stretched forth my hands to thee: * my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

142:7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: * my spirit hath fainted away.

142:7 Turn not away thy face from me, * lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

142:8 Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; * for in thee have I hoped.

142:8 Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: * for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

142:9 Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled: * teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God.

142:10 Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land: * for thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

84:4 Thou hast mitigated all thy anger: * thou hast turned away from the wrath of thy indignation.

84:5 Convert us, O God our saviour: * and turn off thy anger from us.

84:6 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: * or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: * and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

84:8 Shew us, O Lord, thy mercy; * and grant us thy salvation.

84:9 I will hear what the Lord God will speak in me: * for he will speak peace.

84:9 And unto his saints: * and unto them that are converted to the heart.

84:10 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him: * that glory may dwell in our land.

84:11 Mercy and truth have met each other: * justice and peace have kissed.

84:12 Truth is sprung out of the earth: * and justice hath looked down from heaven.

84:13 For the Lord will give goodness: * and our earth shall yield her fruit.

84:14 Justice shall walk before him: * and shall set his steps in the way.

Hab 3:2-19

3:2 O Lord, I have heard thy hearing, * and was afraid.

3:2 O Lord, thy work, * in the midst of the years bring it to life:

3:2 In the midst of the years thou shalt make it known: * when thou art angry, thou wilt remember mercy.

3:3 God will come from the south, * and the holy one from mount Pharan:

3:3 His glory covered the heavens, * and the earth is full of his praise.

3:4 His brightness shall be as the light: * horns are in his hands:

3:4 There is his strength hid: * Death shall go before his face.

3:5 And the devil shall go forth before his feet. * He stood and measured the earth.

3:6 He beheld, and melted the nations: * and the ancient mountains were crushed to pieces.

3:6 The hills of the world were bowed down * by the journeys of his eternity.

3:7 I saw the tents of Ethiopia for their iniquity, * the curtains of the land of Madian shall be troubled.

3:8 Wast thou angry, O Lord, with the rivers? * or was thy wrath upon the rivers? or thy indignation in the sea?

3:8 Who will ride upon thy horses: * and thy chariots are salvation.

3:9 Thou wilt surely take up thy bow: * according to the oaths which thou hast spoken to the tribes.

3:9 Thou wilt divide the rivers of the earth. † The mountains saw thee, and were grieved: * the great body of waters passed away.

3:10 The deep put forth its voice: * the deep lifted up its hands.

3:11 The sun and the moon stood still in their habitation, * in the light of thy arrows, they shall go in the brightness of thy glittering spear.

3:12 In thy anger thou wilt tread the earth under foot: * in thy wrath thou wilt astonish the nations.

3:13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people: * for salvation with thy Christ.

3:13 Thou struckest the head of the house of the wicked: * thou hast laid bare his foundation even to the neck.

3:14 Thou hast cursed his sceptres, † the head of his warriors, * them that came out as a whirlwind to scatter me.

3:14 Their joy * was like that of him that devoureth the poor man in secret.

3:15 Thou madest a way in the sea for thy horses, * in the mud of many waters.

3:16 I have heard and my bowels were troubled: * my lips trembled at the voice.

3:16 Let rottenness enter into my bones, * and swarm under me.

3:16 That I may rest in the day of tribulation: * that I may go up to our people that are girded.

3:17 For the fig tree shall not blossom: * and there shall be no spring in the vines.

3:17 The labour of the olive tree shall fail: * and the fields shall yield no food:

3:17 The flock shall be cut off from the fold, * and there shall be no herd in the stalls.

3:18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: * and I will joy in God my Jesus.

3:19 The Lord God is my strength: * and he will make my feet like the feet of harts:

3:19 And he the conqueror will lead me upon my high places * singing psalms.

147:2 Because he hath strengthened the bolts of thy gates * he hath blessed thy children within thee.

147:3 Who hath placed peace in thy borders: * and filleth thee with the fat of corn.

147:4 Who sendeth forth his speech to the earth: * his word runneth swiftly.

147:5 Who giveth snow like wool: * scattereth mists like ashes.

147:6 He sendeth his crystal like morsels: * who shall stand before the face of his cold?

147:7 He shall send out his word, and shall melt them: * his wind shall blow, and the waters shall run.

147:8 Who declareth his word to Jacob: * his justices and his judgments to Israel.

147:9 He hath not done in like manner to every nation: * and his judgments he hath not made manifest to them.

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

21:3 O my God, I shall cry by day, and thou wilt not hear: * and by night, and it shall not be reputed as folly in me.

21:4 But thou dwellest in the holy place, * the praise of Israel.

21:5 In thee have our fathers hoped: * they have hoped, and thou hast delivered them.

21:6 They cried to thee, and they were saved: * they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

21:17 They have dug my hands and feet. * They have numbered all my bones.

21:18 And they have looked and stared upon me. * They parted my garments amongst them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

Hymnus

Maker of man, who from thy throne
Dost order all things, God alone;
By whose decree the teeming earth
To reptile and to beast gave birth:
Ehe mighty forms that fill the land,
Instinct with life at thy command,
Are given subdued to humankind
For service in their rank assigned.
From all thy servants drive away
Whate'er of thought impure to-day
Hath been with open action blent,
Or mingled with the heart's intent.

Dn heaven thine endless joys bestow,
And grant thy gifts of grace below;
From chains of strife our souls release,
Bind fast the gentle bands of peace.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
Whom, with the Spirit we adore,
One God, both now and evermore.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

The Lord is with thee.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

Hail Mary, full of grace, * The Lord is with thee.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

The Lord is with thee.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hymnus

The God whom earth, and sea, and sky

Adore, and laud, and magnify,

Who o'er their threefold fabric reigns,

The Virgin's spotless womb contains.

Che God, whose will by moon and sun

And all things in due course is done,

Is borne upon a maiden's breast,

By fullest heavenly grace possest.

Bow blest that mother, in whose shrine

The great artificer divine,

Whose hand contains the earth and sky,

Vouchsafed, as in his ark, to lie.

Blest, in the message Gabriel brought;
Blest, by the work the Spirit wrought;
From whom the great desire of earth
Took human flesh and human birth.
Ill honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete.

And he saw when they were in tribulation * and he heard their prayer.

Psalmus 105(32-48)

([6])

105:32 They provoked him also at the waters of contradiction: * and Moses was afflicted for their sakes: because they exasperated his spirit.

105:33 And he distinguished with his lips; * they did not destroy the nations of which the Lord spoke unto them.

105:35 And they were mingled among the heathens, and learned their works: and served their idols, * and it became a stumblingblock to them.

105:37 And they sacrificed their sons, * and their daughters to devils.

105:38 And they shed innocent blood: * the blood of their sons and of their daughters which they sacrificed to the idols of Chanaan.

105:39 And the land was polluted with blood, and was defiled with their works: * and they went aside after their own inventions.

105:40 And the Lord was exceedingly angry with his people: * and he abhorred his inheritance.

105:41 And he delivered them into the hands of the nations: * and they that hated them had dominion over them.

105:42 And their enemies afflicted them: and they were humbled under their hands: * many times did he deliver them.

105:43 But they provoked him with their counsel: * and they were brought low by their iniquities.

105:44 And he saw when they were in tribulation: * and he heard their prayer.

105:45 And he was mindful of his covenant: * and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

105:46 And he gave them unto mercies, * in the sight of all those that had made them captives.

105:47 Save us, O Lord, our God: * and gather us from among nations:

105:47 That we may give thanks to thy holy name, * and may glory in thy praise.

105:48 Blessed be the Lord the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting: * and let all the people say: So be it, so be it.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 106(1-14)

([7])

106:1 Give glory to the Lord, for he is good: * for his mercy endureth for ever.

106:2 Let them say so that have been redeemed by the Lord, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy: * and gathered out of the countries.

106:3 From the rising and the setting of the sun, * from the north and from the sea.

106:4 They wandered in a wilderness, in a place without water: * they found not the way of a city for their habitation.

106:5 They were hungry and thirsty: * their soul fainted in them.

106:6 And they cried to the Lord in their tribulation: * and he delivered them out of their distresses.

106:7 And he led them into the right way: * that they might go to a city of habitation.

106:8 Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him: * and his wonderful works to the children of men.

106:9 For he hath satisfied the empty soul, * and hath filled the hungry soul with good things.

106:10 Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death: * bound in want and in iron.

106:11 Because they had exasperated the words of God: * and provoked the counsel of the most High:

106:12 And their heart was humbled with labours: * they were weakened, and there was none to help them.

106:13 Then they cried to the Lord in their affliction: * and he delivered them out of their distresses.

106:14 And he brought them out of darkness, * and the shadow of death; and broke their bonds in sunder.

106:16 Because he hath broken gates of brass, * and burst the iron bars.

106:17 He took them out of the way of their iniquity: * for they were brought low for their injustices.

106:18 Their soul abhorred all manner of meat: * and they drew nigh even to the gates of death.

106:19 And they cried to the Lord in their affliction: * and he delivered them out of their distresses.

106:20 He sent his word, and healed them: * and delivered them from their destructions.

106:21 Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him: * and his wonderful works to the children of men.

106:22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifice of praise: * and declare his works with joy.

106:23 They that go down to the sea in ships, * doing business in the great waters:

106:24 These have seen the works of the Lord, * and his wonders in the deep.

106:25 He said the word, and there arose a storm of wind: * and the waves thereof were lifted up.

106:26 They mount up to the heavens, and they go down to the depths: * their soul pined away with evils.

106:27 They were troubled, and reeled like a drunken man; * and all their wisdom was swallowed up.

106:28 And they cried to the Lord in their affliction: * and he brought them out of their distresses.

106:29 And he turned the storm into a breeze: * and its waves were still.

106:30 And they rejoiced because they were still: * and he brought them to the haven which they wished for.

106:32 And let them exalt him in the church of the people: * and praise him in the chair of the ancients.

106:33 He hath turned rivers into a wilderness: * and the sources of water into dry ground:

106:34 A fruitful land into barrenness, * for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

106:35 He hath turned a wilderness into pools of water, * and a dry land into water springs.

106:36 And hath placed there the hungry; * and they made a city for their habitation.

106:37 And they sowed fields, and planted vineyards: * and they yielded fruit of birth.

106:38 And he blessed them, and they were multiplied exceedingly: * and their cattle he suffered not to decrease.

106:39 Then they were brought to be few: * and they were afflicted through the trouble of evils and sorrow.

106:40 Contempt was poured forth upon their princes: * and he caused them to wander where there was no passing, and out of the way.

From the book of St. Jerome, Priest, against Jovian

Apologia ad Pammachium pro lib. adversus Iovinianum, in fine

Christ is virgin, and the mother of our virgin Christ remains forever virgin, the Virgin Mother. For Jesus entered the world, as he entered the upper room, “the doors being closed”, and in his sepulcher, which had been hewn out of the hard rock, “no one had yet been laid”, nor was anyone else laid in it afterward. “An enclosed garden a fountain sealed” was Mary. And from that fountain, according to Joel, flows the stream that waters the torrent either of “ropes” or of “thorns”. The ropes would be the sins by which we had been bound down; the thorns would be those which choke the householder’s seed. Mary is the eastern gate, of which Ezechiel speaks, always closed and luminous, whether concealing in itself or bringing forth from itself the Holy of holies. She is the gate through which the Sun of justice and our High Priest according to the order of Melchisedech goes in and out.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Now thou art portal of the skies.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

To God the holy Paraclete.

93:15 Until justice be turned into judgment: * and they that are near it are all the upright in heart.

93:16 Who shall rise up for me against the evildoers? * or who shall stand with me against the workers of iniquity?

Art with the Father and the Son,

With thy full flood of holiness.

Sound forth our witness to mankind;

Psalmus 101(2-13)

([1])

101:2 Hear, O Lord, my prayer: * and let my cry come to thee.

101:3 Turn not away thy face from me: * in the day when I am in trouble, incline thy ear to me.

101:3 In what day soever I shall call upon thee, * hear me speedily.

101:4 For my days are vanished like smoke: * and my bones are grown dry like fuel for the fire.

101:5 I am smitten as grass, and my heart is withered: * because I forgot to eat my bread.

101:6 Through the voice of my groaning, * my bone hath cleaved to my flesh.

101:7 I am become like to a pelican of the wilderness: * I am like a night raven in the house.

101:8 I have watched, * and am become as a sparrow all alone on the housetop.

101:9 All the day long my enemies reproached me: * and they that praised me did swear against me.

101:10 For I did eat ashes like bread, * and mingled my drink with weeping.

101:11 Because of thy anger and indignation: * for having lifted me up thou hast thrown me down.

101:12 My days have declined like a shadow, * and I am withered like grass.

101:15 For the stones thereof have pleased thy servants: * and they shall have pity on the earth thereof.

101:16 And the Gentiles shall fear thy name, O Lord, * and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

101:17 For the Lord hath built up Sion: * and he shall be seen in his glory.

101:18 He hath had regard to the prayer of the humble: * and he hath not despised their petition.

101:19 Let these things be written unto another generation: * and the people that shall be created shall praise the Lord:

101:20 Because he hath looked forth from his high sanctuary: * from heaven the Lord hath looked upon the earth.

101:21 That he might hear the groans of them that are in fetters: * that he might release the children of the slain:

101:27 They shall perish but thou remainest: * and all of them shall grow old like a garment:

101:28 And as a vesture thou shalt change them, and they shall be changed. * But thou art always the selfsame, and thy years shall not fail.

103:9 Thou hast set a bound which they shall not pass over; * neither shall they return to cover the earth.

103:10 Thou sendest forth springs in the vales: * between the midst of the hills the waters shall pass.

103:30 Thou shalt send forth thy spirit, and they shall be created: * and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.

103:31 May the glory of the Lord endure for ever: * the Lord shall rejoice in his works.

103:33 I will sing to the Lord as long as I live: * I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.

103:34 Let my speech be acceptable to him: * but I will take delight in the Lord.

Psalms 108(2-13)

([1])

108:2 God, be not thou silent in my praise: * for the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful man is opened against me.

108:3 They have spoken against me with deceitful tongues; and they have compassed me about with words of hatred; * and have fought against me without cause.

108:4 Instead of making me a return of love, they detracted me: * but I gave myself to prayer.

108:5 And they repaid me evil for good: * and hatred for my love.

Hymnus

Hail day! whereon the One in Three

First formed the earth by sure decree,

The day its Maker rose again,

And vanquished death, and burst our chain.

Pway with sleep and slothful ease

We raise our hearts and bend our knees,

And early seek the Lord of all,

Obedient to the Prophet's call.

Nhat He may hearken to our prayer,

Stretch forth His strong right arm to spare,

And ev'ry past offense forgiven,

Restore us to our home in heaven.

Ussembled here this holy day,

This holiest hour we raise the lay,
And O that He to whom we sing,
May now reward our offering!
IFather of unclouded light!
Keep us this day as in thy sight,
In word and deed that we may be
From ev'ry touch of evil free.
Nhat this our body's mortal frame
May know no sin, and fear no shame,
Nor fire hereafter be the end
Of passions which our bosom rend.
Medeemer of the world, we pray
That thou wouldst wash our sins away,
And give us, of Thy boundless grace,
The blessings of the heavenly place.
Post Holy Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ our Lord most High
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee
Shall live and reign eternally.
Amen.

9:17 The Lord shall be known when he executeth judgments: * the sinner hath been caught in the works of his own hands.
9:18 The wicked shall be turned into hell, * all the nations that forget God.
9:19 For the poor man shall not be forgotten to the end: * the patience of the poor shall not perish for ever.

9:20 Arise, O Lord, let not man be strengthened: * let the Gentiles be judged in thy sight.
9:21 Appoint, O Lord, a lawgiver over them: * that the Gentiles may know themselves to be but men.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Why, O Lord, * hast thou retired afar off? ‡

Psalmus 9(22-32)

([7])

9:22 Why, O Lord, hast thou retired afar off? * ‡ why dost thou slight us in our wants, in the time of trouble?

9:23 Whilst the wicked man is proud, the poor is set on fire: * they are caught in the counsels which they devise.

9:24 For the sinner is praised in the desires of his soul: * and the unjust man is blessed.

9:25 The sinner hath provoked the Lord, * according to the multitude of his wrath he will not seek him.

9:26 God is not before his eyes: * his ways are filthy at all times.

9:26 Thy judgments are removed from his sight: * he shall rule over all his enemies.

9:27 For he hath said in his heart: * I shall not be moved from generation to generation, and shall be without evil.

9:28 His mouth is full of cursing, and of bitterness, and of deceit: * under his tongue are labour and sorrow.

9:29 He sitteth in ambush with the rich, in private places, * that he may kill the innocent.

9:30 His eyes are upon the poor man: * he lieth in wait, in secret, like a lion in his den.

9:30 He lieth in ambush, that he may catch the poor man: * so catch the poor, whilst he draweth him to him.

9:31 In his net he will bring him down, * he will crouch and fall, when he shall have power over the poor.

9:32 For he hath said in his heart: God hath forgotten, * he hath turned away his face, not to see to the end.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Why, O Lord, hast thou retired afar off?

Arise, O Lord God, * let thy hand be exalted. ‡

Psalmus 9(33-39)

([8])

9:33 Arise, O Lord God, let thy hand be exalted: * ‡ forget not the poor.

9:34 Wherefore hath the wicked provoked God? * for he hath said in his heart: He will not require it.

9:35 Thou seest it, for thou considerest labour and sorrow: * that thou mayst deliver them into thy hands.

9:35 To thee is the poor man left: * thou wilt be a helper to the orphan.

9:36 Break thou the arm of the sinner and of the malignant: * his sin shall be sought, and shall not be found.

9:37 The Lord shall reign to eternity, yea, for ever and ever: * ye Gentiles shall perish from his land.

9:38 The Lord hath heard the desire of the poor: * thy ear hath heard the preparation of their heart.

9:39 To judge for the fatherless and for the humble, * that man may no more presume to magnify himself upon earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Arise, O Lord God, let thy hand be exalted.

The Lord is just * and He hath loved justice.

Psalmus 10

([9])

10:2 In the Lord I put my trust: † how then do you say to my soul: * Get thee away from hence to the mountain, like a sparrow?

10:3 For, lo, the wicked have bent their bow: † they have prepared their arrows in the quiver, * to shoot in the dark the upright of heart.

10:4 For they have destroyed the things which thou hast made: * but what has the just man done?

10:5 The Lord is in his holy temple, * the Lord's throne is in heaven.

10:5 His eyes look on the poor man: * his eyelids examine the sons of men.

10:6 The Lord trieth the just and the wicked: * but he that loveth iniquity, hateth his own soul.

10:7 He shall rain snares upon sinners: * fire and brimstone, and storms of winds, shall be the portion of their cup.

10:8 For the Lord is just, and hath loved justice: * his countenance hath beheld righteousness.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord is just and He hath loved justice.

℣. My eyes to thee have prevented the morning.

℟. That I might meditate on thy words, O Lord.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 12:1-6

1 And the Lord said to Abram: Go forth out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and out of thy father's house, and come into the land which I shall show thee.

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and magnify thy name, and thou shalt be blessed.

3 I will bless them that bless thee, and curse them that curse thee, and in thee shall all the kindred of the earth be blessed:

4 So Abram went out as the Lord had commanded him, and Lot went with him: Abram was seventy-five years old when he went forth from Haran.

5 And he took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all the substance which they had gathered, and the souls which they had gotten in Haran: and they went out to go into the land of Chanaan. And when they were come into it,

6 Abram passed through the country into the place of Sichem, as far as the noble vale: now the Chanaanite was at that time in the land.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord spake unto Abram, saying: Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and go unto the land that I will show thee,

* And I will make of thee a great nation.

℣. I will surely bless thee and make thy name great, and thou shalt be blessed.

℟. And I will make of thee a great nation.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℟. Amen.

Gen 12:7-13

7 And the Lord appeared to Abram, and said to him: To thy seed will I give this land. And he built there an altar to the Lord, who had appeared to him.

8 And passing on from thence to a mountain, that was on the east side of Bethel, he there pitched his tent, having Bethel on the west, and Hai on the east; he built there also an altar to the Lord, and called upon his name.

9 And Abram went forward, going, and proceeding on to the south.

10 And there came a famine in the country; and Abram went down into Egypt, to sojourn there: for the famine was very grievous in the land.

11 And when he was near to enter into Egypt, he said to Sarai his wife: I know that thou art a beautiful woman:

12 And that when the Egyptians shall see thee, they will say: She is his wife: and they will kill me, and keep thee.

13 Say, therefore, I pray thee, that thou art my sister: that I may be well used for thee, and that my soul may live for thy sake.

Gen 12:14-19

14 And when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians saw the woman that she was very beautiful.

15 And the princes told Pharaoh, and praised her before him: and the woman was taken into the house of Pharaoh.

16 And they used Abram well for her sake. And he had sheep and oxen, and he asses, and men servants and maid servants, and she asses, and camels.

17 But the Lord scourged Pharaoh and his house with most grievous stripes for Sarai, Abram's wife.

18 And Pharaoh called Abram, and said to him: What is this that thou hast done to me? Why didst thou not tell me that she was thy wife?

19 For what cause didst thou say, she was thy sister, that I might take her to my wife? Now, therefore, there is thy wife, take her, and go thy way.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord did tempt Abraham, and said unto him:

* Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

℣. And when the Lord called him, he answered: Behold, here I am. And the Lord said unto him:

℟. Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Gospel's glorious word Cleansing to our souls afford.

℟. Amen.

From the Holy Gospel according to Luke

Luc 18:31-43

In that time, Jesus took unto him the twelve, and said to them: Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things shall be accomplished which were written by the prophets concerning the Son of man. And so on.

Homily by Pope St. Gregory the Great.

Homilia 2 in Evangelia

Our Redeemer, foreseeing that the minds of His disciples would be troubled by His suffering, told them long before both of the pains of that suffering, and of the glory of His rising again, to the end that, when they should see Him die as He had prophesied, they might not doubt that He was likewise to rise again. But, since His disciples were yet carnal, and could not receive the words telling of this mystery, He wrought a miracle before them. A blind man received his sight before their eyes, that if they could not receive heavenly things by words, they might be persuaded of heavenly things by deeds.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. As the Lord passed by, a certain blind man sat by the way-side, and cried unto Him. And the Lord asked him, saying:

* What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? * Lord, that I may receive my sight.

℣. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto Him; and when he was come near, He asked him, saying:

℟. What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee?

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. Lord, that I may receive my sight.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

117:3 Let the house of Aaron now say, * that his mercy endureth for ever.

117:4 Let them that fear the Lord now say, * that his mercy endureth for ever.

117:5 In my trouble I called upon the Lord: * and the Lord heard me, and enlarged me.

117:6 The Lord is my helper: * I will not fear what man can do unto me.

117:7 The Lord is my helper: * and I will look over my enemies.

117:8 It is good to confide in the Lord, * rather than to have confidence in man.

117:9 It is good to trust in the Lord, * rather than to trust in princes.

117:10 All nations compassed me about; * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:11 Surrounding me they compassed me about: * and in the name of the Lord I have been revenged on them.

117:12 They surrounded me like bees, † and they burned like fire among thorns: * and in the name of the Lord I was revenged on them.

117:13 Being pushed I was overturned that I might fall: * but the Lord supported me.

117:14 The Lord is my strength and my praise: * and he is become my salvation.

117:15 The voice of rejoicing and of salvation * is in the tabernacles of the just.

117:16 The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength: † the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me: * the right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength.

117:17 I shall not die, but live: * and shall declare the works of the Lord.

117:18 The Lord chastising hath chastised me: * but he hath not delivered me over to death.

117:19 Open ye to me the gates of justice: † I will go in to them, and give praise to the Lord. * This is the gate of the Lord, the just shall enter into it.

117:21 I will give glory to thee because thou hast heard me: * and art become my salvation.

117:23 This is the Lord's doing: * and it is wonderful in our eyes.

117:24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: * let us be glad and rejoice therein.

117:25 O Lord, save me: † O Lord, give good success: * Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

117:26 We have blessed you out of the house of the Lord: * The Lord is God, and he hath shone upon us.

117:27 Appoint a solemn day, with shady boughs, * even to the horn of the altar.

117:28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: * thou art my God, and I will exalt thee.

117:28 I will praise thee, because thou hast heard me, * and art become my salvation.

62:2 For thee my soul hath thirsted; * for thee my flesh, O how many ways!

62:3 In a desert land, and where there is no way, and no water: † so in the sanctuary have I come before thee, * to see thy power and thy glory.

62:4 For thy mercy is better than lives: * thee my lips shall praise.

62:5 Thus will I bless thee all my life long: * and in thy name I will lift up my hands.

62:6 Let my soul be filled as with marrow and fatness: * and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips.

62:7 If I have remembered thee upon my bed, † I will meditate on thee in the morning: * because thou hast been my helper.

62:8 And I will rejoice under the covert of thy wings: † my soul hath stuck close to thee: * thy right hand hath received me.

62:10 But they have sought my soul in vain, † they shall go into the lower parts of the earth: * they shall be delivered into the hands of the sword, they shall be the portions of foxes.

62:12 But the king shall rejoice in God, all they shall be praised that swear by him: * because the mouth is stopped of them that speak wicked things.

Hymnus

Maker of all, eternal King,
Who day and night about dost bring:
Who weary mortals to relieve,
Dost in their times the seasons give:
Now the shrill cock proclaims the day,
And calls the sun's awak'ning ray
The wand'ring pilgrim's guiding light,
That marks the watches night by night.
Housed at the note, the morning star
Heaven's dusky veil uplifts afar:
Night's vagrant bands no longer roam,
But from their dark ways hie them home.
Hhe encouraged sailor's fears are o'er,
The foaming billows rage no more:
Lo! e'en the very Church's rock
Melts at the crowing of the cock.
Slet us then like men arise;
The cock rebukes our slumbering eyes,
Bestirs who still in sleep would lie,
And shames who would their Lord deny.
Gew hope his clarion-note awakes,
Sickness the feeble frame forsakes,
The robber sheathes his lawless sword,
Faith to the fallen is restored.
Look on us, Jesu, when we fall,
And with thy look our souls recall:
If thou but look, our sins are gone,

And with due tears our pardon won.
Thed through our hearts thy piercing ray,
Our souls' dull slumber drive away:
Thy name be first on every tongue,
To thee our earliest praises sung.
DII laud to God the Father be,
All praise, Eternal Son, to thee,
All glory, as is ever meet,
To God the holy Paraclete.

Luc. 1:68-79

1:68 Blessed be the Lord ✠ God of Israel; * because he hath visited and wrought the redemption of his people:

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Hymnus

O blest Creator of the light,
 Who mak'st the day with radiance bright,
 And o'er the forming world didst call
 The light from chaos first of all;
 Whose wisdom joined in meet array
 The morn and eve, and named them day:
 Night comes with all its darkling fears;
 Regard thy people's prayers and tears.
 Nest, sunk in sin, and whelmed with strife,
 They lose the gift of endless life;
 While thinking but the thoughts of time,
 They weave new chains of woe and crime.
 Cut grant them grace that they may strain
 The heavenly gate and prize to gain:

Each harmful lure aside to cast,
And purge away each error past.
PFather, that we ask be done,

Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.

Hymnus

Our limbs refreshed with slumber now,

And sloth cast off, in prayer we bow;

And while we sing thy praises dear,

O Father, be thou present here.

To thee our earliest morning song,

To thee our hearts full powers belong;

And thou, O Holy One, prevent

Each following action and intent.

Cs shades at morning flee away,

And night before the star of day;

So each transgression of the night

Be purged by thee, celestial Light!

Put off, we pray thee, each offense,
And every lust of thought and sense:
That by their lips who thee adore
Thou mayst be praised forevermore.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

14:1 Lord, who shall dwell in thy tabernacle? * or who shall rest in thy holy hill?

14:2 He that walketh without blemish, * and worketh justice:

14:3 He that speaketh truth in his heart, * who hath not used deceit in his tongue:

14:3 Nor hath done evil to his neighbour: * nor taken up a reproach against his neighbours.

14:4 In his sight the malignant is brought to nothing: * but he glorifieth them that fear the Lord:

14:4 He that sweareth to his neighbour, and deceiveth not; * He that hath not put out his money to usury, nor taken bribes against the innocent:

14:5 He that doth these things, * shall not be moved for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

O Lord, incline * thy ear to me, and hear my voice, my Lord.

Psalmus 16

([3])

16:1 Hear, O Lord, my justice: * attend to my supplication.

16:1 Give ear unto my prayer, * which proceedeth not from deceitful lips.

16:2 Let my judgment come forth from thy countenance: * let thy eyes behold the things that are equitable.

16:3 Thou hast proved my heart, and visited it by night, * thou hast tried me by fire: and iniquity hath not been found in me.

16:4 That my mouth may not speak the works of men: * for the sake of the words of thy lips, I have kept hard ways.

16:5 Perfect thou my goings in thy paths: * that my footsteps be not moved.

16:6 I have cried to thee, for thou, O God, hast heard me: * O incline thy ear unto me, and hear my words.

16:7 Shew forth thy wonderful mercies; * thou who savest them that trust in thee.

16:8 From them that resist thy right hand keep me, * as the apple of thy eye.

16:8 Protect me under the shadow of thy wings: * from the face of the wicked who have afflicted me.

16:9 My enemies have surrounded my soul: † They have shut up their fat: * their mouth hath spoken proudly.

16:11 They have cast me forth, and now they have surrounded me: * they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth.

16:12 They have taken me, as a lion prepared for the prey; * and as a young lion dwelling in secret places.

16:13 Arise, O Lord, disappoint him and supplant him; * deliver my soul from the wicked one; thy sword from the enemies of thy hand.

16:14 O Lord, divide them from the few of the earth in their life: * their belly is filled from thy hidden stores.

16:14 They are full of children: * and they have left to their little ones the rest of their substance.

16:15 But as for me, I will appear before thy sight in justice: * I shall be satisfied when thy glory shall appear.

17:3 My God is my helper, * and in him will I put my trust.

17:3 My protector, and the horn of my salvation, * and my support.

17:4 Praising, I will call upon the Lord: * and I shall be saved from my enemies.

17:5 The sorrows of death surrounded me: * and the torrents of iniquity troubled me.
17:6 The sorrows of hell encompassed me: * and the snares of death prevented me.
17:7 In my affliction I called upon the Lord, * and I cried to my God:
17:7 And he heard my voice from his holy temple: * and my cry before him came into his ears.
17:8 The earth shook and trembled: * the foundations of the mountains were troubled and were moved, because he was angry with them.
17:9 There went up a smoke in his wrath: † and a fire flamed from his face: * coals were kindled by it.
17:10 He bowed the heavens, and came down, * and darkness was under his feet.
17:11 And he ascended upon the cherubim, and he flew; * he flew upon the wings of the winds.
17:12 And he made darkness his covert, † his pavilion round about him: * dark waters in the clouds of the air.
17:13 At the brightness that was before him the clouds passed, * hail and coals of fire.
17:14 And the Lord thundered from heaven, † and the Highest gave his voice: * hail and coals of fire.
17:15 And he sent forth his arrows, and he scattered them: * he multiplied lightnings, and troubled them.
17:16 Then the fountains of waters appeared, * and the foundations of the world were discovered:
17:16 At thy rebuke, O Lord, * at the blast of the spirit of thy wrath.
V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Psalmus 17(17-35)

([5])

17:17 He sent from on high, and took me: * and received me out of many waters.
17:18 He delivered me from my strongest enemies, † and from them that hated me: * for they were too strong for me.
17:19 They prevented me in the day of my affliction: * and the Lord became my protector.
17:20 And he brought me forth into a large place: * he saved me, because he was well pleased with me.
17:21 And the Lord will reward me according to my justice; * and will repay me according to the cleanness of my hands:
17:22 Because I have kept the ways of the Lord; * and have not done wickedly against my God.
17:23 For all his judgments are in my sight: * and his justices I have not put away from me.
17:24 And I shall be spotless with him: * and shall keep myself from my iniquity.
17:25 And the Lord will reward me according to my justice: * and according to the cleanness of my hands before his eyes.
17:26 With the holy thou wilt be holy; * and with the innocent man thou wilt be innocent:
17:27 And with the elect thou wilt be elect: * and with the perverse thou wilt be perverted.
17:28 For thou wilt save the humble people; * but wilt bring down the eyes of the proud.
17:29 For thou lightest my lamp, O Lord: * O my God, enlighten my darkness.
17:30 For by thee I shall be delivered from temptation; * and through my God I shall go over a wall.
17:31 As for my God, his way is undefiled: † the words of the Lord are fire-tried: * he is the protector of all that trust in him.
17:32 For who is God but the Lord? * or who is God but our God?

17:33 God, who hath girt me with strength; * and made my way blameless.

17:34 Who hath made my feet like the feet of harts: * and who setteth me upon high places.

17:35 Who teacheth my hands to war: * and thou hast made my arms like a brazen bow.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord will reward me according to my justice.

The Lord liveth, * and blessed be my God, my salvation.

Psalmus 17(36a-51)

17:36 And thy discipline hath corrected me unto the end: * and thy discipline, the same shall teach me.

17:37 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me; * and my feet are not weakened.

17:38 I will pursue after my enemies, and overtake them: * and I will not turn again till they are consumed.

17:39 I will break them, and they shall not be able to stand: * they shall fall under my feet.

17:40 And thou hast girded me with strength unto battle; * and hast subdued under me them that rose up against me.

17:41 And thou hast made my enemies turn their back upon me, * and hast destroyed them that hated me.

17:42 They cried, but there was none to save them, to the Lord: * but he heard them not.

17:43 And I shall beat them as small as the dust before the wind; * I shall bring them to nought, like the dirt in the streets.

17:44 Thou wilt deliver me from the contradictions of the people; * thou wilt make me head of the Gentiles.

17:45 A people which I knew not, hath served me: * at the hearing of the ear they have obeyed me.

17:46 The children that are strangers have lied to me, * strange children have faded away, and have halted from their paths.

17:47 The Lord liveth, and blessed be my God, * and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

17:48 O God, who avengest me, and subduest the people under me, * my deliverer from my enraged enemies.

17:49 And thou wilt lift me up above them that rise up against me: * from the unjust man thou wilt deliver me.

17:50 Therefore will I give glory to thee, O Lord, among the nations, * and I will sing a psalm to thy name.

17:51 Giving great deliverance to his king, † and shewing mercy to David, his anointed: * and to his seed for ever.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 13:1-6

1 And Abram went up out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him, into the south.

2 And he was very rich in possession of gold and silver.

3 And he returned by the way that he came, from the south to Bethel, to the place where before he had pitched his tent between Bethel and Hai:

4 In the place of the altar which he had made before; and there he called upon the name of the Lord.

5 But Lot also, who was with Abram, had flocks of sheep, and herds of beasts, and tents.

6 Neither was the land able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, and they could not dwell together.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Abram removed his tent, and came, and dwelt by the vale of Mamre

* And built there an altar unto the Lord.

℣. And the Lord said unto him: Lift up thine eyes, and look; all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever.

℟. And built there an altar unto the Lord.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Son, the Sole-begotten, mercifully bless and keep us.

℟. Amen.

Gen 13:7-11

7 Whereupon also there arose a strife between the herdsmen of Abram and of Lot. And at that time the Chanaanite and the Pherezite dwelled in that country.

8 Abram therefore said to Lot: Let there be no quarrel, I beseech thee, between me and thee, and between my herdsmen and thy herdsmen: for we are brethren.

9 Behold the whole land is before thee: depart from me I pray thee: if thou wilt go to the left hand, I will take the right: if thou choose the right hand, I will pass to the left.

10 And Lot, lifting up his eyes, saw all the country about the Jordan, which was watered throughout, before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrha, as the paradise of the Lord, and like Egypt as one comes to Segor.

11 And Lot chose to himself the country about the Jordan, and he departed from the east.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

* And therefore he became the friend of God.

℣. For he was righteous in the sight of the Lord, and walked in His ways.

℟. And therefore he became the friend of God.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the grace of the Holy Spirit enlighten all our hearts and minds.

℟. Amen.

Gen 13:11-16

11 And they were separated one brother from the other.

12 Abram dwelt in the land of Chanaan; and Lot abode in the towns that were about the Jordan, and dwelt in Sodom.

13 And the men of Sodom were very wicked, and sinners before the face of the Lord, beyond measure.

14 And the Lord said to Abram, after Lot was separated from him: Lift up thy eyes, and look from the place wherein thou now art, to the north and to the south, to the east and to the west.

15 All the land which thou seest, I will give to thee, and to thy seed for ever.

16 And I will make thy seed as the dust of the earth.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Lord did tempt Abraham, and said unto him:

* Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

℣. And when the Lord called him, he answered: Behold, here I am. And the Lord said unto him:

℟. Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

O splendour of God's glory bright,

O thou that bringest light from light,

O light of light, light's living spring,

O day, all days illumining.

Vthou true sun, on us thy glance

Let fall in royal radiance,

The Spirit's sanctifying beam

Upon our earthly senses stream.

Vhe Father too our prayers implore,

Father of glory evermore,

The Father of all grace and might,

To banish sin from our delight:

Co guide whate'er we nobly do,

With love all envy to subdue,

To make ill-fortune turn to fair,

And give us grace our wrongs to bear.

Mur mind be in his keeping placed,
Our body true to him and chaste,
Where only faith her fire shall feed,
And burn the tares of Satan's seed.
Cnd Christ to us for food shall be,
From him our drink that wellet free,
The Spirit's wine, that maketh whole,
And mocking not, exalts the soul.
Lejoicing may this day go hence,
Like virgin dawn our innocence,
Like fiery noon our faith appear,
Nor know the gloom of twilight drear.
Aorn in her rosy car is borne;
Let him come forth our perfect morn,
The Word in God the Father One,
The Father perfect in the Son.
Dll laud to God the Father be;
All praise, Eternal Son, to thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete.

Luc. 1:68-79

1:68 Blessed be the Lord ✠ God of Israel; * because he hath visited and wrought the redemption of his people:

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

23:8 Who is this King of Glory? * the Lord who is strong and mighty: the Lord mighty in battle.

Ant. My light * and my salvation is the Lord.

Psalmus 26(1-6)

([1])

26:1 The Lord is my light and my salvation, * whom shall I fear?

26:1 The Lord is the protector of my life: * of whom shall I be afraid?

26:2 Whilst the wicked draw near against me, * to eat my flesh.

26:2 My enemies that trouble me, * have themselves been weakened, and have fallen.

26:3 If armies in camp should stand together against me, * my heart shall not fear.

26:3 If a battle should rise up against me, * in this will I be confident.

26:4 One thing I have asked of the Lord, this will I seek after; * that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

26:4 That I may see the delight of the Lord, * and may visit his temple.

26:5 For he hath hidden me in his tabernacle; * in the day of evils, he hath protected me in the secret place of his tabernacle.

26:6 He hath exalted me upon a rock: * and now he hath lifted up my head above my enemies.

26:6 I have gone round, and have offered up in his tabernacle a sacrifice of jubilation: * I will sing, and recite a psalm to the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

26:9 Turn not away thy face from me; * decline not in thy wrath from thy servant.
26:9 Be thou my helper, * forsake me not; do not thou despise me, O God my Saviour.
26:10 For my father and my mother have left me: * but the Lord hath taken me up.
26:11 Set me, O Lord, a law in thy way, * and guide me in the right path, because of my enemies.
26:12 Deliver me not over to the will of them that trouble me; * for unjust witnesses have risen up against me; and iniquity hath lied to itself.

27:4 Give them according to their works, * and according to the wickedness of their inventions.
27:4 According to the works of their hands give thou to them: * render to them their reward.

31:1 Blessed are those whose iniquities are forgiven * and whose sins are covered.

31:2 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin, * and in whose spirit there is no guile.

31:3 Because I was silent my bones grew old; * whilst I cried out all the day long.

31:4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: * I am turned in my anguish, whilst the thorn is fastened.

31:5 I have acknowledged my sin to thee, * and my injustice I have not concealed.

31:5 I said I will confess against myself my injustice to the Lord: * and thou hast forgiven the wickedness of my sin.

31:6 For this shall every one that is holy pray to thee * in a seasonable time.

32:2 Give praise to the Lord on the harp; * sing to him with the psaltery, the instrument of ten strings.

32:3 Sing to him a new canticle, * sing well unto him with a loud noise.

32:4 For the word of the Lord is right, * and all his works are done with faithfulness.

32:5 He loveth mercy and judgment; * the earth is full of the mercy of the Lord.

32:6 By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; * and all the power of them by the spirit of his mouth:

32:7 Gathering together the waters of the sea, as in a vessel; * laying up the depths in storehouses.

32:8 Let all the earth fear the Lord, * and let all the inhabitants of the world be in awe of him.

32:9 For he spoke and they were made: * he commanded and they were created.

32:10 The Lord bringeth to nought the counsels of nations; * and he rejecteth the devices of people, and casteth away the counsels of princes.

Hymnus

O great Creator of the sky,
Who wouldst not the floods on high
With earthly waters to confound,
But mad'st the firmament their bound;
The floods above thou didst ordain;
The floods below thou didst restrain:
That moisture might attemper heat,
Lest the parched earth should ruin meet.
Ipon our souls, good Lord, bestow
Thy gift of grace in endless flow:
Lest some renewed deceit or wile
Of former sin should us beguile.
Let faith discover heav'nly light;
So shall its rays direct us right:
And let this faith each error chase,
And never give to falsehood place.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

1:49 Because he that is mighty, hath done great things to me; * and holy is his name.

1:50 And his mercy is from generation unto generations, * to them that fear him.

1:51 He hath shewed might in his arm: * he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

34:2 Take hold of arms and shield: * and rise up to help me.

34:3 Bring out the sword, and shut up the way against them that persecute me: * say to my soul: I am thy salvation.

34:4 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek after my soul.

34:4 Let them be turned back and be confounded * that devise against me.

34:5 Let them become as dust before the wind: * and let the Angel of the Lord straiten them.

34:6 Let their way become dark and slippery; * and let the Angel of the Lord pursue them.

34:7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me unto destruction: * without cause they have upbraided my soul.

34:8 Let the snare which he knoweth not come upon him: and let the net which he hath hidden catch him: * and into that very snare let them fall.

34:9 But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord; * and shall be delighted in his salvation.

34:12 They repaid me evil for good: * to the depriving me of my soul.

34:13 But as for me, when they were troublesome to me, * I was clothed with haircloth.

34:13 I humbled my soul with fasting; * and my prayer shall be turned into my bosom.

34:14 As a neighbour and as an own brother, so did I please: * as one mourning and sorrowful so was I humbled.

34:15 But they rejoiced against me, and came together: * scourges were gathered together upon me, and I knew not.

34:16 They were separated, and repented not: they tempted me, they scoffed at me with scorn: * they gnashed upon me with their teeth.

34:19 Let not them that are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: * who have hated me without cause, and wink with the eyes.

34:20 For they spoke indeed peaceably to me; * and speaking in the anger of the earth they devised guile.

34:21 And they opened their mouth wide against me; * they said: Well done, well done, our eyes have seen it.

34:22 Thou hast seen, O Lord, be not thou silent: * O Lord, depart not from me.

34:23 Arise, and be attentive to my judgment: * to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

34:24 Judge me, O Lord my God according to thy justice, * and let them not rejoice over me.

34:25 Let them not say in their hearts: It is well, it is well, to our mind: * neither let them say: We have swallowed him up.

34:26 Let them blush: and be ashamed together, * who rejoice at my evils.

34:26 Let them be clothed with confusion and shame, * who speak great things against me.

34:27 Let them rejoice and be glad, who are well pleased with my justice, * and let them say always: The Lord be magnified, who delights in the peace of his servant.

36:8 Cease from anger, and leave rage; * have no emulation to do evil.

36:9 For the evildoers shall be cut off: * but they that wait upon the Lord shall inherit the land.

36:10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: * and thou shalt seek his place, and shalt not find it.

36:11 But the meek shall inherit the land, * and shall delight in abundance of peace.

36:12 The sinner shall watch the just man: * and shall gnash upon him with his teeth.

36:13 But the Lord shall laugh at him: * for he foreseeth that his day shall come.

36:14 The wicked have drawn out the sword: * they have bent their bow.

Psalmus 36(16-29)

([5])

36:16 Better is a little to the just, * than the great riches of the wicked.

36:17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; * but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

36:18 The Lord knoweth the days of the undefiled; * and their inheritance shall be for ever.

36:19 They shall not be confounded in the evil time; and in the days of famine they shall be filled, * because the wicked shall perish.

36:20 And the enemies of the Lord, presently after they shall be honoured and exalted, * shall come to nothing and vanish like smoke.

36:21 The sinner shall borrow, and not pay again; * but the just sheweth mercy and shall give.

36:22 For such as bless him shall inherit the land: * but such as curse him shall perish.

36:23 With the Lord shall the steps of a man be directed, * and he shall like well his way.

36:24 When he shall fall he shall not be bruised, * for the Lord putteth his hand under him.

36:25 I have been young, and now am old; * and I have not seen the just forsaken, nor his seed seeking bread.

36:26 He sheweth mercy, and lendeth all the day long; * and his seed shall be in blessing.

36:27 Decline from evil and do good, * and dwell for ever and ever.

36:28 For the Lord loveth judgment, and will not forsake his saints: * they shall be preserved for ever.

36:28 The unjust shall be punished, * and the seed of the wicked shall perish.

36:29 But the just shall inherit the land, * and shall dwell therein for evermore.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The arms of the wicked shall be broken in pieces; but the Lord strengtheneth the just.

Keep innocence * and behold justice.

Psalmus 36(30-40)

([6])

36:30 The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom: * and his tongue shall speak judgment.

36:31 The law of his God is in his heart, * and his steps shall not be supplanted.

36:32 The wicked watcheth the just man, * and seeketh to put him to death.

36:33 But the Lord will not leave him in his hands; * nor condemn him when he shall be judged.

36:34 Expect the Lord and keep his way: and he will exalt thee to inherit the land: * when the sinners shall perish thou shalt see.

36:35 I have seen the wicked highly exalted, * and lifted up like the cedars of Libanus.

36:36 And I passed by, and lo, he was not: * and I sought him and his place was not found.

36:37 Keep innocence, and behold justice: * for there are remnants for the peaceable man.

36:38 But the unjust shall be destroyed together: * the remnants of the wicked shall perish.

36:39 But the salvation of the just is from the Lord, * and he is their protector in the time of trouble.

36:40 And the Lord will help them and deliver them: * and he will rescue them from the wicked, and save them, because they have hoped in him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Keep innocence and behold justice.

O Lord, * do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Psalmus 37(2-11)

([7])

37:2 Rebuke me not, O Lord, in thy indignation; * nor chastise me in thy wrath.

37:3 For thy arrows are fastened in me: * and thy hand hath been strong upon me.

37:4 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy wrath: * there is no peace for my bones, because of my sins.

37:5 For my iniquities are gone over my head: * and as a heavy burden are become heavy upon me.

37:6 My sores are putrified and corrupted, * because of my foolishness.

37:7 I am become miserable, and am bowed down even to the end: * I walked sorrowful all the day long.

37:8 For my loins are filled with illusions; * and there is no health in my flesh.

37:9 I am afflicted and humbled exceedingly: * I roared with the groaning of my heart.

37:10 Lord, all my desire is before thee, * and my groaning is not hidden from thee.

37:11 My heart is troubled, my strength hath left me, * and the light of my eyes itself is not with me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. O Lord, do not chastise me in thy wrath.

Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Psalmus 37(12-23)

([8])

37:12 My friends and my neighbours * have drawn near, and stood against me.

37:12 And they that were near me stood afar off: * and they that sought my soul used violence.

37:13 And they that sought evils to me spoke vain things, * and studied deceits all the day long.

37:14 But I, as a deaf man, heard not: * and as a dumb man not opening his mouth.

37:15 And I became as a man that heareth not: * and that hath no reproofs in his mouth.

37:16 For in thee, O Lord, have I hoped: * thou wilt hear me, O Lord my God.

37:17 For I said: Lest at any time my enemies rejoice over me: * and whilst my feet are moved, they speak great things against me.

37:18 For I am ready for scourges: * and my sorrow is continually before me.

37:19 For I will declare my iniquity: * and I will think for my sin.

37:20 But my enemies live, and are stronger than I: * and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

37:21 They that render evil for good, have detracted me, * because I followed goodness.

37:22 Forsake me not, O Lord my God: * do not thou depart from me.

37:23 Attend unto my help, * O Lord, the God of my salvation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Attend unto my help, O Lord, the God of my salvation.

Remove, O Lord, * thy scourges from me.

Psalmus 38

([9])

38:2 I said: I will take heed to my ways: * that I sin not with my tongue.

38:2 I have set guard to my mouth, * when the sinner stood against me.

38:3 I was dumb, and was humbled, and kept silence from good things: * and my sorrow was renewed.

38:4 My heart grew hot within me: * and in my meditation a fire shall flame out.

38:5 I spoke with my tongue: * O Lord, make me know my end.

38:5 And what is the number of my days: * that I may know what is wanting to me.

38:6 Behold thou hast made my days measurable: * and my substance is as nothing before thee.

38:6 And indeed all things are vanity: * every man living.

38:7 Surely man passeth as an image: * yea, and he is disquieted in vain.

38:7 He storeth up: * and he knoweth not for whom he shall gather these things.

38:8 And now what is my hope? Is it not the Lord? * And my substance is with thee.

38:9 Deliver thou me from all my iniquities: * thou hast made me a reproach to the fool.

38:10 I was dumb, and I opened not my mouth, because thou hast done it: * remove thy scourges from me.

38:12 The strength of thy hand hath made me faint in rebukes: * thou hast corrected man for iniquity.

38:12 And thou hast made his soul to waste away like a spider: * surely in vain is any man disquieted.

38:13 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and my supplication: * give ear to my tears.

38:13 Be not silent: for I am a stranger with thee, * and a sojourner as all my fathers were.

38:14 O forgive me, that I may be refreshed, before I go hence, * and be no more.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Remove, O Lord, thy scourges from me.

℣. O Lord, be not thou silent, forgive me.

℟. For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Lesson from the book of Genesis

Gen 14:8-12

8 And the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrha, and the king of Adama, and the king of Seboim, and the king of Bala, which is Segor, went out: and they set themselves against them in battle array in the woodland vale:

9 To wit, against Chodorlahomor king of the Elamites, and Thadal king of nations, and Amraphel king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Pontus: four kings against five.

10 Now the woodland vale had many pits of slime. And the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrha turned their backs and were overthrown there: and they that remained fled to the mountain.

11 And they took all the substance of the Sodomites, and Gomorrhites, and all their victuals, and went their way:

12 And Lot also, the son of Abram's brother, who dwelt in Sodom, and his substance.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Angel of the Lord called unto Abraham and said:

* Lay not thine hand upon the lad; for now I know that thou fearest God.

℣. And Abraham stretched forth his hand to slay his son; and, behold, the Angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said:

℟. Lay not thy hand upon the lad; for now I know that thou fearest God.

Gen 14:13-16

13 And behold one that had escaped told Abram the Hebrew, who dwelt in the vale of Mambre the Amorrite, the brother of Escol, and the brother of Aner: for these had made league with Abram.

14 Which when Abram had heard, to wit, that his brother Lot was taken, he numbered of the servants born in his house, three hundred and eighteen well appointed: and pursued them to Dan.

15 And dividing his company, he rushed upon them in the night: and defeated them, and pursued them as far as Hoba, which is on the left hand of Damascus.

16 And he brought back all the substance, and Lot his brother, with his substance, the women also the people.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Angel of the Lord called unto Abraham out of heaven the second time,

* And said: I will bless thee, and I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven.

Gen 14:17-20

17 And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after he returned from the slaughter of Chodorlahomor, and of the kings that were with him in the vale of Save, which is the king's vale.

18 But Melchisedech the king of Salem, bringing forth bread and wine, for he was the priest of the most high God,

19 Blessed him, and said: Blessed be Abram by the most high God, who created heaven and earth.

20 And blessed be the most high God, by whose protection the enemies are in thy hands. And he gave him the tithes of all.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

Distinguish my cause, O Lord, * from the nation that is not holy.

Psalmus 42

([2])

42:1 Judge me, O God, and distinguish my cause from the nation that is not holy: * deliver me from the unjust and deceitful man.

42:2 For thou art God my strength: * why hast thou cast me off? and why do I go sorrowful whilst the enemy afflicteth me?

42:3 Send forth thy light and thy truth: * they have conducted me, and brought me unto thy holy hill, and into thy tabernacles.

42:4 And I will go in to the altar of God: * to God who giveth joy to my youth.

42:5 To thee, O God my God, I will give praise upon the harp: * why art thou sad, O my soul? and why dost thou disquiet me?

42:6 Hope in God, for I will still give praise to him: * the salvation of my countenance, and my God.

66:5 Let the nations be glad and rejoice: * for thou judgest the people with justice, and directest the nations upon earth.

66:6 Let the people, O God, confess to thee: * let all the people give praise to thee: the earth hath yielded her fruit.

Canticum Ezechiae

Isa 38:10-24

38:10 I said: In the midst of my days * I shall go to the gates of hell:

38:11 I sought for the residue of my years. * I said: I shall not see the Lord God in the land of the living.

38:12 I shall behold man no more, * nor the inhabitant of rest.

38:13 My generation is at an end, and it is rolled away from me, * as a shepherd's tent.

38:14 My life is cut off, as by a weaver: whilst I was yet but beginning, he cut me off: * from morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me.

38:15 I hoped till morning, * as a lion so hath he broken all my bones:

38:16 From morning even to night thou wilt make an end of me. * I will cry like a young swallow, I will meditate like a dove:

38:17 My eyes are weakened * looking upward:

38:18 Lord, I suffer violence, answer thou for me. * What shall I say, or what shall he answer for me, whereas he himself hath done it?

38:19 I will recount to thee all my years * in the bitterness of my soul.

38:20 O Lord, if man's life be such, and the life of my spirit be in such things as these, thou shalt correct me, and make me to live. * Behold in peace is my bitterness most bitter:

38:21 But thou hast delivered my soul that it should not perish, * thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

38:22 For hell shall not confess to thee, neither shall death praise thee: * nor shall they that go down into the pit, look for thy truth.

38:23 The living, the living, he shall give praise to thee, as I do this day: * the father shall make thy truth known to the children.

38:24 O Lord, save me, and we will sing our psalms all the days of our life * in the house of the Lord.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Thou shalt correct me, O Lord, and make me to live.

Praise * the Lord, for he will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.

Psalmus 134

([5])

134:1 Praise ye the name of the Lord: * O you his servants, praise the Lord:

134:2 You that stand in the house of the Lord, * in the courts of the house of our God.

134:3 Praise ye the Lord, for the Lord is good: * sing ye to his name, for it is sweet.

134:4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself: * Israel for his own possession.

134:5 For I have known that the Lord is great, * and our God is above all gods.

134:6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased he hath done, in heaven, in earth, * in the sea, and in all the deeps.

134:7 He bringeth up clouds from the end of the earth: * he hath made lightnings for the rain.

134:7 He bringeth forth winds out of his stores: * He slew the firstborn of Egypt from man even unto beast.

134:9 He sent forth signs and wonders in the midst of thee, O Egypt: * upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

134:10 He smote many nations, * and slew mighty kings:

134:11 Sehon king of the Amorrites, and Og king of Basan, * and all the kingdoms of Chanaan.

134:12 And gave their land for an inheritance, * for an inheritance to his people Israel.

134:13 Thy name, O Lord, is for ever: * thy memorial, O Lord, unto all generations.

134:14 For the Lord will judge his people, * and will be entreated in favour of his servants.

134:15 The idols of the Gentiles are silver and gold, * the works of men's hands.

134:16 They have a mouth, but they speak not: * they have eyes, but they see not.

134:17 They have ears, but they hear not: * neither is there any breath in their mouths.

134:18 Let them that make them be like to them: * and every one that trusteth in them.

134:19 Bless the Lord, O house of Israel: * bless the Lord, O house of Aaron.

134:20 Bless the Lord, O house of Levi: * you that fear the Lord, bless the Lord.

134:21 Blessed be the Lord out of Sion, * who dwelleth in Jerusalem.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Hymnus

As the bird, whose clarion gay
Sounds before the dawn is grey,
Christ, who brings the spirit's day,
Calls us, close at hand:
Aake! he cries, and for my sake,
From your eyes dull slumbers shake!
Sober, righteous, chaste, awake!
At the door I stand!
Iord, to thee we lift on high
Fervent prayer and bitter cry:
Hearts aroused to pray and sigh
May not slumber more:
Treak the sleep of death and time,
Forged by Adam's ancient crime;
And the light of Eden's prime
To the world restore!
Dnto God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.
Amen.

℞. And we have rejoiced, and are delighted.

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

40:3 The Lord preserve him and give him life, and make him blessed upon the earth: * and deliver him not up to the will of his enemies.

40:4 The Lord help him on his bed of sorrow: * thou hast turned all his couch in his sickness.

40:5 I said: O Lord, be thou merciful to me: * heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

40:6 My enemies have spoken evils against me: * when shall he die and his name perish?

40:7 And if he came in to see me, he spoke vain things: * his heart gathered together iniquity to itself.

40:7 He went out * and spoke to the same purpose.

40:8 All my enemies whispered together against me: * they devised evils to me.

40:9 They determined against me an unjust word: * shall he that sleepeth rise again no more?

40:11 But thou, O Lord, have mercy on me, and raise me up again: * and I will requite them.

40:12 By this I know, that thou hast had a good will for me: * because my enemy shall not rejoice over me.

Hymnus

Earth's mighty Maker, whose command

Raised from the sea the solid land;

And drove each billowy heap away,

And bade the earth stand firm for aye:
Uhat so, with flowers of golden hue,
The seeds of each it might renew;
And fruit-trees bearing fruit might yield,
And pleasant pasture of the field:
Mur spirit's rankling wounds efface
With dewy freshness of thy grace:
That grief may cleanse each deed of ill,
And o'er each lust may triumph still.
Iet every soul thy law obey,
And keep from every evil way;
Rejoice each promised good to win,
And flee from every mortal sin.
Pear thou our prayer, Almighty King!
Hear thou our praises, while we sing,
Adoring with the heavenly host,
The Father, Son, and Holy Ghost!
Amen.

℣. O Lord, direct my prayer.

℟. As incense in thy sight.

Ant. Have mercy on me, * thou Son of David. What wouldst thou that I should do unto thee? Lord, that I may receive my sight.

Psalmus 11

([1])

11:2 Save me, O Lord, for there is now no saint: * truths are decayed from among the children of men.

11:3 They have spoken vain things every one to his neighbour: * with deceitful lips, and with a double heart have they spoken.

11:4 May the Lord destroy all deceitful lips, * and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

11:5 Who have said: We will magnify our tongue; † our lips are our own; * who is Lord over us?

11:6 By reason of the misery of the needy, and the groans of the poor, * now will I arise, saith the Lord.

11:6 I will set him in safety; * I will deal confidently in his regard.

11:7 The words of the Lord are pure words: * as silver tried by the fire, purged from the earth, refined seven times.

11:8 Thou, O Lord, wilt preserve us: and keep us * from this generation for ever.

11:9 The wicked walk round about: * according to thy highness, thou hast multiplied the children of men.

12:3 How long shall my enemy be exalted over me? * Consider, and hear me, O Lord my God.

12:4 Enlighten my eyes that I never sleep in death: * lest at any time my enemy say: I have prevailed against him.

12:5 They that trouble me will rejoice when I am moved: * but I have trusted in thy mercy.

15:4 Their infirmities were multiplied: * afterwards they made haste.

15:4 I will not gather together their meetings for blood offerings: * nor will I be mindful of their names by my lips.

15:5 The Lord is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup: * it is thou that wilt restore my inheritance to me.

Hail, O Queen of heaven, enthroned!

Hail, by Angels Mistress owned!

Root of Jesse, Gate of morn,

Whence the world's true Light was born:

Glorious Virgin, joy to thee,

Loveliest whom in heaven they see:

Fairest thou, where all are fair,

Plead with Christ our sins to spare.

℣. Allow me to praise thee, holy Virgin.

℞. Give me strength against thine enemies.

Let us pray.

Grant, O merciful God, to our weak natures thy protection, that we who commemorate the holy Mother of God may, by the help of her intercession, arise from our iniquities. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

God is the great Lord * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Who madest all and dost control,

Lord, with thy touch divine,

Cast out the slumbers of the soul,

The rest that is not thine.

Took down, Eternal Holiness,

And wash the sins away,

Of those, who, rising to confess,

Outstrip the lingering day.

And holy Paul the deed.

Each hidden stain lies bare;

But pray that thou wouldst spare.
Prant this, O Father, Only Son
And Spirit, God of grace,
To whom all worship shall be done
In every time and place,

Continuation of the Holy Gospel according to Matthew

Matt 6:16-21

In that time Jesus said to his disciples: And when you fast, be not as the hypocrites, sad. For they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. And so on.

Homily by St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo.

Lib. 2 de Serm. Domini in monte, cap. 12 tom. 4

It is evident that by these precepts we are bidden to seek for inner gladness, lest, by running after that reward which is without, we should become conformed to the fashion of this world, and should so lose the promise of that blessing which is all the truer and more stable that it is inward, that blessing wherein God hath chosen us to be conformed to the likeness of His Son. In this chapter we will principally consider the fact that vain-glory findeth a ground for its exercise in struggling poverty as much as in worldly distinction and display; and this development is the most dangerous, because it entices under pretence of being the serving of God.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

R. Thanks be to God.

R. I came this day unto the well, and I besought the Lord, and said:

* O Lord God of Abraham, Thou hast prospered my way.

V. Therefore the virgin to whom I shall say: Give me water of thy pitcher to drink; and she shall say to me: Drink, my lord, and I will give thy camels drink also; let the same be the woman whom the Lord hath appointed out for my master's son.

R. O Lord God of Abraham, Thou hast prospered my way.

V. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

R. Amen.

Reading 2

He that is characterised by unbridled indulgence in luxury or in dress, or any other display, is by these very things easily shown to be a follower of worldly vanities, and deceiveth no one by putting on an hypocritical mask of godliness. But those professors of Christianity, who turn all eyes on themselves by an eccentric show of grovelling and dirtiness, not suffered by necessity, but by their own choice, of them we must judge by their other works whether their conduct really proceedeth from the desire of mortification by giving up unnecessary comfort, or is only the mean of some ambition the Lord biddeth us beware of wolves in sheep's clothing, but by their fruits, saith He, ye shall know them.

Responsory 2

R. The word of the Lord came unto Abram, saying:

* Fear not, Abram I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

V. For I am the Lord thy God That brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees.

R. Fear not, Abram I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

V.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

R. Amen.

Reading 3

The test is when, by diverse trials, such persons lose those things which under the cover of seeming unworldliness they have either gained or sought to gain. Then must it needs appear whether they be wolves in sheep's clothing, or indeed sheep in their own. But that hypocrites do the contrary maketh it no duty of a Christian to shine before the eyes of men with a display of needless luxury the sheep need not to lay aside their own clothing because wolves sometimes falsely assume it.

Responsory 3

R. Abram removed his tent, and came, and dwelt by the vale of Mamre

* And built there an altar unto the Lord.

V. And the Lord said unto him: Lift up thine eyes, and look; all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever.

R. And built there an altar unto the Lord.

V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. And built there an altar unto the Lord.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

64:8 The Gentiles shall be troubled, and they that dwell in the uttermost borders shall be afraid at thy signs: * thou shalt make the outgoings of the morning and of the evening to be joyful.

100:7 He that worketh pride shall not dwell in the midst of my house: * he that speaketh unjust things did not prosper before my eyes.

100:8 In the morning I put to death all the wicked of the land: * that I might cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the Lord.

2:2 My mouth is enlarged over my enemies: * because I have joyed in thy salvation.

2:3 There is none holy as the Lord is: for there is no other beside thee, * and there is none strong like our God.

2:4 Do not multiply to speak lofty things, * boasting:

2:6 The bow of the mighty is overcome, * and the weak are girt with strength.

2:7 They that were full before have hired out themselves for bread: * and the hungry are filled,

Hymnus

Day is breaking, dawn is bright:
Hence, vain shadows of the night!
Mists that dim our mortal sight,
Christ is come! Depart!
Darkness routed lifts her wings
As the radiance upwards springs:
Through the world of wakened things
Life and colour dart.
Thee, O Christ, alone we know:
Singing even in our woe,
With pure hearts to thee we go:
On our senses shine!
Sin thy beams be purged away
All that leads our thoughts astray!
Through our spirits, King of day,
Pour thy light divine!
O God the Father, Son,
Holy Spirit, Three in One,
One in Three, be glory done,
Now and evermore.

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Martyrologium

February 11th 2027, the 5th day of the Moon,

Ln the morrow we keep the feast of the holy Confessor Gilbert, founder of the Order of Sempringham, of whom mention hath been made upon the 4th day of this present month of February. Likewise on the morrow we keep the feast of the Seven holy Founders of the Order of Servants of the Blessed Virgin Mary, who after great hardship of life, famous for works and wonders, died a death precious in the sight of the Lord, upon Monte Senario, in Tuscany. The same spirit of brotherhood had made them one in life, the veneration of the people had not divided them in death, and Leo XIII enrolled their names together among those of the Saints.

Hpon the same 11th day of February, were born into the better life:

In Africa, [in the year 304,] the holy martyrs the Priest Saturninus, Dativus, Felix, Ampelius, and their Companions, who were taken by the soldiers in the persecution under the Emperor Diocletian when they came together in one, as the use is, to hold the Lord's Supper, and suffered under the proconsul Anolinus.

In Numidia are commemorated many holy martyrs who were arrested, [in the year 303 or 304,] in the persecution aforesaid, and for as much as they would not obey the edict of the Emperor to give up the Scriptures of God, they were put to grievous torments and slain.

Rt Adrianople, the holy martyrs Lucius, Bishop [of Adrianople,] and his Companions. He suffered much from the Arians under the Emperor Constantius, and finished his testimony in chains, [in the year 348.] The others were some of the nobler of the citizens who were condemned to death by Count Philagrius because they refused to receive the Arians who had been then condemned in the Council of Sardica.

It Lyon, [in the year 608,] the holy martyr Desiderius, Bishop of Vienne, [in Gaul.]

Rt Ravenna, [about the year 170,] the holy Confessor Calocerus, Bishop of that see.

Mt Milan, [in the year 449,] the holy Lazarus, Bishop of that see.

Ct Capua, [in the year 450,] holy Castrensis, Bishop of that see.

It the village of Landon, [in the year 507,] holy Severinus, Abbot of the monastery of St Maurice, at whose prayers the servant of God, King Clovis, was healed of a long malady.

In Egypt, [about the middle of the fourth century,] the holy monk Jonah, renowned for his graces.

V And elsewhere many other holy martyrs, confessors, and holy virgins.

Art with the Father and the Son,
It is the hour, our souls possess
With thy full flood of holiness.

Sound forth our witness to mankind;

Psalmus 53

([1])

53:3 Save me, O God, by thy name, * and judge me in thy strength.

53:4 O God, hear my prayer: * give ear to the words of my mouth.

53:5 For strangers have risen up against me; and the mighty have sought after my soul: * and they have not set God before their eyes.

53:6 For behold God is my helper: * and the Lord is the protector of my soul.

53:7 Turn back the evils upon my enemies; * and cut them off in thy truth.

53:8 I will freely sacrifice to thee, * and will give praise, O God, to thy name: because it is good:

53:9 For thou hast delivered me out of all trouble: * and my eye hath looked down upon my enemies.

Psalmus 54(2-16)

([2])

54:2 Hear, O God, my prayer, and despise not my supplication: * be attentive to me and hear me.

54:3 I am grieved in my exercise; * and am troubled, at the voice of the enemy, and at the tribulation of the sinner.

54:4 For they have cast iniquities upon me; * and in wrath they were troublesome to me.

54:5 My heart is troubled within me: * and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

54:6 Fear and trembling are come upon me: * and darkness hath covered me.

54:7 And I said: Who will give me wings like a dove, * and I will fly and be at rest?

54:8 Lo, I have gone far off flying away; * and I abode in the wilderness.
54:9 I waited for him that hath saved me * from pusillanimity of spirit, and a storm.
54:10 Cast down, O Lord, and divide their tongues; * for I have seen iniquity and contradiction in the city.
54:11 Day and night shall iniquity surround it upon its walls: * and in the midst thereof are labour, and injustice.
54:12 And usury and deceit * have not departed from its streets.
54:13 For if my enemy had reviled me, * I would verily have borne with it.
54:13 And if he that hated me had spoken great things against me, * I would perhaps have hidden myself from him.
54:14 But thou a man of one mind, * my guide, and my familiar.
54:15 Who didst take sweetmeats together with me: * in the house of God we walked with consent.
54:16 Let death come upon them, * and let them go down alive into hell.
54:16 For there is wickedness in their dwellings: * in the midst of them.

54:18 Evening and morning, and at noon I will speak and declare: * and he shall hear my voice.
54:19 He shall redeem my soul in peace from them that draw near to me: * for among many they were with me.
54:20 God shall hear, * and the Eternal shall humble them.
54:20 For there is no change with them, and they have not feared God: * he hath stretched forth his hand to repay.
54:21 They have defiled his covenant, they are divided by the wrath of his countenance, * and his heart hath drawn near.
54:22 His words are smoother than oil, * and the same are darts.
54:23 Cast thy care upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: * he shall not suffer the just to waver for ever.
54:24 But thou, O God, shalt bring them down * into the pit of destruction.
54:24 Bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; * but I will trust in thee, O Lord.

Psalmus 55

([1])

55:2 Have mercy on me, O God, for man hath trodden me under foot; * all the day long he hath afflicted me fighting against me.

55:3 My enemies have trodden on me all the day long; * for they are many that make war against me.

55:4 From the height of the day I shall fear: * but I will trust in thee.

55:5 In God I will praise my words, in God I have put my trust: * I will not fear what flesh can do against me.

55:6 All the day long they detested my words: * all their thoughts were against me unto evil.

55:7 They will dwell and hide themselves: * they will watch my heel.

55:8 As they have waited for my soul, for nothing shalt thou save them: * in thy anger thou shalt break the people in pieces.

55:9 O God, I have declared to thee my life: * thou hast set my tears in thy sight,

55:9 As also in thy promise. * Then shall my enemies be turned back.

55:10 In what day soever I shall call upon thee, * behold I know thou art my God.

55:11 In God will I praise the word, in the Lord will I praise his speech. * In God have I hoped, I will not fear what man can do to me.

55:12 In me, O God, are vows to thee, * which I will pay, praises to thee:

55:13 Because thou hast delivered my soul from death, my feet from falling: * that I may please in the sight of God, in the light of the living.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 56

([2])

56:2 Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me: * for my soul trusteth in thee.

56:2 And in the shadow of thy wings will I hope, * until iniquity pass away.

56:3 I will cry to God the most High; * to God who hath done good to me.

56:4 He hath sent from heaven and delivered me: * he hath made them a reproach that trod upon me.

56:4 God hath sent his mercy and his truth, * and he hath delivered my soul from the midst of the young lions. I slept troubled.

56:5 The sons of men, whose teeth are weapons and arrows, * and their tongue a sharp sword.

56:6 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, * and thy glory above all the earth.

56:7 They prepared a snare for my feet; * and they bowed down my soul.

56:7 They dug a pit before my face, * and they are fallen into it.

56:8 My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready: * I will sing, and rehearse a psalm.

56:9 Arise, O my glory, arise psaltery and harp: * I will arise early.

56:10 I will give praise to thee, O Lord, among the people: * I will sing a psalm to thee among the nations.

Psalmus 57

([3])

57:2 If in very deed you speak justice: * judge right things, ye sons of men.

57:3 For in your heart you work iniquity: * your hands forge injustice in the earth.

57:4 The wicked are alienated from the womb; they have gone astray from the womb: * they have spoken false things.

57:5 Their madness is according to the likeness of a serpent: * like the deaf asp that stoppeth her ears:

57:6 Which will not hear the voice of the charmers; * nor of the wizard that charmeth wisely.

57:7 God shall break in pieces their teeth in their mouth: * the Lord shall break the grinders of the lions.

57:8 They shall come to nothing, like water running down; * he hath bent his bow till they be weakened.

57:9 Like wax that melteth they shall be taken away: * fire hath fallen on them, and they shall not see the sun.

57:10 Before your thorns could know the brier; he swalloweth them up, * as alive, in his wrath.

57:11 The just shall rejoice when he shall see the revenge: * he shall wash his hands in the blood of the sinner.

57:12 And man shall say: If indeed there be fruit to the just: * there is indeed a God that judgeth them on the earth.

Hymnus

O God, whose hand hath spread the sky,
And all its shining hosts on high,
And painting it with fiery light,
Made it so beauteous and so bright:
Qhou, when the fourth day was begun,
Didst frame the circle of the sun,
And set the moon for ordered change,
And planets for their wider range:
Uo night and day, by certain line,
Their varying bounds thou didst assign;
And gav'st a signal, known and meet,
For months begun and months complete.
Enlighten thou the hearts of men:
Polluted souls make pure again:
Unloose the bands of guilt within:
Remove the burden of our sin.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ thy sole-begotten Son,
Whom, with the Spirit we adore,
One God, both now and evermore.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is a great King * Come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

The dusky veil of night hath laid
The varied hues of earth in shade;
Before Thee, righteous Judge of all,
We contrite in confession fall.
Uake far away our load of sin,
Our soiled minds make clean within:
Thy sov'reign grace, O Christ, impart,
From all offence to guard our heart.
Mor lo! our mind is dull and cold,
Envenomed by sin's baneful hold:
Fain would it now the darkness flee,
And seek, Redeemer, unto Thee.

Rar from it drive the shades of night,
Its inmost darkness put to flight;
Till in the daylight of the blest
It joys to find itself at rest.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

61:4 How long do you rush in upon a man? * you all kill, as if you were thrusting down a leaning wall, and a tottering fence.

61:5 But they have thought to cast away my price; I ran in thirst: * they blessed with their mouth, but cursed with their heart.

68:5 They are multiplied above the hairs of my head, * who hate me without cause.

68:5 My enemies are grown strong who have wrongfully persecuted me: * then did I pay that which I took not away.

Continuation of the Holy Gospel according to Matthew

Matt 8:5-13

At that time, when Jesus had entered into Capharnaum, there came to him a centurion, beseeching him and saying: Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, and is grievously tormented. And so on.

Homily by St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo.

Lib. 2 de Consensu Evangelist. cap. 20, tom. 4

Let us consider whether Matthew and Luke are at one as touching this centurion's servant.

Matthew saith: "There came unto Him a centurion, beseeching Him, and saying: 'Lord, my servant lieth at home sick, of the palsy.'" This seemeth to differ from what Luke saith, namely: "And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto Him the elders of the Jews, beseeching Him that He would come and heal his servant. And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying: "That he was worthy for whom He should do this; for he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue." Then Jesus went with them; and when He was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to Him, saying unto Him: "Lord, trouble not thyself; for I am not worthy that Thou shouldest enter under my roof." vii. 6, seq.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, and grievously tormented.

* Amen, I say unto thee, I will come and heal him:

℣. Lord, I am not worthy that Thou shouldest enter under my roof, but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed:

℞. Amen, I say unto thee, I will come and heal him.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℞. Amen.

Reading 2

If it were done thus, how is Matthew truthful, when he saith that the centurion came unto Him, seeing that, in fact, he sent his friends? We must then look well into this, and we shall see that Matthew only made use of a common form of speech. Now, we use to say of a man that he cometh to a place even though he be not already come: whence also we say, He arrived close; or He arrived long way off, that is, to that place to which he would come; yea, we speak of that coming, toward which he tendeth, as though it had already taken place, when he that should be come at, seeth not yet him that cometh, but is come at for him by friends, to obtain his favour, which is needful for him that would come to him. And so much doth this manner of speaking hold, that they are commonly said to come at a great man, (who is beyond their personal reach,) who, by means of suitable persons, succeed in laying before him such things as they desire.

Responsory 2

℞. Abraham stood by the oak of Mamre, and he saw three men coming up by the path.

* He saw three, and worshipped One.

℣. Behold, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name Isaac.

℞. He saw three, and worshipped One.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

℞. Amen.

Reading 3

Therefore it is not strange that Matthew should make use of the common short phrase, and say of the centurion, who reached the Lord's sympathies, by mean of friends, that he came unto Him. Also we must needs not pass by lightly the mystic depth which underlieth the words of this holy Evangelist. It is written in the Psalms xxxiii. 6: Draw near unto Him and be enlightened. Thus did the centurion in faith draw near unto Jesus, and the Lord so praised him that He said: I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. Of him of whom these words were spoken, the Evangelist deemeth it wiser to say that he had found his way to Jesus; that he had got to Christ, than that they came, through whom he sent his message unto Him.

Responsory 3

℞. The Lord did tempt Abraham, and said unto him:

* Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

℣. And when the Lord called him, he answered: Behold, here I am. And the Lord said unto him:

℞. Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. Take thy son Isaac whom thou lovest, and offer him there for a burnt-offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. Before thee only have I sinned, * O Lord, have mercy on me.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Before thee only have I sinned, O Lord, have mercy on me.

Turn thee again, O Lord, * and be gracious unto thy servants.

89:1 Lord, thou hast been our refuge * from generation to generation.

89:2 Before the mountains were made, or the earth and the world was formed; * from eternity and to eternity thou art God.

89:3 Turn not man away to be brought low: * and thou hast said: Be converted, O ye sons of men.

89:4 For a thousand years in thy sight * are as yesterday, which is past.

89:5 And as a watch in the night, * things that are counted nothing, shall their years be.

89:6 In the morning man shall grow up like grass; in the morning he shall flourish and pass away: * in the evening he shall fall, grow dry, and wither.

89:7 For in thy wrath we have fainted away: * and are troubled in thy indignation.

89:8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thy eyes: * our life in the light of thy countenance.

89:9 For all our days are spent; * and in thy wrath we have fainted away.

89:9 Our years shall be considered as a spider: * the days of our years in them are threescore and ten years.

89:10 But if in the strong they be fourscore years: * and what is more of them is labour and sorrow.

89:10 For mildness is come upon us: * and we shall be corrected.

89:11 Who knoweth the power of thy anger, * and for thy fear can number thy wrath?

89:12 So make thy right hand known: * and men learned in heart, in wisdom.

89:13 Return, O Lord, how long? * and be entreated in favour of thy servants.

89:14 We are filled in the morning with thy mercy: * and we have rejoiced, and are delighted all our days.

89:15 We have rejoiced for the days in which thou hast humbled us: * for the years in which we have seen evils.

89:16 Look upon thy servants and upon their works: * and direct their children.

89:17 And let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us: and direct thou the works of our hands over us; * yea, the work of our hands do thou direct.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Turn thee again, O Lord, and be gracious unto thy servants.

O God, * thou hast multiplied thy mercy.

Psalmus 35

([3])

35:2 The unjust hath said within himself, that he would sin: * there is no fear of God before his eyes.

35:3 For in his sight he hath done deceitfully, * that his iniquity may be found unto hatred.

35:4 The words of his mouth are iniquity and guile: * he would not understand that he might do well.

35:5 He hath devised iniquity on his bed, * he hath set himself on every way that is not good: but evil he hath not hated.

35:6 O Lord, thy mercy is in heaven, * and thy truth reacheth even to the clouds.

35:7 Thy justice is as the mountains of God, * thy judgments are a great deep.

35:7 Men and beasts thou wilt preserve, O Lord: * O how hast thou multiplied thy mercy, O God!

35:8 But the children of men * shall put their trust under the covert of thy wings.

35:9 They shall be inebriated with the plenty of thy house; * and thou shalt make them drink of the torrent of thy pleasure.

35:10 For with thee is the fountain of life; * and in thy light we shall see light.

35:11 Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, * and thy justice to them that are right in heart.

35:12 Let not the foot of pride come to me, * and let not the hand of the sinner move me.

35:13 There the workers of iniquity are fallen, * they are cast out, and could not stand.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. O God, thou hast multiplied thy mercy.

The Lord is my strength * and my praise, and he is become my salvation.

Canticum Moysis

Exod. 15:1-22

15:1 Let us sing to the Lord: for he is gloriously magnified, * the horse and the rider he hath thrown into the sea.

15:2 The Lord is my strength and my praise, * and he is become salvation to me:

15:3 He is my God and I will glorify him: * the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

15:4 The Lord is as a man of war, Almighty is his name. * Pharaoh's chariots and his army he hath cast into the sea:

15:5 His chosen captains are drowned in the Red Sea. * The depths have covered them, they are sunk to the bottom like a stone.

15:6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is magnified in strength: thy right hand, O Lord, hath slain the enemy. * And in the multitude of thy glory thou hast put down thy adversaries:

15:7 Thou hast sent thy wrath, which hath devoured them like stubble. * And with the blast of thy anger the waters were gathered together:

15:8 The flowing water stood, * the depths were gathered together in the midst of the sea.

15:9 The enemy said: I will pursue and overtake, * I will divide the spoils, my soul shall have its fill:

15:10 I will draw my sword, * my hand shall slay them.

15:11 Thy wind blew and the sea covered them: * they sunk as lead in the mighty waters.

15:12 Who is like to thee, among the strong, O Lord? * who is like to thee, glorious in holiness, terrible and praiseworthy, doing wonders?

15:13 Thou stretchedst forth thy hand, and the earth swallowed them. * In thy mercy thou hast been a leader to the people which thou hast redeemed:

15:14 And in thy strength thou hast carried them * to thy holy habitation.

15:15 Nations rose up, and were angry: * sorrows took hold on the inhabitants of Philisthiim.

15:16 Then were the princes of Edom troubled, trembling seized on the stout men of Moab: * all the inhabitants of Chanaan became stiff.

15:17 Let fear and dread fall upon them, * in the greatness of thy arm:

15:18 Let them become unmoveable as a stone, until thy people, O Lord, pass by: * until this thy people pass by, which thou hast possessed.

15:19 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, * in thy most firm habitation which thou hast made, O Lord;

15:20 Thy sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established. * The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

15:21 For Pharaoh went in on horseback with his chariots and horsemen into the sea: * and the Lord brought back upon them the waters of the sea:

15:22 But the children of Israel walked on dry ground * in the midst thereof.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord is my strength and my praise, and he is become my salvation.
Praise the Lord * who healeth the broken of heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

Psalmus 146

146:2 The Lord buildeth up Jerusalem: * he will gather together the dispersed of Israel.

146:3 Who healeth the broken of heart, * and bindeth up their bruises.

146:4 Who telleth the number of the stars: * and calleth them all by their names.

146:5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: * and of his wisdom there is no number.

146:6 The Lord lifteth up the meek, * and bringeth the wicked down even to the ground.

146:7 Sing ye to the Lord with praise: * sing to our God upon the harp.

146:8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, * and prepareth rain for the earth.

146:8 Who maketh grass to grow on the mountains, * and herbs for the service of men.

146:9 Who giveth to beasts their food: * and to the young ravens that call upon him.

146:10 He shall not delight in the strength of the horse: * nor take pleasure in the legs of a man.

146:11 The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him: * and in them that hope in his mercy.

Let no more our darkened eyes

Snare us, tangled by surprise

In the maze of sin!

From false words and thoughts impure

Let this light, serene and sure,

Keep our lips without secure,

Keep our souls within.

So may we the day-time spend,

That, till life's temptations end,

Tongue, nor hand, nor eye offend!

One, above us all,

Siews in his revealing ray

All we do, and think, and say,

Watching us from break of day

Till the twilight fall.

Onto God the Father, Son,

Holy Spirit, Three in One,

One in Three, be glory done,

Now and evermore.

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Lord have mercy upon us, Christ have mercy upon us, Lord have mercy upon us.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℞. But deliver us from evil.

℣. Look upon thy servants and upon thy works: and direct their children.

℞. And let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us. Direct thou the works of our hands; yea, the work of our hands do thou direct.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Let us pray.

O Lord, Almighty God, King of heaven and earth, Saviour of the world, bless, lead, rule and govern our hearts and bodies, our senses, words and deeds today, following thy law and commandments, that here and for eternity with thy help we shall be saved in freedom. Who livest and reignest, world without end.

Come Holy Ghost who ever One
Art with the Father and the Son,
It is the hour, our souls possess
With thy full flood of holiness.
Oet flesh and heart and lips and mind
Sound forth our witness to mankind;

Till others catch the living flame.
Plmighty Father, hear our cry,
Through Jesus Christ, our Lord most High,

Ant. How good is God * to Israel, to them that are of a right heart! ‡

Psalmus 72(1-9)

([1])

72:1 How good is God to Israel, to them that are of a right heart!

72:2 ‡ But my feet were almost moved; * my steps had wellnigh slipped.

72:3 Because I had a zeal on occasion of the wicked, * seeing the prosperity of sinners.

72:4 For there is no regard to their death, * nor is there strength in their stripes.

72:5 They are not in the labour of men: * neither shall they be scourged like other men.

72:6 Therefore pride hath held them fast: * they are covered with their iniquity and their wickedness.

72:7 Their iniquity hath come forth, as it were from fatness: * they have passed into the affection of the heart.

72:8 They have thought and spoken wickedness: * they have spoken iniquity on high.

72:9 They have set their mouth against heaven: * and their tongue hath passed through the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(10-17)

([2])

72:10 Therefore will my people return here * and full days shall be found in them.

72:11 And they said: How doth God know? * and is there knowledge in the most High?

72:12 Behold these are sinners; and yet abounding in the world * they have obtained riches.

72:13 And I said: Then have I in vain justified my heart, * and washed my hands among the innocent.

72:14 And I have been scourged all the day; * and my chastisement hath been in the mornings.

72:15 If I said: I will speak thus; * behold I should condemn the generation of thy children.

72:16 I studied that I might know this thing, * it is a labour in my sight:

72:17 Until I go into the sanctuary of God, * and understand concerning their last ends.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 72(18-28)

([3])

72:18 But indeed for deceits thou hast put it to them: * when they were lifted up, thou hast cast them down.

72:19 How are they brought to desolation? they have suddenly ceased to be: * they have perished by reason of their iniquity.

72:20 As the dream of them that awake, O Lord; * so in thy city thou shalt bring their image to nothing.

72:21 For my heart hath been inflamed, and my reins have been changed: * and I am brought to nothing, and I knew not.

72:23 I am become as a beast before thee: * and I am always with thee.

72:24 Thou hast held me by my right hand; and by thy will thou hast conducted me, * and with thy glory thou hast received me.

72:25 For what have I in heaven? * and besides thee what do I desire upon earth?

72:26 For thee my flesh and my heart hath fainted away: * thou art the God of my heart, and the God that is my portion for ever.

72:27 For behold they that go far from thee shall perish: * thou hast destroyed all them that are disloyal to thee.

72:28 But it is good for me to adhere to my God, * to put my hope in the Lord God:

72:28 That I may declare all thy praises, * in the gates of the daughter of Sion.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Psalmus 73(1-9)

73:2 Remember thy congregation, * which thou hast possessed from the beginning.

73:2 The sceptre of thy inheritance which thou hast redeemed: * mount Sion in which thou hast dwelt.

73:3 Lift up thy hands against their pride unto the end; * see what things the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

73:4 And they that hate thee have made their boasts, * in the midst of thy solemnity.

73:5 They have set up their ensigns for signs, * and they knew not both in the going out and on the highest top.

73:6 As with axes in a wood of trees, they have cut down at once the gates thereof, * with axe and hatchet they have brought it down.

73:7 They have set fire to thy sanctuary: * they have defiled the dwelling place of thy name on the earth.

73:8 They said in their heart, the whole kindred of them together: * Let us abolish all the festival days of God from the land.

73:11 Why dost thou turn away thy hand: and thy right hand * out of the midst of thy bosom for ever?

73:12 But God is our king before ages: * he hath wrought salvation in the midst of the earth.

73:13 Thou by thy strength didst make the sea firm: * thou didst crush the heads of the dragons in the waters.

73:14 Thou hast broken the heads of the dragon: * thou hast given him to be meat for the people of the Ethiopians.

73:15 Thou hast broken up the fountains and the torrents: * thou hast dried up the Ethan rivers.

73:20 Have regard to thy covenant: * for they that are the obscure of the earth have been filled with dwellings of iniquity.

73:21 Let not the humble be turned away with confusion: * the poor and needy shall praise thy name.

O sovereign Lord of nature's might,
Who bad'st the water's birth divide;
Part in the heavens to take their flight,
And part in ocean's deep to hide;
These low obscured, on airy wing
Exalted those, that either race,
Though from one element they spring,
Might serve thee in a different place.
Lrant, Lord, that we thy servants all,
Saved by thy tide of cleansing blood,
No more 'neath sin's dominion fall,
Nor fear the thought of death's dark flood!
Uhy varied love each spirit bless,
The humble cheer, the high control;
Check in each heart its proud excess,
But raise the meek and contrite soul!

This blessing grant, Eternal Son,

Both now, and while the ages run.

1 Pet 5:8-9

Brothers: Be sober and watch: because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, goeth about seeking whom he may devour. Whom resist ye, strong in faith.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℣. Our help is ✠ in the name of the Lord,

℟. Who made heaven and earth.

There follows an examination of conscience, or the Our Father said silently.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation: But deliver us from evil. Amen.

I confess to almighty God, to blessed Mary ever Virgin, to blessed Michael the Archangel, to blessed John the Baptist, to the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, and to all the Saints, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word and deed: strikes his breast through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault. Therefore I beseech blessed Mary ever Virgin, blessed Michael the Archangel, blessed John the Baptist, the holy Apostles Peter and Paul, and all the Saints, to pray for me to the Lord our God.

May almighty God have mercy on us, forgive us our sins, and bring us to everlasting life. Amen.

May the almighty ✠ and merciful Lord grant us pardon, absolution and remission of our sins. Amen.

℣. Turn us then, ✙︎ O God, our saviour:

℟. And let thy anger cease from us.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. Thou art my helper * and my deliverer, O Lord.

Psalmus 69

([1])

69:2 O God, come to my assistance; * O Lord, make haste to help me.

69:3 Let them be confounded and ashamed * that seek my soul:

69:4 Let them be turned backward, and blush for shame * that desire evils to me:

69:4 Let them be presently turned away blushing for shame * that say to me: 'T is well, 't is well.

69:5 Let all that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; * and let such as love thy salvation say always:
The Lord be magnified.

69:6 But I am needy and poor; * O God, help me.

69:6 Thou art my helper and my deliverer: * O Lord, make no delay.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 70(1-12)

([2])

70:1 In thee, O Lord, I have hoped, let me never be put to confusion: * deliver me in thy justice, and rescue me.

70:2 Incline thy ear unto me, * and save me.

70:3 Be thou unto me a God, a protector, and a place of strength: * that thou mayst make me safe.

70:3 For thou art my firmament * and my refuge.

70:4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the sinner, * and out of the hand of the transgressor of the law and of the unjust.

70:5 For thou art my patience, O Lord: * my hope, O Lord, from my youth.

70:6 By thee have I been confirmed from the womb: * from my mother's womb thou art my protector.

70:7 Of thee shall I continually sing: * I am become unto many as a wonder, but thou art a strong helper.

70:8 Let my mouth be filled with praise, that I may sing thy glory; * thy greatness all the day long.

70:9 Cast me not off in the time of old age: * when my strength shall fail, do not thou forsake me.

70:10 For my enemies have spoken against me; * and they that watched my soul have consulted together,

70:11 Saying: God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, * for there is none to deliver him.

70:12 O God, be not thou far from me: * O my God, make haste to my help.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 70(13-24)

([3])

70:13 Let them be confounded and come to nothing that detract my soul; * let them be covered with confusion and shame that seek my hurt.

70:14 But I will always hope; * and will add to all thy praise.

70:15 My mouth shall shew forth thy justice; * thy salvation all the day long.

70:16 Because I have not known learning, I will enter into the powers of the Lord: * O Lord, I will be mindful of thy justice alone.

70:17 Thou hast taught me, O God, from my youth: * and till now I will declare thy wonderful works.

70:18 And unto old age and grey hairs: * O God, forsake me not,

70:18 Until I shew forth thy arm * to all the generation that is to come:

70:19 Thy power, and thy justice, O God, even to the highest great things thou hast done: * O God, who is like to thee?

70:20 How great troubles hast thou shewn me, many and grievous: and turning thou hast brought me to life, * and hast brought me back again from the depths of the earth:

70:21 Thou hast multiplied thy magnificence; * and turning to me thou hast comforted me.

70:22 For I will also confess to thee thy truth with the instruments of psaltery: * O God, I will sing to thee with the harp,

70:23 My lips shall greatly rejoice, when I shall sing to thee; * and my soul which thou hast redeemed.

70:24 Yea and my tongue shall meditate on thy justice all the day; * when they shall be confounded and put to shame that seek evils to me.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Thou art my helper and my deliverer, O Lord.

Hymnus

Before the ending of the day,
Creator of the world, we pray
That with thy wonted favor thou
Wouldst be our guard and keeper now.
From all ill dreams defend our eyes,
From nightly fears and fantasies;
Tread under foot our ghostly foe,
That no pollution we may know.
PFather, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally.
Amen.

Ier 14:9

But thou, O Lord, art among us, and thy name is called upon by us: forsake us not, O Lord our God.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟.br

Into thy hands, O Lord, * do I commend my spirit.

℟. Into thy hands, O Lord, * do I commend my spirit.

℣. For thou hast redeemed us, O Lord, God of truth.

℟. I commend my spirit.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. Into thy hands, O Lord, * do I commend my spirit.

℣. Keep us, Lord, as the apple of thine eye.

℟. Protect us under the shadow of thy wings.

Ant. Protect us, * Lord, while we are awake and safeguard us while we sleep; that we may keep watch with Christ, and rest in peace.

Luc. 2:29-32

2:29 Now ✠ thou dost dismiss thy servant, O Lord, * according to thy word in peace;

2:30 Because my eyes have seen * thy salvation,

2:31 Which thou hast prepared * before the face of all peoples:

2:32 A light to the revelation of the Gentiles, * and the glory of thy people Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Prayer

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

Let us pray.

Visit, we beseech thee, O Lord, this dwelling, and drive far from it the snares of the enemy; let thy holy angels dwell herein to preserve us in peace, and let thy blessing be always upon us.

Phrough Jesus Christ, thy Son our Lord, Who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

℞. Amen.

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℞. And let my cry come unto thee.

The almighty and merciful Lord, ✠ the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, bless us and keep us.

Antiphona finalis B.M.V

Hail, O Queen of heaven, enthroned!

Hail, by Angels Mistress owned!

Root of Jesse, Gate of morn,

Whence the world's true Light was born:

Glorious Virgin, joy to thee,

Loveliest whom in heaven they see:

Fairest thou, where all are fair,

Plead with Christ our sins to spare.

℣. Allow me to praise thee, holy Virgin.

℞. Give me strength against thine enemies.

Let us pray.

Grant, O merciful God, to our weak natures thy protection, that we who commemorate the holy Mother of God may, by the help of her intercession, arise from our iniquities. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

℣. May the divine assistance ✠ remain with us always.

℞. Amen.

Quinquagesima Week — Friday

Matins

℣. O Lord, + open thou my lips.

℟. And my mouth shall declare thy praise.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise be to thee, O Lord, King of eternal glory.

Ant. The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is our God * Come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

O Three in One, and One in Three,

Who rulest all things mightily:

Bow down to hear the songs of praise

Which, freed from bonds of sleep, we raise.

While lingers yet the peace of night,

We rouse us from our slumbers light:

That might of instant prayer may win

The healing balm for wounds of sin.

Qf, by the wiles of Satan caught,

This night-time we have sinned in aught,

That sin Thy glorious power to-day,

From heaven descending, cleanse away.

Net naught impure our bodies stain,
No laggard sloth our souls detain,
No taint of sin our spirits know,
To chill the fervor of their glow.
Oherefore, Redeemer grant that we
Fulfilled with thine own light may be:
That, in our course, from day to day,
By no misdeed we fall away.
Prant this, O Father ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
And Holy Ghost, whom all adore,
Reigning and blest forevermore.
Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

Psalmus 77(1-8)

([1])

77:1 Attend, O my people, to my law: * incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables: * I will utter propositions from the beginning.

77:3 How great things have we heard and known, * and our fathers have told us.

77:4 They have not been hidden from their children, * in another generation.

77:4 Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, * and his wonders which he hath done.

77:5 And he set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

77:5 How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children: * that another generation might know them.

77:6 The children that should be born and should rise up, * and declare them to their children.

77:7 That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: * and may seek his commandments.

77:8 That they may not become like their fathers, * a perverse and exasperating generation.

77:8 A generation that set not their heart aright: * and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel.

The Lord did wonderful things * in the sight of their fathers.

Psalmus 77(9-16)

([2])

77:9 The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: * they have turned back in the day of battle.

77:10 They kept not the covenant of God: * and in his law they would not walk.

77:11 And they forgot his benefits, * and his wonders that he had shewn them.

77:12 Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, * in the field of Tanis.

77:13 He divided the sea and brought them through: * and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

77:14 And he conducted them with a cloud by day: * and all the night with a light of fire.

77:15 He struck the rock in the wilderness: * and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.

77:16 He brought forth water out of the rock: * and made streams run down as rivers.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord did wonderful things in the sight of their fathers.

The Lord opened * the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

Psalmus 77(17-31)

([3])

77:17 And they added yet more sin against him: * they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.

77:18 And they tempted God in their hearts, * by asking meat for their desires.

77:19 And they spoke ill of God: * they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

77:20 Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, * and the streams overflowed.

77:20 Can he also give bread, * or provide a table for his people?

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: * and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.

77:22 Because they believed not in God: * and trusted not in his salvation.

77:23 And he had commanded the clouds from above, * and had opened the doors of heaven.

77:24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, * and had given them the bread of heaven.

77:25 Man ate the bread of angels: * he sent them provisions in abundance.

77:26 He removed the south wind from heaven: * and by his power brought in the southwest wind.

77:27 And he rained upon them flesh as dust: * and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

77:28 And they fell in the midst of their camp, * round about their pavilions.

77:29 So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire: * they were not defrauded of that which they craved.

77:30 As yet their meat was in their mouth: * and the wrath of God came upon them.

77:31 And he slew the fat ones amongst them, * and brought down the chosen men of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord opened the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

God is their helper, * and the most high God their redeemer.

Psalmus 77(32-41)

([4])

77:32 In all these things they sinned still: * and they believed not for his wondrous works.

77:33 And their days were consumed in vanity, * and their years in haste.

77:34 When he slew them, then they sought him: * and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

77:35 And they remembered that God was their helper: * and the most high God their redeemer.

77:36 And they loved him with their mouth: * and with their tongue they lied unto him:

77:37 But their heart was not right with him: * nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

77:38 But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: * and will not destroy them.

77:38 And many a time did he turn away his anger: * and did not kindle all his wrath.

77:39 And he remembered that they are flesh: * a wind that goeth and returneth not.

77:40 How often did they provoke him in the desert: * and move him to wrath in the place without water?

77:41 And they turned back and tempted God: * and grieved the holy one of Israel.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God is their helper, and the most high God their redeemer.

The Lord redeemed them * from the hand of him that afflicted them.

Psalmus 77(42-58)

([5])

77:42 They remembered not his hand, * in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

77:43 How he wrought his signs in Egypt, * and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

77:44 And he turned their rivers into blood, * and their showers that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent amongst them diverse sorts of flies, which devoured them: * and frogs which destroyed them.

77:46 And he gave up their fruits to the blast, * and their labours to the locust.

77:47 And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, * and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

77:48 And he gave up their cattle to the hail, * and their stock to the fire.

77:49 And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: * indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

77:50 He made a way for a path to his anger: * he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

77:51 And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: * the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

77:52 And he took away his own people as sheep: * and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

77:53 And he brought them out in hope, and they feared not: * and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

77:54 And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: * the mountain which his right hand had purchased.

77:54 And he cast out the Gentiles before them: * and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

77:55 And he made the tribes of Israel * to dwell in their tabernacles.

77:56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: * and they kept not his testimonies.

77:57 And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: * even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

77:58 They provoked him to anger on their hills: * and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them.

God built * his sanctuary in the earth.

Psalmus 77(59-72)

([6])

77:59 God heard, and despised them, * and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

77:60 And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, * his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

77:61 And he delivered their strength into captivity: * and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

77:62 And he shut up his people under the sword: * and he despised his inheritance.

77:63 Fire consumed their young men: * and their maidens were not lamented.
 77:64 Their priests fell by the sword: * and their widows did not mourn.
 77:65 And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, * and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.
 77:66 And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: * he put them to an everlasting reproach.
 77:67 And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: * and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
 77:68 But he chose the tribe of Juda, * mount Sion which he loved.
 77:69 And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land * which he founded for ever.
 77:70 And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: * he brought him from following the ewes great with young,
 77:71 To feed Jacob his servant, * and Israel his inheritance.
 77:72 And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: * and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.
 V̄. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
 R̄. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God built his sanctuary in the earth.
 Help us, O God, our Saviour, * deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

Psalmus 78

([7])

78:1 O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: * they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.
 78:2 They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: * the flesh of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.
 78:3 They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem, * and there was none to bury them.
 78:4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: * a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
 78:5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: * shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?
 78:6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: * and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.
 78:7 Because they have devoured Jacob; * and have laid waste his place.
 78:8 Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, * for we are become exceeding poor.
 78:9 Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: * and forgive us
 our sins for thy name's sake:
 78:10 Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? * And let him be made known
 among the nations before our eyes,
 78:10 By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed: * let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee.
 78:11 According to the greatness of thy arm, * take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.
 78:12 And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: * the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
 78:13 But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, * will give thanks to thee for ever.
 78:13 We will shew forth thy praise, * unto generation and generation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Help us, O God, our Saviour, deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

I am the Lord * God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Psalmus 80

([8])

80:2 Rejoice to God, our helper: * sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: * the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

80:4 Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, * on the noted day of your solemnity.

80:5 For it is a commandment in Israel, * and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

80:6 He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: * he heard a tongue which he knew not.

80:7 He removed his back from the burdens: * his hands had served in baskets.

80:8 Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: * I heard thee in the secret place of temple: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction.

80:9 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: * O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me; there shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

80:11 For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: * open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 But my people heard not my voice: * and Israel hearkened not to me.

80:13 So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: * they shall walk in their own inventions.

80:14 If my people had heard me: * if Israel had walked in my ways:

80:15 I should soon have humbled their enemies, * and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

80:16 The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: * and their time shall be for ever.

80:17 And he fed them with the fat of wheat, * and filled them with honey out of the rock.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. I am the Lord God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Be not thou silent, O Lord, * for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

Psalmus 82

([9])

82:2 O God, who shall be like to thee? * Hold not thy peace, neither be O God, thou still,

82:3 For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: * and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

82:4 They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, * and have consulted against thy saints.

82:5 They have said: Come and let us destroy them, * so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

82:6 For they have contrived with one consent: * they have made a covenant together against thee; the tabernacles of the Edomites, and the Ismahelites:

82:8 Moab, and the Agarens, Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: * the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

82:9 Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: * they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

82:10 Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: * as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

82:11 Who perished at Endor: * and became as dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, * and Zebbee, and Salmana.
82:13 All their princes, * who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.
82:14 O my God, make them like a wheel; * and as stubble before the wind.
82:15 As fire which burneth the wood: * and as a flame burning mountains:
82:16 So shalt thou pursue them with thy tempest: * and shalt trouble them in thy wrath.
82:17 Fill their faces with shame; * and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.
82:18 Let them be ashamed and troubled for ever and ever: * and let them be confounded and perish.
82:19 And let them know that the Lord is thy name: * thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Be not thou silent, O Lord, for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

℣. Let them know that the Lord is thy name.

℟. Thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

Our Father is said silently until And lead us not into temptation:.

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

℣. And lead us not into temptation:

℟. But deliver us from evil.

Absolutio

May His loving-kindness and mercy help us, Who liveth and reigneth with the Father, and the Holy Ghost, world without end.

℟. Amen.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Gospel's holy lection Be our safety and protection.

℟. Amen.

Continuation of the Holy Gospel according to Matthew

Matt 5:43-48; 6:1-4

In that time, Jesus said to his disciples: You have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thy enemy. And so on.

Homily by St. Jerome, Priest at Bethlehem.

Lib. 1 Comm. in cap. 5 et 6 Matth

But I say unto you: "Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you." There are many who judge of the commandments of the Lord by their own weakness, and not by the strength of His Saints; and so deem Him to have commanded things impossible. These are they who think that not to hate their enemies is all that they are able to do; and that to command us to love them, is to command more than man's nature can bear. It behoveth them to know, that this which Christ commandeth is not impossible, albeit perfect. This is what David did in respect of Saul and Absalom; the martyr Stephen also prayed for his enemies, even while they were stoning him; and Paul could wish that himself were accursed from Christ for his persecutors. Rom. ix. 3. And this, Jesus Himself did, as well as taught, when He said: "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." Luke xxiii. 34.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. The Angel of the Lord called unto Abraham and said:

* Lay not thine hand upon the lad; for now I know that thou fearest God.

℣. And Abraham stretched forth his hand to slay his son; and, behold, the Angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said:

℟. Lay not thy hand upon the lad; for now I know that thou fearest God.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℟. Amen.

Reading 2

That ye may be the children of your Father Which is in heaven. If he that doeth the commandments of God becometh a son of God, then is he not a son by nature, but by his own choice. Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. He that soundeth a trumpet before him, when he doeth alms, is an hypocrite. He that disfigureth his face, when he fasteth, to the end that he may show the emptiness of his belly in his looks, he also is an hypocrite.

Responsory 2

℟. The Angel of the Lord called unto Abraham out of heaven the second time,

* And said: I will bless thee, and I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven.

℣. Thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies, and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed.

℟. And I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

℟. Amen.

Reading 3

He that prayeth in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that he may be seen of men, is an hypocrite. From all which, we gather that an hypocrite is one which doeth anything that he may have glory of men. To me also it seemeth that he which saith unto his brother: "Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye", vii. 4 that he also is an hypocrite; for he proposeth to take upon him that office for vainglory's sake, that he himself may appear righteous. Therefore the Lord saith unto him: "Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye." Thus we see that it is, not the doing good, but the motive which moveth us to do good, which will meet with reward from God; and, if thou stray but a little from the right way, it is of small moment whether thou wander to the right hand or to the left, when once thou hast lost the straight path.

Responsory 3

℞. O God of my master Abraham, prosper my way which I go;
* That I may return again in safety unto the house of my master.
℣. O Lord, I pray thee, be merciful unto thy servant.
℞. That I may return again in safety unto the house of my master.
℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.
℞. That I may return again in safety unto the house of my master.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. A contrite and a humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

For thy name's sake, * O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

Psalmus 142

([2])

142:1 Hear, O Lord, my prayer: give ear to my supplication in thy truth: * hear me in thy justice.

142:2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: * for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

142:3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: * he hath brought down my life to the earth.

142:3 He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old: * and my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

142:5 I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: * I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

142:6 I stretched forth my hands to thee: * my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

142:7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: * my spirit hath fainted away.

142:7 Turn not away thy face from me, * lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

142:8 Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; * for in thee have I hoped.

142:8 Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: * for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

142:9 Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled: * teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God.

142:10 Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land: * for thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

142:11 Thou wilt bring my soul out of trouble: * and in thy mercy thou wilt destroy my enemies.

142:12 And thou wilt cut off all them that afflict my soul: * for I am thy servant.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

84:3 Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people: * thou hast covered all their sins.

84:4 Thou hast mitigated all thy anger: * thou hast turned away from the wrath of thy indignation.

84:5 Convert us, O God our saviour: * and turn off thy anger from us.

84:6 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: * or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: * and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

84:8 Shew us, O Lord, thy mercy; * and grant us thy salvation.

84:9 I will hear what the Lord God will speak in me: * for he will speak peace.

84:9 And unto his saints: * and unto them that are converted to the heart.

84:10 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him: * that glory may dwell in our land.

84:11 Mercy and truth have met each other: * justice and peace have kissed.

84:12 Truth is sprung out of the earth: * and justice hath looked down from heaven.

84:13 For the Lord will give goodness: * and our earth shall yield her fruit.

84:14 Justice shall walk before him: * and shall set his steps in the way.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Hab 3:2-19

3:2 O Lord, I have heard thy hearing, * and was afraid.

3:2 O Lord, thy work, * in the midst of the years bring it to life:

3:2 In the midst of the years thou shalt make it known: * when thou art angry, thou wilt remember mercy.

3:3 God will come from the south, * and the holy one from mount Pharan:

3:3 His glory covered the heavens, * and the earth is full of his praise.

3:4 His brightness shall be as the light: * horns are in his hands:

3:4 There is his strength hid: * Death shall go before his face.

3:5 And the devil shall go forth before his feet. * He stood and measured the earth.

3:6 He beheld, and melted the nations: * and the ancient mountains were crushed to pieces.

3:6 The hills of the world were bowed down * by the journeys of his eternity.

3:7 I saw the tents of Ethiopia for their iniquity, * the curtains of the land of Madian shall be troubled.

3:8 Wast thou angry, O Lord, with the rivers? * or was thy wrath upon the rivers? or thy indignation in the sea?

3:8 Who will ride upon thy horses: * and thy chariots are salvation.

3:9 Thou wilt surely take up thy bow: * according to the oaths which thou hast spoken to the tribes.

3:9 Thou wilt divide the rivers of the earth. † The mountains saw thee, and were grieved: * the great body of waters passed away.

3:10 The deep put forth its voice: * the deep lifted up its hands.

3:11 The sun and the moon stood still in their habitation, * in the light of thy arrows, they shall go in the brightness of thy glittering spear.

3:12 In thy anger thou wilt tread the earth under foot: * in thy wrath thou wilt astonish the nations.

3:13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people: * for salvation with thy Christ.

3:13 Thou struckest the head of the house of the wicked: * thou hast laid bare his foundation even to the neck.

3:14 Thou hast cursed his sceptres, † the head of his warriors, * them that came out as a whirlwind to scatter me.

3:14 Their joy * was like that of him that devoureth the poor man in secret.

3:15 Thou madest a way in the sea for thy horses, * in the mud of many waters.

3:16 I have heard and my bowels were troubled: * my lips trembled at the voice.

3:16 Let rottenness enter into my bones, * and swarm under me.

3:16 That I may rest in the day of tribulation: * that I may go up to our people that are girded.

3:17 For the fig tree shall not blossom: * and there shall be no spring in the vines.

3:17 The labour of the olive tree shall fail: * and the fields shall yield no food:

3:17 The flock shall be cut off from the fold, * and there shall be no herd in the stalls.

3:18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: * and I will joy in God my Jesus.

3:19 The Lord God is my strength: * and he will make my feet like the feet of harts:

3:19 And he the conqueror will lead me upon my high places * singing psalms.

147:1 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: * praise thy God, O Sion.

147:2 Because he hath strengthened the bolts of thy gates * he hath blessed thy children within thee.

147:3 Who hath placed peace in thy borders: * and filleth thee with the fat of corn.

147:4 Who sendeth forth his speech to the earth: * his word runneth swiftly.

147:5 Who giveth snow like wool: * scattereth mists like ashes.

147:6 He sendeth his crystal like morsels: * who shall stand before the face of his cold?

147:7 He shall send out his word, and shall melt them: * his wind shall blow, and the waters shall run.

147:8 Who declareth his word to Jacob: * his justices and his judgments to Israel.

147:9 He hath not done in like manner to every nation: * and his judgments he hath not made manifest to them.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

O Christ, whose glory fills the heaven,
Our only hope, in mercy given;

Son of the Highest evermore:
Drant us thine aid thy praise to sing,

And from our souls dark sins expel;
Cleanse thou our minds from stain of ill,
And with thy peace our bosoms fill.

Made strong and pure by charity.

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Hymnus

Maker of man, who from thy throne
Dost order all things, God alone;
By whose decree the teeming earth
To reptile and to beast gave birth:
Ehe mighty forms that fill the land,
Instinct with life at thy command,
Are given subdued to humankind
For service in their rank assigned.
From all thy servants drive away
Whate'er of thought impure to-day
Hath been with open action blent,
Or mingled with the heart's intent.

Dn heaven thine endless joys bestow,
And grant thy gifts of grace below;
From chains of strife our souls release,
Bind fast the gentle bands of peace.
Prant this, O Father, ever One
With Christ, thy sole-begotten Son,
Whom, with the Spirit we adore,
One God, both now and evermore.
Amen.

76:2 I cried to the Lord with my voice; * to God with my voice, and he gave ear to me.

76:3 In the day of my trouble I sought God, with my hands lifted up to him in the night, * and I was not deceived.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

We are God's people and the sheep of His pasture, * Come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

Come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

We are God's people and the sheep of His pasture, * Come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

Come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

Hymnus

Great God of boundless mercy hear;

Thou Ruler of this earthly sphere;

In substance one, in persons three,

Dread Trinity in Unity!

No thou in love accept our lays

Of mingled penitence and praise;

And set our hearts from error free,

More fully to rejoice in thee.

Lur reins and hearts in pity heal,

And with thy chastening fires anneal;

Gird Thou our loins, each passion quell,

And every harmful lust expel.

Qow as our anthems, upward borne,
Awake the silence of the morn,
Enrich us with thy gifts of grace,
From heaven, thy blissful dwelling-place!
Pear thou our prayer, Almighty King!
Hear thou our praises, while we sing,
Adoring with the heavenly host,
The Father, Son, and Holy Ghost!
Amen.

105:25 They believed not his word, and they murmured in their tents: * they hearkened not to the voice of the Lord.
105:26 And he lifted up his hand over them: * to overthrow them in the desert;
105:27 And to cast down their seed among the nations, * and to scatter them in the countries.
105:28 They also were initiated to Beelphegor: * and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
105:29 And they provoked him with their inventions: * and destruction was multiplied among them.
105:30 Then Phinees stood up, and pacified him: * and the slaughter ceased.

105:32 They provoked him also at the waters of contradiction: * and Moses was afflicted for their sakes: because they exasperated his spirit.

105:33 And he distinguished with his lips; * they did not destroy the nations of which the Lord spoke unto them.

105:35 And they were mingled among the heathens, and learned their works: and served their idols, * and it became a stumblingblock to them.

105:37 And they sacrificed their sons, * and their daughters to devils.

105:38 And they shed innocent blood: * the blood of their sons and of their daughters which they sacrificed to the idols of Chanaan.

105:39 And the land was polluted with blood, and was defiled with their works: * and they went aside after their own inventions.

105:40 And the Lord was exceedingly angry with his people: * and he abhorred his inheritance.

105:41 And he delivered them into the hands of the nations: * and they that hated them had dominion over them.

105:42 And their enemies afflicted them: and they were humbled under their hands: * many times did he deliver them.

105:43 But they provoked him with their counsel: * and they were brought low by their iniquities.

105:44 And he saw when they were in tribulation: * and he heard their prayer.

106:2 Let them say so that have been redeemed by the Lord, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy: * and gathered out of the countries.

106:3 From the rising and the setting of the sun, * from the north and from the sea.

106:4 They wandered in a wilderness, in a place without water: * they found not the way of a city for their habitation.

106:5 They were hungry and thirsty: * their soul fainted in them.

106:6 And they cried to the Lord in their tribulation: * and he delivered them out of their distresses.

106:21 Let the mercies of the Lord give glory to him: * and his wonderful works to the children of men.

106:22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifice of praise: * and declare his works with joy.

106:23 They that go down to the sea in ships, * doing business in the great waters:

106:26 They mount up to the heavens, and they go down to the depths: * their soul pined away with evils.

106:27 They were troubled, and reeled like a drunken man; * and all their wisdom was swallowed up.

106:28 And they cried to the Lord in their affliction: * and he brought them out of their distresses.

106:32 And let them exalt him in the church of the people: * and praise him in the chair of the ancients.

106:33 He hath turned rivers into a wilderness: * and the sources of water into dry ground:

106:34 A fruitful land into barrenness, * for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

106:35 He hath turned a wilderness into pools of water, * and a dry land into water springs.

106:36 And hath placed there the hungry; * and they made a city for their habitation.

106:37 And they sowed fields, and planted vineyards: * and they yielded fruit of birth.

106:38 And he blessed them, and they were multiplied exceedingly: * and their cattle he suffered not to decrease.

106:39 Then they were brought to be few: * and they were afflicted through the trouble of evils and sorrow.

Continuation of the Holy Gospel according to Mark

Marc 6:47-56

In that time when it was late, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and Jesus himself alone on the land. And so on.

Homily by the Venerable Bede, Priest (at Jarrow) and Doctor of the Church

Lib. 2, cap. 28 in cap. 6 Marci, tom. 4

The toil of the disciples in rowing, and the wind contrary to them, is a figure of the diverse toils of the Holy Church, as, amid the waves of a world that fighteth against her, and the stormy blasts of unclean spirits, she laboureth to reach the rest of her Fatherland above, as a shore safe for her anchor. Here also it is well said that the ship was in the midst of the sea, and He alone on the land; for sometimes it cometh to pass that the Church is, by the great pressure of the Gentiles, not only so afflicted, but also befouled, that it seemeth as though, if it were possible, her Redeemer had for the time forsaken her.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. I came this day unto the well, and I besought the Lord, and said:

* O Lord God of Abraham, Thou hast prospered my way.

℣. Therefore the virgin to whom I shall say: Give me water of thy pitcher to drink; and she shall say to me: Drink, my lord, and I will give thy camels drink also; let the same be the woman whom the Lord hath appointed out for my master's son.

℟. O Lord God of Abraham, Thou hast prospered my way.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

God's most mighty strength alway be His people's staff and stay.

℟. Amen.

Reading 2

Whence it is that there cometh that cry of hers, when she is taken amid the waves, and the winds of temptations that break upon her, and with piteous entreaty she calleth on Him to protect her: Why standest Thou afar off, O Lord, why hidest Thou thyself in times of trouble? Ps. ix. 22. And then, in the verses that follow, she telleth Him what saith the enemy that persecuted her, saying: For he hath said in his heart God hath forgotten; He hideth His face, He will never see it. 32.

Responsory 2

℟. The word of the Lord came unto Abram, saying:

* Fear not, Abram I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

℣. For I am the Lord thy God That brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees.

℟. Fear not, Abram I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

Benedictio

May He that is the Angels' King to that high realm His people bring.

℟. Amen.

Reading 3

Verily, He forgetteth not the prayer of the poor, neither turneth He His face away from any that putteth his trust in Him; yea, rather, to him whosoever is striving with the enemy, He giveth help to conquer, and, whosoever conquereth, to him He giveth an everlasting crown. For the which reason also it is here said plainly He saw them toiling in rowing. The Lord seeth them that are toiling in the sea, albeit He be Himself on the land. Although He seem for a moment to tarry in succouring the distressed, nevertheless the look of His love is strengthening them, all the while, lest they should faint and sometimes He setteth them free, even by an open deliverance, conquering all their adversaries for them, as when He walked upon the swelling of the waves, and stilled them.

Responsory 3

Psalmus 50

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

91:3 To shew forth thy mercy in the morning, * and thy truth in the night:

91:4 Upon an instrument of ten strings, upon the psaltery: * with a canticle upon the harp.

91:5 For thou hast given me, O Lord, a delight in thy doings: * and in the works of thy hands I shall rejoice.

91:6 O Lord, how great are thy works! * thy thoughts are exceeding deep.

91:7 The senseless man shall not know: * nor will the fool understand these things.

91:8 When the wicked shall spring up as grass: * and all the workers of iniquity shall appear:

91:9 That they may perish for ever and ever: * but thou, O Lord, art most high for evermore.

91:10 For behold thy enemies, O Lord, for behold thy enemies shall perish: * and all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

91:11 But my horn shall be exalted like that of the unicorn: * and my old age in plentiful mercy.

91:12 My eye also hath looked down upon my enemies: * and my ear shall hear of the downfall of the malignant that rise up against me.

91:13 The just shall flourish like the palm tree: * he shall grow up like the cedar of Libanus.

91:14 They that are planted in the house of the Lord * shall flourish in the courts of the house of our God.

63:2 Hear, O God, my prayer, when I make supplication to thee: * deliver my soul from the fear of the enemy.

63:3 Thou hast protected me from the assembly of the malignant; * from the multitude of the workers of iniquity.

63:4 For they have whetted their tongues like a sword; * they have bent their bow a bitter thing, to shoot in secret the undefiled.

63:6 They will shoot at him on a sudden, and will not fear: * they are resolute in wickedness.

63:6 They have talked of hiding snares; * they have said: Who shall see them?

63:7 They have searched after iniquities: * they have failed in their search.

63:7 Man shall come to a deep heart: * and God shall be exalted.

63:8 The arrows of children are their wounds: * and their tongues against them are made weak.

63:9 All that saw them were troubled; * and every man was afraid.

63:10 And they declared the works of God: * and understood his doings.

63:11 The just shall rejoice in the Lord, and shall hope in him: * and all the upright in heart shall be praised.

Deut 32:1-27

32:1 Hear, O ye heavens, the things I speak, * let the earth give ear to the words of my mouth.

32:2 Let my doctrine gather as the rain, * let my speech distill as the dew,

32:3 As a shower upon the herb, and as drops upon the grass. * Because I will invoke the name of the Lord:

32:4 Give ye magnificence to our God. * The works of God are perfect, and all his ways are judgments:

32:5 God is faithful and without any iniquity, he is just and right. * They have sinned against him, and are none of his children in their filth:

32:6 They are a wicked and perverse generation. * Is this the return thou makest to the Lord, O foolish and senseless people?

32:7 Is not he thy father, * that hath possessed thee, and made thee, and created thee?

32:8 Remember the days of old, * think upon every generation:

32:9 Ask thy father, and he will declare to thee: * thy elders and they will tell thee.

32:10 When the Most High divided the nations: * when he separated the sons of Adam,

32:11 He appointed the bounds of people * according to the number of the children of Israel.

32:12 But the Lord's portion is his people: * Jacob the lot of his inheritance.

32:13 He found him in a desert land, * in a place of horror, and of vast wilderness:

32:14 He led him about, and taught him: * and he kept him as the apple of his eye.

32:15 As the eagle enticing her young to fly, * and hovering over them,

32:16 He spread his wings, and hath taken him * and carried him on his shoulders.

32:17 The Lord alone was his leader: * and there was no strange god with him.

32:18 He set him upon high land: * that he might eat the fruits of the fields,

32:19 That he might suck honey out of the rock, * and oil out of the hardest stone,

32:20 Butter of the herd, and milk of the sheep * with the fat of lambs, and of the rams of the breed of Basan:

32:21 And goats with the marrow of wheat, * and might drink the purest blood of the grape.

32:22 The beloved grew fat, and kicked: * he grew fat, and thick and gross,

32:23 He forsook God who made him, * and departed from God his saviour.

32:24 They provoked him by strange gods, * and stirred him up to anger, with their abominations.

32:25 They sacrificed to devils and not to God: * to gods whom they knew not:

32:26 That were newly come up, * whom their fathers worshipped not.

32:27 Thou hast forsaken the God that beget * and hast forgotten the Lord that created thee.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Hymnus

The dawn is sprinkling in the east
Its golden shower, as day flows in;
Fast mount the pointed shafts of light:
Farewell to darkness and to sin!
Pway, ye midnight phantoms all!
Away, despondence and despair!
Whatever guilt the night has brought,
Now let it vanish into air.
Uo, Lord, when that last morning breaks,
Looking to which we sigh and pray,
O may it to thy minstrels prove
The dawning of a better day.
Do God the Father glory be,
And to his sole-begotten Son;
Glory, O Holy Ghost, to thee,
While everlasting ages run,
Amen.

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Psalmus 93(12-23)

([2])

93:12 Blessed is the man whom thou shalt instruct, O Lord: * and shalt teach him out of thy law.

93:13 That thou mayst give him rest from the evil days: * till a pit be dug for the wicked.

93:14 For the Lord will not cast off his people: * neither will he forsake his own inheritance.

93:15 Until justice be turned into judgment: * and they that are near it are all the upright in heart.

93:16 Who shall rise up for me against the evildoers? * or who shall stand with me against the workers of iniquity?

93:17 Unless the Lord had been my helper, * my soul had almost dwelt in hell.

93:18 If I said: My foot is moved: * thy mercy, O Lord, assisted me.

93:19 According to the multitude of my sorrows in my heart, * thy comforts have given joy to my soul.

93:20 Doth the seat of iniquity stick to thee, * who framest labour in commandment?

93:21 They will hunt after the soul of the just, * and will condemn innocent blood.

93:22 But the Lord is my refuge: * and my God the help of my hope.

93:23 And he will render them their iniquity: and in their malice he will destroy them: * the Lord our God will destroy them.

107:7 Save with thy right hand and hear me. * God hath spoken in his holiness.

107:8 I will rejoice, and I will divide Sichem * and I will mete out the vale of tabernacles.

107:9 Galaad is mine: and Manasses is mine: * and Ephraim the protection of my head.

107:10 Juda is my king: * Moab the pot of my hope.

107:10 Over Edom I will stretch out my shoe: * the aliens are become my friends.

107:11 Who will bring me into the strong city? * who will lead me into Edom?

107:12 Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? * and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our armies?

107:13 O grant us help from trouble: * for vain is the help of man.

101:3 Turn not away thy face from me: * in the day when I am in trouble, incline thy ear to me.

101:3 In what day soever I shall call upon thee, * hear me speedily.

143:5 Lord, bow down thy heavens and descend: * touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

143:6 Send forth lightning, and thou shalt scatter them: * shoot out thy arrows, and thou shalt trouble them.

Hymnus

O kind Creator, bow thine ear
To mark the cry, to know the tear
Before thy throne of mercy spent
In this thy holy fast of Lent.
Our hearts are open, Lord, to thee:
Thou knowest our infirmity;
Pour out on all who seek thy face
Abundance of thy pardoning grace.
Our sins are many, this we know;
Spare us, good Lord, thy mercy show;
And for the honour of thy name
Our fainting souls to life reclaim.
Give us the self-control that springs
From discipline of outward things,
That fasting inward secretly
The soul may purely dwell with thee.
We pray thee, Holy Trinity,
One God, unchanging Unity,
That we from this our abstinence
May reap the fruits of penitence.
Amen.

℣. God hath given His Angels charge over thee.

℞. To keep thee in all thy ways.

Ant. Then shalt thou call, * and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and He shall say: Here I am.

Luc. 1:46-55

1:46 My soul ✠ * doth magnify the Lord.

1:47 And my spirit hath rejoiced * in God my Saviour.

1:48 Because he hath regarded the humility of his handmaid; * for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

1:49 Because he that is mighty, hath done great things to me; * and holy is his name.

1:50 And his mercy is from generation unto generations, * to them that fear him.

1:51 He hath shewed might in his arm: * he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

1:52 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, * and hath exalted the humble.

1:53 He hath filled the hungry with good things; * and the rich he hath sent empty away.

1:54 He hath received Israel his servant, * being mindful of his mercy:

1:55 As he spoke to our fathers, * to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Psalmus 87

([1])

87:2 Lord, the God of my salvation: * I have cried in the day, and in the night before thee.

87:3 Let my prayer come in before thee: * incline thy ear to my petition.

87:4 For my soul is filled with evils: * and my life hath drawn nigh to hell.

87:5 I am counted among them that go down to the pit: * I am become as a man without help, free among the dead.

87:6 Like the slain sleeping in the sepulchres, whom thou rememberest no more: * and they are cast off from thy hand.

87:7 They have laid me in the lower pit: * in the dark places, and in the shadow of death.

87:8 Thy wrath is strong over me: * and all thy waves thou hast brought in upon me.
 87:9 Thou hast put away my acquaintance far from me: * they have set me an abomination to themselves.
 87:9 I was delivered up, and came not forth: * my eyes languished through poverty.
 87:10 All the day I cried to thee, O Lord: * I stretched out my hands to thee.
 87:11 Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead? * or shall physicians raise to life, and give praise to thee?
 87:12 Shall any one in the sepulchre declare thy mercy: * and thy truth in destruction?
 87:13 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark; * and thy justice in the land of forgetfulness?
 87:14 But I, O Lord, have cried to thee: * and in the morning my prayer shall prevent thee.
 87:15 Lord, why castest thou off my prayer: * why turnest thou away thy face from me?
 87:16 I am poor, and in labours from my youth: * and being exalted have been humbled and troubled.
 87:17 Thy wrath hath come upon me: * and thy terrors have troubled me.
 87:18 They have come round about me like water all the day: * they have compassed me about together.
 87:19 Friend and neighbour thou hast put far from me: * and my acquaintance, because of misery.

Advent Week 4 — Friday

Matins

℣. O Lord, + open thou my lips.

℟. And my mouth shall declare thy praise.

℣. O God, ✠ come to my assistance;

℟. O Lord, make haste to help me.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Alleluia.

Ant. The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

Come let us praise the Lord with joy: let us joyfully sing to God our saviour. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; and make a joyful noise to him with psalms.

The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. For the Lord will not cast off his people: for in his hand are all the ends of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his.

O come, let us adore Him.

For the sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land. (genuflect) Come let us adore and fall down: and weep before the Lord that made us: For he is the Lord our God: and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand.

The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

Today if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts: As in the provocation, according to the day of temptation in the wilderness: where your fathers tempted me, they proved me, and saw my works.

O come, let us adore Him.

Forty years long was I offended with that generation, and I said: These always err in heart. And these men have not known my ways: so I swore in my wrath that they shall not enter into my rest.

The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

O come, let us adore Him.

The Lord is now near * O come, let us adore Him.

Hymnus

Celestial Word, to this our earth
Sent down from God's eternal clime,
To save mankind by mortal birth
Into a world of change and time;
Inlighten our hearts; vain hopes destroy;
And in thy love's consuming fire
Fill all the soul with heavenly joy,
And melt the dross of low desire.
Uo when the Judge of quick and dead
Shall bid his awful summons come,
To whelm the guilty soul with dread,
And call the blessed to their home.

Naved from the whirling, black abyss,
Forevermore to us be given
To share the feast of saintly bliss,
And see the face of God in heaven.
Po God the Father and the Son
Our songs with one accord we raise;
And to the Holy Spirit, One
With them, be ever equal praise
Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

Psalmus 77(1-8)

([1])

77:1 Attend, O my people, to my law: * incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

77:2 I will open my mouth in parables: * I will utter propositions from the beginning.

77:3 How great things have we heard and known, * and our fathers have told us.

77:4 They have not been hidden from their children, * in another generation.

77:4 Declaring the praises of the Lord, and his powers, * and his wonders which he hath done.

77:5 And he set up a testimony in Jacob: * and made a law in Israel.

77:5 How great things he commanded our fathers, that they should make the same known to their children: * that another generation might know them.

77:6 The children that should be born and should rise up, * and declare them to their children.

77:7 That they may put their hope in God and may not forget the works of God: * and may seek his commandments.

77:8 That they may not become like their fathers, * a perverse and exasperating generation.

77:8 A generation that set not their heart aright: * and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord set up a testimony in Jacob: and made a law in Israel.

The Lord did wonderful things * in the sight of their fathers.

Psalmus 77(9-16)

([2])

77:9 The sons of Ephraim who bend and shoot with the bow: * they have turned back in the day of battle.

77:10 They kept not the covenant of God: * and in his law they would not walk.

77:11 And they forgot his benefits, * and his wonders that he had shewn them.

77:12 Wonderful things did he do in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, * in the field of Tanis.

77:13 He divided the sea and brought them through: * and he made the waters to stand as in a vessel.

77:14 And he conducted them with a cloud by day: * and all the night with a light of fire.

77:15 He struck the rock in the wilderness: * and gave them to drink, as out of the great deep.

77:16 He brought forth water out of the rock: * and made streams run down as rivers.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord did wonderful things in the sight of their fathers.

The Lord opened * the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

Psalmus 77(17-31)

([3])

77:17 And they added yet more sin against him: * they provoked the most High to wrath in the place without water.

77:18 And they tempted God in their hearts, * by asking meat for their desires.

77:19 And they spoke ill of God: * they said: Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

77:20 Because he struck the rock, and the waters gushed out, * and the streams overflowed.

77:20 Can he also give bread, * or provide a table for his people?

77:21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry: * and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and wrath came up against Israel.

77:22 Because they believed not in God: * and trusted not in his salvation.

77:23 And he had commanded the clouds from above, * and had opened the doors of heaven.

77:24 And had rained down manna upon them to eat, * and had given them the bread of heaven.

77:25 Man ate the bread of angels: * he sent them provisions in abundance.

77:26 He removed the south wind from heaven: * and by his power brought in the southwest wind.

77:27 And he rained upon them flesh as dust: * and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

77:28 And they fell in the midst of their camp, * round about their pavilions.

77:29 So they did eat, and were filled exceedingly, and he gave them their desire: * they were not defrauded of that which they craved.

77:30 As yet their meat was in their mouth: * and the wrath of God came upon them.

77:31 And he slew the fat ones amongst them, * and brought down the chosen men of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord opened the doors of heaven and had rained down manna upon them to eat.

God is their helper, * and the most high God their redeemer.

Psalmus 77(32-41)

([4])

77:32 In all these things they sinned still: * and they believed not for his wondrous works.

77:33 And their days were consumed in vanity, * and their years in haste.

77:34 When he slew them, then they sought him: * and they returned, and came to him early in the morning.

77:35 And they remembered that God was their helper: * and the most high God their redeemer.

77:36 And they loved him with their mouth: * and with their tongue they lied unto him:

77:37 But their heart was not right with him: * nor were they counted faithful in his covenant.

77:38 But he is merciful, and will forgive their sins: * and will not destroy them.

77:38 And many a time did he turn away his anger: * and did not kindle all his wrath.

77:39 And he remembered that they are flesh: * a wind that goeth and returneth not.

77:40 How often did they provoke him in the desert: * and move him to wrath in the place without water?

77:41 And they turned back and tempted God: * and grieved the holy one of Israel.

Ÿ. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God is their helper, and the most high God their redeemer.
The Lord redeemed them * from the hand of him that afflicted them.

Psalmus 77(42-58)

([5])

77:42 They remembered not his hand, * in the day that he redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them:

77:43 How he wrought his signs in Egypt, * and his wonders in the field of Tanis.

77:44 And he turned their rivers into blood, * and their showers that they might not drink.

77:45 He sent amongst them diverse sorts of flies, which devoured them: * and frogs which destroyed them.

77:46 And he gave up their fruits to the blast, * and their labours to the locust.

77:47 And he destroyed their vineyards with hail, * and their mulberry trees with hoarfrost.

77:48 And he gave up their cattle to the hail, * and their stock to the fire.

77:49 And he sent upon them the wrath of his indignation: * indignation and wrath and trouble, which he sent by evil angels.

77:50 He made a way for a path to his anger: * he spared not their souls from death, and their cattle he shut up in death.

77:51 And he killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt: * the firstfruits of all their labour in the tabernacles of Cham.

77:52 And he took away his own people as sheep: * and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

77:53 And he brought them out in hope, and they feared not: * and the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

77:54 And he brought them into the mountain of his sanctuary: * the mountain which his right hand had purchased.

77:54 And he cast out the Gentiles before them: * and by lot divided to them their land by a line of distribution.

77:55 And he made the tribes of Israel * to dwell in their tabernacles.

77:56 Yet they tempted, and provoked the most high God: * and they kept not his testimonies.

77:57 And they turned away, and kept not the covenant: * even like their fathers they were turned aside as a crooked bow.

77:58 They provoked him to anger on their hills: * and moved him to jealousy with their graven things.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. The Lord redeemed them from the hand of him that afflicted them.
God built * his sanctuary in the earth.

Psalmus 77(59-72)

([6])

77:59 God heard, and despised them, * and he reduced Israel exceedingly as it were to nothing.

77:60 And he put away the tabernacle of Silo, * his tabernacle where he dwelt among men.

77:61 And he delivered their strength into captivity: * and their beauty into the hands of the enemy.

77:62 And he shut up his people under the sword: * and he despised his inheritance.

77:63 Fire consumed their young men: * and their maidens were not lamented.

77:64 Their priests fell by the sword: * and their widows did not mourn.

77:65 And the Lord was awaked as one out of sleep, * and like a mighty man that hath been surfeited with wine.

77:66 And he smote his enemies on the hinder parts: * he put them to an everlasting reproach.

77:67 And he rejected the tabernacle of Joseph: * and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

77:68 But he chose the tribe of Juda, * mount Sion which he loved.

77:69 And he built his sanctuary as of unicorns, in the land * which he founded for ever.

77:70 And he chose his servant David, and took him from the flocks of sheep: * he brought him from following the ewes great with young,

77:71 To feed Jacob his servant, * and Israel his inheritance.

77:72 And he fed them in the innocence of his heart: * and conducted them by the skilfulness of his hands.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. God built his sanctuary in the earth.

Help us, O God, our Saviour, * deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

Psalmus 78

([7])

78:1 O God, the heathens are come into thy inheritance, they have defiled thy holy temple: * they have made Jerusalem as a place to keep fruit.

78:2 They have given the dead bodies of thy servants to be meat for the fowls of the air: * the flesh of thy saints for the beasts of the earth.

78:3 They have poured out their blood as water, round about Jerusalem, * and there was none to bury them.

78:4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours: * a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

78:5 How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry for ever: * shall thy zeal be kindled like a fire?

78:6 Pour out thy wrath upon the nations that have not known thee: * and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

78:7 Because they have devoured Jacob; * and have laid waste his place.

78:8 Remember not our former iniquities: let thy mercies speedily prevent us, * for we are become exceeding poor.

78:9 Help us, O God, our saviour: and for the glory of thy name, O Lord, deliver us: * and forgive us our sins for thy name's sake:

78:10 Lest they should say among the Gentiles: Where is their God? * And let him be made known among the nations before our eyes,

78:10 By the revenging the blood of thy servants, which hath been shed: * let the sighing of the prisoners come in before thee.

78:11 According to the greatness of thy arm, * take possession of the children of them that have been put to death.

78:12 And render to our neighbours sevenfold in their bosom: * the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

78:13 But we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, * will give thanks to thee for ever.

78:13 We will shew forth thy praise, * unto generation and generation.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. Help us, O God, our Saviour, deliver us: and forgive us our sins.

I am the Lord * God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Psalmus 80

([8])

80:2 Rejoice to God, our helper: * sing aloud to the God of Jacob.

80:3 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel: * the pleasant psaltery with the harp.

80:4 Blow up the trumpet on the new moon, * on the noted day of your solemnity.

80:5 For it is a commandment in Israel, * and a judgment to the God of Jacob.

80:6 He ordained it for a testimony in Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt: * he heard a tongue which he knew not.

80:7 He removed his back from the burdens: * his hands had served in baskets.

80:8 Thou calledst upon me in affliction, and I delivered thee: * I heard thee in the secret place of tempest: I proved thee at the waters of contradiction.

80:9 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to thee: * O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me; there shall be no new god in thee: neither shalt thou adore a strange god.

80:11 For I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt: * open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

80:12 But my people heard not my voice: * and Israel hearkened not to me.

80:13 So I let them go according to the desires of their heart: * they shall walk in their own inventions.

80:14 If my people had heard me: * if Israel had walked in my ways:

80:15 I should soon have humbled their enemies, * and laid my hand on them that troubled them.

80:16 The enemies of the Lord have lied to him: * and their time shall be for ever.

80:17 And he fed them with the fat of wheat, * and filled them with honey out of the rock.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℟. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Ant. I am the Lord God of Israel, who brought you out from the land of Egypt.

Be not thou silent, O Lord, * for Thy enemies lifted up their head.

Psalmus 82

([9])

82:2 O God, who shall be like to thee? * Hold not thy peace, neither be O God, thou still,

82:3 For lo, thy enemies have made a noise: * and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.

82:4 They have taken a malicious counsel against thy people, * and have consulted against thy saints.

82:5 They have said: Come and let us destroy them, * so that they be not a nation: and let the name of Israel be remembered no more.

82:6 For they have contrived with one consent: * they have made a covenant together against thee; the tabernacles of the Edomites, and the Ismahelites:

82:8 Moab, and the Agarens, Gebal, and Ammon and Amalec: * the Philistines, with the inhabitants of Tyre.

82:9 Yea, and the Assyrian also is joined with them: * they are come to the aid of the sons of Lot.

82:10 Do to them as thou didst to Madian and to Sisara: * as to Jabin at the brook of Cisson.

82:11 Who perished at Endor: * and became as dung for the earth.

82:12 Make their princes like Oreb, and Zeb, * and Zebbee, and Salmana.

82:13 All their princes, * who have said: Let us possess the sanctuary of God for an inheritance.

82:14 O my God, make them like a wheel; * and as stubble before the wind.

82:15 As fire which burneth the wood: * and as a flame burning mountains:

82:16 So shalt thou pursue them with thy tempest: * and shalt trouble them in thy wrath.

82:17 Fill their faces with shame; * and they shall seek thy name, O Lord.

82:18 Let them be ashamed and troubled for ever and ever: * and let them be confounded and perish.

82:19 And let them know that the Lord is thy name: * thou alone art the most High over all the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

℞. As it was in the beginning, is now, * and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Lesson from the book of Isaias

Isa 66:5-8

5 Hear the word of the Lord, you that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, and cast you out for my name's sake, have said: Let the Lord be glorified, and we shall see in your joy: but they shall be confounded.

6 A voice of the people from the city, a voice from the temple, the voice of the Lord that rendereth recompense to his enemies.

7 Before she was in labour, she brought forth; before her time came to be delivered, she brought forth a man child.

8 Who hath ever heard such a thing? and who hath seen the like to this? shall the earth bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be brought forth at once, because Sion hath been in labour, and hath brought forth her children?

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Unto us shall a Child be born, and His name shall be called the Mighty God.

* He shall sit upon the throne of His father David, and shall reign, and the government shall be upon

His shoulder.

℣. In Him shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed; all nations shall serve Him.

℞. He shall sit upon the throne of His father David, and shall reign, and the government shall be upon His shoulder.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May Christ to all His people give, for ever in His sight to live.

℞. Amen.

Isa 66:9-12

9 Shall not I that make others to bring forth children, myself bring forth, saith the Lord? shall I, that give generation to others, be barren, saith the Lord thy God?

10 Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all you that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all you that mourn for her.

11 That you may suck, and be filled with the breasts of her consolations: that you may milk out, and flow with delights, from the abundance of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord: Behold I will bring upon her as it were a river of peace, and as an overflowing torrent the glory of the Gentiles, which you shall suck; you shall be carried at the breasts, end upon the knees they shall caress you.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℞. Thanks be to God.

℞. Behold, the fullness of the time is come, wherein God hath sent forth His Son into the world, born of a Virgin, made under the law;

* To redeem them that were under the law.

℣. God, for His great love wherewith He loved us, hath sent His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh.

℞. To redeem them that were under the law.

℣. Grant, Lord, a blessing.

Benedictio

May the Spirit's fire Divine in our hearts enkindled shine.

℞. Amen.

Isa 66:13-16

13 As one whom the mother caresseth, so will I comfort you, and you shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 You shall see and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb, and the hand of the Lord shall be known to his servants, and he shall be angry with his enemies.

15 For behold the Lord will come with fire, and his chariots are like a whirlwind, to render his wrath in indignation, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For the Lord shall judge by fire, and by his sword unto all flesh, and the slain of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that were sanctified, and thought themselves clean in the gardens behind the gate within, they that did eat swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse: they shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 But I know their works, and their thoughts: I come that I may gather them together with all nations and tongues: and they shall come and shall see my glory.

℣. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us.

℟. Thanks be to God.

℟. O virgin of Israel, turn again to thy cities.

* How long wilt thou go about sorrowing? Thou shalt bring forth the Lord thy Saviour, a new offering in the earth; men shall walk in paths of salvation.

℣. I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving-kindness have I drawn thee.

℟. How long wilt thou go about sorrowing? Thou shalt bring forth the Lord thy Saviour, a new offering in the earth.

℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost.

Psalmus 50

([1])

50:3 Have mercy on me, O God, * according to thy great mercy.

50:3 And according to the multitude of thy tender mercies * blot out my iniquity.

50:4 Wash me yet more from my iniquity, * and cleanse me from my sin.

50:5 For I know my iniquity, * and my sin is always before me.

50:6 To thee only have I sinned, and have done evil before thee: * that thou mayst be justified in thy words, and mayst overcome when thou art judged.

50:7 For behold I was conceived in iniquities; * and in sins did my mother conceive me.

50:8 For behold thou hast loved truth: * the uncertain and hidden things of thy wisdom thou hast made manifest to me.

50:9 Thou shalt sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed: * thou shalt wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow.

50:10 To my hearing thou shalt give joy and gladness: * and the bones that have been humbled shall rejoice.

50:11 Turn away thy face from my sins, * and blot out all my iniquities.

50:12 Create a clean heart in me, O God: * and renew a right spirit within my bowels.

50:13 Cast me not away from thy face; * and take not thy holy spirit from me.

50:14 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, * and strengthen me with a perfect spirit.

50:15 I will teach the unjust thy ways: * and the wicked shall be converted to thee.

50:16 Deliver me from blood, O God, thou God of my salvation: * and my tongue shall extol thy justice.

50:17 O Lord, thou wilt open my lips: * and my mouth shall declare thy praise.

50:18 For if thou hadst desired sacrifice, I would indeed have given it: * with burnt offerings thou wilt not be delighted.

50:19 A sacrifice to God is an afflicted spirit: * a contrite and humbled heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

50:20 Deal favourably, O Lord, in thy good will with Sion; * that the walls of Jerusalem may be built up.

50:21 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifice of justice, oblations and whole burnt offerings: * then shall they lay calves upon thy altar.

142:2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: * for in thy sight no man living shall be justified.

142:3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul: * he hath brought down my life to the earth.

142:3 He hath made me to dwell in darkness as those that have been dead of old: * and my spirit is in anguish within me: my heart within me is troubled.

142:5 I remembered the days of old, I meditated on all thy works: * I meditated upon the works of thy hands.

142:6 I stretched forth my hands to thee: * my soul is as earth without water unto thee.

142:7 Hear me speedily, O Lord: * my spirit hath fainted away.

142:7 Turn not away thy face from me, * lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

142:8 Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning; * for in thee have I hoped.

142:8 Make the way known to me, wherein I should walk: * for I have lifted up my soul to thee.

142:9 Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord, to thee have I fled: * teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God.

142:10 Thy good spirit shall lead me into the right land: * for thy name's sake, O Lord, thou wilt quicken me in thy justice.

142:11 Thou wilt bring my soul out of trouble: * and in thy mercy thou wilt destroy my enemies.

142:12 And thou wilt cut off all them that afflict my soul: * for I am thy servant.

84:6 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever: * or wilt thou extend thy wrath from generation to generation?

84:7 Thou wilt turn, O God, and bring us to life: * and thy people shall rejoice in thee.

84:8 Shew us, O Lord, thy mercy; * and grant us thy salvation.

84:9 I will hear what the Lord God will speak in me: * for he will speak peace.

84:9 And unto his saints: * and unto them that are converted to the heart.

84:10 Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him: * that glory may dwell in our land.

84:11 Mercy and truth have met each other: * justice and peace have kissed.

84:12 Truth is sprung out of the earth: * and justice hath looked down from heaven.

84:13 For the Lord will give goodness: * and our earth shall yield her fruit.

3:2 O Lord, thy work, * in the midst of the years bring it to life:

3:2 In the midst of the years thou shalt make it known: * when thou art angry, thou wilt remember mercy.

3:3 God will come from the south, * and the holy one from mount Pharan:

3:3 His glory covered the heavens, * and the earth is full of his praise.

3:4 His brightness shall be as the light: * horns are in his hands:

3:4 There is his strength hid: * Death shall go before his face.

3:5 And the devil shall go forth before his feet. * He stood and measured the earth.

3:6 He beheld, and melted the nations: * and the ancient mountains were crushed to pieces.

3:6 The hills of the world were bowed down * by the journeys of his eternity.

3:7 I saw the tents of Ethiopia for their iniquity, * the curtains of the land of Madian shall be troubled.

3:8 Wast thou angry, O Lord, with the rivers? * or was thy wrath upon the rivers? or thy indignation in the sea?

3:8 Who will ride upon thy horses: * and thy chariots are salvation.

3:9 Thou wilt surely take up thy bow: * according to the oaths which thou hast spoken to the tribes.

3:9 Thou wilt divide the rivers of the earth. † The mountains saw thee, and were grieved: * the great body of waters passed away.

3:13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people: * for salvation with thy Christ.

3:13 Thou struckest the head of the house of the wicked: * thou hast laid bare his foundation even to the neck.

3:14 Thou hast cursed his sceptres, † the head of his warriors, * them that came out as a whirlwind to scatter me.

3:14 Their joy * was like that of him that devoureth the poor man in secret.

3:15 Thou madest a way in the sea for thy horses, * in the mud of many waters.

3:16 I have heard and my bowels were troubled: * my lips trembled at the voice.

3:16 Let rottenness enter into my bones, * and swarm under me.

3:17 The labour of the olive tree shall fail: * and the fields shall yield no food:

3:17 The flock shall be cut off from the fold, * and there shall be no herd in the stalls.

3:18 But I will rejoice in the Lord: * and I will joy in God my Jesus.

147:6 He sendeth his crystal like morsels: * who shall stand before the face of his cold?

147:7 He shall send out his word, and shall melt them: * his wind shall blow, and the waters shall run.

147:8 Who declareth his word to Jacob: * his justices and his judgments to Israel.

Hymnus

Hark, a herald voice is calling;
"Christ is nigh," it seems to say;
"Cast away the dreams of darkness,
O ye children of the day."
Mstartled at the solemn warning,
Let the earth-bound soul arise;
Christ, her sun, all sloth dispelling,
Shines upon the morning skies.
Eo, the Lamb, so long expected,
Comes with pardon down from heaven;
Let us haste, with tears of sorrow,
One and all to be forgiven.
Uo when next he comes with glory,
Wrapping all the earth in fear,
May he then as our defender
On the clouds of heaven appear.
Vonour, glory, virtue, merit,
To the Father and the Son,
With the co-eternal Spirit,
While eternal ages run.
Amen.

1:68 Blessed be the Lord ✠ God of Israel; * because he hath visited and wrought the redemption of his people:

1:69 And hath raised up an horn of salvation to us, * in the house of David his servant:

1:70 As he spoke by the mouth of his holy Prophets, * who are from the beginning:

1:71 Salvation from our enemies, * and from the hand of all that hate us:

1:72 To perform mercy to our fathers, * and to remember his holy testament,

1:73 The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, * that he would grant to us,

1:74 That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, * we may serve him without fear,

1:75 In holiness and justice before him, * all our days.

1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: * for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways:

1:77 To give knowledge of salvation to his people, * unto the remission of their sins:

1:78 Through the bowels of the mercy of our God, * in which the Orient from on high hath visited us:

1:79 To enlighten them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death: * to direct our feet into the way of peace.

Hymnus

Now in the sun's new dawning ray,

Lowly of heart, our God we pray

That he from harm may keep us free

In all the deeds this day shall see.

Lay fear of him our tongues restrain,

Lest strife unguarded speech should stain:

His favouring care our guardian be,

Lest our eyes feed on vanity.

Say every heart be pure from sin

And folly find no place therein:

Scant need of food, excess denied,

Wear down in us the body's pride.

Uhat when the light of day is gone,

And night in course shall follow on.

We, free from cares the world affords,

May chant the praise that is our Lord's.

Dll laud to God the Father be,

All praise, Eternal Son, to thee:

All glory, as is ever meet,

To God the holy Paraclete.

Amen.

Psalmus 21(2-12)

([1])

21:2 O God my God, look upon me: why hast thou forsaken me? * Far from my salvation are the words of my sins.

21:3 O my God, I shall cry by day, and thou wilt not hear: * and by night, and it shall not be reputed as folly in me.

21:4 But thou dwellest in the holy place, * the praise of Israel.

21:5 In thee have our fathers hoped: * they have hoped, and thou hast delivered them.

21:6 They cried to thee, and they were saved: * they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

21:7 But I am a worm, and no man: * the reproach of men, and the outcast of the people.

21:8 All they that saw me have laughed me to scorn: * they have spoken with the lips, and wagged the head.

21:9 He hoped in the Lord, let him deliver him: * let him save him, seeing he delighteth in him.

21:10 For thou art he that hast drawn me out of the womb: * my hope from the breasts of my mother. I was cast upon thee from the womb.

21:11 From my mother's womb thou art my God, * depart not from me.

21:12 For tribulation is very near: * for there is none to help me.

21:14 They have opened their mouths against me, * as a lion ravening and roaring.

21:15 I am poured out like water; * and all my bones are scattered.

21:15 My heart is become like wax melting * in the midst of my bowels.

21:16 My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue hath cleaved to my jaws: * and thou hast brought me down into the dust of death.

21:17 For many dogs have encompassed me: * the council of the malignant hath besieged me.

21:17 They have dug my hands and feet. * They have numbered all my bones.

21:18 And they have looked and stared upon me. * They parted my garments amongst them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

21:20 But thou, O Lord, remove not thy help to a distance from me; * look towards my defence.

21:21 Deliver, O God, my soul from the sword: * my only one from the hand of the dog.

88:39 But thou hast rejected and despised: * thou hast been angry with thy anointed.

88:40 Thou hast overthrown the covenant of thy servant: * thou hast profaned his sanctuary on the earth.

88:41 Thou hast broken down all his hedges: * thou hast made his strength fear.

88:44 Thou hast turned away the help of his sword; * and hast not assisted him in battle.

88:45 Thou hast made his purification to cease: * and thou hast cast his throne down to the ground.
88:46 Thou hast shortened the days of his time: * thou hast covered him with confusion.
88:47 How long, O Lord, turnest thou away unto the end? * shall thy anger burn like fire?
88:48 Remember what my substance is: * for hast thou made all the children of men in vain?
88:49 Who is the man that shall live, and not see death: * that shall deliver his soul from the hand of hell?

Hymnus

Bright builder of the heavenly poles,
Eternal light of faithful souls,
Jesus, Redeemer of mankind,
Our humble prayers vouchsafe to mind.
Qho, lest the fraud of hell's black king
Should all men to destruction bring,
Didst, by an act of generous love,
The fainting world's physician prove.
Cho, that thou mightst our ransom pay
And wash the stains of sin away,
Wouldst from a Virgin's womb proceed
And on the cross a victim bleed.

Chose glorious power, whose saving name
No sooner any voice can frame,
But heaven and earth and hell agree
To honour them with trembling knee.
Thee, Christ, who at the latter day
Shalt be our Judge, we humbly pray
Such arms of heavenly grace to send
As may thy Church from foes defend.
Ve glory given and honour done
To God the Father and the Son
And to the Holy Ghost on high,
From age to age eternally.
Amen.
